Chapter 81 She Doesn't Belong Here

As soon as William Davis made the statement, the entire atmosphere inside the auditorium turned awkward!

The look on Emilia's face changed as she was aware that William Davis was targeting her!

As for Oliver Walker, he still looked calm and collected.

Leon Williams, on the other hand, was looking incredibly shocked!

So....the person who caused the mess outside was William Davis?!

He was still wondering how his men mustered such guts to mess around! It was because they were influenced!

If William Davis hadn't popped out now, Leon Williams would never know how to explain himself to Oliver Walker. After all, this man was different from the others.

This man was like a saint who wasn't bothered by these trivial matters!

Leon Williams could only say that William Davis was now a savior!

William Davis was diverting all the hate and was even giving Leon Williams the chance to redeem himself but standing up now could be too deliberate. It would cause the man to feel uncomfortable instead.

Therefore, he tried to keep himself as calm as possible, but his eyes were locked on Emilia and Olivia who were seated next to Oliver Walker.

He was watching their every move!

James Floss frowned as he asked, "Mr. Davis, what did you mean by that?"

He obviously knew what William Davis wanted.

However, he could only acknowledge it, but he couldn't do it himself.

Hendric Smith was their honorable guest who decided to hold a talk here in Colorado, and this was all because of Oliver Walker.

Hendric Smith had also made the misunderstanding between his master and his wife worse after recklessly calling her ma'am, and so, he had once warned James Floss not to expose the relationship between him and Oliver Walker.

"Do you know what type of meeting this is?"

William Davis had a vicious look on his face as he questioned James Floss, "As the director of the First Hospital, don't you know who Emilia is?"

"Allowing her to sit here isn't just an insult to me or all the VIPs here today. It is disrespectful to the godly doctor!"

He brought up this issue now to inform James Floss about the mistake in the arrangement.

"This is too much!"

"You can just ignore us, but how dare you disrespect the godly doctor? You.....you're ending your own career!"action

"How is Emilia allowed to sit over there?"

"..."

The rest of the VIPs in Colorado stood up and chimed in.

William Davis had already spoken up. Why should they be afraid?

Plus, they were pressuring James Floss by using Hendric Smith's name. As long as he wasn't an idiot, James Floss should know who was more important.

William Davis's eyes peered at Oliver Walker, and he looked satisfied.

If the meeting wasn't delayed, he wouldn't have had the chance to do this, but now that it was, Emilia and her family would not be allowed to remain in their seats.

All of them here were socialites of Colorado. How dare the director of the First Hospital ignore them?

Emilia was looking pissed as well.

However, they were here for her daughter, and she had to hold it in.

After all.....she couldn't afford to offend anyone here!

But, what she didn't know was that, for Oliver Walker, all of them here in this room was not as precious as she was.

Follow current on storynovel.net

James Floss raised his arm and said, "Quiet!"

Then, the commotion in the room quickly stopped.

Their eyes were burning with satisfaction!

No one would be allowed to look down on them here in Colorado!

Oliver Walker had the guts to act highly in front of them! He was definitely digging his own grave!

If William Davis was only doing this to spite Emilia, then they were doing this so that they could teach Oliver Walker a lesson and heal their feelings of pride that had been injured earlier.

"No matter if it's me or Mr. Smith, we are both doctors."

James Floss said with his head held high, "For doctors, there are only healthy people and patients along with their families.

"There aren't such things as VIPs, peasants, or lowly living things!

"Miss Davis' daughter is a patient at our hospital, and she is the mother of our patient. She is just someone who has equal rights as the rest of us to be here.

"The seats here today aren't because of your status or wealth. If there's anyone who isn't happy about it, feel free to leave."

His strong words caused the entire scene to turn quiet!

What was going on?!

Chapter 82 A Bigger Humiliation

Who gave James Floss the courage to say these words?!

How could he dare to say such things?

The seats weren't arranged according to their status?!

That was bullsh*t!

Why was it that only Emilia's family was at the wrong seat and everyone else was sitting where they were supposed to?

For example, Leon Williams, the tycoon of Colorado, was sitting right next to Emilia who had the second-best seat in the room.

William Davis, who represented the Davis, was seated next to their left which was also the second-best seat in the room.

