Chapter 171 Modern Medicine vs Traditional Medicine

"Get out of the way, there's still hope!"

As he shouted, Oliver Walker rushed into the crowd and bent down. He ignored the surprised looks of the people around him and was ready to examine the man.

Luna Thomas, who was extremely nervous, seemed to have seen a glimmer of hope in the dark.

The look on her pretty face also relaxed a little, "Then.....Hurry up and save him!"

In fact, the compensation was only a small matter. She didn't care about the money.

But, this was a human life!

It was someone's life!

Looking at the age of the delivery uncle, he was about 40 years old. He must be the pillar of the family with people at home that he had to feed.

Without him, what would happen to this family?

"Exactly!"

"If you have the ability, then take a good look!"

"Stop wasting time!"

"..."

A group of enthusiastic onlookers started to get anxious.

Just now, Allie Wilson had said that the patient's condition was very critical and it was impossible for them to wait for the ambulance to arrive.

So, basically...

"Young man, you have to be responsible for what you're saying!

"Are you even a doctor?" Allie Wilson's face turned.

She wasn't afraid of being exposed but in her opinion, there was nothing that they could do for this patient.

Plus, the man standing before him was so young. However, he said such arrogant words. Wasn't this a typical example of trying to steal the spotlight?

It didn't matter if he was embarrassed.

However, saving someone's life was a serious business. How could he use this opportunity to show off?

"I am!"

Oliver Walker did not turn around. Instead, he started to check the man's injuries. "I am a traditional Chinese medicine doctor!"

In the face of a life and death situation, he had no time to think about what to say.

After all, saving this man's life was more important!

"What?"

"You're a Chinese medicine doctor? "

Allie Wilson shouted in surprise, "Do you have a medical licence?"

"Do you know that you can only rely on modern medicine for first aid?"

"Chinese medicine is indeed effective, but it's known to be slow.

"How can such obsolete medical skills be used for emergency treatment?"

The questions he raised were all logical. It wasn't nonsensical.

Then, she stepped forward and stopped Oliver Walker with a look on her face. "I can't let you touch him. If his injuries worsen, can you be responsible for it?"

It wasn't that she was stingy but she was suspecting that the man standing before her was merely a charlatan!

After lying for a long time, he really thought that he had real medical skills!

The onlookers were speechless!

They did not express their opinions casually but they felt that Allie Wilson was right.

After all, they knew that Allie Wilson, who was the chief surgeon in the emergency department of Colorado's First Hospital. Her experience in this area was definitely better than that of a Chinese medicine practitioner!

"You'd better not hold me up!"

Oliver Walker frowned. "There's still hope now. If we delay any longer, we'll run out of time!"

"Also, Chinese medicine is something that our ancestors left behind. Chinese medicine was the one that took care of your Emperor's life!"

It was true that Chinese medicine was on its edge.

The main reason was that there were too many quacks and scammers. As a result, whenever Chinese medicine was brought up, people would subconsciously associate it with scammers and charlatans.

Any rational man would think that Chinese medicine was an ancient medicine that had been eliminated by modern medicine.

However, it still depended on who the practitioner was!

How could the medical skills of the Tianyi sect be compared to those trickery in the pugilistic world?

"I..."

Allie Wilson's expression darkened but she quickly said, "I might have been too harsh with my words just now but I still want to warn you that Chinese medicine really won't be able to save him!"

She had been working in the hospital for nearly 20 years. She was worthy of recognition, be it in terms of experience or medical skills.

Of course, he had seen many Chinese doctors before. She only dared to say such things because she understood Chinese medicine.

"Dr. Wilson is right!"

"This ... How can you use Chinese medicine to save this man?"

Chapter 172 You're An Idiot

"Don't tell me that he's a charlatan who has convinced himself after lying all these years?!"

"..."

The onlookers were causing a scene with their faces full of disbelief.

The Chinese medicine doctor was simply spouting nonsense.

Gradually, they looked at Oliver Walker with suspicion.

There were also a lot of disdainful looks.

Oliver Walker asked coldly. "If I don't save him now, do you think he can make it to the hospital with his current injuries?"

If it was in the past, he would definitely not care about what the bystanders said!

The main thing was that he had no inner Qi now and could no longer use Qi to control the needles.

He didn't want any noise around him that may distract him when he treated the man.

His words rendered Allie Wilson and the crowd of onlookers speechless!

