Chapter 251 Everyone Has Their Own Fate

"Ah!" When Baron let go of Maggie's hand, she fell towards the tea table.

"Clap!" The tea table was broken and she fell on the ground. Blood was flowing out from her body.

"Maggie!" When he looked at the unconscious woman in front of him, he couldn't help widening his eyes. He was completely at a loss, standing there still.

Mrs. Fang heard the noise and went downstairs. "What happened?"

She was shocked when she saw the scene. "What are you thinking about, Baron? Send her to the hospital right now!"

It was not until hearing his mother's voice that Baron seemed to come to his senses. He held up Maggie in his arms and walked out of the villa.

The nearest hospital to Fang family's villa was the Gu Group's hospital. Without any hesitation, Baron gripped on the steering wheel, turned around to look at the blood all over Maggie's body and couldn't help but worry.

It was not until Baron sent her to the emergency room that he felt a little relieved.

When Harley just passed by the door of the emergency room, he saw that Baron was covered in blood. "What happened? What are you doing here?" Harley recognized Baron.

Kerr used to feel jealous because of Baron.

But now, they all had their own families, so it was all in the past now.

"Mr. Harley, what a coincidence." Baron glimpsed at Harley and answered in a low voice.

Baron knew that Harley was Kerr's friend, so it wasn't strange to meet him here.

Harley didn't care much about his cold attitude. He just shrugged and went into the emergency room. After a careful inquiry of the situation, he walked out.

But he just left the emergency room without saying anything to Baron.

Harley pushed the door open, and passed the box to Nicole.

Drugged one night by her ex-boyfriend, a mysterious man took advantage of her in an ecstatic night filled with sex.

To take her revenge, she married the man, and used him.

"As long as I'm alive, I'm still his legal wife, while all of you are just his mistresses."

She remained adamant even when he was involved in scandals with other women.

Eventually she stormed off after she learned that he had betrayed her again. But life brought her back to him a few years later, to his astonishment.

about to stop him, Kerr said, "It is okay. Now that Harley is here, Jay would not get lost." He knew that Nicole was just worried about Jay.

Before she could say anything, she saw the thin lips of Kerr drawing closer and closer. She raised her hand to cover his mouth.

"Hey, hey, what are you doing?" Wearing a mischievous smile, Nicole knew that Kerr was up to no good. In fact, Kerr was desirous to let Jay leave the ward.

With Jay here, Kerr could not get close to Nicole.

"Hurry up. When Jay comes back, I won't have any chance." He was serious about what he said. He took her hand from his mouth and kissed her.

There was no way for Nicole to escape.

"You old man! How dare you bully Mommy behind my back!" Jay pushed the door open and interrupted Kerr.

Before Kerr was with Nicole, Jay always hoped that Kerr could take care of Nicole. But now, Jay only felt that Kerr was trying to steal Nicole from him.

He really regretted giving Kerr so many chances to get close to Nicole before.

Hearing the voice of Jay, Nicole wanted to push Kerr away but the latter seemed to do it on purpose and didn't intend to let her go at all.

Chapter 252 Keep The Baby

Kerr's behavior annoyed Nicole.

After all, Jay was still a child. So she bit Kerr's lower lip and forced him to release her.

Looking at the reproachful look in Kerr's eyes, Nicole passed through Kerr and looked at Kerr. "Don't talk nonsense, my dear." She hadn't noticed the way Jay addressed Kerr at the beginning.

But now, when she heard it, she felt that it was inappropriate.

Jay walked to Nicole and looked at Kerr discontentedly, "He is bullying Mommy!" Jay replied confidently.

Lifting her hand to cover her forehead, she felt a little helpless. Deep inside her mind, she was thinking that if it weren't for Kerr had "bullied" her, they would not have Jay right now. So Nicole didn't know if she should blame Kerr.

"If I don't bully her, then how can you stand there and irritate your father like that?" With an indifferent tone, Kerr tucked Nicole in.