George Johnson, who was the poorest amongst them, was only allowed to sit in the last row.

This country cared most about etiquette. No matter if it was at the dining table or a conference, there was a rule.

This definitely wasn't a coincidence!

Follow current on storynovel.net

Therefore, all of them could directly see through that James Floss was lying!

Plus, it was a terrible lie!

This response wasn't enough to convince them. It made them feel even more furious instead!

However, if William Davis wasn't going to do anything about it, they wouldn't say a word as well. Even if they were filled with rage, they still chose to keep quiet about it.

"Who do you think you are?!"

William Davis screamed in rage, "How dare you say such bullsh*t to me?!"

"You better be smart about it because your attitude will determine how we will treat you in the future!"

These harsh words were definitely a threat to James Floss!

He had kidnapped the entire socialite in Colorado in order to threaten the director of a small hospital.

"You're right, Mr. Davis!"

"You better think of the consequences if you can't give us the perfect answer!"

Follow current on storynovel.net

"This is too much! You're only a poor doctor! How dare you treat us this way?!"

"..."

The rage of the others inside the room was lit!

They were strongly supporting William Davis, and this wasn't because they were close to him, but instead, it was only for business.

People like them who were at the top would obviously want to keep a friendly relationship with each other. Why would they care about lowly living things like them?action

Plus, Emilia and William Davis were archenemies their entire life, and Oliver Walker had just humiliated them!

James Floss picked up the microphone and said in a low voice, "If there's anyone who dares to cause any more commotion, you will be asked to leave!"

This was a huge blow to those inside the room!

It immediately caused the entire crowd to keep their mouths shut. James Floss' determined attitude had confused them!

This man was trying to fight them?!

"Nice!"

Follow current on storynovel.net

"Wonderful!"

William Davis was beyond pissed as he continued, "I would like to see the person who gave you the courage to do so!"

Initially, he wanted to use the pressure from the other socialites to get rid of Emilia. This was supposed to be something easy, but he didn't think that it would get so messy!

His eyes had a cold look in them, and he was feeling incredibly embarrassed!

If he didn't do anything about it, how would he keep his name in Colorado?!

"It's a healer's benevolence!"

James Floss was fuming mad as well, but he pretended not to feel frightened as he said, "So, do you understand it now?!"

Who was the one who gave him the courage?

It was obviously the godly doctor, Hendric Smith! As for Oliver Walker, he had no idea who he was!

He only knew that even Hendric Smith had to speak respectfully to Oliver Walker and even called Oliver Walker his master!

With such a respectable status, why couldn't they be seated here?

"You..."

William Davis had turned crazy, and he blamed James Floss for it. Then, he turned toward Emilia and said, "Emilia! Don't you know that you don't belong in that seat?!"

Since he couldn't do anything to James Floss now, he could go after Emilia.

No matter what, this reflected on his pride, and he could never let this go!

Chapter 83 Why Aren't You Getting Up?

As the fire ignited toward the main character of the show, it caught everyone's attention.

Just like what William Davis said, Emilia felt like there were pins on her seat. Although she was already used to her new identity, she still felt nervous.

It didn't matter if it was her, but what about their daughter?

"Why aren't you getting up?!"

"Such an idiot! Mr. Davis and Mr. Williams are both here. Why are you even sitting there?!"

"Do you still think you are the same person from years ago?"

"Emilia, Colorado is different now! You should lower that ego of yours!"

"..."

The words around them were getting harsher. It meant that allowing Emilia to sit on that spot had pissed all of them off.

All of them were socialites who were used to feeling flattered. How could they allow an abandoned young miss to be in here?

Leon Williams wanted to get on his feet, but then, he noticed how Oliver Walker was still playing on his phone, and he quickly got back in his seat.

Was...Oliver Walker really playing on his phone?

Follow current on storynovel.net

Well...he wasn't. It was Hendric Smith who was texting him about how there was another issue that occurred.

He had just given the instructions to Hendric Smith, but he still wanted to see how far these bastards were willing to go.

At the same time, Emilia, who was being attacked by their words, took a deep breath. Her slim body trembled. After hesitating for a moment, she could no longer take the pressure, and she wanted to get up.

"Olivia...let's stand then!"

She had to do this for her daughter!

It was fine if she wasn't allowed to sit here!