The anxious Luna Thomas had long lost her mind. "Dr Wilson, I know you're being helpful but you can't save him now. Shouldn't you let him try?!"

There was no right or wrong in this case!

They were only biased against traditional medicine!

But, no one should be blamed here, it's just that there are too many scammers.

After seeing so many of them, these people naturally wouldn't believe traditional medicine easily!

"Alright!"

Allie Wilson took a step back. "But, I have to remind you that you don't have a medical licence. If something happens, even if the family doesn't pursue the matter, you'll have to bear the responsibility."

"This is not a joke!"

She didn't believe it, but as a doctor, she felt the need to tell the man in front of her how serious the consequences were!

Of course, Oliver Walker understood this!

What he wanted to do was to break the prejudice ordinary people had against traditional medicine while trying to save this man!

The patient's current condition was very critical. There was intracranial haemorrhage. Even if he was operated on in time, he might not be able to survive it.

However, those trained under the Tianyi sect were trained to fight with the death god!

If only his internal organs were not injured and his internal Qi was still available, saving the man in front of him would have been as easy as blowing off dust.

Although it was very tricky now, he was still confident.

If he didn't even have such abilities, what right did he have to be respected as a teacher by the six godly doctors of the International Medical Centre?

Now, if he wanted to stop the problem of intracranial haemorrhage, he had to start the acupuncture from the cervical spine.

Oliver Walker immediately shouted, "Is there anyone who can help hold the patient?!"

He had to be fully focused. If he missed it, the consequences would be unimaginable.

"I'll do it!"

At that moment, a warm-hearted man walked over!

At the same time, Ellie Wilson's expression suddenly changed and she immediately cursed, "You idiot! Are you trying to kill this patient?!"

"He has an intracranial haemorrhage. If we move him, it will only get worse!"

After he finished speaking, the enthusiastic uncle was immediately pulled back by the middle-aged woman.

Naturally, they believed in Allie Wilson!

Moreover, if there were any problems, they would have to bear the responsibilities as well.

Who else would dare help him now?

The entire venue was silent!

Oliver Walker screamed, "Shut the f**k up! Do not question my medical skills with that limited knowledge that you have."

"If you aren't going to help, he's really going to die!"

"I work in the emergency department!" Ellie Wilson said proudly. "I know how to deal with emergencies better than you do."

"I thought you might have some skills since you're so arrogant but you've committed a taboo of the medical world!"

"I can't help you with this!"

After his firm words, the onlookers at the scene all took a step back.

It was not that they did not want to help but since Allie Wilson had said so, was there anyone who would help?!

After looking around, Oliver Walker's face darkened. He turned towards the female driver who was involved in the accident and shouted, "Come and help him!"

The patient's condition was critical, and he didn't have time to explain so much. Besides, even if he did, who would believe him?

"Ummmm.....I'm sorry!"

Luna Thomas's face turned pale and her whole body trembled in fear. "I ... I ... I'm scared of blood...."

Chapter 173 The Unspoken Trust

It wasn't that Luna Thomas didn't want to help, nor that she was afraid of taking responsibility. After all, she was the instigator of the car accident. If this man died, her responsibility would only be greater!

"It's better to be honest!" Allie Wilson rebuked. "You have to believe in science!

"I've been working in the hospital for more than 20 years. I'm a graduate of the medical department!

"You ...You're being irresponsible for the sake of being in the limelight!"

Besides, was this something that he should be doing?!

He would have to bear the responsibilities!

Not only that!

If the patient died, they would have to bear criminal responsibility!

"What is this man trying to do?"

"I don't know but we can't help him"

"Who would?"

"..."

The onlookers exclaimed one after another. After all, this ...

This was something serious!

Oliver Walker frowned. It was obvious that these people didn't believe him!

To be precise, they didn't believe in Chinese medicine!

If a Western doctor like Allie Wilson said that this man can be saved, someone would definitely offer help.

He couldn't blame them. After all, they were just trying to protect themselves.

However, looking at the patient's current condition, it was getting worse. He was already unconscious. If he didn't perform the acupuncture now, there was really no way for him to save this man!

"I'll do it!"

Suddenly, a melodious voice broke the doubts of the audience!

She was wearing a white short-sleeved shirt, a pair of black sweatpants, and a pair of very old canvas shoes!

Her face was filled with determination!

However, her beautiful eyes were filled with worry!

"Emilia?"

"What.....what was she doing?"

"It's fine. She's poor anyway...."

