

CEO Daddy 30

Chapter 30

Gwendolyn frowned, wondering how her daughter learned those things like pouncing on someone and making babies.

By the time she went downstairs, it was already half-past six. She needed to arrive at Star Mansion by seven o'clock. Therefore, she could only drive her second-hand Fiat over.

The traffic was severely congested because it was the peak hour when everyone got off work. Her car would burn a lot of fuel in that situation. She was distressed at the fact that she would have to spend more on the fuel.

Gwendolyn had spent a lot of money on buying that car for the convenience of sending Juliette to the hospital at night.

She rarely drove that car on any ordinary day, as the fuel consumption would cost her a lot. Nonetheless, it would be more costly to grab a cab at that hour. After mulling over it, she decided to drive.

It was not a smooth ride, and she could not help worrying about the fuel cost throughout the way. Finally, she arrived at the Star Mansion, but the security guards refused to let her enter.

Gwendolyn informed him of the unit number and said, "I'm his guest. You can give him a call if you don't believe me."

The security guards looked puzzled. Does Mr. Lowen have such a poor friend?

They did not believe her words, as they had to chase away countless people who tried to approach Patrick every day.

It was the first time they saw someone in an old Fiat asking to meet Patrick.

Is she trying to gain Mr. Lowen's sympathy and win his heart?
