

CEO Bride 981

Chapter 981

Jaxon was so handsome that if Felicity were to stay with him all long, she might fall in love with him sooner or later.

However, Jaxon avoided women at all costs...

Another ill-fated relationship!

Nash shook his head resignedly.

When lunch was about to come to an end, Nash looked at Sydney and Queenie and asked, "How's the company doing? Is the renovation done yet?"

"Renovation for the first floor is done, but..."

Sydney was telling the truth, but she looked worried.

Nash noticed this, and he smiled. "Is there a problem?"

Sydney pursed her lips and nodded. "With our company's qualifications, we're only able to do original equipment manufacturing. But if we do that, it won't be beneficial for the future development of the company!"

"Does that mean we need more flagship products?"

“Yes, we need to produce a main product, but we haven’t decided the scope of our business yet. Should we produce Western medicine, beauty supplements, or dietary supplements?” Sydney stared at Nash with her bright eyes and asked.

“Choosing is for fools. We’ll do it all!” Nash laughed.

“No problem! We just need formulas!”

Sydney was waiting for him to say that.

Neither the Zell family nor the Graham family had ever dabbled pharmaceutical industry before.

The two old men discussed the matter with Brian, and they agreed to ask Nash for the formula.

Nash’s medical skills were otherworldly. His understanding of medicine was better than anyone else’s.

Moreover, if Nash was interested in opening a pharmaceutical company, he must have had some formulas on hand a long time ago.

When Nash returned to Jonford, they immediately went to see him.

“The formula is simple. Wait for me downstairs...”

Nash got up and went to the study upstairs.

He got himself a pen and paper to write down the formulas one by one.

From cold medicines to cancer-fighting drugs, there might be plenty of these on the market, but his were vastly different.

Nowadays, pharmaceutical companies all had capitalist mindsets. Their drugs only treated symptoms, not the root cause. Nash's drugs were able to cure stubborn diseases.

In less than ten minutes, Nash wrote down 30 formulas. Each of them was priceless.

It was no exaggeration to say that even if he sold one of these formulas for a billion dollars, people would be scrambling to get their hands on it.

He promised that if he got the Divine Farmer's Cauldron, he wo it to help humanity.

It would only make sense if his pharmaceutical company was beneficial to society, right?

Then, Nash went downstairs with his formulas.

Everyone had already finished eating and was chatting away on the couch.

Meanwhile, Finn and Ken were outside smoking.

The room was filled with beautiful, rich women, so the two of them were constantly on pins and needles when they were inside.

Nash handed the formulas to Sydney. “Here are the formulas. I included Western medicine, beauty supplements, and dietary supplements!”

Sydney took the formulas, but Nash did not let go of the papers right away. He continued, “These formulas are company trade secrets, so you must keep them safe!”

“I know!”

Sydney nodded firmly. Any formula in the industry was a company’s top secret, so she would undoubtedly put it away for safekeeping.

Nash let go of his hand and said, “I don’t have time to go to the company, so Southern Heaven Pharmaceuticals is in your hands!”

He had faith in his formulas. These 30 formulas would definitely turn

Southern Heaven Pharmaceuticals into one of the top pharmaceutical companies in the country.

Over time, they might even be able to become one of the top 100 companies in the world.

Sydney smiled and said, “Don’t worry, we’ll take good care of the company!”

After getting the formulas, Sydney and Queenie returned to the company happily.

Nash was going to accompany Hera, Skadi, and Yoyo to the playground when he suddenly received a call from Felicity.

“Nash, is Hera there?”

“Yeah, what’s up?”

“Can you go somewhere alone for a second? I have something to tell you...”

Chapter 982

Felicity lowered her voice.

Nash chuckled in confusion. “Just tell me. Why are you being so mysterious?”

“Why can’t you just step away for a second?”

Felicity sounded impatient, so Nash walked away resignedly. “Done. Can you tell me now?”

“Are you cheating on Hera behind her back?” Felicity asked angrily.

“What the fuck?”

Nash was baffled. He recalled the night when they went to a bar and hired female escorts in Sagen. He asked, “Are you referring to that night at Drunken Bar?”

Felicity said, “No. Angelica just called and said that a beautiful girl is in the Inspection Office looking for you. She said that she’s your girlfriend and that you’re not taking responsibility after you slept with her!”

