

Chaplain!

C 11 Glorious Medals

The entire atmosphere turned cold because they heard him mention 'Frontline in Indiana'.

Was this man really a soldier?

Was he really a hero who returned with victory from the frontline?

Lily Jones continued listening to them and she knew there would be a super touching scene after this.

Oliver Walker bit her lips and nodded her head, "En!"

She really wanted a reply from her father.

But...who was this uncle though?

Why would he have the letter that she wrote for her father?

Was he a comrade?

Or...was this man really her father?

"Olivia!

"I am your father!

"I am terribly sorry that you had to wait so long for a reply!"

Oliver was putting out all of his emotions of missing home into words. He was spurring out all of the words that he couldn't say yesterday.

"The war ahead should be over soon.

"Your elder brothers and sisters should be able to do things independently now.

“Which is why I have the time to return to you.

“Although the cruel war on the frontline isn’t stopping, the bloodshed that I see every day has not stopped me from missing you every day.

“I missed you dearly, and I would love to be by your side 24 hours a day so that I can watch you grow up.

“But, please forgive me for being a soldier. I carry the responsibility of protecting the country.

“There are still thousands of hot-blooded young men who are still fighting for this piece of land, and we are forced to put our families behind so that we can fight.”

“ ... ”

The entire place turned quiet!

After hearing what Oliver Walker said, they thought of the peaceful days they were experiencing now. They weren’t living in a peaceful world but it was because there were others carrying these weights on their shoulders.

Lily Jones could feel that he was being sincere, and her tears slowly fell onto the podium.

As for the five elder brothers and sisters whom Oliver Walker had just mentioned, they were the five infamous god of war of the country that dominated the borders.

All of them were his apprentices, which made them Olivia’s siblings.

“Although I have missed out a lot on your growth, I do hope that Olivia will turn out to be an honest, brave, and true little girl.”

At this point, Oliver Walker was already sobbing.

He wasn’t trying to show off. He only wanted to tell Olivia that the father whom she had been waiting for wasn’t wasting his life away when he went missing. He was just bearing the responsibility of a man to his country!

“That’s a lie, right?”

“But, it sounds so true!”

“He’s only doing this to lie to the kid. Why should adults like us believe him?”

“ ... ”

The rest of the parents whispered among themselves and started judging Oliver Walker, but it wasn’t loud.

It was hard for them to believe his words.

But, Olivia Walker believed it all.

“Daddy, will you be able to stay by my side from now on? Buy toys for me just like the other fathers?”

Although she knew that the entire thing was an act.....

She still put all her feelings into it because it might be possible that this was the only chance where she would ever be this close to what was known as having a father.

Or perhaps.....she already took this man as her own father!

Oliver grabbed onto Olivia’s little hand and took out the medals from his pocket. Then, he placed them on the table and said, “This is what I brought back as toys for you from the frontline.

“They’re not normal toys but each one of them represented the utmost glory!”

The other adults, who were still skeptical about this, were surprised by the shiny medals.

“Three honorary medals!”

“Five first-class medals!”

“And...second-class medals?”

“ ... ”

Suddenly, there were gasps that filled the room.

Some said that those who got the second class would be receiving it as they lay on their beds.

This meant that most who got first class would have already died, and as for second class, they would be paralyzed.

This meant that it wasn't easy for one to get these medals!

But...this man was an ordinary man. How would he be able to gain so many medals and glory?

Lily Jones's body trembled. For some reason, she felt like there was something stuck in her throat.

However, the thing that they would never know was that these were the medals that Oliver Walker received when he was just a general soldier.

Being honored as the chaplain was something that was truly honorable, but it wasn't something that can be proven by medals.

From the beginning until now, Oliver never thought of being a show-off. He was just trying to tell Olivia that her father was a hero!

The classroom was quiet. None of them could recover from the shock of the shiny medals.

At the same time, there were a dozen luxury cars that arrived at the entrance!

This was something that had never occurred in an ordinary school like Riverdale Nursery!

This immediately shocked the staff of the school, and the principal walked out in fear as he asked, "Mr. Williams, what brings you here today?"

The man who suddenly appeared was the first tycoon of Colorado, Leon Williams, it was definitely understandable for the principal to be so respectful toward him.

