Chapter 381 Half Of The Shares

"Nicole, trust me. No matter what happens, I won't leave you. I won't make any compromise because of others' words."

Kerr made a promise to Nicole.

With a faint smile, Nicole stood on tiptoe and gently kissed the corner of his mouth. "Idiot, that's your family. Why are you in a dilemma? If you don't care, what else do I have to care about?"

"Since I have chosen you, it has nothing to do with your family. So no matter what happens to the Gu family, I will be with you and face it together."

"If I can be your wife, I will definitely be the daughter-in-law of the Gu family." Although Nicole didn't know what to do, her tone was full of confidence. She didn't want Kerr to worry about her.

Kerr reached out his hand and held her in his arms. "Thank you, Nicole. I promise this is the last time. If you are wronged, I will take you away immediately."

You have to know that I don't want you to suffer a little bit."

Hearing his words, Nicole pressed her face against his chest, nodded and smiled.

In the Gu family's house.

Seeing that Freya put down the phone, Jack said lightly, "When are they going to come back?" Sitting on the sofa, Jack was dying to get back the Gu Group, although all the shares of the Gu Group were in Kerr's hands now.

However, in Jack's mind, it made no difference. On the whole, since it belonged to Kerr, it was the property of the Gu family.

Although Kerr was stubborn, they had already made a compromise. Kerr had no reason not to go back to the Gu family.

Freya snorted, "Kerr didn't agree to my condition." She knew that if Kerr agreed to take it under consideration, it meant that he might come back, but she didn't tell Jack directly.

She didn't want to see Jack's comp

Drugged one night by her ex-boyfriend, a mysterious man took advantage of her in an ecstatic night filled with sex.

To take her revenge, she married the man, and used him.

"As long as I'm alive, I'm still his legal wife, while all of you are just his mistresses."

She remained adamant even when he was involved in scandals with other women.

Eventually she stormed off after she learned that he had betrayed her again. But life brought her back to him a few years later, to his astonishment.

ily. Otherwise, she wouldn't make it public this time.

"A gift? To create a perfect image? Only in this way can I deserve you?"

Nicole didn't care about such things at all. Whether she was with Kerr or not, she was Nicole. She was not very happy when she read the false reports on the newspaper.

"Kerr, I am who I am. Since I met you, I have never deliberately concealed the real me. I don't think I am shameful for who I am."

While speaking, Nicole handed the newspaper in her hand to him.

In the newspaper, they portrayed Nicole as a strong and independent woman who just returned from abroad and her parents died in an air accident. But it was not Nicole at all.

She wouldn't live in a fake story.

Noticing her displeasure, Kerr held her in his arms. He put the newspaper aside in disgust and said, "Nicole, it's unfair that you are angry with me like that.

As I said, if you are unhappy, we won't go back to the Gu family. I don't want you to be unhappy. What I like is the real you."

Kerr knew that Nicole was just feeling awkward.

Kerr knew that it was just a old trick of the Gu family and Nicole hadn't gotten used to it.

Chapter 382 A Man Suddenly Appeared

Hearing Kerr's words, the anger on Nicole's face gradually disappeared.

In fact, she also knew that these things were not like something that Kerr would do. "Well, I know that you did not do these. I just don't want them to make things difficult for you in the future.

Those reports are all fake. It doesn't matter. After lunch, I'll go home with you to see Lucas and Jay. I didn't go home the whole night yesterday. I don't know how is Lucas doing right now."

Nicole had planned to go home at midnight yesterday, but she failed to resist Kerr's passion, so she kept thinking about her two children.

They were probably the most unreliable parents in the world. They left their two children and went to enjoy themselves alone.

Kerr gently stroked Nicole's long hair and looked at her with obvious affection.

"I'll send you back later. Nicole, this time, I must let everyone know that you are a member of the Gu family." Kerr said firmly.

In the past, he owed Nicole a lot. He wanted all the Gu family members to make it up for her.

