Chapter 61 Do Not Make The Same Mistake Twice!

Emilia's voice was definitely the most beautiful sound on earth.

Especially during times like this. Oliver Walker quickly answered, "Sure!"

It wasn't easy for them to get here. With how well he knew his wife, he was sure that she still hated him, and it would not be that easy to get rid of the hatred inside her.

Therefore, this was entirely out of his expectation.

But...

The one thing that he didn't guess correctly was that Emilia's heart still held him closely, so she was willing to accept him again.

"Enough!"

Suddenly, Mary Grimm stood at the door and screamed, "Emilia! You have to think carefully about this!"

"Is he really worth it for you to do this?"

"You shouldn't make the same mistake like I did. You're....you're still young!"

She just wanted her daughter to stay rational.

Oliver Walker wasn't a dependable person after all.

She was already an old woman.

It didn't matter if she was already broken, but what about her daughter?

She was still a young, beautiful woman. If her daughter made the wrong choice that would cause her to regret it, then as Emilia's mother, Mary Grimm would definitely be responsible for it.

Emilia frowned, and she bit her lips, "But....mum, he came back!"

This was already the best evidence that she had! This man returned!

Oliver held his breath. He knew that these things take time, and it would be impossible to gain their approval.

Compared to his wife, his mother-in-law's misunderstanding of him was even deeper.

He did not try to explain himself, afraid that it would only make things worse. He would rather stand up straight and allow himself to be punished. At least, he still had a good attitude.

"Hmmm..."

Follow current on storynovel.net

Mary Grimm sighed. She looked worried, and she felt that it was unfair to her daughter.

When she turned and looked at Oliver Walker, her eyes turned cold, and her voice was sharp, "You..."

"Emilia.....is too kind. I don't wish to see her being hurt again or else.....I will kill you!"

The love she had for Emilia was similar to how Emilia loved Olivia.

These were incredible motherly love!

Her daughter had already made the mistake once. How could she watch her daughter make the same mistake twice?!

"Mother!"

Oliver Walker stood up tall. He did not move at all and promised solemnly, "I will promise you that I will never hurt her again!"

Mary Grimm let out a cold laugh, "Your promise is worthless to me!"

"Come to think about it.....You can come in since Olivia is your daughter.

"Now that we're in trouble and even if you don't have the money, you should at least try to get the invitation?"

Follow current on storynovel.net

She wasn't making it difficult for him. It was because Emilia and she would not be able to get their hands on the invitation.

In fact, William Davis was right. Olivia had RH-negative blood, and it was rare.

Even if they had enough money, the possibility of finding bone marrows that matched hers would be close to zero.

So, their only hope was to get the invitation so that they had the chance to meet the godly doctor. This wasn't much. They were only doing so for Olivia.

Of course, she had some hidden agenda as well. Mary Grimm really did not want Olivia Walker back into the family.

It had been difficult for them to get to where they were currently. This family had been striding forward despite the storm, but with one wrong move, the entire family could topple over.

Emilia suddenly came back to her senses. She was indeed being emotional earlier and had forgotten about the promise that Oliver Walker made about getting the invitation.

This was related to Olivia's life, so she stared at Oliver with questioning eyes. This definitely wasn't a simple task.

"Mother, Emilia! Look!"

Oliver Walker quickly pulled out four invitations from his pocket and smiled, "We shall head over there together so that we have a better chance tomorrow.

"As long as one of us gets called by the godly doctor, Olivia will be saved!"action

Mary Grimm was shocked!

Emilia frowned instead!

It should be noted that the health talk was held by the godly doctor from the International Medical Center.

She had gone to the auditorium of the First Hospital and knew that it could only fit a hundred guests.

Chapter 62 Why Can't You Be A Little Smarter?

How many wealthy tycoons were there in Colorado?!

This made it impossible to even get a single invitation!

But Oliver Walker had four of them with him. This.....

Felt like a dream!

"You asshole!!!"

Mary Grimm quickly recovered from her shock as she asked in rage, "How dare you lie to us with such things?!"

"You're.....you're a cruel shameless man!"

Although they had not seen the real invitation, it wasn't difficult for them to imagine how precious they must be.

Emilia was in shock as well, but she quickly said, "Mother, what if they are authentic?"

She still at least had some trust in Oliver Walker.

Follow current on storynovel.net

At least.....she was giving him another chance!