Nash's lips twitched violently, and he asked with a darkened expression, "What's the girl's name?"

Felicity replied, "I didn't ask. I think you should go to the Inspection Office right now or call Angelica and ask her!"

Nash took a deep breath and went through his contacts only to remember that he had changed his phone and number. He did not have Angelica's number.

He opened WhatsApp and called Angelica from there.

When she answered, she sounded awkward. "Oh, I forgot I could call you on WhatsApp!"

She had been calling his old phone number, but she could not through.

She had so many contacts on WhatsApp that she totally forgot that she had added him there.

Nash said with a deep voice, "What's the girl's name?"

"Cassie Morkov!"

“Huh?”

Nash was stunned.

Why did that girl come to Jonford?

Angelica lowered her voice and asked, “Do you know her? Should I send her to Royal Bay?”

“No, no, no... I’ll go to her...”

Panic appeared on Nash’s face.

The last time he saw Cassie was six years ago.

Cassie was only 11 years old at the time, and everyone in the tribe treated her like a queen.

Even his master’s beard almost got burned by her fire.

Chany

If she came to Royal Bay, all hell would break loose.

Nash returned to the couch and said to Hera, “Hera, I have something to deal with this afternoon. I’ll ask Melody to accompany you all!”

Hera held Yoyo in her arms, completely smitten by her. She looked at Nash and nodded with her reddened face, "Go do your thing. We'll take Yoyo to have some fun!"

Nash asked to borrow Finn's Mercedes-Benz G-class. He drove to the Inspection Office alone.

When he was approaching the building, Nash saw thick smoke coming from the third floor of the building.

Nash's heart sank.

There was no way Cassie did that, right?

In the next second, the phone in his pocket vibrated.

He took out his phone and saw a WhatsApp call from Angelica.

Nash took a deep breath and answered the call.

Angelica's panicked voice came from the other end of the phone. "Nash, are you here yet? Please take her away right now!"

Chapter 983

Nash said in a deep voice, "I'm almost there!"

As he spoke, he floored the accelerator.

There was no way that Cassie would set the building on fire, right?

She had a flame bug in the form of a crimson leech. It could jump around with its head and tail. It sometimes secreted a chemical mucus that contained phosphorus.

The mucus had a very low ignition point and could catch fire at about 40 degrees Celsius.

The fire at the Inspection Office must have been caused by that leech.

Several fire trucks were parked below the Inspection Office, and the flames had already been extinguished.

A group of inspection officers in uniforms were gathered downstairs in a panic.

Angelica's hair was tousled, and soot was smeared on her face. Next to her was a fair, beautiful girl in Mallefic tribe clothes.

Angelica looked at the red bug in the beautiful girl's hand in disbelief. Are you saying that this thing caused the fire?"

Cassie nodded resignedly. "Yes, this is a flame bug. It can keep you wart, but it's quite playful, so it likes to cause trouble sometimes!"

After saying that, she lowered her head and said, "I'm sorry, Miss. It's my fault for not taking good care of Sparky!"

Angelica smiled and shook her head. "It's okay, but I suggest you keep it in a metal box. Otherwise, it may cause even bigger trouble next time!"

CALLIN

Cassie chuckled. "I'm not afraid. I have many abnormal parasite these. If anyone dares to mess with me, my parasites will bite the Angelica's expression turned a little awkward. "Miss, please be more careful. I've heard of parasites before. I hope you use yours to cure diseases and not harm people!"

Cassie giggled. "I'm just kidding. How could I do bad things when I'm such a nice girl?"

Cassie's grandfather and father often used their parasites to save lives, but they also used them to protect themselves when in danger.

Just then, a black G-Class arrived.

After parking the car, Nash got out and walked toward Angelica.

"Nashy..."

When Cassie saw Nash, she ran toward him happily.

Before Nash could even respond, she hugged him.

Nash hugged Cassie gently and asked, "Why didn't you tell me you were in Jonford?"

Cassie hugged his waist tightly and grumbled, "I called you, but I couldn't get through!"

She knew that Nash was in Jonford, but she did not know where his address was. After asking for directions, she went to the Inspection

Office.