Hearing what Kerr said, Jay was obviously stunned. Before he could ask, Kerr's phone rang. Kerr picked up his phone, stood up and walked out of the ward.

"Jay, he's your father. What did Mommy tell you?" Nicole didn't educate Jay in the presence of Kerr.

However, she wouldn't let him off the hook.

"Be polite." Jay lowered his head, but he still didn't think he was wrong.

He is protecting Nicole. Though Kerr was his father, he can't let Kerr bully Nicole.

"I know that you didn't mean it, so I won't blame you. Don't overthink this, okay?" Nicole comforted Jay.

It seemed that since she was with Kerr, she had been neglecting Jay, which made her feel a little guilty.

"Mommy, I know." Jay put on a smile again, and reached out his hand to touch Nicole's belly.

"Little sister, be a good girl. Don't be scared by this old man." He was trying to comfort the baby in Nicole's belly.

Nicole

Drugged one night by her ex-boyfriend, a mysterious man took advantage of her in an ecstatic night filled with sex.

To take her revenge, she married the man, and used him.

"As long as I'm alive, I'm still his legal wife, while all of you are just his mistresses."

She remained adamant even when he was involved in scandals with other women.

Eventually she stormed off after she learned that he had betrayed her again. But life brought her back to him a few years later, to his astonishment.

Wrinkles along the corners of her eyes.

Baron took away her hands. "The baby was gone, Maggie. Perhaps it was a mistake for us to be together. Now that we lost the baby, we both have nothing to worry about... We'd better break up."

He knew it was not the right time to tell her the truth. But if he had told her earlier, it would be a relief for both of them.

Hearing this, Maggie restrained her tears and said, "Okay, I'll divorce you after I was discharged from the hospital." Turning around, she tried to hide her resentment from Baron.

She would never let her child die for no reason.

She clenched her fists and her nails digging into her flesh. But she didn't feel any pain.

Baron was surprised. He didn't expect that she would agree so easily. He opened his mouth but couldn't say anything. Then he heard her said, "You go back first. I want to have a rest." Her voice was as calm as it used to be, and it didn't sound like she had just lost a child at all.

After hesitating for a while, he stood up and left the ward.

It was not until Baron closed the door behind him that Maggie buried herself in the quilt and burst into tears.

Hearing her sobbing, Baron felt sorry for her.

Chapter 253 A Marriage Agreement

If it hadn't been for him, Maggie wouldn't have suffered like this.

But Baron couldn't force himself to be with a woman he didn't love at all.

He walked to Nicole's ward unconsciously and stopped at the door. When he saw people laughing and talking happily, he knew that although Jay was quarreling with Kerr...

But Baron knew, only in front of the people he love would Jay be so naughty and cute, which he had never seen before.

He then turned around and left. He didn't go to disturb Nicole's happiness.

A figure walked past the door and drew the attention of Nicole. She was a little suspicious and uncertain.

"No need to look. He has already left." The voice of Kerr flowed in Nicole's ear.

Nicole was slightly shocked. "Do you know who I saw? Was it really Baron? Why is he in the hospital?" Nicole was curious.

"Don't pay attention to other men. Am I not enough for you?" Kerr raised his hand and gently turned her head to him. He was always such an bossy man in front of Nicole.

Hearing what Kerr said, Nicole smiled and looked helpless. "Are you jealous of him? I just treat Baron as my friend."

Although they hadn't met each other for a long time, Nicole was still very worried about Baron.

Jay sat aside and watched the show. "Alas. Men... Men are petty." Then, he raised his arms, and lay on the bed, with his hands behind his head.

There was obvious provocation in his eyes when he looked at Kerr.

"You are not?" But Kerr didn't care about this.

"I'm a boy, not an old man." Jay replied confidently.

Covering her face with her hands, Nicole wondered that her husband and son were really energetic while bickering with each other.

