

After the Divorce, CEO Realizes He's the Stand-In Lover By Madison King

Chapter 22 Put her in Jail

Julian's eyes was like the edge of a knife.

It swept across the position of Natalie along with the sight of Sam Black.

"Oh? Have you seen the position of that person?"

He could only vaguely see a graceful woman sitting over there.

The light was so dim that he couldn't see her face clearly.

Julian didn't bother to look at the woman's face carefully.

He looked away subconsciously.

The woman sitting there was definitely not a doctor from Glory Group.

"Well, as an old man, I only saw the invitation.

I didn't notice the person's face."

Sam apologized, looking away from the corner.

"How's the progress of your company's new drug research?" Sam changed the topic.

The two's voices faded away.

Natalie put down the goblet in her hand, slowly stood up and walked towards the back door of the exhibition hall.

It was not good to be seen by Julian if she stayed any longer.

After the boring and disappointed exchange meeting, she walked out of the passageway and saw the reporters flocking outside again.

She put on her sunglasses and walked quietly behind the reporters.

Her phone rang and she picked it up. "Hello, are you Miss Spears?"

“This is the Los Angeles police station.

Someone reported a case to us.

We want to ask you about the situation.”

“Police station? What can I do for you, sir?”

Natalie answered the phone while sitting in the car..

Then she started the engine.

What happened? As a law-abiding citizen, she didn’t do anything wrong.

“Yes, please come to the police station to cooperate with the investigation.”

Soon, at the Los Angeles police station.

As soon as Natalie stepped into the police station, she saw a familiar person sitting on the leather seat.

Niki Linch?

“You called the police?” Said Natalie.

She took off her sunglasses and looked at Niki with her dark eyes.

No one could tell what she was thinking.

What’s wrong with this lady again?

Did she come to the police station for the diamond ring?

A mocking smile appeared on the corner of Natalie’s mouth.

Well, Niki was really good at messing around and causing troubles.

Hearing the words of Natalie, Niki said provocatively without raising her eyes.

“Yeah, I called the police.”

Needless to say, she knew how scared Natalie was when she was called by the police station.

Being afraid was right.

An orphan with no money or power should recognize her position.

Stop thinking of the diamond ring worth hundreds of millions anymore.

Since Natalie dared to do it, she had to take the corresponding responsibility.

This diamond ring was enough for her to go to jail!

However, if Natalie handed over the stolen diamond ring and begged her, Niki might consider let Natalie go.

Thinking of this, Niki raised her head proudly and looked at Natalie.

The two women's eyes met in the air.

Natalie's eyes were cold and fearless.

Looking closer, Niki found that Natalie was a little impatient.

What?! Wasn't she afraid?

She would be put in jail!

Niki was shocked.

No, it couldn't be simple as that.

Natalie was probably uneducated

So she didn't know what kind of punishment she would face, right?

Niki thought with disdain.

"Then can I ask why you called the police, Miss Linch." Said Natalie with a false smile.

"Don't you know what you have done?"

There is no need to pretend."

Niki looked unhappy and her eyes were full of disgust.

Having been labeled by this lady for too many time, Natalie really didn't know what happened this time.

Theft or encroachment? Was it a snatch?

The man in blue police uniform heard the noise and came out.

Seeing the woman in a long dress in front of him, he was stunned for a moment.

He thought the thief was a tall and strong man, or a idler.

He looked at the woman in front of him.

She had a cold temperament, but her face was bright.

When the two were combined, she was inexplicably beautiful, making him feel peaceful.

Although he couldn't tell the brand of the woman's clothes, his intuition told him that her clothes were expensive.

Was such a woman a thief?

Or someone who dared to steal the Graham family's diamond ring worth hundreds of millions?

He couldn't believe it.

Looking at the police officer in front of him, Natalie said politely.

"Hello, I'm/Mr. Smith.

I received a call to accept the investigation."

He said in a daze.

"Hello, My name is Tim Smith.

You can call me Mr. Smith."

Natalie nodded and smiled politely at him.

"Nice to meet you, sir."

"Please take a record.

We'll get to know what happened."

Natalie nodded. Her eyes were calm.

Seeing this, Tim was suspicious about the matter that Natalie stole the diamond ring from the Graham family.

But he didn't show it on his face with his good professional quality.

"Please come over here."

Natalie followed Tim into the inquiry room.

But Niki's voice came.

"Mr. Smith, please investigate it carefully.

The stolen diamond ring is very important to the Graham family."

A stolen diamond ring?

A mocking smile appeared on the corner of Natalie's mouth.

It turned out that Niki had slandered her for stealing the diamond ring of the Graham family.

Natalie took her long dress and sat down.

Tim took up a pen and began to ask questions.

Natalie talked about her trip in recent days.

And she introduced the relationship between her and the Graham family.

Tim listened to her carefully and made a record.

Why did it take so long?

The police officer was definitely fooled by the smart words of Natalie.

Niki was a little anxious.

After the inquiry, the door was opened.

Niki hurried forward to stop Tim and asked earnestly.

"Mr. Smith, how long will you settle the case?

Can you take back the ring of Graham family?"

Hearing this, Tim looked up at the woman in front of him.

Sincerity appeared in her eyes.

It seemed that the diamond ring was really important to her.

Looking at Niki's sincere face, Tim carefully pulled her hand away and said politely.

"Miss Linch, don't worry.

We will try our best to help you investigate the case.

Don't worry."

Niki turned to look at Natalie and said.

"I actually don't want to believe that Sister Natalie would do such a thing.

But sister, you can't explain the source of the diamond ring.

It's hard not to let me suspect you."

"I don't want to call the police, but it's a matter of great importance.

If this kind of thing is heard by you, your image in your heart will be damaged.

I don't want to see this kind of scene."

"But if you return the ring to the Graham family now, maybe you can turn yourself in and reduce the punishment.

I advise you to return it as soon as possible.

I really don't want to see you being punished by the law."

Niki's eyes were full of sadness, as if she felt pity for Natalie.

Looking at Niki, who was showing a sad face, Tim was moved.

He said in a low voice, "According to the criminal law, returning the ring now is indeed a way to lighten the circumstances.

And the punishment can be lightened accordingly."

The smile on the face of Natalie became colder.

It seemed that Niki was not only good at acting in front of Julian.

She was also good at acting in front of strangers.

It was a pity that she didn't become a movie queen.

Frowning, Natalie looked at Niki worriedly.

"I know you like these diamond rings, but you can't slander others just to get them."

"Mr. Smith, should people who slanders others and tries to punish the innocent people criminally be punished?"

"I haven't learned the law systematically,

If this kind of behavior is serious, will she receive a criminal punishment?"

Natalie turned her head to glare at Tim, and asked sincerely.

"After all, sister Niki, I don't want you to accidentally violate the law and disappoint Julian."

Said Natalie, trying hard to bear the disgust and imitate Niki's tone.

All of a sudden, Tim understood what happened.

He answered subconsciously, "according to the rules, if this behavior is serious...

People who does this may be sentenced to false accusation and framing..."

Hearing his answer, Niki felt a little uneasy.

Her words stopped before being said out.

But on second thought, this diamond ring must be stolen by Natalie from the Graham family.

How could she frame her?

Did Natalie still want to frighten her?

She, Niki Linch, was not that stupid!