It just so happened that the person who was in charge of her knew Nash.

Nash could feel his heart melting when he realized that Cassi no longer the little girl he remembered. She was all grown up.

He pushed her away awkwardly and said, "I haven't seen you in six years. You've gotten so tall!"

Cassie smiled like a blooming flower. She straightened her back and said flirtatiously. "Not only have I grown taller, but I've grown up too. Would you like to give me a try, Nashy?"

Nash almost choked to death on his saliva.

Angelica and her colleagues could not hide their amusement.

Nash looked at Angelica and said, "Chief White, I'm sorry for causing you trouble... I'll compensate for the losses she caused!"

Angelica smiled and said, "There's no loss. It just so happened that the company will be renovating soon, so just think of it as removing the ceiling and wallpaper in advance!"

After exchanging pleasantries, Nash brought Cassie to the car.

He turned the car around and drove out of the Inspection Office. Then, he asked, "Cassie, what brings you to Jonford?"

"Since I'm grown up now, I'm here to give birth to your children!"

Cassie stared at Nash's side profile with her bright eyes and said smilingly, "With my beauty and your good looks, our children will be so adorable!"

The corners of Nash's mouth twitched. "Stop with the nonsense. You have to tell me why you're here and how long you're staying so that I can arrange your stay here!"

Cassie stared at his face lovingly and said, "It's not nonsense. I'm here for you. You promised me that you'd marry me once I grew up

Chapter 984

Nash's expression sank.

At that time, he was not very mature himself. He was just teasing Cassie, but she took it seriously.

"I'm already married..." Nash said in a low voice.

No matter whether Cassie was serious or not, he should still tell her that he was married to avoid any further misunderstandings.

The smile on Cassie's face disappeared, and tears welled up in her eyes. She sobbed. "You jerk... How could you dump me after you slept with me?"

Nash was baffled. "We were just stargazing on the grass!"

His master had stayed in Cassie's village for three months, and during that time, Cassie would never leave Nash's side.

They hiked together, fished together herded cattle together, and even lay on the grass together to count the stars!

At that time, Nash did not know that he was engaged, so he promised to marry Cassie when she grew up.

Cassie lowered her head and remained silent for a long time.

Nash asked with mixed feelings, "Have you eaten yet? How about I take you to grab some food?"

Cassie shook her head while warm tears dripped onto the back of her hands.

Nash pressed his lips together and said, "You still have a long way ahead of you, and you'll meet many good men. I believe that you'll find someone who will treat you like you're his whole world!"

Cassie wiped her tears and choked. "So, you just think of me as your little sister?"

Nash smiled. "We can be friends too!"

Cassie turned her head and asked, "What about your mistress?"

Nash's expression sank. "Can you not be so immature?"

Cassie chuckled. "Relax, I'm just messing with you!"

Nash froze. "Were you messing with me on purpose just now too?"

Cassie lifted her chin arrogantly. "Of course. I'm the future queen of the Parasite Colony. All men will bow to me when they see me. What makes you think I'd travel 2,000 miles just for a man?"

Then, she stopped joking and said solemnly, "I came to Jonford to look for Abraham. He stole an egg from the Parasite Lord in the forbidden area!"

"Abraham? Is he your uncle's son?"

Nash was picturing a humble and honest man with a limp.

Six years ago, that man was about the same age as him.

He was the son of Cassie's uncle.

The Parasite Colony worshipped the Parasite Lord. It resembled a white maggot, had a lifespan of 70 to 100 years, and could grow up to one meter long..

It secreted a green liquid that served as nourishment for the millions of parasitic bugs in the colony.

The Parasite Lord was hermaphroditic. Near the end of its life, it would lay a single egg.

There were three Parasite Lords in the Parasite Colony until one of them was killed by a bomb during the war. It was unable to lay an egg because of its unnatural cause of death, so there were only two

If they lost another Parasite Lord, the colony would lose a significant number of parasites.

They relied on these bugs to generate wealth, so a significant reduction in the parasite population would directly lead to an economic downturn in the colony.

“That’s him, alright!

“He disappeared the same day as the Parasite Lord’s egg. After contacting many people, my grandfather finally found traces of him

Apparently, he came to Jonford half a month ago!”