"Emilia, why can't you be a little smarter?!"

Mary Grimm, who was furious, screamed with her teeth gritted, "If....if he only brought one, I would be willing to believe that it's authentic.

"But....he has four invitations with him. How would you want me to believe him?!"

Forget about her, even Emilia felt that it was impossible.

It really felt that it wasn't true! It didn't look like it was an authentic one!

"Traitor!"

Mary Grimm's eyes turned red as she continued screaming, "Listen to me....if anything were to happen to Olivia or Emilia, I will definitely kill you even if it cost my own life!"

She might not be able to fight William Davis or George Johnson!

But...

She would never allow this man to get away with it!

Follow current on storynovel.net

She knew her daughter well. She knew how it would be impossible to sway Emilia once she made up her mind.

So, with that said, Mary Grimm left the room!

action

Oliver Walker quickly called for her, "Mother....you should eat..."

These dishes had been specially made for them, but Mary Grimm didn't even bother looking at them.

The atmosphere inside the room felt so cold that it was below freezing point.

Emilia held onto the invitations, and she looked skeptical as she stared at Oliver.

"Did you really think that you would be able to lie to us with these horrible tricks?"

"Don't you forget that if we can't enter the auditorium tomorrow, all of your schemes would be exposed!"

Because of her mother's words, she finally regained her senses!

In fact, this was a simple case that was placed right in front of her. Even an idiot would be able to tell what was going on.

Oliver then raised another question, "If we aren't allowed to enter the auditorium, what's the point of me doing all this?"

Follow current on storynovel.net

Emilia kept quiet!

That was true!

If these were fakes, why would Oliver Walker do all these? What were his intentions?

She could no longer tell the truth from the lies. Especially how he did not try to hide while she questioned him. He still looked sincere and was firm with his answer.

"We shall know tomorrow whether this is authentic."

Oliver Walker looked at Olivia, who had been staring at him but didn't dare to speak. Then, Oliver asked, "You aren't even willing to give me one night's time?"

He was filled with remorse.

Perhaps, Olivia already knew who he was.

But...he owed them too much. Even if Olivia called him 'daddy' right now, would he have the courage to answer her?

He could only wait until Olivia had fully recovered. Then, they could slowly find the right time to tell Olivia the truth after discussing it with his wife.

"The food's getting cold!"

Oliver Walker said gently, "I'll heat it up with the microwave!"

Emilia shook her head, "It's fine. Just leave. I need some time to calm down!"

She was feeling lost! She did not know where to go!

She held onto the invitations, and she was torn. It felt as if she was deep inside a puddle of mud, and she couldn't pull herself out of it.

Chapter 63 I Want A Responsible Man!

"If humans are a type of metal then food is steel. How could you skip meals?"

Oliver Walker frowned, "Plus, you have been having those foods with no nutrients. You won't be getting much nutrition from them!"

His wife was looking pale. From the look itself, it was obvious that she had not been able to rest properly for years along with the lack of nutritious food.

Her body might be able to handle it now.

But after some time, there would be all sorts of problems.

This woman had been waiting for him for 8 long years. She had been suffering for their family. If he wouldn't care for her, who else would?

"Even if these are delicious, do you think that I'll be able to eat them now?"

Emilia was trying her best to control her emotions as she asked, "Olivia is still lying on this bed. Even if these invitations are authentic, we have no idea if the godly doctor would even be willing to help us."

She wanted this man to know how difficult their current situation was.

She was a human, and she had emotions!

Follow current on storynovel.net

How would she be in the mood to think about food now?

"Of course, he would!"

Oliver Walker answered sincerely as he said, "I have already told him about it..."

Before he could finish his sentence, Emilia was already glaring at him.

He had no other choice but to swallow the remaining half of it.

The problem now was that Emilia did not trust him at all. It would only bring more arguments if he continued.

Emilia scoffed and tried to explain the situation to him patiently, "Did you really think that George Johnson and William Davis would let this go so easily?"

"Also....stop wasting all of the money that you have."

"Even if Olivia recovered from this, we would have to leave Colorado."

She was well aware of how William Davis and George Johnson were.action

One of them was a petty man who would definitely get his vengeance even for the slightest things.

Follow current on storynovel.net

Another one was a gangster who would never allow himself to be embarrassed.

It could be said that Oliver Walker's actions were touching, but they also brought them a lot of trouble.