Nicole nodded and didn't overthink it.

After lunch, when Nicole and Kerr just stood up from their seats and were about to leave, the manager of the restaurant came over, stood beside Kerr and whispered to him.

Kerr frowned slightly.

"What's wrong? What's the matter?"

Nicole asked in confusion.

"I met an old friend. I'm going to say hello. Wait for me here. Don't go away alone." Kerr didn't want Nicole to see this friend.

Because Kerr was not sure whether they were enemies or friends.

Looking at Kerr's serious look, Nicole became more curious about the old friend mentioned by Kerr. She knew almost all the people Kerr knew, so she couldn't imagine who could make Kerr take them so seriously.

"What?"

Before Nicole finished her words, Kerr turned around. Nicole had to sit down and wait for him to c or, Kerr heard Ben's voice from behind.

"I guess Mr. Kerr will be very busy recently. Happy events are always troublesome. By the way, don't you plan to invite me to the party and share your happiness, Mr. Kerr?" Ben looked down at the newspaper in his hand.

The corners of Ben's mouth rose slightly with a smile on his face, but he was very dissatisfied. The hypocritical behavior of the Gu family really made Ben's heart full of contempt.

Sitting at the back of the table, Ben looked at Kerr's back and said lightly, "According to the description in the newspaper, it didn't sound like the Mrs. Nicole I know. Does Mr. Kerr start a new relationship again?"

Ben deliberately satirized Kerr.

Kerr turned around and looked at the obvious provocation on Ben's face.

"Mr. Ben, you have thought too much. Of course I will share such a good news with you. But there is one thing, maybe you have misunderstood. My bride is always Nicole.

If my memory serves me right, when Mr. Ben met Nicole last time, she was already pregnant with our second child. I will give her a wedding.

At that time, I will definitely invite Mr. Ben to attend the ceremony. I also hope that you can stay in A city for a longer time, and we can celebrate it together."

Chapter 383 The Words On The Tissue

Kerr never denied his mistakes.

It was his fault that Nicole hadn't had a decent wedding until now, but Kerr wouldn't make her feel regretful all the time.

Waiting in the dining table, Nicole lowered her head, fiddling with the coffee cup in her hand, and looked up at the direction Kerr left from time to time with obvious expectations in her eyes.

"Excuse me, would you like a refill?" The waiter walked to Nicole's side, bent over and asked friendly.

Nicole looked up at the waiter beside her and shook her head with a smile. "No, thanks." Nicole refused the waiter, but the waiter took away the coffee cup in front of her.

Which made Nicole stunned.

Before she could react, a new cup of coffee was brought over by the waiter and placed in front of her.

"You..." Nicole looked at the waiter in front of her and felt something wrong. It seemed that no matter what she answered, the waiter would bring the coffee to her.

"Please enjoy yourself!" The waiter put the tissue in front of her and gave her a meaningful look. Then he tapped the tissue two times with his fingers.

Obviously, he was telling her that there was something in the tissue.

"What do you mean?" Frowning, Nicole asked the waiter. She hated those mysterious things the most.

But the waiter didn't give her an answer. Instead, he turned around and left.

Looking at the coffee and the tissue in front of her, Nicole didn't touch the cup of coffee, but fixed her eyes on the tissue.

Driven by curiosity, Nicole looked around and opened the folded tissue, clearly seeing the words wet by the water.

These words made Nicole's originally calm and peaceful heart no longer quiet.

Soon, as the water evaporated, the words on the tissue disappeared, but they were always kept

"Kerr, do you know where Sunny is?" She thought that only Sunny and Moore could do something like that, so she wanted to confirm it.

"Why would you think of her? Did she come to make trouble for you?" Kerr knew that Sunny must be with Moore now.

But since Moore returned to the Gu Group last time, he had transferred a lot of money from the Gu Group. In order to prevent Kerr from making trouble for him, Moore had spent a lot of money to protect himself.

