Chapter 311 Take Back My Child

Kerr put his arm around Nicole's shoulder and let her lie on the bed. "Let me handle this. You can have some sleep." He noticed the tiredness in her eyes.

She held Kerr's hand. Although she had something on her mind, she could fall asleep in peace with Kerr at her side.

He watched her sleep until he felt her steady breath. Then he let go of her hand and walked out of the bedroom carefully.

When he went downstairs, he saw that Harley and Avery were playing with Ron.

"That's funny! He's so tiny and cute!" Avery had never been so close to a child. She had fed the little boy with Harley just now.

Although this little guy looked very annoying when he cried, when his big eyes smiled like an angel, Avery couldn't help but forgive the naughty boy.

"I didn't know you like babies so much. Why don't you have one?" Harley made fun of Avery, and Lisa suddenly came into his mind.

Since returning to A City, Harley had been busy taking care of Nicole, so he hadn't seen Lisa for a long time. He missed her very much.

Avery stared at her and said, "Can I have a baby by myself? Where can I get a man?" Avery felt that it was easy for Harley to say that.

"Don't think I don't know. I heard it from Nicole. How are things going with you and Lisa? Did you find your true love?" It was hard for Avery to imagine what kind of woman Harley would fall in love with.

At the mention of Lisa, Harley gave Avery an arrogant look. "Of course, I'm not kidding. There is no woman more suitable for me than Lisa in the world."

He had been dreaming that he would propose to Lisa as soon as Kerr solved his problem. He couldn't wait to marry Lisa.

Every time when he saw Nicole and Kerr, he didn't feel anyth his method before, but he just didn't want to get Kelvin and Vedder into trouble.

Kelvin had helped her a lot before.

"Thank you, Uncle. But this time, I'll handle it by myself." After saying that, he rose to his feet and went back to the bedroom. He lay beside Nicole and held her into his arms.

"Lucas..."

When he heard Nicole murmuring in her dreams, Kerr bore it in mind silently and said, "Don't worry, I'll bring Lucas back soon." Kerr comforted Nicole.

Nicole looked relieved in her dream, and she saw a boy's beautiful smiling face in front of her.

He was so cute.

Nicole couldn't help but reach out her hands and held Lucas in her arms. When she turned around, she saw that Kerr was standing not far away from Jay, and walked towards her and placed his arms around her shoulder.

Perhaps this was the happiness that Nicole had been longing for.

In the living room downstairs.

When Sunny saw Harley pulled a long face, she feel a little uneasy. She said, "Please don't be so serious. Since Kerr has said that he will be fine, he should be fine."

Hearing Avery's words, Harley just shook his head in silence.

Chapter 312 Lost The Baby

"Does Mommy have a little sister?" Jay ran in from the door of the villa.

He saw the baby on the sofa in the living room and ran to Ron. Looking at the baby in front of him, Jay frowned.

"How could it be so ugly? You look nothing like my beautiful Mommy." Jay pouted. He raised his hand and opened the small blanket wrapped around Ron's body.

"Aren't you the little sister? No wonder you look so ugly!" Jay released his hand in disgust and sat on the sofa. He put his arm in front of his chest, looking very disappointed.

Avery shook her head and said, "Come on! I think you are the smartest kid in the world." She raised her hand and fondled his hair.

"He's not your brother or Nicole's kid. So he doesn't look like your mother." Avery explained casually.

What happened in the party was unknown to Jay. All the news in the media that day were blocked by Kerr. Therefore, Jay knew nothing about what had happened.

"Really? Does mommy give birth to a baby girl? The old man must have hidden it. I am going to find him right now." Jay said angrily.

While speaking, he was about to jump off the sofa and walked towards their bedroom.

Avery grabbed his wrist.

"No. your mommy is still sleeping. You can see her later. There is no little sister. Your mommy did give birth to a little boy, but he is not here now.

Be good. I'll tell you what happened." Avery sat on the sofa with Jay in her arms. She briefly told him that Lucas had been stealthily taken away.

She didn't tell him about the details. After all, he was just a child.

"Humph! I knew that the old man could not take good care of mommy at all, and he even lost my little brother. I really can't be away for even one day!" Jay said angrily.

birth to a baby yourself? I think uncle Zachary is a good man."

He gave Avery a hint and strode upstairs, ignoring her stunned look.

It was not good to be lectured by a child. Avery was speechless. Two people had mentioned Zachary in front of her today. Was she really going to find him back?

