Chapter 94

Herman sighed. He then went up to the second floor of the villa with heavy steps.

Rooney looked at Lauren with an unkind expression and scoffed. "Just you wait, Lauren. I'll discredit your family completely in the next two days."

After saying that, she led her daughter back to their rooms to rest.

The corner of Harrison's mouth curled up into a smile, but it was quickly replaced with a grimace because of the injury on his face.

Maria grabbed a broom and started to clean the mess. With a soft smile, she said, "You guys have important matters to attend. to tomorrow, so go back to your rooms and rest!"

Lauren walked toward her room expressionlessly while Harrison limped behind her with a hand supporting his waist.

Back in their room, Lauren sat down in front of the dressing table and sulked.

"Don't be mad. I think we held our heads up high today," Harrison consoled her softly.

He had never dared to offend his elder brother before this, but he actually got into a fight with him today.

He had never felt so free.

The old man got into the car and then lifted his sleeve to wipe away the cold sweat from his forehead.

Skadi pouted and complained, "Grandpa, Nash might be powerful, but that doesn't mean you have to be so courteous. You're the president of the Martial Arts Association!"

He replied helplessly, "Girl, you're truly ignorant of how complex the world is."

He had no choice but to help Nash keep his secret since he did not want Skadi to know who he was.

Back at the apartment, Nash sat down on the bed and put Hera's head in his arms.

He then continued to massage the bones in her neck. There was a grinding sound from Hera's neck from the bones rubbing together. Her misaligned bones were rapidly resetting.

He saw the screen of Hera's phone that was on the bed light up.

He grabbed it and glanced at it only to discover that Hunter had sent a message on WhatsApp.

This man again.

He tapped into it to take a look.

Hunter had sent a kissing emoji. It was then followed by a message.

[Hera, I heard something happened to Skadi. But don't be sad, I'll be with you in the future! I'm so happy tonight and had a few glasses of alcohol. May I take the liberty to ask you for some photos of your legs?]