From this day on, Kerr had a lot of free time to accompany Nicole, waiting for the baby to be born.

But at the same time, the Gu family had never let it go.

In Jack's villa.

Jack sat

turned dark. While tightening his grip on the folder, the paper in his hand was deformed.

"Are you going to sleep in a separate room with me?" Zachary didn't expect that Avery would have found such a way to get rid of him.

When Avery saw the look on Zachary's face, she knew that it was the sign that he was about lost his temper. She could not help but shrink back and nod her head.

When Zachary was about to reach out his hand to Avery, her phone suddenly rang. Avery directly jumped out of the sofa and answered the phone. When heard the voice of Nicole, she unconsciously glanced at Zachary.

"Okay, I know. I'll be right there." Then she hung up the phone.

Holding her phone in hand, Nicole looked baffled. She was just chatting with Avery, but Avery suddenly said that she would go to the hospital.

Not long after, as she expected, Avery appeared with a long face. "Nicole, you have to help me..." Avery held Nicole's hand tightly.

"Calm down, bride-to-be." She knew that Avery was anxious because of the upcoming wedding. Maybe because Kerr hid the wedding from her, so she had never experienced the anxiety before marriage.

Avery told Nicole the whole story. But Nicole didn't feel sympathy with her, but was laughed at by her.

Chapter 254 What Is Done Cannot Be Undone

"Ha-ha, is that really what you said to Zachary?" Nicole couldn't help laughing.

Avery nodded. "Is there anything wrong?"

"Are you an idiot? That's the reason why he married you is that he loves you. He will never agree with the terms you proposed. You are hurting his feelings by doing this.

"But to be honest, why on earth do you hate him so much? He is very good to you!" She also hoped that Avery would be happy.

So she wanted to solve their problems.

"I don't know either. In fact, Zachary is a good man. But I always treat him as my brother before. Now he suddenly want to be my husband. I feel a little weird."

Muttered Avery.

"Maybe you just need a push." A snicker climbed up the corner of Nicole's mouth. She took out her phone and called Kerr, "Kerr, I want to leave the hospital tonight.

You bring Zachary, I'll be with Avery, let's have dinner together." She knew that Kerr must have a solution.

After he said yes, Nicole hung up the phone.

Avery looked confused and wondered what she was up to.

"You'll know it tonight." Thinking of what would happen tonight, Nicole couldn't help but blush. She felt that she had changed a lot since she was with Kerr.

She was looking forward to the dinner.

"Mommy, I want to go with you." Jay was with Nicole all the time.

He had made a deal with Kerr that Jay would protect her in the daytime, and in the evening, Kerr would be with her, which was fair to both of them.

At the beginning, Nicole thought that Jay should go to school, but Kerr knew that it was not safe for him to go to school recently, so he hired a teacher for Jay, and Nicole agreed.

"No way. Today's dinner is not suitable for children, and you have piano class tonight. Be good, Mommy will take you with me next time." She didn't want Jay to learn these things at such a young age, but she was stopped by Zachary.

When Avery was still puzzled, Zachary said calmly, "Let me drink it for you."

He didn't want to see Avery suffer. He took her glass and drank up the wine in it.

Nicole froze. She wanted Zachary to take advantage of this opportunity, but now the situation seemed to have been a little out of their control.

"Nicole needs to take some rest, so we're leaving now." He knew what had happened after Zachary gulped up the wine. So before Zachary became a hungry wolf, he must leave the restaurant with Nicole first.

Avery looked at the dishes on the table with confusion. She didn't know what they were doing, but frowned at Zachary beside her.

"Hey, what's wrong with you? Your face is red." Avery asked casually.

Zachary held Avery's hand and headed to the top floor of the hotel. This was the restaurant belonging to Lin Group, so Zachary was very familiar with this place.

Hiding at the door, Nicole watched them walk towards the elevator with a triumphant smile on her face. "Do you think they will make some progress tonight?"

Her eyes were full of expectation.