She could only pray that nothing would happen tomorrow, or else, it would not be something that she could take.

Oliver Walker spoke in a low voice, "If any of them dares..."

Emilia's face turned cold as she quickly stopped him, "I already told you that I hate men who exaggerate!"

"How dare you promise me anything?"

"You should make a promise to Olivia! Promise her that you'll provide her with a better life!"

"You shouldn't be acting this way, bringing more trouble to the family!"

"Even if you can fight, do you think that you would be able to fight the entire gang or the entire company?"

"If you continue to do so, I will regret what I've done as well!"

She wasn't asking much!

Follow current on storynovel.net

She didn't mind if Oliver Walker came back, but he needed to be down-to-earth!

She didn't want him to bullsh*t about how capable he was and that he could challenge the whole world for her!

These were lies! It wasn't the reality!

The man whom she knew definitely wasn't someone who would exaggerate!

She couldn't help but feel that Oliver had changed! A lot!

That was right!

It had been 8 years, and even she had changed. How was it possible that Oliver would still be the same?

But....he has now become someone she hates the most!

"I..."

Oliver Walker struggled a little. He was dying to tell his wife that with one word of his, he would be able to cause a storm in Colorado, but he didn't.

In fact, he had not changed. It was just that Emilia's status in the Davis family 8 years ago was undefeatable.

There were a lot of things that he didn't need to handle. He only had to be obedient toward Emilia, and he didn't have to worry much.

However, things were different now. Emilia had been forced to the corner, and she would no longer be able to protect him as she used to 8 years ago. At the same time, she still assumed that he was a useless man.

Although he couldn't say them, he still swore to himself that once their little girl recovered, he would definitely take back everything that they deserved!

The Davis family would have to pay for what they did!

Chapter 64 I Just Want Mummy To Hold Me

Olivia watched the entire thing happening right in front of her. She frowned as she couldn't speak even when she wanted to. She could only pray secretly.....she could only pray that her mother did not chase away her father who had just returned home!

"If you.....if you really take us as your family, please stop causing more problems for us!"

Emilia gave an ultimatum, "If you can't do so, you should leave right now!"

She was indeed touched by what he did, but as she calmed down, she started thinking about reality.

Oliver Walker lowered his head. It was pointless for him to argue now. It would only make things worse!

However, Emilia felt even angrier when Oliver did not say a single thing. She was about to explode in rage...

"Ummmmm..."

Olivia suddenly gripped her blanket, and she looked like she was in a lot of pain.

She should have been allowed a quiet place to recover after the surgery, but from the moment she woke up, she never got to rest properly.

The pain from the wound and also the emotions she was suppressing inside her caused cold sweats to appear all over her forehead.

"Olivia!"

Follow current on storynovel.net

Oliver and Emilia quickly turned around and called for their child simultaneously.

However, when Oliver tried to get closer to his child, his wife stopped him.

Emilia kneeled on the ground as she held her daughter's hand. She was asking frantically, "Olivia, where....where does it hurt?"

"Tell mummy, how would I be able to make you feel better?"

"If I could, I wish I would be the one suffering!"

Her heart ached!

It was really painful indeed!

The torment from the disease was irreplaceable!

Whenever her daughter was in pain, Emilia felt the same as well. The intense pain felt like hundreds of ants nibbling her heart.

But....she felt helpless!

There was nothing she could do!

She could only stare at her daughter as tears rolled down her cheeks!

Follow current on storynovel.net

Oliver Walker stood behind her as he clenched his fist!

Wouldn't it be great if he wasn't injured?

If he could treat his own daughter, why would she still be in so much pain?

The atmosphere in the room turned from coldness to sadness. It was only a brief moment, and it felt completely different now.

"Mummy..."

Olivia's body was trembling as she spoke in a soft voice, "Please.....I beg you. Stop fighting. Stop fighting and I would no longer feel the pain."

"I just.....want mummy to hold me to sleep."

The entire room turned quiet once again!

No matter if it was Oliver or Emilia, none of them thought that these words could come out of the mouth of a 7-year-old child.

It was unexpected, but it made sense!

She had waited through several winters and summers. She waited for years and finally found her father. However, all she had gotten since then were arguments. Why wouldn't she be affected by it?

"Sure....."