Cassie looked a little dazed.

Grandpa told her that if Abraham refused to give in, she could kill him with parasites. In short, she had to bring the Parasite Lord’s egg back at all costs.

Nash was puzzled. “Isn’t Abraham an honest man? Why did he steal the egg? Are you sure it isn’t a misunderstanding?”

He had always thought that Abraham was a kind-hearted and honest person.

Nash had even asked him what his dream was.

Back then, Abraham had said with certainty, “My dream is to become a parasite specialist. I want to provide free medical treatment to those who can't afford it, and I also want to teach those bad guys a lesson for bullying the poor!"

With such aspirations, Nash just could not wrap his head around why Abraham would want to steal the egg of the Parasite Lord.

"Nashy, people change, don't you think?"

Chapter 985

Cassie shot Nash a serious look.

Nash glanced sideways at her and said, "Why are you looking at me like that?"

Of course, he knew what she was implying.

Cassie withdrew her gaze with a smile and said, "Abraham worked abroad for three years, and he earned a lot of money. During New Year's last year, he drove a BMW and even brought back his foreign girlfriend.

"His girlfriend probably didn't like our colony, so they left the next day!"

After saying that, Cassie looked at Nash and asked, "Nashy... did you dump me because you don't like that I'm from the mountains?"

Nash was at a loss for words.

The Parasite Colony had been well-off for some time.

Every household lived in Western-style houses, and any man workin the field would have a net worth of tens of millions.

The Morkov family even had their own farms, pastures, fisheries, and several mountainside orchards.

Cassie's grandfather and father were both prominent parasite specialists. Each time they dispelled evil and cured diseases, they would earn hundreds of thousands or even millions.

Their largest source of income was the wholesale of parasitic bugs.

Other colonies in the Mallefic tribe would buy parasites from the Parasite Colony, which sold at an astronomical price.

Over the years, the Morkov family's wealth had probably surpassed the Second Tier Elite Families in Jonford.

Seeing as Nash was silent, Cassie laughed. "Nashy, do you know about the love bug?"

Nash's pupils constricted. "Does it really exist?"

He had heard of the love bug before back in the Parasite Colony.

It was one of the abnormal bugs, and it required painstaking effort for a parasite specialist to raise it.

It was said that if someone were bitten by this bug, they would fall in love with the person who raised the bug.

Cassie sighed softly. "If only it existed!"

Nash pretended to not understand the meaning behind her words and parked the car outside Jonford Hotel.

Cassie ordered six dishes while Nash, who had already eaten ordered some tea.

While sipping on tea, Nash asked, "How do you plan to find Abraham Cassie gnawed on the chicken drumstick and said with her mouth full, "Are you trying to help me find Abraham so that I'll leave Jonford as soon as possible?"

She saw right through him.

Nash was momentarily stunned and then started sulking. "Cassie, is that what you think of me?"

Cassie took a sip of her drink and curled her lips. "Don't you have any self-awareness?"

Nash smiled. "I'm doing this for your own good. Do you know how dangerous it is for a little girl like you to be out here? I'm surprised your grandfather and father let you come this far alone!"

Cassie rolled her eyes at him. "If you really care about me, then let me have your child!"

Nash choked on his tea and coughed. With an annoyed expression, he said, "Can we not mention children?"

Cassie's eyes dimmed, but she chuckled. "Alright, alright, I won't mention it anymore..."

Nash poured himself another cup of tea and took a sip.

Cassie continued eating, and then she frowned at him. "Nashy, aren't you a martial artist? Why don't you have any energy fluctuations?"

"Something happened, but don't worry about it. It'll be fine soon!"

Nash responded with a smile.

Cassie was not a martial artist, but she had many strange parasites that gave her extraordinary senses. It was no surprise that she could detect his lack of energy fluctuations.

“Let me take a look!”

Cassie lifted her hands, and two bugs the size of gravel flew out of her palm.

The bugs flapped their wings and flew toward Nash, entering his body from the space in between his eyebrows.

Cassie closed her eyes as she looked through images of Nash’s internal organs in her mind.

Nash felt as if Cassie was looking at his naked body.

After a moment, the two bugs flew out from his eyebrows and returned to Cassie’s palms. They wriggled into her sleeve.