When Nicole remembered how Kerr would be after taking the pill, she felt a bit sorry for Avery.

Chapter 255 Cancel The Wedding

Kerr shook his head, "We don't know that." They didn't go back to the car immediately. Instead, he helped Nicole put on her coat, held her hand and strolled along the road.

And enjoy their peaceful night.

"Why?" Nicole was a little curious.

"You will know in the future." He didn't say anything more, but put his arm around her waist and caressed her belly.

In the hotel.

When Zachary was still sober, he took Avery into the room, turned around and locked the door. At the moment he closed the door behind him, he was still struggling in his mind.

"Zachary, what the hell are you doing?" Avery noticed that something was wired about Zachary.

Facing Avery, Zachary's eyes turned red little by little. "Avery, are you really unwilling to marry me?"

Hearing Zachary's words, Avery was also silent. She lowered her head and hesitated for a while. Then she raised her head and looked seriously at Zachary. "Sorry, I have always regarded you as my brother.

If that's father who force me to marry you, I'm willing to accept it, but it doesn't mean that I will love you back." It was the first time for Avery to look at him so seriously.

It seemed that Zachary was different from before.

Zachary gave a light smile and walked past Avery to the bathroom. As he passed by Avery, he stopped and said, "You can go now. I'll cancel the wedding and I'll explain to it father."

After saying that, Zachary disappeared into the bathroom without a pause.

Avery frowned and looked at Zachary's back. She had a feeling that something was wrong, but she couldn't tell what it was until she heard a muffled voice from the bathroom. "You only have one chance."

Zachary really hoped that Avery could stay with him.

But when he heard the sound of door closing, he g t smile appeared on Kerr's face. He would be glad to have Nicole around him all the time. He held her in his arms and said, "You have promised me. You can't go back on your words."

This was exactly what Kerr had been waiting for.

She liked Kerr clinging to her like this. She knew that a true love meant that you always wanted to see someone all the time. Love was a matter of two people, not a solo.

At the airport of A city, Lily looked at this cruel city with suitcase in her hands. There were people she didn't want to say goodbye, but there were also people who made her feel sick, and she didn't want to see them again in her life.

Maybe leaving and forgetting was the best choice for her.

But fate played cruel tricks sometimes. When she turned around and walked to the boarding gate, Lily heard a frightening voice. "Do you really think you get away with it?"

Moore walked towards Lily with a weird smile on his face.

Lily stopped and didn't even dare to turn around. Until Moore really appeared in front of her, Lily's eyes were full of horror.

"What on earth do you want?" Lily hysterically yelled at Moore, dropping the suitcase from her hand to the ground.

Chapter 256 Is The Door Locked

Lily couldn't help but burst into tears. She stared at Moore angrily.

The loud noise attracted the passers-by's attention. Lily had never been scared like this before.

"Don't cry. Stay with me, okay? Why do you have to leave?" Moore raised his hand and wiped the tears off Lily's face. The corners of his mouth slightly raised.

They looked like a couple who had a fight in the eyes of the people who didn't know them at all.

"There's nothing to talk about between us. I've done everything you asked. Besides, Nicole is still in the hospital. I'm done with you." Lily pulled away Moore's hand, picked up her luggage from the ground and headed for the gate.

She wanted to flee.

"Aren't you afraid that your family will see the photo?" Moore didn't try to stop her.

Lily halted all of a sudden.

Turning around, Lily looked at the picture in Moore's hand in shock. She ran to him and grabbed the picture from his hands. Then she directly tore the picture into pieces. "Moore, you lied to me!"

Moore had promised her that after everything was done, he would delete the photo, but he took out another set of photos unexpectedly.

Moore reached out his hand and pinched Lily's chin. "You lied to me either. How dare you join hands with Nicole to lie to me? She is fine with her baby, but that's great.

Now, Nicole believe in you more. You take advantages of this."

He wouldn't stop until he got what he wanted.