The school did not have enough money. If they were able to get close to his man and get him to donate just a little bit of money, they would be able to improve the school's facilities.

"I'm waiting for someone!"

Leon Williams stood up straight by the gates of the school, and he was still feeling confused. In the morning, he mustered up the courage to ask the first god of war about who the man was last night. He finally learned that it was the master of the five gods of war!

It should be noted that these five gods of war were in control of hundreds of thousands of soldiers and were all geniuses.

In order to be their master, how much better would he be?

But...this was something that Leon Williams could never have imagined, but it didn't stop him from admiring that man.

This was why he decided to come all the way here to tell Oliver Walker about Emilia.

The principal asked in a trembling voice, "Mr. Williams, who are you looking for?"

"I will get him to come to the office!"

Leon Williams was someone influential in Colorado, and the principal didn't dare to offend this man.

Due to fear, the principal started guessing if there was someone in this school who had offended this VIP!

Leon Williams with a trembling voice, "I'll...I'll just wait here!"

Who is that man?

The master of the five gods of war!

How would he have the audacity to ask that man to meet him at the office?

The rest of the school's staff were dumbfounded. All of them had to stand at the gates under the hot sun and were sweating like crazy.

...

"Do you like it?"

Oliver Walker had a smile on his face, and his eyes were filled with the guilt and love that he had for his daughter.

“En!”

“I do!”

Olivia Walker nodded her head happily. In fact, she didn't even understand what these meant, but she knew these were presents her father bought for her.

Her dreams finally came true. All of the children here would know she had a father and wasn't a monster who came out of a rock.

The only regret was that this man wasn't her real father.

“Teacher Lily, aren't you going to stop him?”

“That man is impersonating a hero fighting at the frontline!”

“This is absurd! How could anyone still be alive after getting all these medals?”

“If it were true, wouldn't it be all over the news by now?”

“ ... ”

Suddenly, all of the anger in the classroom blasted unexpectedly!

The parents started pointing fingers at Oliver Walker with rage. They were screaming at Olivia Walker!

For them, these heroes were too far away from them, so they didn't believe the nonsense coming out of Oliver's mouth!

12 Honest, Brave and True

When all of the parents were giving her a hard time, Lily Jones frowned. If this Oliver Walker was indeed impersonating someone else, this would be a big problem, and it might even be a crime.

Olivia finally had a father and she didn't want to see this man locked up in prison. She gently reminded him, "Olivia's father, you...you should keep these medals. Can you?"

From the bottom of her heart, she was willing to believe that these were true but it was too extraordinary!

Oliver Walker smiled and said, "These are just toys."

Toys?!

These medals that represented glory and pride were toys?

This....wasn't he being too arrogant?

Plus, there were so many first-class honors here!

The rest of the noisy parents felt their hearts getting squeezed when they heard what he said.

In their eyes, this glory was something that they would never be able to achieve, but for Oliver Walker, it was just part of his past.

He was already a war god. He didn't care about these. This was because these medals would not be enough to show what they accomplished.

They were still fighting because they had to be responsible for the country.

It was the responsibility and obligation of its citizens toward its country!

What more for someone like him?

As for those parents who were complaining about him, he wasn't bothered about them, but Olivia's home teacher seemed to be a wonderful person.

So, he thought that he should explain it to her.

"But..."

Lily Jones's heart was beating fast. Upon seeing saw how calm Oliver was, she felt like he was someone who had encountered situations like these!

"You are an impersonator, and you have to go to jail for this!"

“Impersonating a soldier is a heavy crime!”

“You are destroying the image of soldiers!”

“ ... ”

The war in Indiana had been going on for 8 years and it was finally coming to an end.

The war was hard and brutal. There were so many souls and bodies that never returned!

None of the citizens would allow another man to use their hero's name to go around lying to others.

However, none of them were sure of Oliver's identity, so they still tried to suppress their rage.

After hearing the things that the other parents were saying, Olivia finally realized how serious things were getting. She was grateful that this man allowed her to experience what it was like to have a father. She quickly gathered the medals and hid them in Oliver's pockets.

The timid look in her eyes caused Oliver's heart to break.

He was indeed a hero. Why was it an impersonation?

