

CEO Daddy 32

Chapter 32 His Explanation

As a result, Nicole felt confident and capable enough of working in the Gu Group. However, she would only still work in this company as long as Kerr didn't harass her.

She admitted that he was a great leader though, but he lacked goodness as a man. On the other hand, it was important to acknowledge that both the company's mission and the chance to train new talents were exactly what she wanted to work on.

"So according to what it has been planned, you will be in charge now of the cooperation's rearrangement. I'll send someone to notify the Chu Group to check and confirm the new details as soon as I can."

Despite her fully commitment to her son Jay which was totally understandable, she would still give the best of her performance to surpass the work's requirements. Nicole's seriousness in this matter caused Kerr to look at her with appreciation in his eyes.

Kerr could sense Nicole's untainted talent in work. He felt lucky that he had hired her with a high salary. If the circumstances had been different back then, he would've never found such a smart and interesting woman as her.

"Alright, I think I shall start right now."

Right after she closed her folder and stood up, Kerr's words vibrated in her ears as she was about to cross the door.

"Wait, I need to tell you something that you may not know."

He hesitated a bit as he said that. It seemed that he wasn't sure if it was a good idea to tell her what he wanted to say.

Nicole turned around and looked at Kerr with confusing eyes.

"It's just...It's Sunny. She is my new secretary."

Kerr wasn't the type of person who would explain anything to anyone. But he felt that he needed to tell Nicole who Sunny was because he sensed that there was a misunderstanding between them this morning.

This was rarely the first time that he was worried about what others might think of him. He just didn't want Nicole to misinterpret him.

"Say again?"

It seemed that she couldn't really understand what he meant, and she clearly had no clue who that Sunny girl was.

He decided to clarify it to her clearly as he stood up and walked towards her with honesty.

"The woman that you met in the underground parking lot this morning is my new secretary, whose family is the He family. They've been friends with the Gu family for a long time."

Not until she heard his words did she realize that he was explaining what happened this morning. She raised her right hand and covered her mouth

Drugged one night by her ex-boyfriend, a mysterious man took advantage of her in an ecstatic night filled with sex.

To take her revenge, she married the man, and used him.

"As long as I'm alive, I'm still his legal wife, while all of you are just his mistresses."

She remained adamant even when he was involved in scandals with other women.

Eventually she stormed off after she learned that he had betrayed her again. But life brought her back to him a few years later, to his astonishment.

leaving the restroom.

"Hey! It's so nice to hear from you, Baron. What's up?"

On the other end of the line, Baron smiled as he heard her voice and spoke softly.

"How are you doing? I was wondering if you were going to be free today's evening. And hoping that your answer will be a yes, we could have dinner together after I pick Jay up. What do you think?"

The usual routine of Baron whenever they had dinner together was to pick Jay up from school after he left Fang Group, and then he would pick up Nicole.

"Sure! I'm down. But I suggest you pick me up first and then we go for Jay because he's studying in another school now."

Baron didn't know yet that Kerr had changed Jay of school.

"Alright then! See you later."

He was looking at the draft design of a ring that he had in his hand as he hung up the phone. It was the birthday present that he would give to Nicole, which was printed with a set of precious stones designs.

They had known each other for so many years. However, Baron's mother and Nicole's birthdays were on the same week, which always made him fly back home while Nicole was celebrating her birthday without him. It had been a pity for him to miss Nicole's birthday since then.

He promised himself that he wouldn't miss it this year. Thus, he desired to be the one that put the ring on Nicole's finger.

He wouldn't let anything or anyone to ruin the plans that he had in mind for her birthday.

"I want the ring to look exactly like this draft design. I really hope it is ready before the month ends, please."

He handed the draft design to his assistant and gave him the instructions to follow up.