She could still accept it as long as she was allowed to stay inside the auditorium.

"En!"

Olivia nodded her head. Although she was just a young child, she still remembered a lot of things.

She would definitely become someone useful so that her mother would not suffer anymore.

"You have the guts to stay there?"

"Why are you standing up then?"

"I thought that you would be more stubborn than that. Is this all that you can take?"

Follow current on storynovel.net

"..."

The rest of the room started mocking Emilia as soon as she got up from her seat.

She was a lowly living thing. How dare she fight against the VIPs inside the room?

Wasn't it the biggest joke?

These words were slowly building a sea of flames inside Oliver Walker.

Then, he stood up and stopped his wife, "Emilia, you are the only one who is allowed to sit here."

"If you stand, they would only be allowed to kneel on the ground!"

His voice sounded calm!

He wasn't being impulsive!

Nor was he mad!

This was because none of the people here deserved to make him feel angry.

The show would only get more interesting once Hendric Smith appeared!

Such blatant words ignited a raging fire amongst the socialites who took William Davis as their leader!

Follow current on storynovel.net

Kneel?!

He wanted them to kneel?!

This...

This was a motherf**king joke!

Emilia thought that she had heard it wrongly too as her mind went blank. "I..."

Her eyes were filled with confusion.

What was this man trying to do?

Wasn't he afraid of causing more problems?!

Oliver Walker smiled as he said, "These people ought to be taught a lesson.

"Just because they have good teeth, they think that they can act like wild dogs!

"But, in reality, they are like flies in the toilet. They can't kill us, but they can annoy the sh*t out of us!"

He was extremely calm!action

The way he was looking down at them caused the crowd in the room to get even more furious.

Emilia's body struggled as little as she looked around. Everyone looked infuriated and was about to pounce on her.

Chapter 84 The Mad Dog

If it wasn't because Hendric Smith would appear anytime soon, they would have killed her!

She was at a loss right now!

She felt as if she had lost direction.

Just when his wife was feeling hesitant, Oliver quickly stepped forward and whispered in her ears as he said gently, "They are already treating us this way. Even if you back away now, they will not have mercy on you."

"Just trust me one more time. Do it for Olivia!"

He knew what his wife was worried about, and so, he had to clear them!

After hearing what her husband said, the hesitation in her eyes disappeared, and it was replaced by a determined look.

Then, she elegantly went back to her seat!

It didn't matter if Oliver Walker was someone untrustworthy, but what he said was right!

They were already the center of the fury, what did they still have to lose?

Would William Davis actually start a fight here?

Even if she left the seat now, with William Davis petty's attitude, he would still come after her when the talk was over.

Follow current on storynovel.net

She should still have some pride within her since she was still alive!

In fact, she was someone prideful, but in order to protect her daughter, she had to smoothen out her edges.

However, they were now at the most critical moment of their lives, and she shouldn't be hiding from them!

"Damn it!"

William Davis was enraged. "How dare you get back on that seat?!"

He could understand why James Floss didn't care about him since Hendric Smith was here to support James Floss.

However, Oliver Walker had just whispered something in Emilia's ears, and this woman, who had never dared to go against him, suddenly had the courage to do so?!

"You are a s!*t!"

"You work at the Blue Sea Entertainment Club?! Who are you to act so arrogantly in front of me?!"

William Davis was getting ignored repeatedly, and he was infuriated! He had already lost his mind as he screamed and shouted with disregard for his image!

"Emilia is a s*t?!"

"Is that true?!"

"What news!"

Follow current on storynovel.net

"..."action

As soon as the others heard that, it caused another uproar in the crowd.

Most of them only knew that Emilia had a harsh life, but they would have never thought that the Goddess of Colorado would stoop that low!

Especially when the Blue Sea Entertainment Club wasn't someplace nice. Why would any of them lower their standards and head to a club like that?

Now that they knew the truth, all of them regretted their decision. They weren't saints, and who wouldn't want to land a kiss on the goddess?!

The whispers and weird looks made Emilia shiver, and she felt shameful!

Should she explain or not?

But....she knew that no one believed her even if she did!

Then, she peered at Oliver Walker!

She didn't care if the rest of them didn't believe her, but if this man didn't, she would feel hopeless!