But, he did not stop Olivia, so all of them thought that he was now feeling guilty!

“Teacher Lily, did you see that?”

“Olivia is such a young child, but she has already started telling lies with her father!”

“How could she be chosen as a good student?”

“ ... ”

Oliver Walker couldn't stand it anymore after giving them multiple chances. His aura spread around the room as his gaze swept across the classroom, “Olivia is not lying!”

“You can hate on me but not my daughter!”

He had been away from home for the past 8 years and he owned them too much.

Every single one of them could judge him!

But they could never judge Olivia!

This was his baseline and no one was allowed to challenge it!

Most of the parents here were working-class adults, and the rest of them had only been to the army for compulsory services. When had they ever seen the aura of a general who led thousands of soldiers?

Therefore, as soon as his emotions exploded, all of them shut their mouths and caused the whole room to turn quiet once again.

Lily Jones frowned, and she could see that Oliver really loved Olivia.

But this murderous aura...

Olivia smiled. The man who was holding her in his arms had allowed her to experience what it was like to have a father.

However, she was just a young girl, and she didn't want the man to continue lying for her.

She was happy enough to have experienced it once!

She gently opened her mouth and said, “Daddy!”

This instantly melted Oliver's heart and he nodded his head.

“Olivia, what do you want? Just tell me what it is.

“Even if you wish for the stars at night, I will still get them for you!”

The things he owed his daughter would never be compensable with any of these medals.

He only wanted to fulfill all of her daughter's wishes so that his guilty heart would feel a little better.

So that he would be good enough to be her father!

Olivia said in a solemn tone, “You said that you want me to be honest, brave, and true.

“But, I lied.”

Deep inside her head, she had numerous thoughts but she couldn’t express herself.

From her perspective, Oliver Walker only did something so stupid because of her.

She didn’t want a good man like him to end up in trouble.

As for a father, she was grateful that she got to experience it!

Although it would not be able to replace the genuine one, she at least still got to experience it!

The love from a father was sweet and warm, as beautiful as the lollipop that her teacher gave her.

Oliver Walker trembled. He stared at his daughter. He wanted to scream out loud that he was really her father.

None of this was an act.

He was only scared that once he told the truth, it would ruin everything!

At this moment, the man who was not afraid to fight thousands of soldiers alone had become a coward.

However, it was the little girl, Olivia, who lifted up her head and smiled, “Teacher Lily, I’m sorry. I haven’t been a good girl. I...lied.”

“He...is not my father!”

As soon as they were told, the rest of the parents and Lily Jones were completely stunned!

This man....wasn’t her father?

At that instant, no one was able to react quickly enough, and the classroom was quiet once again.

Olivia turned around with a bright, pure smile on her face, “Uncle, thank you for coming to this meeting for me. I will promise you that I will be an honest, brave, and true little girl!

“I promise that this is the last time I will be lying!”

Oliver Walker froze.

The sweet, soft voice of Olivia was like the most powerful weapon that was stabbing him in his heart. It threw him into the depth of the abyss!

“Olivia.....I...”

He choked. For some reason, he couldn’t say anything.

Honest!

Brave!

True!

She was such a great kid!

Seeing how the lie had been exposed, Lily Jones was not angry. She was heartbroken!

Look at this little girl. How pure and gullible was she?

“I knew that he was a fake!”

“Quick! Call the police!”

“No! He was impersonating a soldier, he should go to the army’s court! You should call the army!”

“...”

When Olivia single-handedly exposed the lie, all of the parents were furious, and they were burning with rage.

This man had lied about being a soldier. It was shameful and such an evil thing to do!

“Hello, I want to make a report. I am now at Riverdale Nursery, and someone here is impersonating a hero who has returned from the frontline...”

Someone actually called the police!

They respected and admired their heroes!

They hated all those who pretended to be one!

“Huhuhuhu...”

Then, Olivia started panting, and her breaths were getting shorter.

Her face was pale and there was blood coming out of her nose and mouth. Her body was weak as she fell into the man’s arms and used up all of the energy in her body to say, “I’m...sorry....I.....dirtied....your...your clothes.”

With that said, she closed her eyes and went unconscious.

She was still trying to maintain the smile on her face!

“Olivia!”