Follow current on storynovel.net

Emilia nodded her head repeatedly as she slowly caressed her daughter's head. "Olivia, you're the best. I'll be right here to watch you sleep..."

"Mummy will always be here.

"I will always be by your side!"

Olivia slowly smiled even when she was in a lot of pain.

She slowly closed her eyes as she remembered how her mother said that once she fell asleep, she would no longer be able to feel the pain.

Oliver Walker took a deep breath. He couldn't sit or stand. He suffered in guilt and remorse for the entire night.

The next morning!

"Have you gotten everything arranged?"

William Davis, who had been admitted to the hospital as well, started screaming at the top of his lungs as soon as he woke up.

"I want them to suffer!

"I want them to regret it for the rest of their lives!

"This was the consequence of offending me! They did this to themselves!"

After getting badly beaten last night, he was still in a lot of pain, especially after how screaming at the top of his lungs had caused him more internal injuries...

Chapter 65 Proven With Time

"Big brother, I have made sure that everything has been arranged!"

There was a vicious look in Jessica Wright Davis's eyes as she said, "You should head for the health talk first to check if there's any other injury on you. We'll deal with Emilia after the talk.

"They will never be able to escape from us!"action

In order to deal with Emilia, she was already thoroughly prepared. Jessica wanted Emilia's family to suffer.

"En!"

William Davis nodded his head and said, "Wait for me before you do anything to her, or else, it wouldn't be satisfying!"

He wanted to pin Oliver Walker onto the ground now, but he didn't have the time.

If he missed the health talk held by the godly doctor, he might never obtain another chance in his entire life.

He still knew what was more important now.

At the same time, the First Hospital was busier than usual.

Follow current on storynovel.net

There were a lot of tycoons in Colorado who would not come to the hospital even if they were sick because they had private doctors.

However, it was different today. The entire parking lot was filled with cars.

It was obvious that the godly doctor was incredibly influential.

Inside the VIP ward!

Oliver frowned as he asked, "Where's mother? Why isn't she here yet?"

"Should we call her?"

His plan was simple. He only wanted Hendric Smith to do a full evaluation on his family.

They had been suffering all these years, and he was certain that their health wasn't great!

"Do you really think that she has the time?"

Emilia was resenting him as she spoke, "Don't you know how it is for families like us?"

"If we stop working one day, we will not have food on the table tomorrow!"

Follow current on storynovel.net

It was one short sentence, but it was filled with sorrow.

Perhaps a few hundred a month was nothing to most families, but for people like them, it was the reality.

They had less than 30 dollars a day, but they could still maintain the daily expenses of their family.

Oliver Walker sighed, but he kept quiet since he didn't know what to say.

After this event, his wife should be able to trust his abilities, and his mother-in-law would be able to rest since they had been having it hard for the past few years.

"Also..."

Emilia hesitated for a moment before saying, "Once Olivia gets discharged, you should look for a job as well. Even if you're moving bricks at a construction site, you'll be....."

"You could at least get 200 a day!"

In fact, she really wanted Oliver Walker to stay, but would he be willing to go through these hardships with her?

Perhaps.....all of these could be proven with time.

"Sure!"

Follow current on storynovel.net

pAnda\(-\)n0ve1.comn0ve1.com) Oliver Walker nodded his head without hesitation.

"Let's get Olivia to the auditorium first. We can talk about this later on."

Their top priority now was to get Olivia treated.

He definitely wouldn't reject what his wife suggested.

Working hard to feed the family was definitely the responsibility of a man.

However, his wife still had no idea that he already had financial freedom.

Even if he didn't work, he still had an unlimited fortune.

"Olivia, don't move. I will carry you to the wheelchair!"

Emilia was being extremely gentle, afraid that she might hurt her daughter.

Olivia had been a good girl, but her eyes were fixed on Oliver.

She wanted to call him, but she didn't dare to!

She didn't want to do things that would make her mother angry.

Therefore, she could only show all of her longings through her eyes.

Oliver Walker obviously felt it as well. He looked at Olivia and smiled. He would definitely get Emilia to admit his identity.

As for Emilia, she was feeling nervous, but with the invitation, there was still a good chance that Hendric Smith would help them.

Chapter 66 Appearing At The Health Talk

They were already in the most critical state. The only thing that she could do was take a deep breath while trying to calm herself down.

She was hoping that she wouldn't embarrass herself!

This time, her daughter's life was at stake!

