

CEO Bride 82

Chapter 82

As the city lights began to illuminate, Nash's stomach rebelled after not eating for a day.

An old-fashioned ringtone sounded from the mobile phone next to his pillow.

It was a call from Theo.

It was about time to have dinner, and Theo's call at this time was most likely an invitation to go for a meal.

Although Nash already had a hunch, he still asked, "What's up?"

On the other end of the phone, Theo hesitated for a few seconds before chuckling. "Nashy, I've reserved a private room at the Chateau Hotel. Let's have a drink together, alright?"

Without waiting for Nash to respond, he continued, "Where are you, Nash? I'll have my wife come pick you up..."

Nash politely said, "There's no need to trouble anyone. I'll just grab something downstairs."

He did not want to waste too much time since his injury had not fully healed.

"That won't do. I finally made time to come to Jonford, and I haven't had a drink with you yet. Besides... I have important news to tell you..."

At the entrance of the hotel, eight beautiful hostesses all bowed and greeted in unison.

“Welcome, Mr. Nash! Welcome, Mr. Skye!”

They wore seductive low-cut dresses, revealing just enough to drive people crazy.

However, Nash did not even spare a glance at them.

Theo noticed Nash’s indifference from the corner of his eye and immediately felt that Nash was lacking in that aspect.

The hostesses in the hotel usually would not deliberately seduce customers.

It was only because they were entertaining Nash today that Theo specifically instructed these hostesses to show off in front of Nash.

Olivia, who was standing next to the front desk, was a little stunned when she saw how young Nash was.

She had always thought that Nashy was a burly man in his 30s, but he looked even younger than herself.

It was hard for her to relate this slender young man with the terrifying Smiling Grim Reaper from yesterday.

“Nashy, this is my wife, Olivia Lee... My grandfather and Olivia’s grandfather were sworn brothers. He even took a bullet for my grandfather, so our engagement was arranged by my grandfather when Olivia and I were born!”