As a result, it was not easy for Kerr to find Moore.

"No. I just thought of her all of a sudden, so I asked. You don't have to take it to heart." Nicole didn't want to put too much pressure on Kerr. She knew that Kerr always wanted to give her the best.

So if Kerr could really do something, he wouldn't let go of Sunny and Moore.

Since Kerr hadn't taken any actions, which meant that he hadn't come up with the best solution.

"Don't worry. I will find her. She must be responsible for what she has done." Kerr comforted Nicole, "The result of Daniel's case will come out soon.

Do you want to go there? If you want, I will be with you."

He knew that bringing up the past again was a challenge for Nicole.

Chapter 384 The Rules Of Gu Family

If possible, he didn't want Nicole to think of those unpleasant things.

"Let me think about it." Nicole didn't want to face it, but she knew she couldn't escape.

Leaning against Kerr's chest, Nicole felt relaxed, but those words had been lingering in her mind, like a magic spell.

At night, lying beside Kerr, Nicole didn't sleep well at all.

In her sleep, a grand wedding ceremony appeared. Looking at the petals scattered all over the sky in front of her, with a garland on her head, Nicole was like a fairy coming out of the story book.

With a smile on her face, she stretched out her hand, trying to catch the petal.

"I don't allow you to marry him!" A harsh voice rang in Nicole's ear, which frightened her to withdraw her hand.

She turned around and tried to find the voice source, but there was no one around her.

And Kerr was nowhere to be found, which made her scared.

"Kerr!" Nicole called Kerr by instinct.

But she couldn't find Kerr. Nicole lifted her hemline in panic.

"Nicole!" Noticing that there was something wrong with Nicole, Kerr held her in his arms and turned on the dim wall lamp at the bedside. He frowned and looked at the cold sweat on her forehead.

"Don't be afraid. It's just a dream." Kerr's gentle voice comforted Nicole's uneasiness.

Hearing the voice, Nicole suddenly opened her eyes and looked into Kerr's dotting eyes. She felt a little relieved, reached out her hand and hugged him.

"Kerr, don't leave me!" There was obvious grievance in her voice.

Looking at the tears on her face, Kerr clearly felt his heartache.

He held her tightly in his arms. "Don't be afraid. It's just a nightmare. No one can mak

To take her revenge, she married the man, and used him.

She remained adamant even when he was involved in scandals with other women.

Eventually she stormed off after she learned that he had betrayed her again. But life brought her back to him a few years later, to his astonishment.

"Whether I accept you or not, you should respect me. Since you have chosen to be with Kerr and become the daughter-in-law of the Gu family, you should abide by the rules of the Gu family."

Glancing at Cherry beside her, Freya gave her a look.

Cherry nodded and stepped forward. She took out a folder from her bag and read it to Nicole.

"Miss, oh, no, Mrs. Nicole, please remember.

First of all, as the daughter-in-law of Gu family, you should get up early every morning to propose tea to your parents-in-law.

The second..."

Nicole raised her hand, motioning for Cherry to stop. Then she looked at Freya with a smile, "Mrs. Freya, I don't know there is such a rule in the Gu family. It's not the feudal era now.

These are old-fashion ideas. Since I choose to be with Kerr, I will respect him and be loyal to him.

As for other rules, I'm sorry. I really can't agree."

Nicole just felt that it was ridiculous when her to hear this. She had never thought that such a thing would really happen in real life.

Jay came out of his room and heard Nicole's voice at the stairs. He felt strange for a moment.

Chapter 385 Your Wife Was Bullied

So he deliberately walked lightly and hid at the corner of the stairs.

He pricked up his ears and listened to the sound downstairs.

"How dare you!" Freya's harsh voice startled Jay. He turned his head and peeked downstairs. He only saw Nicole and didn't see Kerr.