"..."

In an instant, the crowd was shocked!

However, they quickly realised that there was indeed nothing for her to lose!

If something happened, she could go to the prison and get free food.

Their eyes went from surprise to disdain in an instant.

The look on their faces changed faster than the weather.

"Emilia!"

Oliver Walker's heart skipped a beat. He had never expected that his wife, who was against him opening a clinic, would be willing to stand up for him in such a situation.

He could imagine that it took a lot of courage to believe him!

Other than being touched, he didn't know what else to say. He only knew that helping the patient out of the critical period was the greatest repayment for his wife's trust in him!

"You wanted to open a clinic right?"

"Our family's survival depends on you now!"

"Do not disappoint me!"

Emilia gritted her teeth and helped the dying man up. There was blood all over her white shirt.

Of course, she knew the consequences of stepping forward to help.

It was alright if the others didn't trust Oliver Walker but it wasn't alright for her.

She was Oliver Walker's wife!

She had already waited for eight long years, what else could she not give?

"En!"

Oliver Walker's nose turned sour. He was surprised that his wife was willing to help.

After all, they were only considered familiar strangers now. They did not understand each other well enough.

His wife had suffered for the family for eight years and he could imagine how important this family was to her.

However, when he needed help, she did not hesitate.

Their relationship wasn't as passionate as a newly-wedded couple nor as close as an old couple.

However, it was this dull relationship that they had that caused Emilia to believe in him even though she was gambling with her fate.

How could he feel touched?

Then, he took out the silver needle bag that he always carried with him. After opening it, there were at least fifty silver needles of different sizes, thickness, and length. It was a dazzling sight!

Although he couldn't control the needles with his inner Qi and couldn't bring the dead back to life, he could still stop the bleeding and quickly remove the blood clot.

Chapter 174 Arrest This Charlatan

He couldn't let his wife down. He skillfully picked up the silver needles and under the watchful eyes of the crowd, inserted three silver needles into the patient's neck!

"You!!!!!"

Allie Wilson was so angry that her face turned red and her neck became thick. She criticised angrily, "You're going against modern medicine rules! What can those needles do? "

"If Chinese medicine can be used for emergency treatment, what's the point of Western medicine?"

"If silver needles were useful, why would we need research to invent so much medical equipment?"

As a doctor, she was already a well-mannered one that she didn't curse when she saw the patient being treated like this!

However, she could no longer hold her rage. It was like a volcano that was about to erupt. Her entire body was shaking!

"Let him show off!"

"He'll be crying in regret once he gets thrown to jail!"

"I was wondering who he was. Turns out he's Emilia's husband."

"Ha!"

"This ungrateful twat is going to harm Emilia again!"

"..."

The onlookers pointed fingers at Oliver Walker, who was a man they abhorred.

They stood on the moral high ground and began to criticise him without restraint.

To be frank, Emilia was really unfortunate. She had been in the limelight for more than 20 years. She was the young miss of Davis, the brightest rising star in Colorado's business world, but in the end, she had been tricked by two men.

One was Isaac Davis and the other was Oliver Walker!

They really didn't understand why she still believed in this man!

Luna Thomas felt dizzy, especially with the blood ...

She can't take it anymore!

She quickly covered her eyes and cried as she squatted on the ground, "You have to save him!"

It would be strange if she didn't emotionally collapse!

It was torture!

"Are you confident?"

Emilia's voice was shaking.

As she spoke, she gritted her teeth and her beautiful eyes flickered with worry.

If he couldn't save this man, her family would really fall from the coldabyss to the underworld!

Oliver Walker didn't care about the doubts but when his wife questioned him, he frowned slightly and said, "In five minutes at most, I can push out the blood clots in the injured person's brain."

"It wouldn't be a problem but try not to talk to me for now."

In order to save this man, it would take a tremendous amount of effort!

He had to be fully focused!

Although he had only inserted nine needles, these nine needles had exhausted most of his energy.

Since he couldn't afford to be careless, his forehead was covered with sweat.

"Preposterous!"

"Ridiculous!"

"What nonsense!"

Allie Wilson was still fiercely attacking Oliver Walker, "You've violated the rules of modern medicine. You'll be punished!"

She really couldn't stand it anymore. She had no idea what benefits Oliver Walker would get by acting like this.

With the medical skills of this charlatan, he wanted to open a clinic?!

Even if this was his marketing skill, he had chosen the wrong patient!!

