

Chaplain!

C 16 The Abyss

Emilia shut her eyes as she allowed tears to roll down her cheeks in humiliation!

She felt that she was now a mere object. An object that could be watched by others.

She even felt the impulse of wanting to kill herself.

“HAHAHAHAHA...”

George Johnson laughed, “You should know that with my character, I will never force myself upon you.

“But, I really hate how you look now!

“I can give you the money, but I cannot give it for free!”

He really wanted this woman who was right in front of him, and now, he was one finger’s touch away from her.

But, this was not what he wanted!

The hidden meaning behind what he said caused Emilia to tremble, “Mr. Johnson, I.....I’m not ready for it yet...”

To be a prostitute?

She would rather kill herself.

Although she had been suffering all these years, she never thought of getting anything in exchange for her body.

This was something extremely difficult for her to agree with. It was impossible for her to agree to it!

“Your pitiful look showing you are forced to keep yourself mute is indeed a blow to me!”

George Johnson took a good look at the beautiful face that was inches away from him as if it was a priceless treasure.

She looked pale with a little fear, hesitation, and even anger!

It instantly satisfied his sick mind.

Then, he pulled out a check from his pocket and threw it on the ground but immediately stepped on it with his leather shoes. An evil smile appeared on his face as he said, "This is a hundred thousand dollars. You can use them anytime but you have to remember.

"You will have to pay for what you are getting. I am not going to give it to you for free!"

Emilia, who was being stared at by an obscene pair of eyes, felt as if she was just a walking body with no soul. Her red lips trembled as the very last stubbornness in her disappeared.

She got down on her knees, bent forward, and cleaned his leather shoes with the corner of her shirt.

"This wouldn't be enough!"

The corner of his lips was curved upwards. He picked up the glass of wine on the table and poured it over Emilia's head.

Emilia didn't hide from it as well and allowed herself to be drenched in red wine from top to bottom.

George Johnson knew that he had succeeded in breaking the last piece of her pride, and he would be able to get his hands on her sooner or later. However, he still said to her, "You can take this money now, but you have to sign an agreement.

"If you can't return the full amount to me in seven days, you will have to marry me!"

"Listen carefully! You are to marry me!"

"Even when you become a prostitute and even when that traitor you raised deemed you as a dirty woman.

"I, George Johnson, have never despised you for it and am willing to marry you gloriously!

"This is because I love you! Do you understand?"

The expression on George Johnson's face was starting to turn hideous, and he got so emotional that his entire body was shaking. He screamed at Emilia, "I am the only one who treats you sincerely!

"Only me!"

He loved Emilia.

This was not questionable!

Otherwise, he wouldn't have been so mad at her!
When the contract that had been prepared earlier was brought out to Emilia, she bit her lips so hard that there was blood coming out of it.

Oliver Walker.....you were the one who abandoned me first!

You were heartless and cruel. I had been protecting my dignity for you for the past 8 years and even raised Olivia on my own no matter how hard it was. I already did everything I could!

She knew what it meant once she signed these papers!

She only had seven days. How would she be able to get a hundred thousand by then?

Plus, with Olivia's condition, the cost of it would only get higher once she got the surgery done.

By then, the sky-high medical bill would be a pitiless abyss. She would have no other choice but to look for help from George Johnson.

This was also why George Johnson was willing to give her the money in the first place.

"I'll.....sign it....."

Emilia was crying blood out of her eyes as she picked up the pen and signed her own name.

What would she be proud of now?

She was no longer the Goddess of Colorado!

17 Selling Her Body

She was no longer the prideful Davis!

She was just some woman who was abandoned by her husband, played by god, and a useless piece of trash who couldn't even save her own daughter. What right does she have to be stubborn?

“HAHAHAHAHAHA...”

When George Johnson saw the signature on the contract, he laughed, and it was one that was filled with arrogance. He slowly lifted up his foot and moved it to the side, “You will never be able to run away from me now!

“Other than me, there will be no other men whom you can depend on!”

Emilia clenched her jaws as she picked up the check, carried all the humiliations, and rushed out of the room!

Olivia would be safe now!

At least...

At least for now!