She shook her head, unwilling to think about such a question.

When Jay reached the door of study, he saw that the door of Nicole's bedroom was opened and Kerr walked out.

"How dare you show up here after you lost my little brother?" Wearing a discontented look on his face, Jay confronted Kerr.

Without paying attention to Jay, Kerr went straight into the study and didn't close the door. He knew that Jay would follow him.

Looking at the disappearing figure of Kerr, Jay stomped his foot and couldn't help but follow him. When he saw Kerr sitting behind the desk, he asked, "What are you doing? Where is my brother?"

He was eager to see Lucas so he went directly to Kerr. He went into Kerr's arms from the lower part of Kerr's arm and raised his little cute face. "I want to see my brother."

Stopping being tough, Jay put on a pitiful look.

Chapter 313 A Powerful Man

This fact made Kerr feel even more distressed.

"I'll get Lucas back." Kerr couldn't help but caress Jay's hair.

Jay nodded and then sat on his laps at ease, fixing his eyes on the screen.

"Is this the protective system of Gu's old house? It doesn't seem difficult." With a disdainful look, Jay stared at the screen and watched Kerr's moves.

At the beginning, Jay didn't take him seriously. But later, he gradually showed his admiration to Kerr. Jay tilted his head and looked at the man behind him. It was not until this moment that he realized that Kerr was stronger than he had imagined.

But he wouldn't admit it.

But Kerr did make Jay feel a little proud. After all, not everyone would have a dad like him.

"How about having a try?" Kerr pushed the laptop to Jay and asked.

Jay came to his senses and stretched out his hand. Although he was still very young, he was not afraid at all, maybe because there was a powerful man behind him.

That was the only way to make Jay to do whatever he liked.

His fingers were busy typing on the keyboard. When Kerr saw the code on the screen, he gave a satisfied smile with obvious admiration in his eyes.

"This is the security system of Gu's old house, you have to remember." In order to prevent something unexpected from happening, Kerr had intended to tell everything of the Gu family to Jay, although he was still young.

However, with Jay's talent, he was able to do this.

Jay nodded, with curiosity in his eyes.

"I'll go out later. You stay with your mommy." Then Kerr closed his laptop too, and held up Jay, walking towards the door of the bedroom, and gently opened the door with his hand.

He gestured for Jay to be gentle.

Jay glanced at Kerr. He didn't know why Kerr suddenly became so generous, but he was still happy to have Kerr with Nicole.

lips slightly raised.

"Sir, should we do it now? The car they parked outside has been controlled by our men. I didn't expect that they would dare to make trouble in here with only two of them."

At this time, Vedder was standing beside Harley. He looked at the two men with obvious disdain in his words.

"They have overrated their ability. If I had known it would be so boring, I would have gone to the Gu family with Kerr." Obviously, Harley was a little disappointed.

"Well, in that case, let's play with them. Don't act rashly and alert the enemy first. I am curious about how they plan to find that child." Suddenly, something interested Harley.

Vedder nodded, and then held the intercom in his hand, telling the security guards in the villa not to act rashly.

When Kerr parked his car in front of the Gu family's old house.

The light of the villa was supposed to be turned off, but it was still on. Looking at the second floor, Kerr was silent. Quickly, Kelvin opened the door of the old house and walked to the car of Kerr.

"Sir, Mr. Jack knows you will come. He is waiting for you." Kelvin also felt helpless. It seemed that no matter how hard he tried, the father and son could not get close to each other.

Chapter 314 The Inspection Report Of Jack

It seemed that they couldn't even live in peace.

Casting a glance at the window, Kerr got out of the car silently.

Standing in front of the study, Kerr reached out and pushed the door open. He saw that Jack was sitting behind the desk with his back to him.

"Here you are." There was no surprise in Jack's tone.

Having a look at the faces of Jack and Kerr, Kelvin turned around and left the study consciously, leaving time and space for them.

"I told you that my child must grow up by my side." Kerr didn't plan to make a concession, but he knew that his father had made full preparation and that the baby might have been transferred out of the Gu family's house.

Turning around, Jack stared at Kerr. It was not until this moment that he realized that Kerr had grown up a lot and was able to bear the responsibility of Gu Group all by himself.

And he would no longer be manipulated by Jack.

"Kerr, if you want to take over the Gu Group and make the Gu family keep the dominant position, you have to give up something, such as the so-called love. It's not easy for the Gu family to reach today's position.

