

CEO Daddy 40

Super CEO Daddy

Chapter 40

Gwendolyn accepted the money, which amounted to five hundred. Her eyes lit up when she saw the amount. Mr. Lowen is so generous. I'll only need two hundred to prepare these dishes. Does this mean I can keep the remaining three hundred?

As she pondered about that, she had already decided which market she was going to visit later.

Gwendolyn decided to send the three children home first before she headed out to the nearby market to buy the ingredients.

Just as she got behind the wheel, her phone rang.

She was just using her phone for navigation when she saw the message that she had just come in.

Patrick: Remember to send me the receipts. I'll check the amount spent on the ingredients.

Gwendolyn was so infuriated that she threw her phone down. She wanted to curse, but she held back the urge to do so because her kids were still inside the car.

Hence, she could only curse inwardly as she drove.

Patrick Lowen, you're such a cheapskate! You're a b*stard! A freaking j*rk!

could think of. Since she had never quarreled with anyone before, she heart out in the “Melanie is so

took off his jacket and wrapped it around the latter's body. Clearly, as well. Thus, he suggested, “Mommy, if we have money, let's lend some to Justin had just earned five hundred thousand, and the money was just enough to pay for the treatment fee. Since Gwendolyn was not willing to spend it on anything else, Julian figured that they might as well use it to heard that, but she quickly snapped out of her daze, as she knew that she Lucy. Don't worry about this and just focus on your follow his touch the money. All she does is act tough. Stupid Mommy really makes us worry a lot Lane before she drove toward the farmer's market. She had decided to talk to Patrick about the gas fees that anymore. She would take a taxi there so that he would pay bought everything she needed. In fact, she was not very good at cooking. However, she had no choice but to embarrass herself because she be the one eating the disgusting food anyway. She smirked as she put two bags her car suddenly blew out. She then got out