Oliver Walker screamed as his heart broke into pieces. His body was trembling nonstop. He knew that Olivia was having an acute attack and it was deadly...

13 Counting Down to the Last Minute

If he wasn’t injured previously, Oliver Walker’s medical skills would be one that conquered the world. Otherwise, he wouldn’t have been able to raise six godly doctors!

However, in the battle where he stood alone 4 years ago, he lost all of his vitality, and he couldn’t even control a small silver needle with his inner ‘Qi’.

How would he be able to save Olivia now?

“I am your father!

“Your biological father!

“I wasn’t lying to you. I am the hero whom you have been dreaming of!

Oliver Walker broke into tears as he said, “I’ll...I’ll get you to the hospital, and I will find the best doctor for you so that you will be treated!”

With that said, he carried Olivia Walker’s tiny body in his arms and rushed out of the classroom.

The pain he was feeling as his heart broke was enough to break a 7-foot-tall man into tears.

When this happened, all of the parents, who were screaming at the top of their lungs earlier, felt bad.

Especially the woman who contacted the police. She was still holding onto her phone, and she looked helpless.

“Are you happy now?”

“Olivia is a pitiful child. Can we have a little more sympathy for her?”

Lily Jones slammed the table in rage, and it was the first time she got furious on the podium.

“What wrong did he do?”

“He was only trying to bear the responsibilities of a father!

“The meeting is over now. Please return to your respective homes!”

This cold society made her feel hopeless as she rushed out of the classroom.

As for the rest of the parents in the classroom, they stared at each other.

It felt like they had done something wrong, but it also felt like they hadn’t. There was a stuffy feeling inside their chest that was inexplicable.

“Grandma, Olivia is a pitiful girl!”

“Olivia is a nice person. Mummy, can you stop doing this in the future?”

“Daddy! Olivia isn’t a bad child!”

“ ... ”

The kids in Olivia’s class were just young children—innocent, gullible children.

Humans were born kind-hearted. Even if there were wicked people in this world, how many of them were born that way?

“Let’s go!”

The parents started leaving the classroom with their children.

They did sympathize with, Olivia but they were more afraid that they would get into trouble.

...

“Move!”

“All of you, move aside!”

“ ... ”

Oliver Walker ran at top speed as he held Olivia and screamed at the top of his lungs. He would not allow anyone to delay the resuscitation that Olivia should be receiving!

Therefore, when he saw that there was a crowd by the gates, he became furious!

The staff of the school got nervous as well.

“Why did something have to happen now?”

“Isn’t this adding oil to the fire?”

“Hmmm...”

The principal of Riverdale Nursery School started to panic. He had no idea who on earth had offended Leon Williams, and now, Olivia Walker was in trouble.

If they pissed off Leon Williams....forget about the donation, the school’s survival would be a problem soon.

If the school was forced to shut down, would the children of those working-class families be able to attend school?

Leon Williams, who was about to give up, still managed to pull himself together.

The man he was waiting for stood on the tip of the pyramid in this country, and he should be well taken care of.

When Leon Williams saw who it was, he screamed, "Quick! Open the doors!"

When the man got closer and Leon William saw how his VIP was sobbing like a child, he got so scared that he was soaked in a cold sweat.

Although he didn't know who Olivia Walker was, he knew that it was definitely someone important when it caused his VIP to be in such an urgent state.

"Mr. Walker, please... get into my car!"

"My.....my car.... fast and steady....."

Leon Williams was so nervous that he started stuttering, and he couldn't even finish one complete sentence.

This was because he saw that the little girl's face and clothes were filled with blood. He knew that this was something urgent!

Oliver Walker did not answer him. Since he was in a rush, he immediately carried Olivia into the Maybach Car that cost up to 4 million.

Every second and every minute now was important to him!

The principal froze!

The rest of the staff were shocked as well!

Especially the parents who came out with their children were shocked too when they saw how the tycoon of Colorado, Leon Williams, was trembling in fear when he saw Oliver Walker!

This...

What does this prove?

“Move!”

“Give me the driver’s seat!”

Oliver Walker had completely lost his mind. He didn’t trust anyone now, and he could only trust himself.

As for the driver, he was confused as he didn’t know if he should get out of the car.

This car belonged to his boss!