"Pfft -- "

Suddenly, the patient spat out a blood clot that was black in colour.

This was actually the clot that was stuck in the man's brain after the impact. If it was not discharged in time, the consequences would be unimaginable.

Even if they were lucky enough to reach the hospital in time, they would still have to undergo an open-head surgery!

Even if the patient was lucky enough that no mistakes were made during the surgery and he recovers well, the brain of the patient would still suffer permanent damage.

Memory loss at best and death at worst!

"Ahhhhhh!!!!!"

When Emilia saw that mouthful of black blood clot, she was terribly shocked. Her already tormented heart was now beating even more wildly.

"Look!!!!!"

"He's just pretending!

"It's such a shame that the man is going to die in the hands of this liar!"

"This is sickening!"

"..."

The onlookers began to criticise Oliver Walker with righteous indignation after seeing this scene.

Even Allie Wilson followed suit and shouted with an intense emotion, "I think we should stop calling the ambulance and just call the police to arrest this man!"

Chapter 175 He Is Now A Dead Man

Spitting out black blood was not a good sign. His internal organs must have been injured in the car accident.

Moving the patient now would only worsen the patient's injuries.

Based on her experience, she could deduce that this man was definitely dead.

However, traditional medicine was very different from modern medicine.

The things that modern medicine had concluded could not be used to guide traditional medicine.

The mouth, nose, and ears were all connected to the brain. So, the black blood clot were expelled from the brain.

Therefore, Oliver Walker heaved a sigh of relief.

However, because he was too focused, he sat on the ground weakly and gasped for breath.

"He ... How is he?"

Emilia's heart was in turmoil. She felt so anxious that she was about to cry.

If there was no hope, then their family would also be shattered.

If she and Oliver Walker were to go to jail, what would happen to Olivia?

"You can't tell?"

"He's giving up on himself!"

"You don't even know how to lie. Aren't you just trying to get yourself killed?"

"Everyone, stop him! We can't let him get away with it!"

"..."

The group of spectators also thought that the patient was already dead.

After all, that's what Allie Wilson said.

As for Luna Thomas, she was already feeling unwell due to her blood phobia and her face was filled with despair when she saw the situation in front of her!

She...

She was a murderer!

"Say something!"

"You!" Emilia shouted anxiously. "You can't just give up on him now just before you don't know what to do!"

She was still supporting the patient and her arms were sore. More importantly, she didn't know what to do.

"He's already out of danger. Put him down."

"But, he has to be admitted as soon as possible so that his body can heal and his external injuries can be tended to. Otherwise, it'll be troublesome if he catches an infection!"

After a short rest, Oliver Walker pulled out all the silver needles.

Although the man was stable for now, Oliver Walker didn't have time to take care of him.

However, according to the patient's current condition, even if it was a useless doctor, They should be able to handle it properly after taking over.

The reason why the man was still unconscious was because he was in a coma.

"Nonsense!"

"You've killed this patient!"

Sillie Wilson's expression became more and more furious. "I hate swindlers like you the most. Even if you're lying, you should know when to stop! How could you be such a devil?!"

Emilia, who was supporting the injured, had completely lost her ability to think.

Her husband said this man was fine but Allie Wilson said the man was hopeless.

She did not know who to believe now!

However, Allie Wilson was, after all, the chief surgeon of the emergency room at Colorado First Hospital!

Vroom vroom vroom --

At that moment, the siren of the ambulance was getting closer and closer.

"Everyone, make way! The ambulance is here!"

"Don't waste any more time,"

"What if there's still hope in the hospital?"

"..."

Soon, three nurses and a female doctor rushed in with a stretcher.

"Teacher, you're here too!"

The female doctor was a little shocked.

She was a doctor, who had just become a full-time doctor in the emergency department. During her internship, she had learned from Allie Wilson, so there was nothing wrong with calling Allie Wilson a teacher.

"En!"

"Someone else touched the patient." Allie Wilson said out of fury. "The patient is probably dead by now but Du Juan, you should still take a look at him."

"Just go through with it."

She was mad and obviously her tone wouldn't be nice as well.

However, he did not forget his duties as a doctor. No matter what, they should still examine the patient.

Du Juan nodded and hurriedly took out her stethoscope and various instruments before rushing over to the patient."

"He stopped talking because he's feeling guilty!"

"This bastard is really detestable. We can sue him for murder!"

"It's simply unforgivable!"

"..."