The auditorium was not large, but it could fit at least a hundred people, and it was built beautifully.

The godly doctor was the one who would hold a health talk here. Those who attended the event were VIPs of Colorado, and as the director of the hospital, James Floss definitely had to make the best arrangements.

There were banners and flower baskets everywhere. It elevated the entire place to another level.

It could be said that James Floss had already done everything that he could.

Forget about the fact that it was Hendric Smith who requested it. Even if he didn't, James Floss wouldn't dare to be careless.

Well, Hendric Smith wasn't doing this for his own fame. He only wanted his master's wife to trust him.

If he really was a liar, a charlatan, would he be able to lie to all the tycoons in Colorado?

Follow current on storynovel.net

"Hey! Look! Isn't that Emilia?"

"And Oliver Walker?"

"They're here?!"

"..."

As soon as Emilia appeared with Olivia, it immediately caught everyone's attention.

All of them were the socialites of Colorado.

How would they not know Emilia who was once the goddess of the business world in Colorado?

Although Emilia was kicked out of the Davis Corporates and even disappeared from society, she still left a legacy amongst those in the business world.

This was why after all these years, a lot of them still remembered her.

"Huuuuu..."

Emilia lowered her head as she didn't dare to look at them.

Follow current on storynovel.net

There were a lot of them that she used to be close with since they hung out together previously.

There were also some new families that just joined the state.

However, she had never thought that the time when she reappeared in front of them would be under such circumstances.

With everyone judging and gossiping about her, she felt self-abased as well.

It was definitely a painful blow for her to fall from such a height especially when she had been a prideful woman all along.

Olivia, on the other hand, was feeling nervous as well. This was because she had been around other people ever since she was a young child. It was even worse now that she was suddenly getting noticed by so many people.

But, ever since she was born, every time she appeared, especially with her mother, she would always be recognized and become the star of the crowd.

Emilia was feeling incredibly pressured.action

The looks that were coming from the crowd were either to snob, taunt, judge, or pity them, but none were kind enough to care about them.

If she was an ordinary woman, it definitely wouldn't have turned out this way. The only thing to blame was that she had a glorious past.

Oliver Walker who was standing next to them felt the emotional changes that happened to his wife and daughter.

Follow current on storynovel.net

He remained calm the entire time. This was the talk that he ordered Hendric Smith to hold.

Even if it wasn't this event, even if it was hell, he would still hold onto his wife's and daughter's hand as they walk through it together.

These people were nothing to him!

Which was also why he didn't have to care about them!

"Yo..."

Then, a plump man dressed in a suit, walked forward as he spoke in a disgusting tone, "Isn't this Emilia?"

"It's been years since you went missing, but how did you end up in this state?"

He wasn't even trying to hide the ridicule in his voice.

In fact, no one really cared about how Emilia and her family were currently since they were merely talking at the dining table. No one would really cause trouble for them.

The only thing that they couldn't do was offer Emilia a job since there was a ban from the Davis family.

Most of them remained neutral in this situation, and no one would deliberately cause trouble for Emilia.

The only reason why this plump man did so was because his life depended on the Davis family.

And...William Davis had already made it clear that once Emilia appeared, he would have to stomp on her!

Chapter 67 Freddy Martin

"You're Freddy Martin?"

Emilia didn't want to say anything previously, but she couldn't stand it anymore, "When your company just started, I never made it hard for you and even offered you help!

"Why do you have to humiliate me now?"

She only felt mad because she knew who this man was.

Back then, Freddy Martin had just graduated from school and decided to start his own business.

At that time, Emilia was already the brightest superstar in Colorado.

In order to win her favor, Freddy Martin exerted a lot of effort. He even waited outside her office for days just so that he could get the business deals signed with Davis.

She knew that it wasn't easy for young people like them to start up a business.

This was why she gave him a chance. However, she didn't think that the contract she offered would give Freddy Martin the chance to speak to her in such a rude manner.

She knew that William Davis wouldn't be nice to her, but she didn't think that the people she had once helped were against her as well. It was obvious that he was doing this intentionally.

Follow current on storynovel.net

At that moment, everyone stared at the plump man.

It was common for betrayals to happen in the business world. It wasn't anything new, but it was still bad to bring it up so publicly.

Freddy Martin flushed. He could feel that the rest of the people in the crowd were looking at him then he started defending himself, "Emilia, stop talking about the contract you offered.