Cassie opened her eyes and said smilingly, “Your Mystique Loyalty Realm is broken... I can help you, but you must let me have your children!"

Chapter 986

Nash squinted his eyes and said, "Cassie, do you know how dangerous that is?"

Cassie was serious. "Let's go get a room. I just so happen to be ovulating these couple of days, so if we do it multiple times, I'll get pregnant for sure!"

The smile on Nash's face froze.

Cassie's gaze was resolute, and she did not look like she was joking at all.

After a long pause, Nash said with annoyance, "I said not to mention children!"

Cassie looked innocent and sweet in her Mallefic tribe clothes, so how could such words come out of her mouth?

Nash leaned on the chair and lit a cigarette, wondering where to let Cassie stay.

It was impossible to bring her back to Royal Bay.

If she mentioned wanting to give birth to his child in front of H would have to bear the consequences.

However, Nash was worried about her staying in a hotel.

He was not worried that she would encounter bad people, but he was worried that her bugs would burn down the hotel.

Just then, Nash's phone rang in his pocket.

When he took it out, he saw that Felicity had left him a voice message.

"Nash, have you met up with the girl? What's going on with her? I heard from Angelica that she's a minor!"

Felicity asked energetically, prying into his life.

"She's an old friend of mine, so stop sticking your nose into my business. By the way, how long are you staying in Jonford? Where are you currently staying?"

Nash planned to hand Cassie over to Felicity.

Since Felicity was his cousin, he would not feel as bad if Cassie were to bother her.

Plus, Cassie wanted to find Abraham. With Felicity's connections as the former deputy of the Inspection Office and member of the Special Security Department, she might be able to help.

"I bought a villa in Lakeview District, so I guess I'll be staying in Jonford for a while!"

"Alright. I'll take her to your place to stay with you for the time

"I understand. You're afraid that your wife will be jealous, aren't

"It's a long story, but you just have to take her in for a few days!"

"Fine, I'll send you the location!"

After hanging up, Felicity sent the location of the villa to Nash.

At that moment, Cassie's phone rang too.

She put down her cutlery and answered, "Grandpa... I'm with Nashy!"

Cassie muttered a few more words and handed her phone to Nash." Here, my grandpa is asking for you!"

Nash took the phone and said politely, "Elder Morkov..."

"Nashy, please keep an eye on that girl. I'll go to Jonford in two days, so you mustn't let her escape!"

Jared Morkov's voice was low as if he was afraid that Cassie would overhear.

"Okay, Elder Morkov. I'll take good care of Cassie!"

Nash glanced at Cassie thoughtfully after realizing that she had run off on her own.

Jared sighed. "Give her the phone. I have to talk to her!"

Then, Nash gave the phone to Cassie.

Cassie put her phone on speaker and continued eating.

“Cassie, the Parasite Lord died yesterday, which means that Abral hatched the new Parasite Lord. Stay with Nashy for now. Once y father comes back, we’ll go to Jonford to find you!”

“The... Parasite Lord is dead?”

Cassie’s face turned pale.

If the Parasite Lord was dead, that meant that there was only one Parasite Lord left in the Parasite Colony.

The lack of nutrients was going to shorten the lifespan of many abnormal bugs.

Every day, a large number of parasites in the colony were going to die.

Chapter 987

Some patients who relied on these parasites to survive would die as well.

“I should find Abraham as soon as possible and bring back the new Parasite Lord!” Cassie said resolutely.

“Now that Abraham has the Parasite Lord, you’re no longer a match for him. Listen to me and just have fun with Nash for the time being. When your father and I go to Jonford, we’ll take you to find Abraham!”

Jared reassured her in a kind tone.

“By the time you get here, it’ll be too late!”

After saying that, Cassie hung up.

Nash looked at her and said, “I think you should listen to your grandfather and wait for them to come here before going off to find Abraham!”

The Parasite Lord was the pinnacle of parasite evolution.

Regardless of the level of the parasitic bugs, they would all surre in front of the Parasite Lord.

Cassie possessed superpowers from these bugs, but if she got nea the Parasite Lord, those powers would disappear.

In that case, Cassie would just be a powerless little girl.

How would she be able to deal with Abraham then?

Was she going to defeat him with her words alone?