Leon Williams screamed instead, “Why are you still sitting inside?! Get out of there!”

This VIP wanted to drive his car. Forget about getting it dirty. Even if the car got into an accident and had become useless, it would still be an honor to Leon Williams.

This man.....was the master of the five gods of war!

The hero of this land!

Beep Ppp Beee Pp...

When the driver got out of the car, they could hear the sharp noise of the police siren.

The roads that were clear earlier were now blocked by three military cars!

Following that, there were ten policemen with their white helmets who got out of the car.

One of them asked in a serious tone, “Who was the one who made the call?”

“The man who impersonated a soldier, where is he now?”

These men were responsible for disciplining the military!

They were the policemen of the army, and they were definitely qualified as soldiers!

Leon Williams was stunned!

The staff of the school was stunned!

As for the woman who made the call, she held onto her child and hid behind the crowd. She didn't dare to say a word.

Oliver Walker, who had started the car, slammed the steering wheels. This was adding fuel to the fire. He was already in a rush to save his daughter, and now, he was getting delayed!

He quickly rushed out of the car and screamed at the top of his lungs, "I don't care which division you belong to! Open up the roads, and all the traffic light on the road from here to the First Hospital has to be green!"

"Quick!"

With no doubt, his daughter was everything!

As for manners?

Olivia was about to die. Why should he still care about his manners?!

He...was no god. He was just an ordinary man. A father!

"FREEZE!"

"HANDS ABOVE YOUR HEAD AND GET ON THE FLOOR!"

The policemen were shocked, but they quickly pulled out their guns. They didn't see Olivia Walker who was in danger. They only saw the man who was covered in blood.

At the same time, they could also feel a dangerous aura coming from him!

Along with the report that they just received, it was obvious that this was the man who was impersonating a soldier!

They obviously didn't have to be nice to him!

Oliver Walker's jaw twitched. Then, he pulled out the medals that represented his glorious past and shouted, "Recognize these?"

"Do you think that these are fake?"

“I am commanding you now. Listen carefully, this is a command. Clear the roads now!

“All roads to the First Hospital have to be cleared!

“Do you understand?!”

Other than Leon Williams, everyone else at the scene was in shock. This man had the balls to scream at these soldiers in such a manner.

He even requested for all the roads to be cleared. Isn't that a joke?

However, when the policeman saw the three first-honor medals and five first-class medals, his eyes were filled with respect.

“Yes, Sir!”

After the salute, he turned around and commanded, “Move the cars!”

Then, he pulled out his phone and called the traffic police, “I am the state garrison of Colorado, Lieutenant Will Carter. We have an urgent situation now. Immediately clear all the roads that connect the Riverdale Nursery Schools to the First Hospital!”

“You have to make sure the entire journey is smooth!”

“I repeat! It has to be cleared!”

14 The Race Against Time

Before the commands were given, Oliver Walker, who was anxious, had stepped on the gas pedal. He was already headed toward the First Hospital.

“Quick! Follow him!”

Leon Williams rode one of the Mercedes and instructed the driver. Then, he turned to his secretary and said, “Call the director of the hospital and gather the best team they have at the hospital. It has to be the best.”

Then, Lily Jones rushed forward and screamed, “I am Olivia's homeroom teacher. Please bring me along.”

She couldn't care less if the man right in front of her was the first tycoon of Colorado.

She only knew that as Olivia's teacher, she had to be at the hospital now.

This was because she was a teacher!

Leon Williams frowned, but he still waited for her and said, "Come on!"

When Lily Jones got into the car, there were 10 Mercedes that followed right behind the Maybach!

Just when the cars left, Emilia appeared on the scene. She was here for the parent-teacher meeting.

Previously, she didn't have the time since she was busy working.

But this time, no matter what, she wanted to be here with her daughter.

Seeing how the gates were tightly shut, she quickly begged, "Principal Haris! Please! I am terribly sorry. I... I know I'm late, but please let me in so that I can be there for Olivia's meeting."

She felt guilty!

Because she had not spent much time with her daughter, Olivia was discriminated against. She was not wearing her uniform and was dressed in simple clothes with no makeup on her face.

It was a long white blouse paired with a pair of black pants.