Jay frowned, worried that Freya would bully Nicole, so he stood up and was about to go out to protect Nicole, but an idea suddenly flashed through his mind.

He took out his phone from his pocket and dialed Kerr's number.

At this time, Kerr was standing by the sea and looking at the wedding scene which was being decorated.

Hearing the ringtone, Kerr took out his phone, pressed the answer key and put it beside his ear.

"If you don't come back, your wife will be bullied to death." Jay's calm voice reached Kerr's ears.

Jay deliberately lowered his voice in order not to be heard by Freya.

Obviously, Freya only appeared when Kerr was not there. She wanted to avoid Kerr and specially came to bully Nicole.

Hearing Jay's voice, Kerr frowned slightly. "Who is it?"

Jay hung up the phone without answering him.

But he knew that Kerr would come back as soon as possible.

Looking at the angry Freya, Nicole said calmly, "Mrs. Gu, don't be angry. I have read the statement of Gu family on the newspaper, but I don't understand what you mean."

"Who are you talking about on the newspaper? It doesn't seem to be me. "

Nicole asked knowingly.

She just couldn't accept the hypocritical side of Gu family.

In the past, no matter how hypocritical the Gu family was, it was the matter between Jack and Freya, and it had nothing to do with her.

But now it was different. Nicole had married into the Gu family and became a member of it. Although it was true, she could not adapt to the li f expectation.

If what she said was true, then everything would be fine. Kerr was holding a large number of shares now. Freya was really worried that Nicole would affect Kerr.

Moreover, since everything was not completely stable now, it would be best if Kerr could return to the Gu family and exclude Nicole.

"The second one? Mrs. Gu, you don't know me well and you don't know what kind of person Kerr is. The reason why you said so is that you are worried that I will covet the property of the Gu family. "

"I won't ask for any property. You can rest assured."

Nicole told Freya firmly. She paused on purpose and said, "but I won't leave Kerr either." There was no doubt about that.

Looking at the arrogant look of Nicole, the tone in Freya's heart became more difficult to control. She stared at Nicole and stepped forward, about to speak when she heard footsteps from behind.

"What do you want to do?" Kerr drove fast all the way back to the Gu's villa.

When he just walked to the door, he saw Freya approaching Nicole. If Freya wanted to do something to Nicole at this time, it would be a very simple thing.

Kerr walked quickly to Nicole and protected her behind him.

Chapter 386 Burn The Family Rules

Kerr blocked Freya with his own body.

"Kerr, you have to know that I'm your mother. Anyone in the world can frame you, except me. Don't look at me like that."

Freya saw the strange look in Kerr's eyes.

Although Kerr didn't say anything, she felt his hostility.

Hearing Freya's words, Kerr was calm. After all, he was really unfamiliar with the word "mother".

"If there is nothing else, I'll ask Uncle to send you back. If you have any problems in the future, you can contact me directly. You don't need to bother Nicole again."

Kerr's words were very clear. Obviously, he didn't want Freya to disturb their lives again.

Last time, he had warned them, but he also knew that as long as the Gu family did not give up, they would not have a quiet life.

"I saw the sincerity of the Gu family, but my choice is also very clear. I'm living well now. Whether I can go back to the Gu family or not is the same for me and Nicole."

Kerr held Nicole's hand tightly, trying to comfort her.

It was his fault that he didn't deal with these troubles well, so it disturbed Nicole. He instinctively thought of the nightmare that Nicole had last night, although she didn't say anything...

He knew that she was under great pressure.

"Kerr, it's not up to you. Now everyone knows that Nicole is your wife. Your future life and every move represents the image of the Gu family.

I can't let others laugh at the Gu family."

Although Freya said so, she only cared that it would affect her reputation, since she was the one who released the news. If Nicole did not enter the Gu family, she would be laughed by others.

"Think it over. I'll ask Kelvin to get everything ready soon. I'll inform you of the specific time."