“You know that many people rely on the parasitic bugs to live!

“My grandmother has congenital heart disease, and she relies entirely on the healing bug for her cardiac function!

“Iron Bull is blind, but the illusion bug helps him see again!

“When my father was young, he got into a fight with the other parasite specialists in the colony and got his lungs pierced by a steel rod. His life was hanging by a thread, but my grandfather used the pneumonic bug to keep him alive until today!

“These parasites have to be sustained by the Parasite Lord’s saliva.

Otherwise, they’ll gradually lose their efficacy. The people who rely on these parasites to survive will die!”

Cassie choked back tears.

As the granddaughter of the head of the Parasite Colony, it was her duty to protect the ancient lineage of parasitic bugs in the Parasite Colony.

Nash put out the cigarette in his hand and asked with a deep v "Can you really help me repair my Mystique Loyalty Realm?"

It would take him a long time to recover on his own.

If Cassie had the parasite to help him recover, it would save him a lot of time and energy.

Cassie nodded and said, "My grandfather gave me a myriad spirit bug!"

Nash was shocked.

The parasitic bugs in the Parasite Colony were divided into six levels— regular bugs; silver bugs; golden bugs; abnormal bugs; spirit bugs;

and Parasite Lord.

The higher the level, the more powerful they were, but they were also very rare.

The parasitic bugs that could replace certain organs and extend human life were only at the golden bug level, but they were already extremely rare and difficult to raise.

The parasite taken from Walter's wife's body was a Longhorn, which was a golden bug.

The Longhorn could help people retain their last breath.

The Ten Abnormal Bugs were even rarer.

The skeleton bug in the North Warden was the evil bug of the Ten Abnormal Bugs.

Once bitten, there was practically no cure for it.

At that time, Nash used the Path techniques his master taught change Philix's destiny.

The myriad spirit bug that Cassie mentioned was one of the six m spirit bugs.

This type of parasitic bug was a purely natural creature, born from the spiritual energy of heaven and earth and the essence of the sun and moon.

Currently, only the King of Parasites could possess such spirit bugs.

As for the Parasite Lord, having descended from ancient times, it almost exclusively existed within the Parasite Colony.

It was because of the Parasite Lord's existence that the Parasite Colony had become the land of parasites in the Mallefic tribe.

After a long while, Nash finally said, "I thought that only the King of Parasites could possess the spirit bug. Did your grandfather actually give you the myriad spirit bug?"

The myriad spirit bug's blood was dark blue and had super healing properties. It could even regenerate broken limbs.

His master once said that the blood of the myriad spirit bug was the main ingredient for refining a ninth-grade Longevity Pill, but it required one whole kilogram of it.

Nash had never seen the myriad spirit bug at Jared's place. It was the size of a silkworm pupa, and every time it healed someone, it would need three months to recover.

Obtaining one kilogram of the myriad spirit bug's blood was almost impossible.

Cassie tucked her hair behind her ear and pursed her lips. She

This is a baby myriad spirit bug. It was just cultivated two years

Let's go get a room, and then I'll help you treat your injury..."

Chapter 988

Nash nodded. "If you help me repair the Mystique Loyalty Realm, I'll help you find Abraham and get the Parasite Lord back!"

Even if Cassie could not help him repair his Mystique Loyalty Realm, he would still help her find Abraham.

His master and Jared were good friends.

He had also spent several months together with Cassie.

Now that the Parasite Colony was in trouble, he could not just sit back and ignore it.

Nash took Cassie to the front desk and got the luxurious presidential suite.

Cassie had two suitcases-one large pink suitcase and one small black suitcase.

The small suitcase had an insulating function with a screen side to display the temperature inside.

It should be the box containing the parasitic bugs.

In the room, Cassie opened the black suitcase and took out a square metal box.

She opened the lid, and the inside was divided into 16 small grids.

Each grid contained a parasite.

There were all kinds of peculiar bugs, but all of these bugs had one thing in common-they all had a golden feature on them.

Some had little golden spots on their backs, some had golden antennas, and there was even a golden centipede.

Nash subconsciously took a few steps back.

Parasitic bugs were the same as normal bugs. Some were useful, but some were harmful too.

