Chapter 56 Time For Revenge!

In the end, they burst into tears!

What else could they do?

Emilia was hoping that the man would return, but he already left for such a long time!

Would he still return?

Even if he did, what could he do?

"Your father?"

"Hahahahaha...."

"The war is about to end soon, but we still haven't heard anything from him. I'm afraid he has already died in the war!"

William Davis continued chuckling as he asked, "Emilia? This isn't you at all!"

"Why was it that you only know how to cry? Why aren't you hitting me?"

"Come on!"action

Emilia was aware of what William Davis had in mind.

He wanted her to hit him so that he could continue his revenge!

"Your dirty bastard!"

Mary Grimm couldn't take it anymore. She threw a punch at the man and screamed, "I'll kill you!"

Even a puppet would feel angry!

As for her, she was a woman who had been tortured for the past 8 years!

All of these happened because of this horrible demon!

"Ahhhh!!!"

No one expected that Mary Grimm would actually hit William Davis. As he was hit on the head, he screamed out of fury, "Damn it! You old b*tch!"

He was furious!

He raised his fist and landed his punch on Mary Grimm who was skinny to the bones.

No matter what, he was a well-built man.

Along with how luxuriously he was living and how he loved sports, his physique was excellent.

As for Mary Grimm who had starved for the past 8 years, how would she have the strength to fight him?

"Ah!"

The punch wasn't light at all. Mary Grimm sat on the ground in pain as she held onto her waist. She screamed as well, "You.....You!!"

No matter what, she was older than him!

How did she end up being punched by her nephew?!

"Grandma!"

"Mother!"

Olivia Walker couldn't move since she had just finished the surgery. She didn't have much strength left in her body.

Emilia quickly ran to the mother, and her eyes were filled with rage, "You can come at me if you want!"

"Me!"

Williams Davis was horrible to the core. He was threatening Olivia at first, and this time, he even punched her mother!

The only person he didn't hurt was her....wasn't this obvious?!

"You?"

"Would that be necessary?"

William Davis bent forward and glared at the two women who were on the ground. Then, a cold, vicious smile appeared on her face, "Don't you think that torturing them would bring you more pain?"

"Do you still remember the idiot you protected?"

"HAHAHAHAHAHAHA..."

"You ended up as a slut, and your daughter is about to die! Your mother, who used to be the young madam of Davis, is now a street cleaner!"

"But, where is he?"

William Davis spread his arms as he shouted, "I never forgot him! I wanted to release my anger on him, but you told me that I was worse than him in front of the whole crowd!"

"I came here to tell you when you're at your worst!"

"You might be smart your entire life, but one mistake would be enough for me to get the chance to ruin you!"

"You fell for the wrong man!"

"That bastard is nothing like me!"

Emilia was much better than him, and back then, she took away everything that belonged to him.

However, he couldn't say much.

In the end, he wanted to release his anger onto Oliver Walker, but Emilia humiliated him.

She even got him to apologize to Oliver Walker! This was something he never forgot!