"I would be able to shine brightly since I am talented. Even if you didn't offer it to me, I would still be able to get to where I am today!"

Emilia slowly calmed down as well.

She was mad—incredibly furious.

But....what could she do?

Seeing how Emilia couldn't say another word, Freddy Martin started being shameless as he said, "Don't you dare think that you're the one who changed my life since you offered me that contract. I would never be grateful to you. If it weren't for you, I could have gone bigger!"

"You were the one who restricted my future!"

He might be living in a much better state now, but the truth was that....he was merely a pet for Davis.

His company was in the hands of Davis.

Follow current on storynovel.net

Otherwise, he would never stab Emilia in the back.

It should be noted that humiliating Emilia now when she was already at her lowest, showed how uneducated he was, but he had no other choice.

"You..."

Emilia didn't want to start an argument, but seeing how Freddy Martin was being so aggressive, she lost control of herself.

She was never a weak woman. It was life that smoothed out her edges.

But.....once the rabbit got provoked, it would bite the others as well. She was a hot-blooded woman, wouldn't she do the same as well?

The rest of them watched the scene unfold, but they still remained quiet, trying to stay out of this dirty business.

In their eyes, Freddy Martin was a bastard that they should be aware of, but Emilia was also someone useless whom they should never be associated with.

The scene before them wasn't a wonderful show, but it was merely something to talk about over dinner.

The story of the farmer and the snake would play every day.

"Me? What do you want to say about me?"

Follow current on storynovel.net

Freddy Martin grinned, "Is this your daughter?"

"She has been diagnosed with a deadly disease. Do you think that this is a place you should be at?"

"Know your position and leave immediately!"

As one of the staff of the Davis family, he obviously knew the conflict between William and Emilia Davis. He knew that they were enemies.

The crueler he was now, the happier William Davis would be with what he did.

"Nonsense!"

Emilia's blood started to boil with rage. Her eyes were glaring as well as she said, "You can come after me, but do not speak of my daughter in that manner!"

"She.....she has not been diagnosed with a deadly disease! It isn't terminal!"

Olivia was everything that she had.

She could take down all these humiliations, but she would never allow others to hurt Olivia emotionally!

In addition to that, this man only managed to be so successful because of her.

Now that she was in such a mess, she never expected others to repay the kindness, but men like him who were still stomping on her now were bastards!

"Hahahahahahahahaha..."

Chapter 68 The Ruthless Pet

Freddy Martin laughed, "Did I say something that hurt you?"

"She does have leukemia.

"And you do not have money. How are you going to treat her?!"

Emilia clenched her fist as she gritted her teeth. The rage in her eyes was burning.

Olivia frowned as she told her mother, "Mummy, let's just ignore him. I'm fine..."

In fact, she was most frightened when others talked about her in this manner, but she didn't want her mother to get mad.

This was because her mother had once said that they did not have the right to be mad.

That's right! They were poor, so they did not have the right to be mad at others!

"Are you really going to be this shameless?"

Emilia asked furiously, "You're willing to hurt a young girl like her? Are you even human?!"

Follow current on storynovel.net

It's not that Emilia didn't hear what her daughter said.

However, the more understanding her daughter was, the more hurtful she felt. She was the one who gave birth to this little girl, but she couldn't protect Olivia. She even raised Olivia under such terrible circumstances.

"Of course!"

Freddy Martin allowed himself to lose control as he was trying his best to satisfy William Davis. As for the rest of them here, was it really important how they looked at him?

His business would flourish as long as he satisfied William Davis, "This is the bastard that you kept?"

"I've heard about this, but back then, you were too far away from me, and I could only watch but now..."

"Hahahahaha..."

Emilia's blood pressure quickly rose, and she could feel that her entire body was filled with rage.

She clenched her fist, which showed that she was already furious beyond her limit.

"Emilia!"

Oliver Walker said gently, "Don't get angry over someone monstrous like him. It's not worth it.

Follow current on storynovel.net

"Why don't you bring Olivia aside first so that she could rest? Just leave the rest to me!"

His gentle tone became the loudest voice in the room.

All of them in the room were stunned.

How was Oliver Walker going to deal with this?

Although they didn't mean to be rude to Emilia, they just wanted to watch the show.