At the same time, Oliver Walker couldn't take it anymore!

He initially thought of only teaching this man a lesson once his daughter was treated.

However, William Davis was repeatedly humiliating his wife, and this was not something that he would allow!

Follow current on storynovel.net

Then, a cold temperament swept across the room!

As always, William Davis didn't feel scared and was still barking like a mad dog.

"I know you have the guts, but do you actually have the guts to hit me here?!"

"Oliver Walker, don't you feel disgusting when you've been sleeping next to a sl*t?!"

"Hahahahahahahah!!!!"

In his point of view, Oliver Walker was nothing but a useless bastard. If it weren't for Emilia, he would have starved to death on the streets.

But now, Emilia was already covered in mud. She couldn't even save herself. How could she have the ability to protect Oliver Walker?!

Emilia bit her lips as she hugged Olivia!

She...

She didn't know how to face her daughter!

At the same time, Oliver Walker spoke to her gently, "Emilia, just relax. I'll have something to deal with!"

If others would take this, Oliver Walker could not!

William Davis was digging his own grave!

When it came to his enemies, Oliver Walker was never someone merciful!

So...

Chapter 85 The Saviour Of The Country

Emilia frowned as she asked, "What.....what do you want to do?!"

She could feel that something wasn't right.

She saw a murderous look in Oliver's eyes!

It was definitely a deadly look!

Was he trying to kill William Davis?!

Then, the cold aura emitted by Oliver Walker became stronger, and the temperature inside the auditorium dropped drastically!

Everyone else felt lost!

They couldn't help but shiver!

Even William Davis subconsciously took a few steps backward!

When he saw Oliver Walker, he realized that this man had an aggressive, domineering aura that could break through mountains!

Perhaps...

There was a hint of gentleness in his domineering aura as he said, "You're just a kind woman. Those who bullied you are definitely bad people.

"Since they're bad, there's no point in leaving them alive.

Follow current on storynovel.net

"I think it's better if we just get rid of them!"

His voice was flat!

It was clear as water!

However, when this flat voice was matched together with his domineering aura, it made all of them frightened!

Was this a joke?!

Or.....was he being serious?

William Davis was secretly judging the situation!

When Oliver Walker turned around, he met with those sharp eyes!

It might be possible that this crazy man would act as he was saying!

However, William Davis was still screaming at the top of his lungs, "Don't you.....don't you..."

His tone was firm, but he kept moving backward. The look on his face revealed that he was truly frightened.

Oliver Walker didn't say another word. He only walked forward with an aura that made it seem like he was about to go to war.

His accomplishments today were all because of his wife!

Emilia was the one who saved his life. She was his wife and his daughter's mother.

Follow current on storynovel.net

She was also the hero of Indiana! The glory of the country!

If she didn't save him from the streets 10 years ago, this country would not have had a chaplain. Then, they would not have the five war gods! They would also never reverse the situation in Indiana!

Emilia might never know that by being a rat disgusted by everyone in Colorado, she was making such a contribution to the country!

She wasn't any ordinary woman!

She was the savior of the country!

Oliver was pissed, but he didn't want to make it a huge deal now. He only wanted to stand up for his family.

William Davis's life would be a good warning to the rest of them here in Colorado!

In the entire country....even the entire world, his family weren't people who could be easily bullied!

Oliver Walker took another step, and his eyes were already locked on William Davis who was scared!

"You..."

"You're still a young man. You.....you shouldn't be committing a crime..."

William Davis shouted as his voice trembled. It's not that he didn't want to leave, but he felt as if there was a huge mountain on top of his shoulder. He couldn't move at all!

The rest of those who were present could feel the same thing as well.

Follow current on storynovel.net

They were feeling suffocated by the pressure!

However, Oliver Walker didn't care about them!

He no longer bothered with how this man might be related to his wife.

As Oliver Walker took another step forward, the entire room gasped, and they felt their bodies weighing a thousand kilograms!

It felt...

"Ahhhhhh!!!!!"

William Davis crumbled into pieces.

As the young master of the Davis family, when had he even been pressured by someone like Oliver Walker?

His pupils widened, and every single nerve and cell in his body became tense.

Suddenly, he felt a warm feeling coming from his pants!

Everyone who was present saw it with their own eyes!