The crowd was also filled with anger. They pointed at Oliver Walker and started cursing him.

Emilia gulped in a daze as she stood there, completely at a loss for what to do.

Did she make the wrong decision again?

Chapter 176 Only One Of Them Should Go To Jail

She should still believe in Oliver Walker!

However, if Oliver Walker was only pretending to know what he didn't and had killed someone just to show off, she would never forgive him.

"What ... How is it?"

She mustered her courage and asked carefully, "Can...Can he still be saved?"

Du Juan's expression turned strange and she asked, "You're the one....You saved him?"

This situation was different from what her teacher had said!

However, this rhetorical question also made Emilia's heart race. She first shook her head but quickly nodded. "Yes!"

"I was the one who saved him!"

She had no other choice.

There was only one of them that should go to jail.

Her daughter loved Oliver Walker so much and she didn't want to break her daughter's dream!

So if she had to bear the responsibility, she was willing to take it all.

Of course! This was not for Oliver Walker. It was for Olivia!

"Why are you still asking this?"

Allie Wilson said angrily, "Just tell them the end results, either of them can get away with this!"

After all, it wasn't just one person who did this!

It was the two of them!

Besides, a mistake was a mistake. No one could change that!

"Dr. Wilson is right!"

"They killed the man together!"

"Exactly!"

"We all saw it with our own eyes! We can testify!"

"..."

No matter who it was, they all hated liars.

Especially when it's scammers like this who disregarded human lives! Hey had zero tolerance towards it!

Emilia's heart sank to the bottom of chest. She felt as if all the strength in her body had been drained. She staggered two steps and directly sat on the ground.

Then, she turned her pretty face, frowned, and looked at the man with a resentful look.

His heart was filled with unwillingness, confusion, and a myriad of anger.

Why did this man do this?

However, just as the atmosphere was getting intense, Du Juan asked doubtfully, "Teacher, perhaps you have diagnosed him wrongly?"

"This patient only suffered some superficial injuries. He's fine!"

This sentence was no less than a heavy bomb that instantly changed the mood!

All of a sudden, the voices around them disappeared without a trace!

"How is that possible?"

Allie Wilson reacted quickly. "I checked it myself. He was severely injured!"

"It was an intracranial hemorrhage, a life-threatening condition!"

How did this happen?!

Could it be ...

Could it be that the young man was really a Chinese medicine doctor with heaven-defying means?

With just a few silver needles, he saved a life, just like in wuxia novels?

The expression on her face changed as she said, "Impossible! This is impossible!"

Wasn't this nonsense?

If traditional medicine was really that magical, who would still study modern medicine?

Even if this patient had been sent to the hospital and had surgery, there was a chance that she might lose this patient.

What more now?

"Why don't you come over and take a look?"

Du Juan said in a low voice because she didn't think she had made a mistake.

After all, the medical equipment would not lie.

Could it be that the medical equipment had made a mistake?

Therefore, she couldn't confirm it.

"Let me see!"

Allie Wilson quickly stepped forward, squatted down, and began to examine the patient.

The entire venue turned quiet. No one dared to say anything!

This ...

How could they believe that it was true?

The hidden bitterness and anger in Emilia's beautiful eyes also turned into doubt. Could it be that something good had happened?

After a short rest, Oliver Walker smiled confidently and said, "Emilia, thank you for believing in me.

"He's fine now!

"I'll take you to buy some new clothes!"

If he didn't even have such abilities, how could he teach the other godly doctors?

Chapter 177 The Final Diagnosis

Seeing Emilia's clothes stained with blood, Oliver Walker's already guilty heart felt even worse.

In addition, the clothes that were supposed to be white had already turned yellow because they had been worn out.

His wife was a goddess, but now...

She was still willing to be with him even though she was already in such a miserable state. She didn't even complain. How could he not be heartbroken?

"What about him?"

Emilia didn't care about her clothes. Instead, she was thinking about the uncle who had gotten into a car accident. Even if they wanted to leave, would they be allowed to?

"Dr. Wilson, what's the situation?"

"Please tell us! We're getting worried!"

"This ... Everyone's pretty busy!"

"..."

The onlookers shouted again. After all, under the scorching sun, coupled with their anxious mood, it was inevitable that their temper would rise!

"Teacher?"

Du Juan also called for Allie Wilson with her eyes full of anticipation.

She had just examined the patient, and it was impossible that she had made a mistake.

The most anxious person was none other than Luna Thomas!

