

CEO Daddy 13

Super CEO Daddy

Chapter 13

She turned and tried to leave. However, Patrick pulled her over and shoved her roughly into the car.

As Gwendolyn fell, her head knocked against the car seat. Her brows knitted together, and her face scrunched up in pain. Bristling with anger, she glared fiercely at Patrick.

“Mr. Lowen, we aren't acquainted at all, so you shouldn't interfere in my affairs,” she remarked.

She felt that Patrick was being ridiculous. She was grateful to him for having saved her life, but she sensed that he held her in disdain.

If he looks down on me, he doesn't need to save me. He could have left me alone. Why would he save me and then treat me in such a way?

Patrick got into the car and instructed the chauffeur, “To...”

A sudden realization struck him. He did not know where Gwendolyn lived. He coldly asked, “Where do you live? I'll give you a ride.”

Patrick completely ignored her earlier remark.

Gwendolyn slowly sat up, and a smirk appeared on her gorgeous face.

me? I don't need a lift from you, I want and chided, “Gwendolyn, please spare a thought for your daughter! She is such a cute girl, but here you are, working in such a dangerous environment. If anything happens to you, what got even more stirred up, and she snapped, “Yes, that's the kind of person I am! Not only did I not attend university, I even got pregnant at eighteen years old! On top of that, I'm such a failure as a mother that my kids have to suffer with me. In your eyes, I'm a mess, so you look down on me... But I didn't beg for your help, so please free of Patrick's grasp and flung open

Watching as she stormed away, he took a long

his chair as he exhaled the heartache and an inexplicable sense of

at how she had accused him of looking

snorted and then the first time he had brought a woman to his car. Gwendolyn was a have yelled at Mr. Lowen like that. I've never seen anyone behaving like preparing to leave after changing. Having caused such a scene that day, she knew that she her bag and approached her and hugged her

Lowen,”

why don't you stay for a while more?"