This man, William Davis, who dominated Colorado, peed in his pants because of a sharp glare from Oliver Walker.

This...

This was ridiculous!

However...

Chapter 86 Get Over Here And Kill Me!

It was real!

The man's cold gaze seemed to be eyes from hell!

When Oliver took his fourth step, William Davis was already in shock!

His face was as white as paper—bloodless!

His pupil shrunk as well because he could clearly feel the horrifying deadly glare from death!

There wasn't a single voice inside the auditorium!

Due to how nervous they were feeling, their hearts raced!

Was this man going to kill William Davis?

This was the young master of the Davis family!

Olivia might be a young girl, but she knew that something big was about to happen!

But...

"Oliver Walker!"

Just when Oliver Walker was inches away from William Davis and he was about to raise his arm...

Follow current on storynovel.net

Emilia rushed forward and hugged Oliver's waist. She screamed loudly, "You.....don't do anything stupid!"

"Once you kill him, you won't be able to get away with it!"

She knew that this man wasn't joking!

From what she knew, they were peasants. Even if William Davis truly deserved to die, Oliver Walker would still be punished by the law if he did kill William Davis.

At moments like this, even if god stood between them, it would not be able to stop Oliver Walker.

However, when Oliver Walker was hugged by his wife, his body froze!

All the murderous intention in him disappeared instantly!

It wasn't because Emilia had superpowers!

It was only because she was someone important to him!

He could have freed himself from the embrace, but he missed the warmth that was coming from the hug.

"But....he's the one who threw you onto the streets and even ruined your dignity. He deserved to die!"

There were a million reasons for him to kill William Davis. He could even silence all these stinking mouths once and for all!

Emilia's body shivered. She tried to suppress the anger in her as she begged with a pitiful tone, "Even if you aren't afraid of death, can you please think of our family?"

"You can't solve anything by being impulsive!"

Follow current on storynovel.net

Did she hate William Davis?

Of course, she did!

He might be evil, but it wasn't to the point of deserving death!

Plus, Emilia wasn't asking for much. As long as Oliver calmed down, they could leave Colorado together when the talk was over.

With her abilities, she could definitely find a good-paying job in another state.

No matter how powerful the Davis family was, they were only powerful in Colorado. They didn't have much influence in other states.

As they were at the most critical moment of their lives, she...

She didn't want anything else to happen!

"I..."

Oliver Walker took a deep breath. He was still fighting himself internally. He was only trying to stand up for his family!

Olivia Walker looked confused as well.

She had no idea who was right or wrong. She just wanted her father to stay!

She had already been suffering all these years. Was there anything else that she couldn't take?

Therefore, when her father looked at her, she bit her lips and nodded her head.

Follow current on storynovel.net

From the look in his daughter's eyes along with what his wife said, Oliver slowly got rid of the thought of killing this man.

The temperature inside the room slowly rose!

Every one of them could finally breathe!

Who would have thought that this talk would turn into a murder scene?!

It went overboard, and it was out of line!

But....William Davis was the one who brought it on himself.

Even a rabbit would attack once it got furious!action

What more for Emilia and her family who had been suffering all these years?!

When the murderous aura disappeared, the atmosphere inside the auditorium finally went back to normal.

It was then that William Davis finally realized how embarrassing he looked after peeing in his pants. He felt even more ashamed, and he hated how he was scared of the other man!

How would Oliver Walker have the guts to kill him?!

With his pride getting in the way, he started screaming again, "Emilia! Let go of him!"

"I'll stand right here, and he wouldn't even dare to kill me!"

"Come on!"

"Get over here and kill me!"

Chapter 87 Stomped On The Ground

Oliver frowned, and the murderous aura returned!

William Davis was indeed digging his own grave!

If Oliver Walker didn't kill him, did they really take Oliver Walker as someone they could bully?

"Listen to me! Don't be irrational!"

"Take a deep breath! Deep breaths!"

Emilia hugged Oliver Walker for dear life and placed her face close to his back. She was panicking as she said, "The health talk is about to start. He's only doing this to anger you."

"Just please....bear it. Do it for Olivia?"

From what she had seen today, Oliver Walker definitely wasn't the liar she thought he was.

He obviously knew who William Davis was, but he would still stand up for her when she was being badly insulted.