After all, the consequences of this incident would be very different.

The car accident had already happened regardless of whether it was because of a brake failure.

As the driver, she could not absolve herself from the blame.

"God!"

"What a godly doctor!"

Allie Wilson was shocked. At first, she thought something was wrong with the equipment, but after checking the patient, the man's condition was not as serious as when she examined him for the first time!

"Quick! Send him to the hospital and get the rest of his injuries treated!"

"I've made a grave mistake!"

The result was indeed unexpected. When she looked at Oliver Walker again, her eyes were full of regret.

She wanted to apologize, but her face was burning with shame. She didn't know where to start.

"Of course!"

Du Juan heaved a sigh of relief. Since the teacher had said so, it also proved that she had not made a mistake.

With the help of a few onlookers, the patient was carried to the stretcher bed and sent to the hospital.

The rest of them were all dumbfounded.

So....the man was fine?

Allie Wilson wouldn't have reacted this way if something had gone wrong.

Allie Wilson was embarrassed to apologize publicly, but she still stepped forward and stammered, "Dr.....Dr. Walker, I am...."

Her face was flushed red, and she had used the word 'doctor' to address Oliver Walker. This was enough to explain everything.

"Science would not be able to explain everything."

Oliver Walker said, "You can choose not to believe in traditional medicine, but please do not slander its existence.

"It's the precious treasure that our ancestors have left for us.

"It's us who have become so stupid that we cannot understand the profound of traditional medicine. It's not that all of the practitioners are scammers or liars!"

Oliver Walker didn't want to say these, but many of them may have been deceived. As a result, when they heard about traditional medicine, most would immediately reject it.

As the successor of the Tianyi Sect, he could not allow this to go on.

He was responsible for promoting traditional medicine, so he had to explain himself!

These words caused Allie Wilson's face to turn even redder, "I'm sorry. I shouldn't have been so stubborn.

"Thank you for broadening my horizons!"

It was indeed shocking. If she had heard about it, she would have scoffed.

But how could it be fake when she saw it with her own eyes?

Oliver Walker no longer paid attention to Allie Wilson, nor did he look at the shocked expressions of the onlookers. Instead, he turned around and said, "Are you feeling better now?"

In fact, the one who was in shock was Emilia. Although she didn't know much about medicine, she had heard enough of it from their conversation.

The person who said that the patient was almost incurable was a chief surgeon who had worked in Colorado's First Hospital's emergency department for over 20 years. She didn't think that this was a coincidence.

It just meant that Oliver Walker's medical skills were really superb.

"En!"

Her beautiful eyes flickered with a strange look. She couldn't understand how this man had the time to learn medicine when he fought on the frontlines for eight years.

Chapter 178 A Miracle Doctor

Oliver Walker's smile was like the warm sun in winter. "Let's go!"

Still in shock, Emilia asked in a daze, "Where to?"

She had been too nervous to hear anything. All she could think about was what to do if they couldn't save that man.

Now that Oliver Walker didn't have to bear any criminal responsibility, she could finally heave a sigh of relief.

"To buy clothes, of course!" Oliver Walker answered with joy.

His wife was originally a fairy from heaven but because of him, she ended up in such a miserable state.

He had to let his wife regain the confidence of being the brightest star of Colorado!

"But I'm covered in blood."

Emilia's phoenix-like brows furrowed as she said, "If we enter someone else's shop in this state, will we..."

"I ... I ... I'll go back and take a shower! There are clothes at home!"

Although they had the money now, she didn't want to be extravagant and wasteful. Oliver Walker had proven his medical skills to her so she should support him unconditionally.

Opening a clinic was their top priority now.

Not only could it solve their current predicament, it was also considered a career!

"If our mother sees you covered in blood, she'll definitely be worried."

"Listen to me," Oliver Walker persuaded. "Let's buy some clothes first and then we can have a bath at a spa centre."

In fact, the clothes at home were not of high quality.

Even if he wasn't extravagant and wasteful, he didn't want his family to be so poor that no matter where they went, there would be fingers pointed at them and be treated as nothing but clowns.

"Fine..."

Emilia felt that Oliver Walker was right. It would be hard to explain if they went home now and were seen covered in blood.

Secondly, she did not have any decent clothes in her house.

Was she supposed to continue wearing those black silk dresses she wore in the club?

Those were the clothes that humiliated her and she never wanted to touch it again!

"What a godly doctor!"