However, it was obvious that both these pieces had been worn for several years. Plus, they were not branded clothes but just pieces sold at the local market.

However, even so, it still didn't conceal the beauty of the goddess!

The parents and teachers at school were looking at her with odd looks in their eyes as they stared at Emilia. Whatever happened a while ago was something that was shocking.

"What's...what's wrong?"

Emilia felt that something wasn't right. Although these people would usually give her strange looks, they would be judgemental and wear disdainful smiles.

But now....she could no longer see the judgment on their faces, but instead, why do they look at her with pity?

Their silence gave her a bad feeling about it.

Principal Haris frowned and answered, "Olivia had an attack, and she is being brought to the First Hospital by her father. You should hurry."

As the principal, he never thought of Emilia as someone shameful.

After all, she was poor and had no other choice.

This was also why he was willing to let go of his pride as an educator to kiss up to the tycoons.

He just wanted to get more sponsors for the school so that more children of poor families could get educated.

Emilia was stunned and tears came out of her eyes, "Olivia!

"Olivia!"

She was turning mad.

She felt as if her soul had left her body. She was running on the road like mad as she cried. Emilia was trying to get to the hospital as soon as possible.

Luckily for her, when she got onto the main road, a cab stopped for her.

"Sir, quick! The First Hospital!"

But soon after that, she cried and said, "No!"

"The.....The Blue Sea Entertainment Club! Quick!"

Without money, the hospital wouldn't admit Olivia!

Without money, how would she be able to save her daughter?

Although George Johnson was a complete asshole, she had no other choice but to look for him.

No matter how big the price was, she still had to save her little girl, Olivia!

She was already abandoned by that man.

Even if she died, she still wouldn't be able to abandon Olivia, whose life had been a joke!

Five minutes later, when the traffic police received the commands, they acted quickly.

They sent out their mobiles and started clearing each of the roads.

Although they had no idea what was happening, the request was sent by the Lieutenant of the garrison state in Colorado. Something big must have happened.

Especially when it's the garrison state of Colorado. They ordered the authorities to take emergency actions.

This was the first time in history that something like this happened.

There was no notice given ahead of time, and everything occurred suddenly.

"Quick! Turn those lights green! Make sure that they are allowed to pass quickly!"

"The cars in front. You are not allowed to use the overtake lane! Those who violate it will have their license revoked! Those who fail to cooperate will be held responsible!"

"..."

There were hundreds of traffic police who stood on each road and guided the traffic.

As for the traffic lights, they were all shining bright green.

Throughout the entire road, there were blaring speakers, radios, and drones making the same announcement.

This was to ensure that everyone on the road got the message.

"What on earth is happening?"

"I don't think there was a notice about this!"

“That Maybach! Why is it that he can use the overtake lane?”

“That’s the first tycoon, Leon William’s car!”

“Why is it that he has that privilege?”

“Because he’s loaded. Isn’t that good enough?”

“...”

It was rush hour as everyone was on their way to work. This naturally caused a lot of dissatisfaction amongst the drivers.

But, there was nothing that they could do. He had the money, and so, he was allowed to be ruthless!

In this world, it was always the survival of the fittest!

However, what they didn’t know was that the man inside was not Leon Williams. It was someone who was more powerful than Leon Williams.

“Olivia!

“Hang in there!

“Daddy.....Daddy will save you!”

“Even if the death god is here, he isn’t allowed to take you away from me!”

This was the first time that Oliver Walker was using his special privilege.

This was because his daughter was more important than anything else.

He had a clear conscience toward his country.

Now, he only wanted to compensate for all the mistakes that he made and give the best to his daughter!

But, Olivia was now unconscious, and she couldn’t answer him!

If she knew that the man who attended the meeting was her father, she would be delighted, wouldn’t she?

There were no 'ifs' in this world!

When she was awake, she was an obedient little girl.

Now that she was unconscious, she looked like a quiet princess who had fallen into her sweet dreams.

This was because she would only be able to meet her father in her dreams.

Oliver Walker was using the commercial Maybach as a racecar.

At each turning, he repeatedly did multiple difficult turns.

Even when he was already traveling as fast as a rocket, Oliver Walker still felt as if he was a snail crawling on the road.