I can't bear to see you lose your mind because of some unnecessary feelings. I can hand over everything in the Gu family to you, and you can keep Nicole by your side.

But you should be clear about that fact that Nicole would not be able to become your legal wife." As a matter of fact, Jack couldn't accept the fact that Kerr married a woman who was good for nothing.

Seeing the stubborn look on Jack's face, Kerr shook his head and said, "I think you are wrong. I came here just to get my baby back.

As for what happened to the Gu family and whether I'm going to be with Nicole or not, it has nothing to do with anyone." He did "The man's hands were tied behind his back, so he couldn't resist. The other man's mouth was also tied with tape to one side.

When Kerr heard such a harsh voice, he couldn't help frowning and asked, "What are you doing?" In such a quiet night, such a sound became abnormally harsh. Kerr was afraid that it would affect the sleep of Nicole.

Hearing Kerr's voice, Harley turned around and smiled at him.

"You're back. I didn't expect that Sunny would only send two people here. It's kind of boring, but the two are so loyal to Sunny that they didn't tell us anything about her."

Sitting on the sofa, Harley sighed. He was not good at interrogating people. If Ken was here, it might be easier for him to do it. His hands were used to hold scalpels, not to beat people.

Kerr walked up to the two men, squatted down, grabbed the man's hair and forced him to look up at him. But Kerr was very unfamiliar with these two faces.

Without a word, Kerr let go of him.

"If you want to stay alive, you'd better tell me the truth. Maybe I can give you a chance." Sitting next to Harley, Kerr said indifferently.

But the coldness on Kerr's face did not soften a little.

Chapter 315 Failed

The man looked at Kerr and knew that he was not a man to be trifled with.

"I really don't know anything. We just want to get some money since people here are in such a big and rich family. We didn't expect to be caught by you before we take action."

He had promised Moore that once something happened, he would take full responsibility. So he would not disclose Moore's name.

Hearing what the man said, Harley smiled slightly. "Do you think I'm stupid? You want to get some money? There are many valuable things here, why did you want to get close to the crib in the bedroom?"

Harley inquired.

The man lowered his head, with a guilty look on his face. He didn't dare to look at Harley and Kerr.

"For the last time, who asked you to come here?" There was no emotion in Kerr's calm tone and the man looked into the distance unconsciously.

"No one. I really don't know what you are talking about." The man defended himself.

Then Kerr turned to look at Kim.

After receiving the sign from Kerr, Kim took out a dagger from behind his back. Instead of walking towards the man who had just answered his question, he turned around and looked at the man who was tied with a tape.

"From now on, if you don't say anything, I'll stab him until you tell us." Kim clenched the knife in his hand and said in a cold voice.

And stabbed the man in his arm.

"Hmm!" The man's eyes were full of fear as he saw the sharp dagger cut through his arm.

Even if he wanted to scream, he couldn't.

He could only sob bitterly.

As soon as Kim took out the dagger, blood flew out of the wound and splashed on the man's face.

"I'll tell you everything!" The other man did not expect that Kim would actually do it. The warm blood on his face seemed to have burned his skin.

"It's Mr. M u can and bring him to me at all costs."

After informing Kim, Kerr went upstairs.

He had planned to play games with Moore slowly, but now it seemed that there was no time and opportunity for him to do that.

Kim nodded and left the villa.

When Kerr went back to their room, he walked to Nicole and held her hand. "I'm sorry..." He didn't bring Lucas back as he promised.

He kissed Nicole's fingers gently.

There was an obvious self-reproach in his eyes.

It was getting dark outside. So Kerr just sat beside Nicole, quietly waiting for her to wake up.

Maybe she was so tired before that she woke up late.

"Kerr? You stayed up all night?" When Nicole opened her eyes, she saw Kerr in casual clothes and felt the warmth of his palm. She frowned slightly.

She had seldom seen him at a loss.

"It's okay. I was a little late last night. Nicole, I have something to tell you." Kerr smiled at her. He didn't plan to hide this from Nicole.

"I already know that Lucas is at the Gu family, but I can't bring her back temporarily. Can you give me three days?" He knew it was cruel to her.

But he had his own reasons.

There was a hint of earnest and appeal in his eyes.

Chapter 316 Didn't Remember Him

She finally didn't have the heart to refuse him.