While saying that, Freya was about to turn around and leave, he rules. After all, she didn't plan to abide by it.

So it didn't matter.

"Madam!" Cherry walked to Freya and gently pulled her sleeve to bring her back to her senses.

"What?" Noticing what Cherry was doing, Freya turned around and saw the red light. She couldn't help jumping a little and took a step back instinctively.

Freya looked at the family rules turned into ashes in front of her.

She frowned and looked at Kerr. Finally, she left the villa without saying anything.

Sitting in the car, Freya still kept the childish face of Jay in her mind. Every time she saw that face, she had a feeling that Kerr had returned to his childhood.

"Madam, what should we do?" Sitting on the passenger seat, Cherry turned her head and asked. Her intuition told her that something was on Freya's mind.

Freya looked out of the window. She always felt that Jay was a gift from God to her.

"Let's talk about it when we get back." She didn't want to argue with Nicole anymore, which would only make Kerr hate her more and more. Maybe she should change her strategy.

Cherry nodded to Freya and said nothing.

"Cherry, do you think that child resembles Kerr when he was that little?"

Chapter 387 Dont Spoil Him

Freya murmured to herself.

"Yes, they indeed look alike. In fact, I had this feeling when I first saw that child, but..." Cherry's intuition didn't matter at all.

Jay and Kerr look so much alike that no one would doubt whether Jay was Kerr's biological son or not.

"If that child grows up by my side, I won't let him disobey me like this again." Freya said lightly, but there was obvious expectation in her tone.

A plan gradually appeared in her mind.

Hearing what Freya said, Cherry was stunned, but she didn't say anything. No matter what she thought, it didn't matter.

In Kerr's villa.

After Freya left, the atmosphere in the living room became more harmonious.

Nicole asked the maid to clean up the burnt ashes.

"If I had known that Mommy would suffer so much criticism when she was with you, I wouldn't have brought her back to you." Jay looked at Kerr with disgust.

In fact, when he was in Manhattan, Jay had already begun to investigate his real identity.

When he saw Kerr, he was gradually sure.

Although he would quarrel with Kerr, he still wanted to stay here every time he competed with Kerr and always lost. Only in this way could he feel the warmth of family.

Hearing Jay's words, Nicole touched his hair and said, "I know that you did it for mommy's good, but you have to distinguish right from wrong. It has nothing to do with your daddy.

In his heart, he doesn't want mommy to be wronged."

Nicole didn't want Jay to have any prejudice against Kerr.

The Gu family disliked her family background. It was their fault. But Kerr was innocent.

Jay pressed his head against Nicole's arms and said, "I just called him to come back to save Mommy, but Mommy sti realized that it might slip on the sofa when he was in Nicole's arms.

Jay felt terrible.

It would be a piece of cake for Freya to take him away now.

Sure enough, what he had been working about the most happened.

"I won't hurt you. I will give you the best." Freya said in a relaxed tone, putting on her sunglasses.

"Cherry, take him with me."

Freya said indifferently. Then she turned around and sat in the car.

Hearing Freya's words, Jay turned around and ran to the villa without hesitation. But after all, he was just a child, and couldn't compete with an adult.

Cherry reached out and grabbed his arm, but she didn't dare to use too much strength. After all, Jay was still a child, and his body hadn't fully grown up. It was easy to hurt Jay.

"Let me go! I don't want to go back with you. I want to go home." Jay resisted, trying to break free from the grips of Cherry. He knew that if he was taken away by Freya now, she would definitely hide him somewhere.

If Nicole couldn't find him, she would be very worried.

"Madam..."

Freya looked at Freya with a little embarrassment. She felt Jay's unwillingness.

Chapter 388 We Are Of Different Sexes

She was also worried that if Kerr knew it, he would be unhappy. After all, the whole Gu family knew how important Kerr thought of Nicole and her child.

"If you can't even take him back, you don't have to go back to the Gu family." It was imperative for Freya to do so, but she didn't expect things to go so smoothly.