Freddy Martin was indeed a monstrous bastard, but these people were the most difficult to deal with. All of them knew who Oliver Walker was. He was the man whom Emilia picked up off the streets.

In those 2 years, they saw it with their own eyes. He never stood up for himself, and whenever he got bullied, he never fought back. It was always Emilia who would stand up for him.

He had disappeared for 8 years. Right now, he might be dressed in a suit, looking glamorous.

But....if he really did succeed, would he still allow Emilia and Olivia to suffer all these years?

Emilia was shocked as well, but she saw the determination in those gentle eyes.

It seemed like this man was completely different from before.

Follow current on storynovel.net

He wasn't weak like he used to be and had become more extreme with his actions.

From George Johnson to William Davis...there wasn't anyone here that he didn't dare to lay his hands on.

Emilia knew that if she allowed Oliver Walker to continue, it would make things worse, but she was also aware that if they didn't deal with Freddy Martin now, they would not be able to walk through those doors.

Freddy Martin was the wild dog that William Davis released. Since Freddy Martin had already appeared, he would not leave so easily.

She bit her red lips as she nodded her head, "En!"

Since she already decided to allow Oliver Walker back into her life, she should at least try to trust him instead of questioning his every move.

Plus, Freddy Martin did deserve a good beating!

Since things were already at this point, the worst that could happen was for them to leave Colorado once the talk was over.

"Huh?"

"You're a traitor as well. Don't think so highly of yourself!"

"We're the same kind!"

There was a huge crowd watching them, but Freddy Martin had already put himself in such a position. From the moment he stepped out, his reputation had already been ruined. After all, would his reputation bring him fortune?

He no longer cared about it! action

Chapter 69 I Despise You!

The entire situation was getting interesting

If things were to turn bad, a fight would definitely ensue!

"They are both traitors indeed!"

"But, Freddy Martin only did it so that he could make a living. Why would Oliver Walker do so?"action

"Compare to Freddy Martin, he is worse!"

"..."

All of the socialites of Colorado were getting curious. They were judging these people as if they were gods themselves.

No matter what, Freddy Martin was never the same kind as them. The only reason why they would still speak to him was just out of respect for Davis.

Freddy Martin used to talk to them while wearing a jacket that belonged to the Davis family. They couldn't just ignore him.

However, they still hated traitors like him.

Even if one traitor looked at another, they would still hate each other.

The rest of the crowd only looked at them as if they were two wild dogs that were fighting each other.

"We're different!"

There was a cold glance that appeared in Oliver Walker's eyes that shook the whole crowd.

He didn't think that this would happen so quickly.

However, this man was the one who brought himself to them. If Oliver Walker didn't teach him a lesson, it would make Oliver look weak.

In order to stand up for his wife, he would have to start with William's pet.

"Hahahahahaha..."

Freddy Martin felt the chills going down his spine, but he had William Davis supporting him, so he wasn't afraid. He laughed as he spread his arms, "What's the difference between us?"

"I ditched my savior, and you abandoned your family!"

"Between you and me, I think you're more disgusting! I despise you!"

It wasn't that he had gone crazy, but he had already completely lost his image and reputation. He might as well just completely submerged himself in this character instead of hiding behind a facade.

However, most of them agreed with what Freddy Martin had just said.

From what happened in the past, Oliver Walker was definitely even more cruel, shameless, and disgusting compared to Freddy Martin.

This was because they didn't know that Emilia was the one who sent him on that train to war 8 years ago.

They only assumed that Oliver Walker heard of how Emilia had lost in the battle in the Davis Corporates, and he ran off like a coward.

Why would anyone think highly of Oliver Walker?

Emilia and Olivia kept quiet as they watched Oliver Walker.

They wanted to know what this man would do next.

Would he react as they had expected him to?

"We're different!"

Oliver answered proudly, "It's also been 8 years, but the first thing that you did once you saw her was to stab her in the back.

"I might have gone missing for 8 years, but I came back to repent and to repay the kindness that they have shown me!

"So, you are what you've done and I am who I am. You shouldn't think of us as the same kind because I would feel embarrassed!"

It was true that he left for 8 years.

It wasn't what they had assumed, but he didn't bother explaining it to them!

This was because it wasn't necessary!

"What a joke!"

Freddy Martin scoffed. "You're here to repay kindness?"

"What are you going to do then? Do you think that you'll be able to step in there?"