"Kerr, what happened? Tell me, okay? Didn't we say that we should shoulder the responsibility together no matter what happened?" Nicole tried to move and sit up.

But the wound on her belly made her unable to move at all.

Kerr held her shoulders. "I went to the Gu family house last night and got a news that there will be a banquet in three days, but this party is held secretly.

It's about the future of the Gu family and the Gu Group. After the banquet, I will take Lucas back, okay?"

Kerr didn't tell her that the meeting was about Jack's will.

When she saw that Kerr looked serious, which rarely happened to him, she could not help but nod in agreement. "The future of the Gu family? Will it affect you?" Although she didn't know what it was.

But she was worried that she might affect Kerr.

Kerr shook his head. "Don't worry. I can handle it well. No matter what the result is, I won't leave you and our baby. This time might be a good ending."

In fact, Kerr knew clearly that even if Jack wanted to make it up to Moore, he couldn't do that due to his limited ability and Jack wouldn't hand over the Gu Group to an uncertain person.

This was also the reason why Kerr wanted to find Moore in advance. He was afraid that Moore would do something harmful to them.

Nicole nodded and rested in Kerr's arms, thinking of Lucas. "Kerr, I almost forget what Lucas looks like." She just saw him at a glance.

She was really afraid that she would forget the appearance of Lucas. She was afraid that when she saw him again, she could not recognize him.

"Open it." Kerr took out his phone from his pocket and handed it to Nicole.

Before leaving the Gu family's house, Kerr specially asked Kelvin to take more photos and send t to the ground.

Jay nodded with a cute face, and then stood at the door of the villa, watching the two go out.

Sitting in the car, Nicole looked at Jay, who was waving to her. "Don't you think that Jay looks strange today?" Nicole asked.

Kerr glimpsed at Jay and saw the shrewdness in his eyes, but didn't care. He didn't think he had to worry about Jay since he was a clever boy.

"He knows what he should do and what he shouldn't," Kerr reached out and tucked her in before he turned up the temperature of the air conditioner.

Wherever she went, Kerr always kept an eye on her condition.

Kerr's car disappeared in front of his eyes.

Jay returned to his room in haste and took out the dress he chose this morning from the wardrobe. It was a delicate suit and he put it on right away.

Standing in front of the mirror, Jay was quite satisfied with his style. He walked down the stairs.

Jay felt proud of his plan.

Looking up at Jay in front of him, Harley couldn't help but be shocked, "Jay, what are you going to do? Are you going to attend a meeting?"

This was the first time that Harley had seen Jack look like that, who was quite similar to Kerr when he was little.

Chapter 317 It Didn't Sound Nice

Jay deliberately cleared his throat. "Uncle Harley, please pay attention when you call my name. From today on, I will be Jay Gu." He wanted everyone to know...

the existence of him.

He didn't take it seriously before because he didn't care, but now he wanted to protect Lucas.

He would also make Nicole hold her head high.

Harley raised his eyebrows. "So you are going to call Kerr daddy?" Harley couldn't help laughing at the thought of the father and son.

Hearing this, Jay frowned. From the way he addressed them, it sounded like Kerr was condescending, which made Jay very uncomfortable.

Before Jay spoke, he saw Kim come in in a hurry from outside.

At the sight of Jay, he was first stunned, but then he focused his attention on Harley. "Has young master already set out?"

Harley nodded at Kim.

"Uncle Kim, I know you haven't found Moore, but it doesn't matter. He will appear later. Since you are back, you can go with me."

Jay said. Although Jay was still young, he behaved like an adult.

No one could ignore him.

Hearing this, Kim was stunned for a while. Then he looked at Harley, but the latter just laughed at Jay. Kim was speechless. Anyway, something must have happened, since the little boy gave such a definite answer.

So Kim left the villa with Jay.

At this time, Kerr had entered the Gu family's with Nicole.

Just entering the door of the old house, Nicole felt something wrong. It was obvious that the atmosphere in the old house was more solemn than usual.

She couldn't help clenching Kerr's hand and looking around vigilantly.

Feeling the nervousness of the little woman in his arms, Kerr smiled at her. "Don't worry. It will be fine." He hadn't told her why they came here today.

Because he didn't realize that Jack was le stay here. That child was Nicole's, and it was the biggest threat to him.

Nicole smiled faintly and shook Kerr's hand. Before Kerr spoke, she answered first, "Even Mr. Moore can sit here, why can't I be here? I am the mother of the child of Gu family. I think I am more qualified to sit here than you."