The useful bugs could cure diseases and save lives, but the harmful ones could poison someone to death.

Cassie looked up with her pretty face and smiled sweetly. "Nashy, come here and help me take care of the bugs!"

She took out a thermos cup with a thermometer from her suitcase.

The thermometer on the lid indicated 45 degrees.

After unscrewing the lid, a strange aroma wafted out of the cup.

This was the saliva secreted by the Parasite Lord.

Nash squatted next to the suitcase and picked up a disposab syringe. He opened the packaging and drew half a tube of pa liquid from the thermos cup.

Then, he squirted the green liquid into the metal box.

Cassie took out another metal box from the suitcase, and there w also 16 grids inside, each with a golden bug in them.

Nash was overwhelmed. "What's the current market price for golden bugs?"

The parasitic bugs in the Parasite Colony could be sold externally, but the customer must meet three conditions.

Firstly, they must be from the Mallefic tribe.

Secondly, they must have a parasite specialist certificate.

Thirdly, they must not have any criminal records for the past three generations.

"It's probably between 50 million to 100 million!"

Cassie looked at Nash proudly as if she was showing off how rich she was.

“Based on the cheapest price, your 32 golden bugs are worth 1.6 billion!”

Nash said with a smile, “You have a net worth of 1.6 billion at the age of 17! You won’t find many like you in Drakonia!”

Cassie blinked with her big, bright eyes and said, “Nashy, let’s make a deal!”

Nash stopped smiling and stared at her warily. “Apart from children, I’m fine with anything else!”

Cassie pouted and said, “In that case, let’s get married instead!”

Nash’s expression darkened. “I knew you were up to no good!”

Cassie added, “My grandfather prepared a hundred golden bugs for me as a dowry. We just have to get the hundred golden bugs. Do you understand what I’m trying to say?”

A hundred golden bugs!

Even with Nash’s temperament, he could not help but gasp.

Chapter 989

Based on his understanding, it was difficult for an ordinary colony to raise golden bugs. Even if they managed to do it, it would be far less powerful than the golden bugs in the Parasite Colony.

If a colony had more than ten golden bugs, it would boom in popularity among the Mallefic tribe.

However, the Parasite Colony prepared a dowry of a hundred golden bugs for Cassie.

If converted into money, it would be at least five billion!

Why did he not realize that the Parasite Colony was this rich before?

Cassie looked at Nash eagerly and said, "I'll give you half of it!"

Nash smiled and said, "It's not like I can learn how to control parasites overnight. Plus, I'm not interested in parasites!"

"You can sell them for money. There's limited stock on the market. Parasite specialists from other colonies are willing to spend their entire fortune to buy them from you!"

"Just leave them for your future husband. The parasites are more valuable in the hands of a parasite specialist!"

A parasite specialist could use these golden bugs to treat complicated diseases.

They mostly treated wealthy businessmen as they were the only ones who could afford the medical fees.

If they were lucky, they could probably recoup the cost of a golden bug within three to five years.

“You’re such an idiot! How could you just let such an opportunity slip away right before your eyes? Are you even a man?”

Cassie glared at Nash fiercely.

He must be insane for turning down a hundred golden bugs and a girl who was offering herself to him for free.

She glanced at his crotch and smirked. “If you have a problem in that department, I can heal it for you too!”

While saying that, she reached her delicate fingers into a small grid in the box in front of her.

A golden beetle the size of a fingernail crawled along her finger to the palm of her hand.

Cassie blushed and said, “This is the golden armor bug. It specializes in treating impotence and premature ejaculation. After three to five treatments, it can even increase your length and girth!”

To be honest, Nash swayed a little.

Although his measurements were already way above average, man would not want to be bigger and stronger?

Nash said calmly, "You can keep it. I'm in good health!"

Although he was moved, he decided against it.

He only lost his energy after breaking the Mystique Loyalty Realm.

Once it was repaired, he would be as powerful as a dragon.

Cassie put the golden armor bug back into the grid without teasing Nash anymore and just kept feeding the bugs the saliva.

It took about half an hour for all the parasitic bugs to absorb the green liquid. Then, she closed the box and put it back in the suitcase.

"I'll go take a shower and change before I fix your Mystique Loyalty Realm!"