If he was a liar, how would this man not know the consequences of doing so?

In fact, deep inside, as long as this man wasn't a bastard who was willing to take away the money for their daughter's treatment, she didn't mind taking him in again even if he was a little hot-headed.

Follow current on storynovel.net

At least his temper was something that she could help him change.

He might not know much, but he could still do some simple work.

Once they left Colorado, it would be much easier for them to survive as a family. She was never one who was after fame or fortune.

They could leave Colorado and live a simple life. Even if they ate cold food, they could at least live a peaceful one.

How bad could it be? Would it be possible that it would be worse than what they have now?

It was impossible!

Oliver only cared about what his wife felt. Her warmth was enough to melt his frozen heart and wash out the raging fire that was inside him. He started to feel the warmth of his family.

Who was William Davis?

He was nobody, and did it matter or not if he was killed?

"Alright."

Oliver Walker paced his breathing and nodded his head, "I will listen to whatever you want and allow him to keep his life."

Then, he turned around and wanted to hug his wife.

However, the looks that were coming from the rest of the crowd caused Emilia to blush, and she quickly moved backward!

At the same time, the rest of those present were indeed shocked as well!

Were they having a PDA?

They were such an odd couple!

The abandoned young miss with a hot-tempered useless bastard! It was definitely a match made in heaven!

It could also be said that the highlight of the evening was Emilia and Oliver!

As for William Davis, he was feeling beyond embarrassed.

Had there ever been a time when he would be ignored?

He stared at Oliver Walker and Emilia who walked back to their seats. How could he allow this?!

Then, he screamed once again, "Didn't you think that you were great?!"

"Didn't you say it yourself that you want to kill me? Do you have the guts to do so?!"

"If I don't die today, both of you will die very very soon!"

Follow current on storynovel.net

Oliver Walker held onto his wife as they got back to their seats while completely ignoring William Davis.

For him, his wife was more important than anything else!

Although he was feeling mad about how William Davis was screaming at him, at least his wife was now looking at him differently.

"You son of a b*tch!"

Suddenly, Leon Williams, who had been watching the show, suddenly screamed.

He quickly rushed forward, raised his legs, and kicked William Davis's stomach, "Who do you think you are? Screaming and barking like a dog!"action

"She is your elder sister! She isn't your enemy! I really hate bastards like you who are traitors!"

He had been waiting for this moment. Since he knew that Oliver Walker couldn't do so, he thought it was his time to help.

Although he couldn't kill William Davis, he could still make the Davis family hesitate on whether they wanted to offend him with his current status in Colorado. Even if Madam Davis had an opinion about it, they would have to think about it twice.

pAn,D a-n0ve1,c-o-m But...so what if they were enemies now?

What he wanted was in fact, Oliver Walker!

He already weighed the pros and cons, and he already made a decision.

The only person who had no idea what was happening was William Davis. He was completely confused while he was being kicked and stomped on by Leon Williams.

"What..."

Chapter 88 The Great Surprise

"What's happening?!"

"I have no idea!"

"Damn..."

Everyone else in the auditorium was dumbfounded. This was because they had no idea what Leon Williams was up to for today!

Why was he acting so differently than his usual self?

Emilia frowned as well. Was Leon Williams still interested in her? Was that the reason why he was beating up William Davis?

But....after thinking about it, she knew that it was impossible.

If he liked her, why didn't he do something for her in the past 8 years?

In fact, she felt quite happy seeing how William Davis was getting hit. No one would like being called a sl*t and a b*tch by everyone and then in public.

Especially when her daughter was here.

She was a prideful woman who held onto her dignity. She would not allow herself to be ruined in this manner!

Follow current on storynovel.net

Olivia said in a soft voice, "Mummy, that bad guy is getting beaten up really badly."

Well, it was indeed pretty bad as they could hear the wailing cries.

Who was Leon Williams?!

He was the tycoon of Colorado!

However, he was now acting like a gangster. He was not acting like a gentleman like he used to be, and this was why it confused everyone at the scene.

Logically speaking, even if there was a huge conflict between them, these two men didn't have to fight each other personally.

It was just absurd. It was just so shocking that their eyes were about to pop out of their sockets!

"Shhhhh..."