This time, she would not let go of Jay easily.

Cherry knew what kind of person Freya was, so she could only shake her head at Jay and said, "Sorry, little Master." As she spoke, she held up Jay and got into the car.

After closing the door, the car left Kerr's sphere of influence.

"Where are you taking me? Let me tell you, Mommy will be very worried if she can't find me. " Jay calmed himself down and looked for an opportunity to escape.

He knew it was useless to shout when he was in danger.

He must find a way to inform Kerr and Nicole.

Freya glanced at Jay and said, "You'll know in a minute."

She wouldn't take Jay back to the old house, because Kerr would find him easily.

The car went farther and farther away. Jay frowned and stared out of the window. He sat quietly in Cherry's arms and memorized the way silently.

But as they drove farther and farther away from Kerr's villa, Jay was a little anxious.

"I want to use the bathroom!" Jay looked at Freya seriously. He knew that Cherry was only obedient to Freya.

Freya opened her eyes, looked at Jay and thought for a while, "stop the car."

The driver stopped the car.

"Take him to deal with it." Freya ordered Lotus. It was far away from the city, and it was not easy to go back. Besides, there were very few people around, and no one would find Jay.

Cherry nodded and got out of the car with Jay in her arms.

Putting Jay on the ground, Cherry held Jay's wrist and dared not relax.

"Aunt Cherry, let m erry and questioned her loudly.

"I'm sorry, madam!" Noticing that Freya had walked behind her, Cherry turned around and bowed to Freya. She was worried that if Jay was really lost from her hand, this mistake could not be offset even if she had worked hard for the Gu family all her life.

Freya had never seen Cherry so nervous. She frowned and said, "Sorry for what? Don't tell me that you have lost him?" Freya looked around.

It was impossible for a child to leave alone in such a wild place.

Hearing Freya's words, Cherry kept silent, without raising her waist.

"Mrs. Gu, I'll send someone to look for him right away." Cherry also knew that Jay had just disappeared and couldn't go too far. If she went to look for him right now, she would be able to find Jay soon.

After saying that, she stood straight, turned around to look for Jay, and took out her mobile phone, intending to call more people to help.

"Wait!" Freya frowned and stopped her.

"Don't let more people know about it. The top priority now is to find Jay. You two hurry up to find him around here. He won't be far away."

Before Freya succeeded in persuading Jay to stay with her, she didn't want anyone to know what she had done.

Chapter 389 Disappearance

After all, it was not a glorious thing to force Jay to stay with her.

Cherry stopped and understood what Freya was worried about. She nodded and then asked the driver to look around with his seat as the center.

"Jay, you can't run away." Looking at the wild grass which was enough to hide people, Freya understood.

At this moment, Jay, hiding in the wild grass, nervously watched Freya's action.

He knew that if things went on like this, Freya and Cherry would find him soon. If they found him, they would definitely strengthen their guard over him. Then it was impossible for him to escape again.

He looked around and saw Cherry walking towards him. He hid in the gap between the weeds, not daring to breathe heavily.

Suddenly, he caught a glimpse of a stone beside him. Jay reached out his little hand, held the stone, and then threw it to the other direction.

"Who is it?" Cherry lowered her head and didn't see where the stone came from.

Hearing the noise, Cherry turned around and quickly lit the light in her hand in the direction behind her.

Noticing that Cherry's attention was obviously diverted, Jay immediately ran towards a big tree beside him, reached out his hand, held the trunk hard, and then tried to climb up the tree.

When he was on the island, he had learned climbing skills from Ken for a period of time.

He didn't expect it to be useful at this time.

Jay unconsciously sped up.

"Nothing. There should be some animals in this place. Don't worry. We can find little Master. Don't be too nervous." The driver looked at Cherry's nervous face and reminded her.

She was relieved to see that no one was around.