She wouldn't give him any chance.

"You!" Moore wanted to say something more, but he saw that Kerr, who was sitting opposite to him, stood up. Obviously, Kerr threatened him. If Moore continued to talk with Nicole like that, Kerr would teach him a lesson without hesitation.

But today, Moore didn't want to make a compromise either.

The old man sitting on the sofa, who was in silent all the time, when he sensed the tension between Kerr and Moore, he coughed.

The old man looked away from Kerr and Moore with dissatisfaction on his face. At last, he looked at Jack who was sitting silently aside.

"Jack, the Gu family's business is not a child's play. You should deal with it."

In fact, back then he had disagreed with Jack's plan to adopt Moore. But somehow, it was Jack who took all the pressure to bring Moore back home.

Now, they have taken a crocodile as a pet.

Chapter 318 Something Important

But in the end, it was still Kerr who was involved in this matter.

Hearing the warning behind, Jack turned around and looked at Kerr and Moore. He was a little helpless. For the first time, he felt that he was such a failure.

If Moore was as capable as Kerr, Jack might earn some chance for him.

If Kerr was as obedient as Moore, Jack would be more assured to hand over the Gu Group and the Gu family to him.

"Well, I have something important to announce today." Said Jack, taking a look at Kelvin beside him.

Holding the documents that Jack gave him earlier in the morning in his hand, Kelvin was in a state of surprise. It had come so suddenly for them.

"Sir..." Hesitation was written all over Kelvin's face.

Jack nodded and sat down on the sofa.

"The reason why I asked all the people of Gu family back today is that I have an important thing to announce today, and I will make a will formally today, in case anything happens."

Hearing what he said, both Moore and Sunny were surprised, and even Freya and Nicole could not believe it.

They had never thought that Jack would say such words at this time.

Nicole looked worriedly at Kerr.

But Kerr was abnormally calm, as if what was happening in front of him had nothing to do with him. Only Nicole felt that the strength from the palm showed that he was nervous.

But she knew that the reason why Kerr was nervous was not because of the will, but because Jack made the will so early.

"Kelvin, announce my will." Jack looked at everyone present and saw everyone's expression clearly.

He had gone through all kinds of ups and downs, so how could he not see through the minds of people here.

As Freya's eyes fell into the will in Kelvin's hands, obviously she was more concerned about d.

It seemed that he didn't care about what Kerr had said at all.

Everyone at the scene, except Jack who was shocked and couldn't believe it, everyone breathed a sigh of relief.

No one dared to touch the result of the paternity test. Only Jack could hold it in his hand and said, "This... It's impossible!" Twenty years ago, when he found Moore, he had taken him to have a paternity test.

"Surprised? The reason why you let Moore stay with you, carefully train him, and even hand over the Gu group to him is because you think he is the illegitimate child of you.

But unfortunately, as you found Moore, he knew everything, and then successfully take advantage of your guilt to take over the Gu Group.

That's the truth. As for the result you buried behind the painting on the wall in the study, it was only forgery made by Moore."

Said Kerr in a calm tone. He had kept the secret from the public for a long time in order to protect the dignity of the Gu family.

Jack looked at Moore beside him, only to see a smug look on his face. "You knew this from the beginning?" It never occurred to Jack that the person he had regarded as his own son had nothing to do with him.

Chapter 319 He Is Just An Adopted Son

Jack had put a lot of effort into it before. But now, it was like a slap in his face.

He couldn't even believe that the well behaved and obedient Moore had been taking advantage of him all the time.

Hearing the question of Jack, Moore took back his sight on Kerr and said, "What are you talking about? I don't understand. From the day I entered the Gu family, I am just an adopted son.

Of course I have no blood relationship with the Gu family. If there is, I won't be the adopted child, right?" Moore averted the whole thing.

He played an innocent role in front of everyone.

Jack only felt that his blood pressure was rising and he even felt dizzy. He held his forehead and asked, "How did he do it?" Apparently, he was asking for Kerr's opinion.

He knew that once Kerr revealed the whole thing, it would prove that he had found enough evidence. And he also had figured out the cause of the whole thing.

As Kerr held Nicole's hand, he looked at Jack. Kerr could not bear to tell him the truth, but finally made up his mind to do so. He looked away and said, "When you found Moore in the orphanage..."