As for the car that Leon Williams was in, the road was still clear, but he was thrown far behind by the Maybach in front. They couldn't even see the back of the Maybach.

At the same time, after receiving the call from Leon William's secretary, the doctor immediately gathered his team and started preparing for the surgery.

Yikkkkkkk...

With extreme speed, the journey that was supposed to take 30 minutes only took 8 minutes, and the car was already in front of the hospital entrance.

Well, of course, this had something to do with the help from the traffic police.

"Doctor!

"Save her!

"Please save my daughter!"

Oliver Walker anxiously rushed into the hospital with Olivia in his arms.

There were lots of people in the hospital, and people started crowding together.

At the same time, the nurse that was at the reception came to him and said, "Sir, please get in line and wait for your number!"

She might not know who Oliver Walker was...

But she knew Olivia Walker who was a regular at the hospital!

“There’s no time!”

Oliver Walker screamed, “Get the doctors now!”

The nurse was unhappy that she was being screamed at, so she said, “Then, go to the emergency department and pay the bills!”

“Do you think that the hospital is a charity organization just because you don’t have the money?”

She had met so many people of the same kind.

After saving these patients, they couldn’t afford the medical bills, and in the end, the hospital had to pay for them.

Plus, this was Olivia Walker whose current condition was terminal. If they had the money, she should have been admitted much earlier!

15 Everything for Their Daughter’s Life

“F*ck!”

Oliver Walker’s mouth twitched as his eyes were filled with rage, “With someone’s life at risk, what right do you have to be angry at me?!”

This anger has been building up in him for 2 days!

Especially this time when he was at the hospital, where they should be saving lives! But, he ended up being treated in this manner. He no longer had to suppress his anger, and all of it exploded.

He never liked cursing, but ever since he returned to Colorado and had experienced the ‘warmth’ of society, he could no longer control his emotions.

He was protecting the country on the front lines!

But what about his daughter?

She had to be the sacrificial lamb to this cold society?

Boom ...

With one leg, he destroyed the reception counter, and there was a sharp look in his eyes!

“AHHHHHH...”

The nurse didn't think that the man here would be so ferocious. She got so scared that her face went numb. The aura coming from him felt as if he was fighting thousands of soldiers. It frightened those who were in the lobby!

“Move aside!”

At the same time, there were three security guards who noticed the danger and were running toward Oliver Walker with their rubber sticks.

But all of them were pushed aside by Leon William's bodyguards.

“Huhuhu...”

Leon Williams, who rarely exercises, ran from the entrance to the lobby of the hospital. It was only a few meters, but he was so tired that he couldn't catch his breath.

When he got to the lobby, the entire place was quiet!

Before the nurse could react, Leon Williams screamed as he placed both his hands on his knees.

“Mr..... Mr. Walker.....go.....to the operat...ing theater now..... Leave....leave this to me!”

On his way here, he had already made the arrangements.

As the first tycoon of this state, he still had certain influences.

Plus, he had donated several pieces of medical equipment to the First Hospital, so they could easily do what he wanted.

“Thank you.”

Oliver Walker's eyes softened. He turned around and saw the elevator that was stopped on the 7th floor. Then, he carried Olivia up the stairs.

This was because he couldn't wait any longer!

"Don't you know who he is?"

"Didn't the director tell you about it?"

Leon Williams was still screaming at the top of his lungs. He was a businessman, and he looked at everything as if it was a business deal.

If the daughter of this VIP got into any trouble, the sky would fall on Colorado!

But, if they managed to save his daughter, even a simple thanks would be worth it.

"Huhuhuhu..."

The nurse who was still in shock continued crying. She shook her head as if she had been wronged.

Well, she didn't do anything wrong as well.

She just didn't have enough sympathy.

It wasn't that Oliver Walker didn't have the money. He was carrying Olivia in his arms, and if they had to go through the troublesome procedures, it would have delayed the best time to save Olivia.

"I'll pay the bills!"

Leon Williams screamed. Although he didn't own shares in this hospital, he was still a major donor to it. So, there was always a picture of him hung at the honorable ranks.

Was there anyone here who didn't know him?

The nurse didn't dare say another word. She quickly turned around and walked into the other room.

Outside of the operating theater!

