

CEO is Chasing Ex-Wife Back Chapter 15

Chapter 15 Aurora Is Missing

Zac stopped. The assistant behind him was holding a thermal lunch box, out of breath. After the meeting, Zac found that he could not help but think of Aurora.

The way she crashed into the car without hesitation, as well as the fact that she could not get pregnant, made him feel a little guilty, so he sent someone to buy some tonics to bring over.

“You scum! Zac!”

Terry’s eyes were burning with anger. He rushed forward and in the next second, his fist smashed directly on Zac’s face. “Look what have you done to her! Why can’t you let her go?”

The burning pain evoked Zac. Seeing Terry approaching again, Zac did not hesitate to raise his fist and fight back.

The fight between the two men was imminent, and the assistant at the side was dumbfounded, not to mention the entire inpatient department.

“Someone’s fighting!” Someone screamed.

Aurora heard the noise outside the door. She turned around in her wheelchair from the window sill.

At this time, someone called her name at the door, “Ms. Bennet, come out quickly. Two men are fighting for you.”

Aurora tightened her grip on the wheelchair, and then she heard Terry cursing.

“Aurora is blind. How could she fall for a scumbag like you!”

Terry cursed while attacking.

Before Terry punched again, Zac grabbed his fist and said coldly, “What about you? You can’t even deal with your own mother. How can you protect her?”

Time stood still at that moment and didn’t know what to say.

No one noticed that the door of the ward was open and Aurora sneaked away.

Ten minutes later, the inpatient department received a call. The little nurse’s face immediately changed. “What? Ms. Bennet has already gone through the discharge formalities?”

“What?” When Terry heard this, he loosened his grip on Zac’s shirt and ran to the ward.

It was empty.

He glanced at Zac. Zac’s eyes were as cold as ever, even after hearing that Aurora had been discharged from the hospital. However, his expression darkened a little.

Terry walked over to the nurse and grabbed the phone. “Where did she go?”

“This ... I don’t know. Sir, you can call the patient,” the person on the other side of the line said.

He hung up the phone.

Gul Aurora did not want to talk to him. She didn’t even want to see him. How could she pick up his phone?

“Zac, I warn you, if anything happens to Aurora, I will risk everything to beat you!” Terry warned and raised two fingers, then went to the elevator to press the button.

“Mr. Buchanna ... this ... do you need to treat your injury?” The assistant looked at the injury on Zac's face. Zac's lips were still bleeding.

"I'm fine." Zac raised his hand and wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth.

After Terry entered the elevator and the door closed, Zac pondered before saying, "She won't go far."

Zac was right. Aurora would not be able to go anywhere because of the Bennet family's debts and usury.

After leaving the hospital, Aurora received many texts that asked for money. The sum was up to millions of dollars.