She tried to calm her emotions that were on the brink of breaking and called for a cab. With the fastest speed, she rushed to the First Hospital where her pillar of support was at.

Outside the operating theater of the First Hospital!

As time passed, Leon Williams' legs were already numbed. After thinking about it for some time, he finally mustered up some courage and bent down his plump body.

“Mr. Walker, this might be rude, but I would like to tell you a few things...”

After thinking hard about it, he finally decided to tell him what had happened to Emilia.

Even if he didn't say it now, with Oliver Walker's authority, he would be able to find out about it.

By then, this man might think that he had kept this information on purpose, and he would be in trouble!

"Although I have no idea what your name is, I will note down whatever you have done today.

"I am not in the mood now to entertain you. Please leave."

Oliver Walker's words were filled with anxiety and fatigue.

He knew that this man in front of him definitely had other intentions, and with what happened today, he could promise Leon Williams anything he wanted.

Well, as long as they didn't cross his bottom line, and it wasn't something illegal or immoral.

"What I mean was, Miss Davis..."

Leon Williams suddenly saw hope. He was obviously putting in this effort so that he could gain something. Plus, with what the VIP said earlier, he found more courage, and no matter what, he had to reveal how Emilia had been suffering all these years.

"Leave!"

Oliver Walker screamed in rage. Emilia was the cause of his pain!

No one was allowed to talk about her!

Especially when Olivia was still in surgery!

"Sure!"

Leon Williams jumped after being frightened by the man. He quickly looked at his men and left.

Lily Jones wanted to say a few words, but she hesitated. In the end, she left as well.

In fact, she brought along her savings, which wasn't much, but at this moment, it was obvious that Oliver Walker wouldn't be needing it. Therefore, she didn't bring it up as well.

It was unnecessary for her to put the icing on the cake!

Then, Oliver Walker was the only one left in the long and empty corridor!

"Emilia, I thought that we would be able to grow old together!

"But, I respect your choices!"

At the end of the day, he was at fault as well.

If only he knew about how Emilia didn't receive the money, why would things happen in this way?

But, everything was too late now!

He tried to win her back, but Emilia had still decided to be with George Johnson.

With all his hopes crushed, the only thing that he could do was bury his own sorrows.

Tap tap tap tap...

Emilia rushed into the building and went straight to the emergency department. She waved the cheque in her hands and shouted, "I'm here to pay.....for Emilia!!!! Where's my daughter, Olivia?!"

The person at the reception was shocked, but she still accepted the cheque since she didn't dare to ask any questions because this was related to Leon Williams.

After accepting the cheque, the person finally said, "The patient is in surgery now!"

Emilia rushed into the elevator as soon as she got an answer, and soon, the doors to the elevators opened.

The first thing that she saw was the man whom she had been dreaming of but also the one who had hurt her the most!

She had a complicated look in her eyes....

18 Him vs Her

“What are you still doing here?!”

When he heard the sound of the elevator, Oliver Walked thought that it was Leon Williams who hadn't given up. That was how something so harsh came out of his mouth.

But this sentence was extremely painful for Emilia who just signed away her body in order to save Olivia!

Her confused eyes were now replaced with anger as she said, “She is my daughter, and I have more rights to be standing here compared to you!”

She loved and hated the man standing right in front of her. Their relationship went on for years, so how could she just forget it overnight?

Even if it was killing her, she was still willing to bury the wonderful times in the past deep inside her memories.

This was her youth! This was also the most painful experience that she had in her entire life!

When he heard the cold and familiar sound coming from the end of the corridor, his heart sank. It felt as if his heart was being stabbed by a sharp knife.

He didn't have the courage to turn around. He was afraid that he couldn't control his emotions.

When the smell of wine hit him, he frowned and asked, “You're already working in the middle of the day?”

Although the truth was still unknown, there was one thing that he could be sure of. The only reason why Emilia had chosen this job was so that she could treat Olivia.

Therefore, he wasn't blaming her for it. He was only feeling heartbroken.

But, to Emilia, these words sounded sarcastic. “Of course!

“Everything that you say is correct!”

She didn’t even bother explaining herself!

This was because this man had already abandoned her. Was there really a need for her to explain herself?

Would Oliver Walker’s heart ache for her?

No!