In fact, the child you are looking for is in that orphanage. You were misled by Moore because he has known your identity earlier."

The moment Kerr finished his words, Jared looked into Kerr's eyes and walked to the door. A middle-aged man came in.

"Mr. Gu, do you still remember me?" The man was dressed in cheap suit, but dress himself with understated simplicity.

Looking at the man who appeared in front of him, Jack slightly frowned. "Are you the director of that orphanage?" Even over twenty years, Jack still recognized the person in front of him.

The Dean nodded. "Yes. Now I am retired. In fact, 20 years ago, on the day when you c Drugged one night by her ex-boyfriend, a mysterious man took advantage of her in an ecstatic night filled with sex.

To take her revenge, she married the man, and used him.

"As long as I'm alive, I'm still his legal wife, while all of you are just his mistresses."

She remained adamant even when he was involved in scandals with other women.

Eventually she stormed off after she learned that he had betrayed her again. But life brought her back to him a few years later, to his astonishment.

"I think you must have made a mistake. Today dad is going to announce his will, not to clarify the DNA test. I have never said that I am a child of the Gu family, and I never have regarded myself as a child of the Gu family.

I know you are worried that I'm coveting the shares of the Gu Group, but you can't make up such story. This is not only slandering me, but also an insult to father."

Moore tried to blame all this to Kerr.

"Oh, yes! Excuse me, sir, you said that I had bribed you with money. Have you left any evidence? Such as the transfer record?" Moore rose to his feet and asked the Dean standing in front of him.

"When you gave me money at that time, it was all cash. I didn't have any transfer record." The Dean looked at Moore in astonishment.

Moore laughed. "So, you didn't have any evidence, but I remember, since I left the orphanage, I have never seen you again.

Words alone are no proof." Moore shook his head.

"What I said is true. I also know where is the real child of Gu family!" The Dean was a little anxious to explain.

His eyes constantly shifted between Jack and Kerr.

Sure enough, hearing the Dean's words, Jack was intrigued.

Chapter 320 Where Is The Baby

Jack had always wanted to know the whereabouts of the child, because he owed the child a lot and he was a little curious.

By instinct, the Dean looked at Kerr, who was sitting silently beside. Before coming here, Kerr had warned him not to tell anyone about the whereabouts of the child.

But in order to prove his innocence, the dean blurted it out.

Looking at the darkened face of Kerr, the Dean already knew that he had talked too much.

"Where is he?" Jack asked the dean, eager to know the whereabouts of the child.

"Well... Jack, what's the most important thing here right now?" The uncle of the Gu family remained silent all the time. Seeing that the situation was about to lose control, he could not help reminding Jack.

Although that child belonged to Gu family in blood, the old man was not interested in that missing child. Gu family only accept excellent people.

If the child was very ordinary, even if he lived in this world, he couldn't bring honor to Gu family.

Jack also realized that he made a gaffe, so he calmed himself down and motioned for Kelvin to see the dean out, but in face he wanted the dean to stay in his house.

Before Kelvin took any action, Jared left the villa with the dean.

There was no chance for Jack to get in touch with the old man at all.

"Since Moore is not related to the Gu family by blood, then, Kelvin, cancel the item about Moore." Jack was such a person that he would not spend his time and energy on a unworthy person.

Moore only felt ridiculous. He had known that Jack was a cold-blooded man, but he did not expect him to be so ruthless.

Kelvin nodded.

When he was about to say something, he saw J

Standing in front of Nicole, Jay glared at Kerr beside her, "Didn't you say you would protect mommy?" Although Nicole didn't say anything, Jay still cared about it.

Without much explanation, Kerr held Nicole's hand and looked forward to Jay's performance.

The reporters who were walking in were all curious upon hearing Jay's words. They stepped forward and stood in front of Jay. "Boy, you just said your last name is Gu. So who are your parents?"

Journalists would never give up such hot news.

If this was said by a child, it might be more interesting for the audience outside.

"Beautiful lady, I have the same appearance with him. Can't you see that?" Jay then turned to Nicole.

There was a smile in his eyes.

"As for my mother, she is, of course, the beautiful and generous Nicole." Jay said seriously and proudly.

Nicole looked at him helplessly.

"So you're Mr. Kerr's son? Oh my God! So you come here today?" The reporter couldn't guess Jay's purpose for a moment.

They just received an anonymous news that something important would happen in the Gu family today, so they rushed here.
