

After the Divorce, CEO Realizes He's the Stand-In Lover By Madison King

Chapter 25 An old disease relapsed

Linda looked at the diamond ring in Natalie's hand.

The clear crystal was with a faint scarlet color, which made people unable to take their eyes off it.

Tim's eyes were widely opened.

"This diamond ring?" said Natalie, waving at his boss.

Maybe? He had never seen a diamond ring worth hundreds of millions.

He only knew that it was very beautiful.

Tim nodded blankly.

Even though Linda had seen a lot of precious jewelry, she could not help but sigh the charm of this diamond ring.

But no matter how beautiful it was, it was not the Graham family's.

Linda turned to look at Tim.

"Sir, do you make a mistake?"

"The Graham family has never had this diamond ring." Linda's voice was calm.

"What?"

Hearing this, Niki's eyes flashed with surprise, but it only lasted for a moment.

It must be Linda who had been coaxed by Natalie to cover her up in advance.

However, she had expected this to happen the moment she saw Natalie come out with Linda.

"Natalie, if you steal it, you must admit it frankly!

Or g o d will punish you!"

“There is no need to ask Auntie Linda to help you hide the truth.

You should know that those who help you hide the truth are accomplices.

Do you want her to go to jail with you?”

“If you are afraid that Julian will be unhappy if he knows that you stole things, don’t worry.

As long as you can correct your mistakes, he won’t blame you.”

Hearing Niki’s aggressive words, Natalie raised her eyebrows.

Did Niki stop pretending?

Wasn’t she very “weak” just now?

Wasn’t she afraid of making Linda angrier if she was so aggressive now?

I don’t have the ability to let your mother cover me up,’ said Natalie with a wider smile.

“If you insist on convicting me, show me the evidence.

I won’t say a word if I have the evidence.

I will go with the police immediately.”

Could Niki make up the evidence?

Niki squinted her eyes, as if she was determined to get it.

She said casually, “then tell me where did you get this diamond ring?”

Natalie didn’t want to hide it anymore. She said generously, “I asked my friend to buy it abroad from an auction.”

“An auction from abroad?

How dare you say that?”

Niki sneered disdainfully.

“You are just an orphan.

Where do you come from abroad?

Or can you auction this diamond ring?"

Just as Natalie was about to say something, she heard Linda's voice, with obvious anger on her face.

"Can't Nana have his own friend?"

Although Nana was an orphan without any education or skills, Linda thought that it didn't mean that Nana could have friends abroad.

"Auntie Linda, don't be fooled by Niki," said Leona earnestly.

"I didn't say that she couldn't have friends abroad, but did she mention her friends abroad these years?"

"If she can auction such an expensive diamond ring, she must be a good friend.

Did she mention it before?"

Linda didn't say anything.

Seeing that Linda didn't say anything, Niki boldly guessed in her heart and asked.

She bet that Natalie hadn't mentioned these things in the past few years, which was a good reason to persuade Linda.

She had to grasp it.

In other words, do you know which friends Natalie has with her, even one of them?

Didn't she mention it when she stayed in the Graham's family for 3 years?"

Linda remained silent with an unreadable expression.

"Do you really know her?

Do you know the so-called gentle and kind daughter-in-law in the past three years?

Is she really as gentle and kind as she looks?"

Natalie wanted to retort subconsciously, but she couldn't say anything.

The smile on her face disappeared when she heard Niki's question.

She didn't mention a word.

She hid everything related to the Spears family, all her past, and cut off all contact with her previous friends.

She hadn't contacted her parents for three years, and they were still unwilling to forgive her....

She felt a little pitiful to come to the Graham family after putting down everything.

Natalie's cold face turned a little pale, and her lips, which were painted in bright red, raised a smile, as if with helplessness and sigh.

"She has been a perfect daughter-in-law for three years.

Don't you think there's a problem?

Since she loves Julian so much, why does she suddenly ask for a divorce without any regret?"

Niki looked at Linda without blinking.

Her expression was so sincere that it seemed to be touching.

"Auntie, Niki is doing this for the Graham family."

But Linda shook her head.

"Do you really care about the Graham family?

Then why did you leave when the Graham family was in the most difficult time?

Do you know how sad Julian was when you left?

Do you know how difficult the Graham family was?"

Linda blurted out loudly without asking the policemen to leave.

Natalie's eyelashes trembled.

It turned out that Niki went abroad at that time, leaving the Graham family in danger?

Then why did she come back this time? Name? Interests?

Natalie sneered

"When the Graham family was in trouble, you were not there

Now the Graham family has gone through it and is as bright as it is now.

But you, Niki, are back!

Linda's lips trembled slightly.

It was obvious that she was angry.

"Auntie Linda. Please let me explain..."

"Don't explain! I don't want to hear your explanation. You..."

Before Linda could finish her words, she felt her eyes dizzy and her heart beating fast.

There was a double shadow in her mind, and she was in a trance.

Natalie raised her eyes abruptly.

An accident happened!

She hurried to hold Linda and said, "Gina, help me get her in!"

"No, it's too late. Help me find her medicine!" Saying this, Natalie patted on Linda's back.

Niki was startled.

She screamed in a low voice and then came to her senses.

She trotted forward.

She just wanted to make Linda give up on him completely, but she didn't want to piss her off.

If Julian found out that she was so angry with him, the consequences would be unimaginable...

Niki panicked.

"What's going on? "Tim walked towards them.

"Auntie, it's okay. Nana is here. Take a deep breath." Natalie comforted Linda skillfully.

Natalie looked straight at Linda. Her face was calm, and there was a strange sense of comfort in her eyes, as if it could calm people down.

Linda looked into the eyes of Natalie and breathed slowly as she comforted her.

Linda seemed to calm down.

Nancy handed the medicine to Natalie in a hurry.

“Auntie, take this.” Natalie took the medicine and the cup.

Nancy held Linda and slowly fed the medicine into her mouth.

Niki narrowed her eyes and looked at the skillful series of movements of Natalie, her eyes full of surprise.

After Linda took the medicine, Nancy slowly helped her up and walked into the room step by step.

Niki wanted to follow her in a hurry.

Natalie stopped her.

“What are you doing?”

You are no longer a member of the Graham family.

Why do you stop me?”

Niki was suddenly stopped, her eyes full of anger.

Although Linda looked calm under the comfort of Natalie, she still had to confirm her current physical condition.

She didn't believe that Natalie had the ability.

If Linda didn't get better, and Julian knew about it, everything would be over!

“Are you going to piss me off again?” said Natalie sarcastically, raising her eyebrows.

Niki glared at him and tried to push him away, but she stumbled to the ground by accident.

“What are you doing again?” an angry male voice came.

As soon as Julian came back from the exchange meeting, he saw that Niki fell to the ground under the obstruction of Natalie
