Chapter 45 Asking Leon Williams For Help

After the call was answered, a man's voice surfaced, "Miss Davis, what can I help you with?"

The news about the talk had not been spread, and Leon Williams obviously had no idea why Emilia would be looking for him.

They had not been in contact for years. Now that she was calling him, there was definitely something urgent.

Forget about the rest, if it was about money, he definitely would be able to help.

After all, this was the wife of a VIP, and the only thing that he had was money.

"Mr. Williams!"

Emilia anxiously asked, "I am wondering if you have the invitations for the talk that will be held by a godly doctor from the International Medical Center, Hendric Smith, which will be held in the First Hospital?"

It was true that she knew a lot of people.

However, ever since the ban happened, no matter how tough it was, she never begged anyone for help.

This was because she knew that it was pointless.

But, this time, it was for Olivia. She had no other choice.

Her pride?

She had already lost it long ago!

"I have no idea what you're talking about. I have not heard anything about it."

Leon Williams frowned as he asked, "Why would the godly doctors be having a health talk at the First Hospital?"

"Were you lied to?"

Who were the godly doctors?

Holding a talk at the First Hospital was definitely something degrading to their status!

He couldn't understand what was going on, but before he could ask another question, the call was cut.action

Leon Williams quickly called Oliver Walker and asked, "Mr. Walker, was Miss Davis tricked by someone else?"

He personally wanted to get close to Oliver Walker, but he didn't have the opportunity previously, and he didn't want to appear desperate.

The call from Emilia gave him the chance instead.

Oliver Walker answered calmly, "You don't have to be bothered about it. I will handle it."

He wasn't doing this to force his wife to beg him for help.

In fact, he would be presenting the invitation to his wife personally so that his wife would no longer be suspicious of him.

This would be an opportunity for Hendric Smith to treat Olivia.

Once Olivia got treated, all of the misunderstandings would be cleared.

He wasn't a daring man, but he only wanted his wife to forgive him. As for the future, he still had to take it one step at a time.

Although his wife and daughter were only behind these doors, they were still furthest away from each other.

When Emilia got the answer from Leon Williams, she scoffed. She knew it. She knew that this would be the answer.

This was completely normal. It didn't even bother her.

She used to be part of that society as well, and she obviously knew about the International Medical Center.

What would the wealthy people be most worried about?

It would definitely be their health. Who on earth would be willing to give her these invitations?

As she looked at Olivia who was fast asleep and noticed that there were cold sweats on her forehead, Emilia gritted her teeth and clicked open her contacts.

However, she still couldn't make up her mind to contact the one person whom she never wanted to.

At the same time, George Johnson finally returned home from the hospital. He was looking extremely mad as he screamed, "Idiots! All of you are mother f**king useless!!!"

"Why do I need all of you here?!"

He went for revenge, but he ended up in such a miserable state.

When he was thrown onto the ground, it was extremely painful. It felt as if he had some terrible disease, and his entire body was filled with fear.

Mike White was the most pitiful among all of them. It was George Johnson who wanted revenge. What did any of this have to do with him?

But, he had no other choice.

When George Johnson finally stopped, Mike White slowly opened his mouth with a bitter look on his face, "Mr. Johnson, please calm down!"

"It was my fault for being careless. I didn't think that the man would be so powerful!"

"As soon as you recover, I will definitely go after his head!"

He was indeed careless. If he didn't dodge the attack, the consequences would have been different.