"Emilia is such a lucky woman! Her husband has the medical skills to bring the dead back to life. They would definitely be able to live a good life!"

"I don't agree with you on that."

"If it wasn't Emilia who waited for eight long years, would she have gotten the husband she has today? "

"You didn't consider that, did you?"

"..."

After Oliver Walker and Emilia left, the crowd burst into a heated debate.

Was Oliver Walker the one who got lucky?? He found such a tough, determined woman who would rather pick up garbage for a living and waited for him for 8 years.

Or, was it Emilia who was lucky to find such a handsome, trustworthy, and capable man?

In fact, it was all relative. Without Emilia's determination while waiting for her loved one to return, how could Oliver Walker have returned in glory today?

Their world was something that ordinary people would never be able to understand.

To be precise, they really didn't see the whole picture.

After Allie Wilson got into the car, she took out her phone and made a call. She said excitedly, "Dr. Floss, I found a miracle doctor today!"

"Alright, alright! I'll go to your office right away and explain it to you face to face."

...

The Grand Sun Mall was the most luxurious mall in Colorado.

There were all kinds of luxury goods along with other branded goods.

Emilia was originally from Colorado and she was definitely a common topic of conversation that took place after meals.

Not to mention now, when she entered the most luxurious shopping mall covered in blood.

"She! Why is she here?"

"Weren't you punished by Davis?"

"Is she qualified to be here?"

"Look at the clothes she's wearing. It's just horrifying. Let's go! I don't want to be stained with such bad luck."

"..."

The people's gazes were filled with prejudice.

It may seem exaggerated but this was reality.

How would Emily be comfortable deep inside?

She wished she could bury her head in a rat hole and hide in it. These words undoubtedly pierced the wounds deep inside her heart!

Chapter 179 An Old Friend

To be someone who was neither arrogant nor rash when he became successful and would not let his high spirits get to his head.....

To remain calm and use the eyes of a wise man to see all changes.

It was one in a million!

And, for those who could withstand the pain and suffering from falling to the bottom of the valley from the peak of their lives were definitely rare!

However, Emilia had done it all. Perhaps she still couldn't take everything lightly but she was able to endure the humiliation and live on with determination. This was already something incredibly tough.

Oliver Walker could feel the change in his wife's mood and he immediately comforted her, "Don't be bothered with what they are saying now.

"No matter how much they look down on you today, they will be envious of you tomorrow!"

Although his words were sparse and ordinary, for Emilia, they were like a warm current that flowed through every corner of her heart.

In fact, she was an optimistic person, it was just that reality had given her a really heavy blow.

But, Oliver Walker's return reignited her hope for tomorrow!

"En!" She nodded her head.

What was she afraid of?

She endured it all when things were tough.

Would the future be even more difficult?

"Woah woah woah!!!"

At this moment, a sharp and sarcastic voice came from behind. "You're being arrogant. Aren't you afraid of being struck by lightning?"

"I'll change my surname to yours if she can make me feel envious again!"

These words caused Oliver Walker and Emilia to turn around at the same time.

It was a young woman with exquisite makeup on her face and even the clothes she was wearing were branded.

It was obvious that this woman was well-off.

"Alison Carter, you ..." Emilia's face turned cold.

Oliver Walker knew this woman as well. She was his wife's classmate and Emilia regarded her as a best friend.

Alison even attended their simple wedding!

In the past, when Alison Carter encountered difficulties, his wife would do her best to help her best friend,

But now, she was speaking ill of Emilia. She was the typical villain who would repay kindness with ingratitude and hit someone when they've crashed to the ground.

This was all that Oliver Walker was aware of but the reality of the situation was harsher than he had expected.

After Oliver Walker joined the Army, Emilia was kicked out of the company. When she wanted to confide in her difficulties, she told Alison Carter about it, only to be ridiculed and mocked.

This was her best friend!

Even during the most difficult time, Emilia only wanted to borrow 500 dollars, she was humiliated by her best friend! In the end, the ten-year friendship between the two ended.

It also made Emilia understand that Alison Carter didn't treat her as his best friend at all. Alison Carter had only tried hard to be close to Emilia because of her dazzling identity.

"Me?"

Alison Carter chuckled and spread her arms. "What did I do?"

"I'm living the best life now. I wear branded clothes, drive a BMW, and live in a high-end community.

"Unlike you.....Oh my god! Why is there blood all over your body? Did you get bitten while fighting for food with a dog?"