Lily was desperate. This kind of life seemed to be endless. "What on earth do you want? How can you let me go? Why do I have to get involved in your affairs?"

She couldn't understand why a nobody like her had got involved in such a cruel r d locked the door in one go.

It was not until Nicole heard the door close that she dared to turn around. She picked up a pillow and threw it at Kerr. "Why don't you lock the door?" She was quite frightened by this incident.

Now Jay was still a child, so they really should pay attention to their behavior. Nicole was afraid that it would have a bad impact on Jay.

Kerr grabbed the pillow.

"Hey, old man. I've heard my mommy's voice. She's awake now. We had deal that she would belong to me during the day." Wearing an angry face, Jay raised his hand and knocked at the door.

As if Kerr hadn't heard him, he walked to Nicole and said, "Don't worry. I'm sure he'll know it sooner or later." Kerr didn't care about it.

Besides, he reacted so fast that Jay didn't notice anything at all. As he was about to touch Nicole's face, she stopped him.

"Kerr, it is serious. Jay is six-year-old son and a smart boy. Even though he will get to know the truth sooner or later, it is inappropriate in front of a child. I warn you, this can't happen again," she said seriously.

Nicole looked at him in depression.

Chapter 257 Separate Rooms

How important her image was in his son's heart! She was frightened at the thought of it.

"Okay, I get it. I promise that I will lock the door from now on." Kerr tried to comfort the frightened little woman with a warm smile on his face.

Nicole glared at Kerr. "I'm going to sleep with Jay tonight. It's a punishment for you." She was not joking.

"No. we just got married. We haven't spent our honeymoon yet. Do you want to sleep in separate rooms from me?" Normally, Kerr would do whatever she asked. But he wouldn't make a compromise in this matter.

How could he let go of such her?

"Then I will punish you..." Nicole thought seriously.

"Punish me for giving me a kiss!" Kerr kissed her passionately, leaving her no chance to refuse.

Nicole's breath was suddenly taken away. "Hmm..." Gradually, she lost her strength to push him away. And her body went feeble under his tenderness.

"I lock the door this time." He let go of Nicole when she was almost out of breath, and then he put his lips around her ear and said softly.

But Nicole came to her sense at once. She reached out her hand and ruthlessly pushed Kerr away.

"Jay is still outside. Are you out of your mind?" Nicole lowered her voice. This time, no matter what Kerr said, she didn't want to listen to him anymore. She picked up a set of casual clothes and put it on.

She urged Kerr to put on his clothes as soon as possible and simply made up the messy bed sheet. After that, Nicole turned around and walked to the door. When she opened the door, she really saw Jay's gloomy face.

"Sorry, Jay. Mommy just woke up." Wearing an embarrassed look, Nicole looked at Jay and held his hand.

"Mommy, you are a terrible liar. I heard you he surprise that Kerr prepared for her, because every time he knew what she wanted the most.

"It's our honeymoon. I've been ready. We can set off later." Kerr went to her, put his arm around her waist and shared the weight for her.

She thought that maybe her honeymoon would be gone because of her pregnancy. In fact, as long as she was with the man she loved, she really didn't care where she was.

Hearing what Kerr had said, Jay ran to Nicole in fear that she might leave him alone.

"Where is Mommy going? Don't forget to take your baby with you!" Jay wouldn't let Nicole go so easily.

Nicole looked down at him and nodded.

"No one takes the kids with them on the honeymoon." In fact, Kerr had already prepared to bring Jay to the honeymoon, but he deliberately wanted Jay to get anxious.

Jay lowered his head and his excitement disappeared. Jay then raised his head and saw Nicole's meaningful eyes, and he immediately understood what she meant.

"In exchange, I won't cause trouble to the Gu Group." In the past few days, Jay had brought a lot of troubles to the Gu Group, but it seemed that Kerr didn't care about it at all.

Chapter 258 III Meet You Soon

Kerr's indifference disappointed Jay.