There would only be insults coming from him that continued to break her heart!

The corridor then turned quiet once again.

However, the atmosphere was heavy!

Oliver Walker clenched his fist and tried to calm himself as he said, “Emilia if you choose to walk away from this, I can understand.

“But, George Johnson isn’t a good man. Olivia will suffer as well if she stays with you.

“So…”

No matter who it was who took the money, the undeniable truth was that all the misunderstandings between them had broken this marriage.

Hence, even if Emilia decided to choose George Johnson, he had no right to object.

This was because he deserved it!

However, George Johnson would never treat Olivia right, and he couldn’t possibly watch his daughter suffer.

“HUH?”

Emilia let out a cold laugh, “Why would I need you to understand me?”

“Who do you think you are?”

“For the past 8 years, we heard nothing from you, and now that you’ve returned, you’re trying to take Olivia away from me?!”

“Are you even human?!”

In her perspective, Oliver Walker was a complete asshole!

She hated this asshole to her bones!

That was right!

She was working at the club and treated as a sl*t by everyone else there!

She had also been judged by everyone else she knew.

She even put Olivia’s life at risk!

But why?

If Olivia didn’t get sick, she would rather pick up trash for the rest of her life instead of breaking her own pride to put on those uniforms and work at a club.

Anyone else would be allowed to call her shameless!

But this man.....why would he be allowed to?!

Moreover, for the past year that she worked there, she kept herself clean.

None of those obscene men got their hands on her.

It definitely wasn’t self-regarding when she said that she kept herself clean in such a messy situation!

There was no need for her to put on an act!

As he was being questioned, Oliver Walker felt like there was a whale in his throat, but he still managed to say, “I’ll admit that you have a deep relationship with Olivia.

“But, you will be living your own life. Why won’t you leave Olivia out of it?”

“I can stay single for the rest of my life for her, but would you be able to do the same?”

19 Another Chance

He was not angry at all!

No matter what choice Emilia made, he had no right to blame or stop her.

He only wanted to get custody of his daughter in order to make things right!

“I...”

Emilia wanted to say that she could do it as well!

However, she thought of the contract she had just signed. Then, she swallowed all of the words that were inside her mouth.

This was because she knew that she would never be able to return the hundred thousand dollars.

She could only..... fulfill the contract in order to save her daughter!

This matter was already cruel to her, and so, she screamed as she released her anger, “If you were able to man up just a little, why would I be in this state today?”

“You keep thinking that you have done nothing wrong, but have you ever thought of me and Olivia?!”

“You have been nothing but a coward!”

“You are a useless man who doesn’t deserve to stand here and fight me for Olivia’s custody!”

Oliver Walker’s return was something exciting for her.

But now, the beautiful dreams she had for the past eight years had all been broken!

She was a child abandoned by the gods. No one would be able to understand her. Even the man she loved most was using the cruelest words to tear up the deepest wounds in her heart!

As if these weren't enough, this man was trying to snatch Olivia's custody from her!

He was adding salt to her wounds!

"I can!"

Oliver Walker got on his feet. This time, he did not choose to back away from it. Instead, he was trying to hold onto this marriage. He didn't want to give up on it.

He stared at his wife with an affectionate look in his eyes!

At least...

At least before their divorce, Emilia was still his lawfully wedded wife!

He wanted to try one more time!

From all the clues that he had now as well as his understanding of his wife, it would be impossible that she would do such things. So, he was the one who made a mistake!

A huge mistake!

Emilia's body shivered. The tear stains on her face were still wet, and now, there was another set of tears rolling down her cheeks again.

She...had hopelessly fallen for this man once more.

Perhaps, it could be said that her love for him had never changed!

Oliver Walker stepped forward and placed both hands on her shoulder. He said in a hurried yet sincere tone, "Emilia, I..."

"I'm sorry!"

Although he had been transferring money into the same account...

He was busy fighting on the frontlines, why would he have time to care about these details?

Why didn't he consider that they might be used by others and that he had been scammed for years?!

He always thought that he had borne the responsibility of being a husband, but little did he know, his carelessness almost cost his family.

This was entirely his fault!

"As long as you are willing to, I...I can promise you that for the rest of my life, I will give you and Olivia the best future possible!

