Chapter 26

Michael had also avoided talking about the triplets. That matter remained a thorn in Michael's and Gwendolyn's hearts.

It was not easy for Michael to see Gwendolyn again. Hence, he did not want to mess things up.

There was not a day that he did not think about Gwendolyn throughout these six years.

Gwendolyn took out a gift box from her bag and passed it to Michael. "Grandpa, this is for you. It'll be your birthday next month, so I'm giving this to you in advance."

He took the box from her and opened it. Inside the box, there was a jade with a unique color. Michael smiled at her. "You don't have to spend your money on me, Gwen."

Michael would gladly accept anything Gwendolyn gifted him, as it was an expression of love from her.

Gwendolyn had wanted to go back earlier to look for jobs online. Since Michael had asked her to stay, she did not want to ruin his mood. It would only take her a day, anyway.