Emilia quickly covered her daughter's eyes as she said, "Just pretend that you didn't see anything."

First, she knew that her daughter was timid and wouldn't be able to accept violence. Second, this was something that a child like her shouldn't witness.

Then, as she turned to Oliver Walker, she felt surprised.

This man looked extremely calm as if he was the one who ordered Leon Williams to do so.

Follow current on storynovel.net

When she thought about it, there was a crazy look that appeared in her eyes. Could it be that Oliver Walker was really the one who ordered Leon Williams, so he was acting so weird?

But....this man, how could he order the first tycoon of Colorado?

If this wasn't the reason, why would Leon Williams be doing something that wouldn't match his identity?

"Uncle Williams, please....please stop!"

"I've.....I've made a mistake....."

William Davis, who looked really bad, started begging for mercy. He felt wronged.

What on earth happened to Leon Williams? Why was it that this man was hitting him for no reason?

Although Leon Williams and Davis had no business deals together, they were still the face of Colorado!

No matter how arrogant he was, William Davis would never do anything to Leon Williams without any instructions from his company.

This was because Leon Williams was much older than him.

"Hmph!"

When Leon Williams finally stopped, he sneered as he said, "If you repeat this again, I will not be the one doing it. You better watch your back."

Follow current on storynovel.net

After that, he turned around and left. When he walked past Oliver Walker, he suddenly stopped. He wanted to say something, but he was worried that Oliver Walker wouldn't like this flattery, so he quickly returned to his seat.

William Davis was the most pitiful man at the scene. His entire face was swollen. After getting hit by Oliver Walker last night, he had gotten beaten up again today.

Although he felt wronged, he didn't know who to ask for help.

Then, he glared at the man next to him.

Oliver Walker sat elegantly as he said, "Don't try to provoke me, or you will end up in a worse state than you are now."

William Davis' heart sank!

Perhaps....it was Oliver Walker who told Leon Williams to hit him?!

As he thought about it, he gasped. He hadn't seen Oliver Walker in 8 years, but why did this man feel mysterious now?!

Could it be...

The other person who was wondering the same question was Emilia. She was looking at her husband with questioning eyes, and she had a weird feeling about it.

Oliver Walker smiled and said, "Well, the show is about to begin. You will understand it soon."

Once his wife saw that the man whom she called a liar last night was Hendric Smith, she would then believe that he wasn't a liar, right?

This was definitely a great surprise!

He was looking forward to it!

Chapter 89 It's Him!

Most importantly, the person who took away all their money all these years would slowly resurface.action

It was obvious that this person had no idea that Oliver Walker had returned to Colorado.

That person was still writing letters to the army base asking for more money.

It can be said that this person was courageous!

He was only hoping that his wife would know the truth about how he wasn't a bastard who didn't care about his family.

Emilia did not say a single thing. She only felt that Oliver Walker was acting strange, but she couldn't tell how.

A show?

What show?

After everything that had happened, the entire room finally turned quiet.

None of them wanted to cause any more drama. All of them wanted to just peacefully finish the talk.

"Well, for some people, you better not have your hopes up. Without preparing any gift, it'll be a joke for you to ask him for help!"

William Davis said it out of spite. This was because he knew that with Emilia's current abilities, she couldn't afford anything.

Plus, everyone who attended the talk today presented a valuable gift to Mr. Smith.

Emilia clenched her fists. It was true that she didn't prepare one, and her lips started trembling as she felt worried.

This was something common in the business world.

What if...

Oliver Walker knew what his wife was worried about, and he quickly comforted her, "He doesn't like gifts. You don't have to be worried."

Hendric Smith had two things to deal with. Other than the fake letters, it was the gift that he received.

Emilia bit her lips as she nodded her head, "En!"

Even she had no idea who she could trust now.

Or maybe.....she could only let things happen on their own!

"What a joke! Even if he's a godly doctor, he still has to pay for his meals!"

"Did you really think that he would treat your condition for free when you're just lowly peasants?"

"Just give up already!"

"..."

The rest of the crowd started mocking Emilia once again.

They thought about it carefully. The only reason why Leon Williams would act impulsively and hit William Davis was because he wanted to scare the rest of them. Leon Williams didn't want to ruin the health talk.

If he beat up Oliver Walker instead, there wouldn't be any effect on them.