Cassie opened her pink luggage and took out toiletries and a cute cartoon nightgown.

Meanwhile, Nash sat on the lounge chair by the floor-to-ceiling window and smoked.

Through the reflection of the glass, he could see Cassie taking off her clothes in the living room.

Nash's mouth twitched as he reminded her, "Can't you take off your clothes in the room?"

Cassie replied, "What are you afraid of? You've peeked at me before!"

"Bullshit..."

Nash's cheeks were burning hot. "I accidentally walked in on you.

Your family lives in such a big house with a private swimming pool yet you still bathed in the reservoir!"

It happened to be summer when he and his master were in the Parasite Colony.

Jared's hospitality was so generous that he got the entire village to prepare a big feast.

Nash had too much to drink, so he went to the reservoir to cool down. However, he happened to bump into Cassie bathing there.

"The reservoir belongs to my family, so what's wrong about me bathing in my own reservoir?"

Cassie questioned him.

Nash saw the reflection of Cassie wearing pajamas from the glass window and said, "Fine... Let's put it behind us. Go take a shower!"

Cassie then put her hands on Nash's shoulders and leaned in so that her bright red lips were next to his ears. She whispered, "Nashy... do you want to shower together?"

Chapter 990

Nash took a deep breath and suppressed the sensation in his lower body. He said in a low voice, "Cassie, I advise you not to play with fire!"

Cassie glanced at the bulge in Nash's pants as it seemed to have come alive. She chuckled. "I thought you were impotent, but it seems like you get excited too!"

After saying that, she turned and walked toward the bathroom.

Nash let out a sigh of relief.

Cassie had some nerve.

If he were any crueler, he would have pinned Cassie down on the bed and taught her a lesson by now.

He lit another cigarette and took out his phone to message Felicity:

[I have something to do right now, so I'll go later!]

Then, he opened up the group chat of Universal Group and as they were cleaning up the company's parasites.

Lynn: [Justin is in!]

A smile appeared on Nash's lips.

Nash: [What about Queenie?]

Lynn: [Queenie hasn't moved yet!]

Nash sent him a question mark.

Lynn: [Miles was in a car accident, so the CEO asked us to temporarily stop investigating Queenie or the others would be in danger!]

Then, Frankie replied: [That accident must have something to do with Queenie. We're currently working with the Inspection Office to investigate the matter!]

Nash clenched his fists. [I got it. I'll go over to the company to take a look tomorrow. Is Miles badly injured?]

Lynn replied: [He's brain-dead!]

Nash was furious. [Why didn't you tell me earlier?]

Frankie explained: [We couldn't reach your phone, and you're rarely on

WhatsApp!]

Nash looked at the large number of unread messages and felt a little guilty.

He opened up his chat with Lynn. Since adding her contact, s sent him 30 messages.

She sent him over 20 messages two days ago, which was the da Miles was in a car accident.

Nash sent his new number to the group. [You can just call me on

WhatsApp!]

Then, Hera called. "Honey, are you done? We're at the playground.

Would you like to come over?"

"Not yet. I'll have to go to the hospital later!"

"Huh? Who's in the hospital?"

"A colleague. I'll be going over to see how he's doing!"

"Which hospital? I'll go too..."

"Just stay with Yoyo. I can go there by myself!"

"Okay then. We're going out for a beach barbecue tonight, so you have to be there!"

"I will!"

Nash hung up and put his phone on a table nearby.

Then, Cassie walked out of the bathroom in her nightgown.

Her wet hair was wrapped in a towel on her head, and her fair shoulders were exposed.

Nash glanced at her and looked away instantly. "Put a jacket on!"

Cassie was confused. "Why do I have to put a jacket on?"

"Just do it!"

Nash rolled his eyes at her.

Cassie smiled and put on a black coat from her suitcase.

After blow-drying her hair, she took out a box the size of her fist fi her suitcase.

When she opened the lid, there was a plump green parasite inside of

It was about the size of a thumb. It had eight little legs and a pair of antennas on its head. It looked kind of cute.

“Is this the myriad spirit bug?”

Nash’s eyes lit up.

The antennas on the myriad spirit bug were moving up and down as if it were nodding, and it made a cricket-like sound.

Nash was surprised. “Can it understand me?”
