Chapter 311

It was the first time that Gwendolyn had heard him talk about his parents. She did not understand much about the Lowen family.

She pursed her lips and replied, "Mm, I got it."

She tightened her hold on his hands. His countenance appeared to be exceptionally grim and cold whenever he talked about his parents.

The temperature of his hands dropped. They felt rather cold. She exerted more strength in her grasp to warm up his hands.

Patrick felt the warmth she was giving him. The corner of his lips curved up faintly. He found Gwendolyn to be quite thoughtful and sensible.

The chemistry between them was getting better. She did not probe about matters that he did not wish to bring up.

Similarly, he would not mention anything that she was unwilling to talk about. The two relied on each other and understood the other person's feelings the way an old married couple would.

When they reached Platinum Plate, the chauffeur opened the door for them. Patrick got off first and walked over to her side. He reached out a hand to support her and used his other hand to cushion the top of the car for her. His actions were gentlemanly and considerate.

A few women who happened to pass by exclaimed, "Wow, are handsome men so caring? I want to be that girl too!"

Gwendolyn overheard them and smiled happily. Grabbing onto his arm, she felt utter bliss and merriment.

When they stepped into Platinum Plate, the boss of the restaurant personally welcomed them.

Gwendolyn looked at Lucas coldly. However, he couldn't care less, as he proceeded to chug down some wine on his own.

She could tell that Lucas had probably just returned from a military trip. He had become tanner, and there were wounds on his face.

“Luce, how can you be so foolish? You can't let him take advantage of you like that.”

Lucy glanced at Lucas and quickly dragged Gwendolyn out of the room.

“Don't make a fuss, Gwen. I was the one who went looking for him. He's my only hope. So, if he wants to sleep with me, I'll let him do so. Once he has his fill, he will give Melanie his bone marrow.”

There was a layer of disappointment in Lucy's eyes. She was basically helpless.

Melanie's life was of paramount importance. Her own feelings did not matter.

She had to do so even though she felt nothing for Lucas. When Lucas was mean, he was mean to the core.

She thought of that time when he had been especially nasty, and taught her a variety of shameless acts.

Yet, she could not tell a soul about that. She could only grin and bear it herself.

Gwendolyn brought Lucy into her embrace. “I know how you feel, Luce. Are you sure that brat will give his bone marrow to Melanie? He has run away once, hasn't he?”

Patrick examined her shy face. He reached a hand out to caress her cheeks.

"All right, let's drop it. I'll show you what I mean."

He passed more food to her. "Eat up."

Gwendolyn, who had been famished, had a good appetite. She happily ate her fill. It was a satisfying meal.

After that, the two exited the private room and chanced upon Lucas and Lucy, who were coming out of theirs as well.

When Lucy saw them, she grinned and greeted them.

"Hi, Gwen. Hi, Mr. Lowen."

Patrick had an arm around Gwendolyn. He shot a calm look at Lucas.

In a composed tone that was void of emotions, he said, "Luke, you're back! Why didn't you tell us?"
Lucas had consumed a lot of wine. He stood up straight as amusement flashed across his tanned face.

"What a coincidence, Pat. I just got back today."

As he talked, he glanced at Lucy. If it had not been for her, he would not come back.

Patrick had thought things through. He would stay out with Gwendolyn. Neither of them would be returning to Star Mansion that night.

That way, the two children would not be able to stop them.

Gwendolyn nodded. She had to switch off her phone later. That way, the kids would not be able to contact her and beg her to return home.

At that thought, she found herself getting a little taste of mischief.

This was her biggest transformation in the many years of her life. She wanted to go all out for once, and do what would make her happy.

They drove on for more than two hours before they finally arrived at a lake in the mountains.

It was the best vacation spot in Avenport. On weekends, many people would come here for fun.

There was a huge lake surrounded by the road. It made for a beautiful scenery.

There was also a village with many hotels.

It was already ten o'clock at night by the time they reached their destination. There were still many people strolling by the lake. Some were even playing with fireworks.

It was the first time she saw uncertainty in the depths of his eyes, and she could not believe what she was seeing.

Being such a powerful person, Patrick could get anything he wanted in the world.

Therefore, Gwendolyn could not understand Patrick's reaction. Gwendolyn wondered if Patrick was afraid that she would leave him.

The thought of that suddenly pained her heart, and she threw herself into his embrace and hugged him tightly.

Although she did not know a few things about his past, for instance, why his parents were never around, she wanted to tell him that she would never leave him. She wanted him to know that she would be with him for the rest of her life as long as he wanted her.

Patrick closed his eyes and held her tightly as he said in a low voice, "You're stuck with me forever, Gwen. No matter what happens, you are not allowed to leave me."

The two of them hugged each other tightly as if to signify their commitment and pledge to each other.

Patrick held Gwendolyn in his embrace until the group of youngsters left before they continued walking toward the small town.