"I won't take you with me unless you continue to make troubles for the Gu group." Kerr bent down to pick up Jay.

Jay frowned and thought he had misheard.

"He is no longer in the Gu Group. There is a mistake in your information." Nicole explained to Jay. She was aware of the intention of Kerr. It was not easy for Moore to replace Kerr.

So when Moore couldn't solve the crisis in the company, Kerr could take advantage of this and go back to the Gu Group.

It was a commercial empire that he had devoted a lot. He wouldn't give it up easily.

Jay suddenly felt that he was fooled, so he stared at Kerr angrily, but in order to go with them, he said nothing more.

After everything was ready, Kerr took Nicole and Jay on their honeymoon.

Harley had no choice but follow them on the trip in case there was something happened to Nicole. He could only watch how sweetly and lovingly they were.

"Uncle, do you regret coming with us?" Jay gripped Harley and added salt to the fire on purpose.

"Do you regret it?" Harley looked at Jay. There was nothing to regret because he wanted to be here to protect Nicole.

Jay shook his head, "No, I don't." Jay looked at Kerr and Nicole, who were walking on the beach.

"There will be a good show soon." Jay wore a mystery smile.

Then he held his phone and made a call.

"I have arrived at D island. When will you show up?" There was obvious expectations in Jay's tone.

The sweet voice of the girl on the phone rang, "You can see me on the beach, soon." After saying that, the girl hung up the phone.

Jay's lips curled into a smile. The girl was his friend. They got to know each other on the internet. They had worked together

Eventually she stormed off after she learned that he had betrayed her again. But life brought her back to him a few years later, to his astonishment.

When she met him before, she had a sense of familiarity with him. She couldn't make it clear, so she looked at him earnestly.

Anyone who got close to a man would feel comfortable with his gentle temperament. His gold-rimmed glasses made him look more mature.

"Auntie, this is my father."

Callie looked at Nicole and spoke softly.

"Nice to meet you. I'm Jay, a friend of Callie. This is my mommy, Nicole." Jay said with a bright smile, though he was amazed by Callie's beauty.

Jay still behaved like a gentleman. He slightly bent down and was polite to the man in front of him.

The man nodded, "Hello, Mrs. Nicole. So Jay, you are Callie's friend. I wonder why Callie want to eat here today. It is your first time here?"

D Island boasted of their unique local customs and their own clothes. However, Nicole was only in a white dress, so she was obviously not a local here.

"Yes, we just arrived at D island yesterday." She knew that it was inappropriate for her to stare at the man too long, she looked away with a smile.

"Well, tomorrow is Callie's birthday. I will hold a small birthday party for her, and only her good friends will be invited."

Chapter 259 Jay's Worry

"Mrs. Nicole, it would be great if you come to the party."

The man offered an invitation generously, in a confident tone, as if he knew that Nicole would not refuse.

Before Nicole could say anything, Jay chimed in.

"Thank you, uncle. I will not miss Callie's birthday." Jay's eyes had been fixed on Callie, but it was a pity that Callie was much taller than him since she in the man's arms.

Jay felt a little frustrated, and wondered where the old man was right now. Jay really needed his help, but he was not around.

Callie seemed to know what Jay was thinking, but she didn't get down from his father's arms and said, "I hope auntie can with Jay. You're beautiful and I like you very much."

Hearing Callie's words, it was the first time for Nicole to be praised by a child, so she felt a little shy. "Okay, I will be there. I like you, too."

Who wouldn't like such an adorable kid?

The man nodded to Callie and said, "We have something else to do. We'll see you tomorrow." Then he took Callie in his arms and left.

When they sat down at the table again, Nicole suddenly became curious about the father and daughter. "Jay, when did you know Callie? Why didn't I know about this girl?"

Not knowing when Jay had concealed so many secrets behind her, which made her feel that she was a failure.

In the past, she was the first one to know about what was going on in Jay's life.