"You're already so shabby yet you're here? Are you trying to disgust us upper-class people?"

"Do you still think of yourself as young Miss Davis?"

"Aren't you being ridiculous?"

Alison Carter's mouth was like a machine gun. She humiliated Emilia in every way possible. Not for any other reason but to regain the pride that she had never gotten in the past.

Back then, Emily was the unattainable Miss Davis!

And, Emilia's grades had always been the top in the school and so she was in the special class.

But.....Alison Carter did bad in school.

In order to get close to Emilia, she studied hard and was finally promoted to the special class in the third year of junior high.

She hated studying, but back then, other than studying, Emilia didn't have any of the noble hobbies of a rich girl.

This also gave the poor Alison Carter the opportunity to interact with Emilia. Alison would always use the excuse of asking questions on their homework so that she would get close to Emilia.

In the end, the heavens did not disappoint her and their relationship became better.

It also brought her the luxury that he wanted but she still hated studying!

Emilia was furious. She wanted to ignore it but she couldn't take it anymore. She rebutted angrily, "Don't go too far!"

"Ask yourself! I was nice to you back then, wasn't I?!"

"Your family couldn't afford your tuition fees, so I'm the one who paid for it!"

Chapter 180 The Heartless B*tch

"When your family couldn't afford the loan, I was the one who paid for it!"

"Even if you aren't grateful, you can't bully me just because I'm in a bad state now!"

In the past, Emilia's pocket money alone was the total annual income of many ordinary families.

But, she had always been very frugal.

The reason why she studied at Colorado High School with Alison Carter was that she did not like the learning atmosphere in an elite school.

Otherwise, how would Alison Carter get the chance to know her?

"That's because you're stupid!"

Alison Carter gritted his teeth and rebuked shamelessly, "Do you know how much I hate you?"

"The set of cosmetics that I fancied only cost a thousand dollar but you didn't even buy it for me.

"Was a thousand dollars that much to you?!"

"I'm your best friend. Why can't you even give me that little amount of money?"

To hold a grudge for such a small reason was something that Amelia couldn't accept.

At that time, they were only in their third year of junior high.

A thousand dollars was not a lot to Emilia but to use it for cosmetics?

This was against the school's rules. After all, they were still middle school students at that time.

"There's more!"

The expression on Alison Carter's face became more and more ferocious. "It's fine if you don't want to buy me those cosmetics but in order to please you, I have to pretend that I actually liked studying!

"Do you know how much psychological damage those mathematical formulas, the list of chemical elements, and those obscure classical Chinese words have caused me?

"I hate you, I hate you!

"I just wanted to see you make a fool of yourself. What are you going to do with me now?!

"Hahaha ...

"Look at you now, you're living like a dog!

"No! Wait!

"It's two poor and uncouth wild dogs!

"Hahaha ..."

She had finally vented all her resentment today.

It made her feel great as if her soul had been elevated.

After all, who would have thought that one day, she would be able to reprimand Miss Davis so righteously?

Her eyes were filled with pride!

However, even the passersby couldn't stand how rude she was.

It was true that Emilia was a clown now but a woman like Alison was worse than that!

"You ..."

Amelia's face turned purple from anger. "When your father passed away, you couldn't even afford to hold a funeral. I gave you two hundred thousand dollars to pay for his funeral along with the money to buy him a coffin!"

"You...How can you be so shameless?"

She was heartbroken.

Emilia was kind and had inherited Mary Grimm's characteristics.

Although they were rich, they had never looked down on the poor. From time to time, they would even take out their living expenses that they couldn't finish to solve the difficulties of many people.

Alison Carter was the person she had helped the most when she was at Colorado High School.

In the end, she didn't expect that instead of a word of thanks, she got bitten by this heartless woman.

The feeling of returning kindness with ingratitude felt as if her heart was being ruthlessly slaughtered by a bayonet.

Others could gloat and mock her, saying that she went from being a phoenix to a wild chicken, but what right did a student she had sponsored have to mock her?

"Huh?"

"Your father is the one that died!

"My dad is still alive and healthy!

"The money that I asked for was because I ran out of money to renovate my house. Who asked you to be so stupid and gullible?

"Do you really think that the village I brought you to was my home?"

With a ferocious look on her face, Alison Carter rebuked shamelessly, "That's my poor relative in the countryside. Do you understand now?"

"Idiot!

"It's a miracle that you're still alive today!"