The breeze by the lake was chilly, but they felt warmth in their hearts.

After walking for half an hour, they arrived at their hotel. Patrick then approached the front desk to collect the keycard and headed to the lake view room together with Gwendolyn.

After they entered the room, Gwendolyn darted straight to the floor-to-ceiling windows. Upon seeing the view of the lake outside the room, Gwendolyn beamed like a cheerful child.

After that, the video disappeared, and Patrick's phone returned to the way it was before.

Patrick frowned slightly for a moment. Those two kids are threatening me.

He was not angry but thought it was interesting.

So I need to conquer these kids too. Well, let's see who's the winner.

Right at that moment, Gwendolyn's voice rang out.

“Patrick... Mr. Lowen... Are you there?”

Patrick reconfigured his phone's security system, chucked his phone to the side, and strode toward the master bedroom.

He knocked on the door as soon as he arrived at the door to the bathroom.

“Gwen, what's wrong?”

He pushed the door to open it, but it was locked from the inside, so he could not get in.

She had a surprised look on her face. Then, she could not help but laugh.

Patrick's expression hardened, and he stared at her coldly.

Earlier, when he was at the supermarket, the cashier had also stared at him like that. He was already slightly annoyed by it.

However, Gwendolyn was also currently looking at him as if he was a fool, making him even more irritated.

He had been considered a genius since he was young and had never been looked down on by anyone before.

"I didn't know which brand you like, so I bought everything."

When Gwendolyn heard that, she laughed again and hugged him.

"Mr. Lowen, I'm not ridiculing you. I'm just happy. It's the first time I ever felt that you are the same as us ordinary people."

Previously, she had always felt there was a gap in between them. He had always been the one superior to everyone, giving off an intimidating vibe.

She could not believe it even after she had become his girlfriend, as she still felt a distance between them.

However, at that moment, she felt that the gap between them had narrowed considerably.

Although Patrick was annoyed, his mood was lifted significantly after she took the initiative to hug him.

However, it was uncomfortable sleeping apart from each other. He also liked it when she slept in his embrace.

Nevertheless, as soon as she got close to him, he could not restrain himself from thinking about it.

He was usually not a lustful man. Even if other women slept in his bed naked, he would not feel anything.

However, his self-control was non-existent when he faced Gwendolyn.

When Gwendolyn heard his words, she blinked her large eyes.

“Huh?”

Help him? How does he want me to help him?

Just as she felt confused, she was suddenly dragged into his embrace and locked lips with his.

His kiss was passionate as if he wanted to become one with her.

It was Gwendolyn's first time feeling his enthusiasm, and that made her heart palpitate. She wanted to enjoy that moment with him and did not want to think about anything else.

I only want to bring him joy! That will make me happy too!

She could only feel his taste in her mouth. Her mind went blank, and Patrick grabbed her hand.

Patrick turned to look at her. When he saw the disappointed look on her face, he said flatly, "I don't like to smile."

Gwendolyn realized there was some truth in his words, as he usually wore a cold expression.

Even if he smiled, his lips only curled up slightly.

Gwendolyn used to think he was a blessed man who lived a happy life. Thinking about it now, she realized he was also a human and not a god.

He had to shoulder lots of responsibilities. There was a large corporation that he had to manage, and he was the decision-maker when it came to major issues in the corporation. All the employees depended on him so that they could provide a living for their own families.

Aside from those, he probably had his own matters to attend to.

Gwendolyn merely thought he was really handsome when he smiled, and she thought that one should smile more.

Patrick wrapped an arm around her shoulders. "Send that photo to me."

Gwendolyn turned to glance at him. "You want it too?"

It was beyond her expectations because she had assumed that someone who disliked taking photos would not want to keep the photos.

Patrick raised his brows slightly. "Yes!"

Gwendolyn sent the photo to him. His slender finger clicked open the photo. When he saw her sweet smile, his finger brushed across her face in the photo before he saved it in his album.

Gwendolyn turned around to smile at her. "Thank you! However, I don't really like dressing up like this. I would have to act elegantly in front of people."

For Gwendolyn, she felt it was tiring to live a life as such.

Amber smiled. "You have to get used to it because there will be many occasions as such after you marry Mr. Lowen and become Mrs. Lowen in the future."

Amber and Liam had been serving Patrick by his side, so they knew that Gwendolyn held a special place in Patrick's heart.

Knowing that she was likely the future Mrs. Lowen, they were very careful around her and did not dare to offend her.

In fact, if there was any woman by Patrick's side, they were all very cautious while serving her out of concern that she would end up being Mrs. Lowen in the future.

Gwendolyn pondered for a moment and agreed.

She remained silent as she suddenly missed her children.

She took out her phone and walked toward the room's balcony. Then, she called Justin.

The call was connected soon after, and Justin's voice rang out.

"Mommy!"

"Justin, I'll be returning home tonight. Be good and listen to Ms. Ziegler."
