

CEO Bride 84

Chapter 84

After the three of them took their seats, there were dedicated beautiful waitresses to help with serving the dishes and pouring them drinks.

They were truly being treated as royals.

Even the liquor served was worth millions of dollars, the Gellaward Tribute Spirit.

Nash had also attended banquets of various national royal families with his master before, so he had some knowledge of certain famous liquors.

Theo and Olivia each toasted Nash, saying, "Nash, this is wild beluga sturgeon caviar that had a lifespan of 300 years..."

Then, Theo personally served Nash a small spoonful of beluga caviar.

The caviar was full and round, with a clear and transparent color. It had a slight golden luster to it, which was the characteristic of top-quality caviar.

Even Nash, who had been to grand occasions, could not help but feel his eyelid twitch at this moment.

The most expensive caviar he had eaten was in the house of Arrania's royal family.

It was caviar from a hundred-year-old wild beluga sturgeon, valued at 30 thousand dollars per gram.

This 300-year-old beluga caviar would be worth at least 50 thousand dollars for just this small spoonful.

If it were six years ago, perhaps he could still help Nash with unwavering enthusiasm.

However, after he got older, he began to gradually take over the family business.

Moreover, he already had family matters to consider. He had to think about the Skye and Lee families.

A waiter gave a new glass to Nash and filled it with liquor, then proceeded to do the same for Theo.

Nash lifted the glass and smiled. "I understand your situation, and you don't have to blame yourself. I'll remember your kindness!"

If it were not for Theo's help, he would still be completely in the dark about his identity.

Theo raised his glass and clinked it with Nash's, saying, "Besides this matter, I can definitely help you with anything else, Nashy!"

Nash smiled and drank the contents of his glass in one go.

Just as he finished the drink, the phone in his pocket kept vibrating.

He took out his phone and saw that WhatsApp notifications had filled the entire screen.

Nash unlocked his phone, opened WhatsApp, and saw that there were over 30 unread messages in a WhatsApp group called 'Happy Family.'

Upon checking, they were all messages from Harrison and Lauren asking Hera to call back.

Nash slightly furrowed his eyebrows, and he immediately dialed Hera's number.
