

CEO Bride 98

Chapter 98

[W-What? Stop trying to scare me!]

Hera hugged the blanket tightly and shivered.

Skadi replied with a long text: [I'm not trying to.... Grandpa once saw someone who was possessed. The person looked stiff when they walked. It was like they had lost their soul!]

Nash got up slowly at this moment.

His mind was blank, and he turned around while looking like he was in a daze.

Nash had depended on his master ever since he was little after the Young Family Village was burned to the ground. Now, his only support was gone.

Although his master was not dead, his having ascended was no different from if he had died.

His master had once said that once an immortal cultivator ascended to the immortal realm, they would no longer be able to enter the lower plane.

Nash walked toward the sofa like a zombie, and fear shot through Hera.

Trembling, she sent another message to Skadi: [Okay, you might be right!]

[Would you like me to come over and accompany you?]

[He went and laid down on the sofa!]

[Then it should be fine. Maybe it's just a harmless ghost playing around.]

outside, which sent Hera ducking under the covers from fright.

you alright?" she asked,

Nash

Did you

smiled dumbly and asked, "Why would I have?"

why were you on

so I just bowed to him."

"Really?"

out from under the blanket. She saw Nash lying on then, there was another round

"Ah!"

into the covers again in fright. Meanwhile, Nash was to look for a chance to break through his full of red maple trees that the entire ground was blanketed with Nash heard Hera yelp, he asked helplessly, "What's the your face from my phone." Nash could not that and was slightly relieved when she lightning and thunder came one you afraid?"
be
"The thunder!"
scared of
"I am, a little..." Hera closed her eyes tightly.
She had hinted to Nash that he could come sleep with her, and thus, her heart was beating fast at this moment while her face was flushed red.
She had even thought about what she was going to say next. She would say that he could sleep with her but could not touch
her.
"Oh."
Hera was stunned for a few seconds.
Oh?
Did he not understand what she was trying to say?
Hera asked unwillingly, "Is that it?"
She felt the blanket lift the moment she said that. Then, a figure slid onto the bed and nestled beside her.
Phone in hand, Hera received a message from Skadi just then.
[Are you asleep?]
The screen lit up and illuminated both their faces.
Hera stared at Nash blankly. She had even stopped breathing.

Nash was staring at Hera's flushed face with dark eyes before he said in a magnetic voice, "Are you still afraid now?"