Hiding on a thick tree trunk, Jay l

Eventually she stormed off after she learned that he had betrayed her again. But life brought her back to him a few years later, to his astonishment.

as she didn't see Jay safe and sound, she couldn't rest assured.

Looking into Kerr's eyes, Nicole didn't say anything but followed Kerr out of the villa.

Sitting in the front passenger seat of Kerr, Nicole kept her eyes outside the window, trying to find Jay. However, the speed of Kerr was not slow at all, which made her a little confused.

"Slow down, Kerr. I'm afraid I can't see him." Nicole said lightly, but there was obvious anxiety in her tone.

She didn't notice the determined look in Kerr's eyes.

Kerr looked straight ahead and seemed to have a destination in his heart.

Gradually, Nicole felt something was wrong. Even though she said something, Kerr still didn't slow down the car. So Nicole turned to look at Kerr beside her.

"You have already known where Jay is?"

If Kerr really knew where Jay was, there was no reason not to tell Nicole, so she was also confused.

"I'm not sure, but eight out of ten. Nine. "

Kerr just doubted in his heart and didn't get the final confirmation.

When Nicole was about to ask, Kerr's phone rang. Looking at Kim's number on the screen, Nicole looked nervous.

Chapter 390 Guess In Mind

Kerr raised his hand and pressed the answer button of the micro earphone. Then, the voice of Kerr Fed into his ear.

"Sir, Mrs. Freya hasn't come back to the Gu family's house yet." As soon as Kim left the Gu family's old house, he reported the situation to Kerr in time.

Although he didn't know why Kerr asked him to confirm the whereabouts of Freya, as long as it was Kerr's order, he would definitely do it.

He had no right to never ask any extra questions.

"Locate her immediately." Kerr said indifferently and hung up the phone.

"What's wrong? Have you found Jay?" Nicole asked nervously. Seeing Kerr's determined look, she felt hope.

Kerr stretched out his hand to stroke Nicole's long hair and comforted her, "It's almost done. Don't worry. He will be fine." If Freya really took Jay away, at least he was safe.

Nicole was willing to believe Kerr. Everyone in the world could deceive her, but only Kerr wouldn't.

The car stopped at the gate of the Gu's old house. Nicole followed Kerr out of the car and frowned. They had come here several times, but it seemed that this place did not leave a good impression on Nicole.

"You mean Jay was taken to the Gu family?"

Nicole knew that Jay would not ask to come here voluntarily, so he must be brought here by someone. She immediately thought of the performance of Freya today.

When Jay appeared in front of Freya, she was obviously interested in him. Nicole suddenly realized that she should have thought of it long ago.

"Maybe." Kerr knew that Freya wouldn't let Jay be found so easily.

But no matter where Freya hid Jay, she would definitely come back here.

Holding Nicole's hand, Kerr walked into the house.

"Sir! Mrs. Nicole!" When Kelvin saw them come you mentioned."

There was the courage to cut off all means of retreat in her tone. She couldn't affect Jay because of herself, so she was willing to compromise for him.

"In exchange, can I get Jay back to me?" There was obvious firmness in her eyes.

For the sake of Jay and Lucas, Nicole could do anything. She just wanted Jay to grow up healthily and happily.

Kerr stood up and put his arm around Nicole's shoulder. "Nicole, don't worry. Jay will be fine. I promise you don't have to force yourself. It's just a matter between the two of us."

He wouldn't let Nicole suffer in the Gu family.

Looking at Kerr and Nicole, Jack had already guessed the general situation. Now it seemed that Freya had taken Jay away, so Nicole made a compromise to him.

"That's what you said. I hope you can remember it yourself. I hate people who go back on their words the most." Jack said calmly. In fact, he didn't know where Jay and Freya were at all.

But since he could give Nicole a head-on blow, he could also live a peaceful life in the Gu family in the future when she lived in here.

"Hand Jay over. Don't think that I can't find him just because of this."