There was a group of professors gathered, and since they knew Olivia's condition really well, they were able to prepare everything within the shortest period of time.

There weren't many patients with leukemia, and Olivia was a young girl. She came from a poor family as well. Every time Emilia came to get Olivia's medication, she could not follow the prescription to the letter. She would only take those that were crucial.

This was why when they received the notice from Leon Williams, there wasn't any time wasted.

"Quick! Save her!"

Oliver Walker's hair was in a mess!

His entire body was covered in veins, and his muscles were popping!

"Pass the patient over to me!"

This was a man in his sixties, the director of the hospital, James Floss. He immediately took the unconscious Olivia Walker in his arms.

The nurses who were dressed in green, sterile scrubs, then placed Olivia onto a stretcher before pushing her into the theater.

Seeing how the doors to the operating theater were slowly closing and the red light lit up, Oliver Walker felt exhausted.

It was because he was tired. He was worried and nervous.

Boom..... He sat on the ground of the long, empty corridor!

"Daddy's sorry!"

"Please get better soon! I won't be going anywhere. I will stay by your side."

"..."

Moments later, the doors to the elevator opened. When Leon Williams saw Oliver Walker who was sitting on the floor mumbling to himself, Leon Williams quickly told his driver, secretary, and bodyguards to remain quiet.

None of them dared to disturb the other man.

However, none of them understood why someone like him, whom even Leon Williams wasn't qualified to be friends with, would have his wife and daughter end up in this state.

Well, obviously, no one dared to ask such a question.

But...this was the one thing that hurt Oliver Walker the most!

Things...were not supposed to happen this way. How did this happen?!

His body was trembling uncontrollably. If anything were to happen to Olivia...

He didn't dare to think about it!

He didn't have the courage to think about it. There were only tears that pooled in his eyes!

...

The Blue Sea Entertainment Club!

Emilia, who was dressed in simple clothes, had tears all over her face.

"Mr. Johnson, please! I beg you!

"My daughter is now in the hospital, and we need that money urgently!"

She had already let go of her dignity. No matter how humble she had to be now, she didn't mind.

As long as she could save her daughter's life, she didn't mind doing anything that was required!

"Huh?"

"You dressed in those horrible clothes to beg for help?"

George Johnson had the look of a beast in his eyes, "Have you already forgotten the terms I told you?"

Emilia trembled. In order to break her pride, George Johnson threatened her with her job. She had to wear those revealing clothes!

But this was an emergency, she had no other choice but to beg, “Mr. Johnson, I...”

George Johnson let out a cold laugh, “I knew that you would come looking for me!

“This is because your useless husband would not be able to save that little sh*t!

“I may have the money, but why should I save your daughter?”

Yesterday night, he didn’t dare to do anything.

But from how Emilia was begging him for help now, it was obvious to him that Oliver Walker was indeed a useless piece of trash.

Everything that happened last night was a coincidence!

“If you promise to save my daughter, I.....I will be willing to be your slave in order to repay your kindness!”

Emilia was aware that this man did not have the obligation to save her daughter.

But...she had to!

Even if she had to give up everything else!

“My slave?”

George Johnson stood up slowly with a smirk on his face, “Where did your pride go?

“What about your dignity?

“I have been trying to woo you for years, but I almost offended someone important last night because of you! You are a jinx, do you know that?”

His tone was getting higher as the look on his face turned evil. “But, what about you?

“How have you been treating me?

“Now that he has returned and broken your last hope, you finally remembered me? Have you ever considered my feelings?”

The man screamed at the top of his lungs. He was releasing all of the accumulated anger from before.

What was love, in the beginning, had turned into hate!

If previously he wanted to woo her heart, now, he only had the desire to conquer her.

After insulting her, he finally got to enjoy the pleasure of being a successful man. He raised his arm and then placed it around the shoulder that he had dreamt of for years.

As for Emilia, her body froze. She bit her lips, and she wanted to move away from him.

George was no longer hiding his lustful expression as he said, “You can hide, but no one would be able to save that little sh*t!!”

There was only darkness left in the teary eyes of Emilia Davis!

“HmMMM....”

George Johnson closed his eyes as he got closer to Emilia’s ears. He eagerly took a deep breath and said, “You smell so good!”