"I met her on a website. Mom, do you know what gift I should prepare for Callie's birthday tomorrow?" Happiness was written all over his face.

It was the first time that he gave a gift to someone other than Nicole. He wanted to give Callie a very rare and special gift.

When she saw Jay's look, she couldn't help but laugh. "Jay, you Invited him, it seemed that Callie wouldn't have told him about the party.

When Nicole saw that Jay looked preoccupied and it was not because of her for the first time, she smiled. "Okay. Let uncle Harley keep you company."

She knew what Jay was thinking, so there was no reason for her to say no.

Watching Jay's receding figure, Kerr said calmly, "He has something on his mind."

Jay had never been so quiet in front of him. Kerr was curious about what else was more important than Nicole in his heart.

"Yeah, since he has a good friend, how could he still care about his mother?" There was an obvious jealousy in her words, but she was still smiling.

Whether it was a mother or a child, they should have their own private space. She knew this, so she just made a joke.

"Good friend?" Kerr was curious about what kind of girl could attract Jay's attention. In fact, Jay like Kerr, had high requirements for their dates.

It hadn't been 24 hours since they arrived here. How could he have a good friend here?

Nicole shook her head. "Sometimes I really feel like a bad mother. I don't know Jay at all, nor do I know what kind of friend he has."

Chapter 260 Beauty

"Am I the worst mom ever?" Nicole looked at Kerr sitting next to her.

Kerr kissed on her forehead and said, "Nicole, Jay is a boy. He's meant to grow up on his own. You should trust him that he can handle his own business.

I've told you that he is someone else's husband sooner or later and you can't tie him around you for all your life." Kerr went straight to the point.

As long as Nicole was aware of it, Nicole would all be his.

Looking at the triumphant face of Kerr, Nicole pinched his ear and said, "Do you think that I don't know what you are thinking? No matter how clever Jay is, he is still a child.

And, Mr. Kerr, if you say so, I really dare not to give birth to a child for you. If after the child is born, and you also do not allow me to care about him, what should I do?"

It was not that easy to fool Nicole.

He took her hand and gently kissed it. "Mrs. Nicole, it's too late for you to regret, isn't it? The baby is in your belly.

What's more, boys and girls are different. Girl is the apple of our family and we should all cherish her." Kerr had made up his mind that after Nicole gave birth to a daughter, he would give his baby girl all the best in the world.

He wanted her to be the happiest princess in the world.

"How is it different? Why do I think that if I give birth to a boy, you will throw me and him on the street?"

Nicole was at a loss whether to cry or to laugh. Everyone should expect a boy, but her husband was the opposite.

"How could I?" Although he was dying to have a baby girl, he would cherish their baby no matter it was a boy or a girl.

"If it is a girl, we would name her Joyce. Do you think so?" He embraced her in his arms with a slight smile on his face.

Drugged one night by her ex-boyfriend, a mysterious man took advantage of her in an ecstatic night filled with sex.

the ground, which surprised her.

Looking at the carpet made of red roses, she even didn't have the heart to step on it with her foot. She took off her shoes and put them at the entrance of the cave. She then walked forwards, barefoot.

When she stepped on the rose petals, she felt something was different. It was as soft as a huge water bed beneath the red petals.

In the darkness, the light passed through the gap between the rose petals, reflecting different colors. Nicole seemed to be in a fairy tale world.

"How did you do it, Kerr?" She looked at Kerr with surprise in her eyes.

When he saw the smile on her face, Kerr thought that it was well worth it.

He walked to her and put his arm around her shoulder. "Let's go inside." He could even imagine the expression on her face when she saw the surprise.

She turned around, but didn't let go of Kerr's hand. When they walked into the cave, she saw a huge water bed in the shape of roses.

It was in a place where there was no sunshine, but the flowers looked very colorful.

"It's our wedding night." He wrapped his arms around her waist from behind and whispered in her ear.