Everyone knew what Emilia wanted when she brought Olivia to the auditorium. They knew that Emilia wanted to seek help from the godly doctor.

But, was there anyone who didn't know how precious these invitations were?

Freddy Martin continued asking, "Only those who are VIPs would be able to get their hands on the invitation!

"Even someone like me who is worth millions didn't get an invitation. What right do you have to be treated the same way as the rest of them here?!"

"Take a look in the mirror and see how disgusting you are!"

His words were filled with disgust, but they also subconsciously satisfied all the vanities of everyone present at the scene.

There was a difference in their status!

This was the pride of these wealthy socialites!

It also provoked the VIPs present, and they started chasing off Emilia as well.

"Emilia, give up already. You will not be allowed to enter without the invitation."

"You may be pitiful, but that is your problem. We aren't involved with bullying you. Please don't stay here and taint all of our statuses."

"That's right. Even if you wanted revenge, can't you do it somewhere else?"

"..."

With Freddy Martin in the lead, the crowd started speaking to Emilia with a judgmental tone.

This was how society worked

None of them would allow a lowly peasant to ruin the pride and status of these wealthy tycoons.

Chapter 70 Torn Invitations

It could be said that Freddy Martin had not wasted his time being Davis's dog all these years.

He had indeed accurately learned how their brains worked.

These voices caused Emilia to frown, and she was feeling beaten as well.

In fact, she understood why they were feeling this way. It was true that they were not the ones who had been bullying her.

However, now that she was risking their benefits, all of them would instantly turn against her.

Olivia Walker did not understand what was going on, but she was aware that her parents were in a grave situation.

But....why did they have to do this?

What had she done wrong?

What did her mother do?action

With the voices coming from around them, Oliver glanced at them with his sharp eyes, "We are not interested in your society!"

"But...

"I have the invitations. If there's anyone who's trying to cause any trouble here, you will have to bear the consequences!"

It was domineering!

Incredibly domineering!

Oliver was telling the truth. The socialites in Colorado weren't people whom he was interested in.

They did not belong to the same circle. Colorado was a small state, and it wasn't good enough for his family.

"Nonsense!"

"Rubbish!"

"How dare you look down on us?!"

"..."

That sentence alone was enough to provoke everyone at the scene.

These VIPs were still trying to stay out of trouble as they watched the show, but now, they were furious as if someone had stomped on their tails!

If their eyes could kill him, Oliver Walker would have died a thousand times!

They were honorable VIPs. How dare this lowly peasant talk to them in this manner?!

"Please calm down!"

Seeing how he finally got his chance, Freddy Martin quickly spoke out loud, "For someone like him who thinks of our criticism as sour grapes, you have fallen for his trap!"

"Why don't all of you leave him to me, and I will make sure to do a good job!"

As soon as Freddy Martin spoke to them, the VIPs started feeling better.

"We'll leave it to you then!"

"You have to teach this man a lesson!"

"Such a horrible man!"

"..."

The entire place was filled with rage.

Freddy Martin, who got the answers that he was waiting for, knew that he managed to build some connections through this incident. Then, he put even more effort into his show, "You will need the invitation in order to walk through that door!"

And, "Did you really think that your family could afford to stain this red carpet..."

Before he could finish, four invitations appeared in Oliver Walker's hands.

The entire room froze!

All of the attendees gasped!

This...

Such precious invitations...

He...

He had four of them!

Instantly, all of them instantly felt embarrassed since they only had one invitation each!

This...

This was embarrassing!

Freddy Martin felt dumbfounded as well!

This was definitely a huge slap on his face!

"You mentioned earlier that you didn't get invited?"

Oliver Walker teased Freddy Martin. "Well, coincidentally my mother-in-law couldn't make it, and now, I have an extra invitation!"

Everyone present felt that their hearts skipped a beat!

Especially for Freddy Martin whose eyes were shining bright with excitement!

These invitations proved their status. If he could get his hands on them, would he still have to be Davis's dog? Would he still have to be a clown in front of all these people?

'Shhhh—'

Suddenly, Oliver Walker narrowed his eyes as he tore the invitation into pieces.

Freddy Martin felt his heart bleeding as he screamed, "No.....Don't!!!!"

But, it was already too late. Oliver then threw the pieces into the bin and said, "It's too bad that you didn't deserve it!"

"Emilia, let's head inside!"