"I will never let the both of you suffer any longer, even if it's the slightest!

He was being serious!

No one could really be heartless, especially after how he got the wrong intel and even misunderstood that Emilia had abandoned Olivia. He only knew about the truth yesterday.

Did he not regret it?

How would that even be possible?!

It hurt him so much that it felt like his heart was being sliced into pieces!

Emilia, who was already buried in tears, looked at the affectionate man in front of her. She was feeling so torn as if there was a storm inside her.

Her red lips were trembling. She wanted to say something, but it felt as if there was something stuck in her throat.

Oliver Walker stared at Emilia who seemed to be convinced, and he continued, "I know that you have suffered a lot more than others. As long as you tell me who they are, I will make them pay!"

He protected this country!

He made sure that they didn't lose even an inch of land!

But, his family ended up being in so much pain!

This was all his fault!

He was willing to give up everything in order to make up for all the shortcomings!

He badly wanted all those bastards, who had bullied his family, to be punished.

20 The Man Full of Lies

“Enough!”

Emilia let out a cold laugh. “With what?”

“What power do you have to make them pay?”

“I really hate you now! I hate you so much! Other than bullsh*tting, what else do you know?”

“You promised me that once you return, you will be able to ensure that I get a lifetime of happiness, but then, what?”

“I am the only one who has suffered!”

“Are you still trying to use these lies on me? This is ridiculous!”

A minute ago, she was indeed touched.

She thought that Oliver Walker had truly regretted it, but everything else that he said after that was getting more ridiculous. It was beyond absurd.

Who were her enemies?

Davis, who had banned her from society, was already one huge mountain that they could never overcome!

How would they be able to make these people pay?

Oliver Walker continued answering with a serious look on his face, “I’m not lying! As long as you stay, I will be able to promise you a lifetime of happiness!”

It was not a joke!

He wasn’t in the mood for a joke!

These were his true feelings! He couldn't lie to himself.

He just wanted to give his daughter a complete family!

He was trying to hold onto the woman he loved before and now!

Emilia kept quiet, and it was as if she saw a never-before-seen determined look in his eyes.

As for Oliver Walker, he was waiting for an answer!

An answer that would allow him to give up everything else!

“Huh?”

Emilia let out a sarcastic laugh, “Do you even deserve it?”

“Do you have the money for Olivia's treatment?”

“As a man, you should be steady on both feet instead of having all these impossible dreams!”

Oliver Walker frowned, “Olivia's treatment has already been paid for. You don't have to worry about it!”

He had enough money for it!

Plus, he wasn't stating an impossible dream. No matter if it was Davis or any other company, he would be able to change the whole of Colorado with just one command.

Bakk –

Right at that moment, Emilia couldn't stand it any longer and gave him a huge slap across his cheeks. She gritted her teeth as she said, “You're right!

“Olivia's treatment has been paid for, but what does that have to do with you?”

She was the one who sold her body for a hundred thousand dollars!

Since when had she become so cheap?

She was the one who had sacrificed so much, but this man had the audacity to tell her in such a righteous tone that she didn't have to worry?!

This man who was full of lies was hopeless!

"I already paid for it!"

Oliver Walker did not hide from it, and he wasn't even angry.

"If it would make you feel better, you can do it a few more times!"

It wasn't that he had no temper!

It was because he understood Emilia's hatred toward him!

"You...."

Emilia bit her lips as she let out a sarcastic smile, "I don't want to argue with you, but how shameless can you be?"

"The money has been paid, but were you the one who paid it?"

"I will save Olivia on my own. I don't need you now!"

She was feeling even more disappointed.

This was because there was no sense of responsibility seen in Oliver Walker!

There was no one she could depend on.

She could only depend on herself!

This hopelessness was breaking her heart!

She was like a soulless body that sat by the corridor and leaned weakly against the wall.

She covered her face with both her hands. Emilia was unwilling for anyone else to see how broken she was now!

'Ringggggg...'

Just when Oliver Walker was about to explain himself, his phone rang and broke his train of thought. He took a deep breath before answering the call, "Speak!"

It was Aiden Wilson, the first god of war who called, which meant that they had an answer now!

"Master, we found the truth!"