From their perspectives, Oliver Walker definitely did not have the power to order Leon Williams, so they still had the courage to mock Emilia.

As long as they didn't do it physically, everything was fine!

"Forget it! Let's just ignore them!"

"Why isn't Mr. Smith here?"

"It's already been half an hour!"

"..."

Most of them who were present started getting impatient!

Although they were here, they weren't sure if they could get the chance to be evaluated.

However, they believed that the gifts they sent were enough to show Hendric Smith their sincerity.

It was a lie to say that they weren't nervous at all.

In fact, the person who was most nervous was definitely Emilia!

This was because this health talk was related to her daughter's life. Even James Floss said it himself. Olivia's blood type was rare, and there was no hope to get bone marrows that would match hers.

So....she could only hold her breath!

"Mr. Smith is here!"

"Look at how godly he is! It's definitely something admirable!"

"No wonder he's the godly doctor!"

"..."

As soon as Hendric Smith appeared on the stage, the entire crowd went wild.

There was continuous flattery and admiration!

All of them stood up while applauding for his entrance!

"It's him?!"

Emilia was surprised, and she had a complicated look on her face!

Chapter 90 The Old Man, Hendric Smith

She was first shocked, then she felt frightened!

She remained on her spot, but her mind was racing!

She clearly remembered that it was this old man who kneeled on the ground and called her his master's wife. He wanted to treat Olivia, but she took him as a liar!

But now...

Just as she was deeply immersed in her thoughts, her hands that were fidgeting suddenly felt warm.

She slowly turned around and looked at the man next to her. For some reason, the anxiousness she was feeling earlier slowly disappeared.

"This is the first surprise I would like to give you!"

Oliver Walker held onto his wife's hands which were no longer smooth and gentle due to all the work that she did, but without any doubt, this pair of hands were the most beautiful ones that he had ever seen.

Ten years ago, this pair of hands saved his life!

In the past eight years, the same pair of hands raised his daughter!

"I..."

Emilia's throat felt swollen. Perhaps it was because she felt shy or because she felt that she wasn't good enough. She tried to pull her hands away as she said, "But....I treated him that way last night.....would he..."

Other than feeling anxious and scared, she wanted to burst into tears.

If she knew that the person, who was dying to treat Olivia last night, would turn out to be the one hosting the health talk, she would not have reacted that way.

What if the godly doctor was offended by what she had done last night? Did it mean her daughter's life was at risk?!

Oliver smiled as he reassured her, "He wouldn't dare!"

This health talk only happened because he wanted to gain his wife's trust.

As for the rest of the VIPs in Colorado, they were only here as supporting roles so that his wife would trust him and Hendric Smith.

In other words, this health talk was only held because he wanted Olivia to get treated. It had nothing to do with these unrelated people.

Olivia watched how her parents were holding hands, right in front of her. Then, a smile appeared on her face.

As for Emilia, she had a thousand words to say, but no matter what they were, they couldn't come out of her mouth.

She could only choose to believe and keep all her worries deep inside her heart!

Simultaneously, the applause in the room was as loud as thunder. It did not stop.

In the end, most of them stood up due to respect as they welcomed the godly doctor from the International Medical Center.

Oliver Walker and Emilia were the only ones who remained seated.

At the same time, Hendric Smith hated these grand gestures. The only reason why he didn't stop them immediately wasn't because he wanted to appreciate these fake flatteries coming from the rest of the room.

He was already one of the best godly doctors in the whole country. Would this flattery bother him?

It was actually because he saw his master holding hands with his wife, and Hendric Smith didn't want to bother them.

He was aware that his master had been trying his best to regain the trust of his wife. His master had been cracking his head to do so. Otherwise, the health talk wouldn't have happened.

Once he noticed how his master's wife had slowly calmed down, he waved his arm and told the rest to quiet down.

Most of the socialites from Colorado were meeting Hendric Smith for the first time. They were looking at him with excited eyes and obediently kept their mouths shut.

They were even more obedient than his own grandson!

They could act impulsively...

But it depended on who the other person was.

They didn't even have the courage to offend Leon Williams. Why would they have the courage to offend the godly doctor?action

However, there were just some who did not know when to give up. He said in a firm, disgusted tone, "Mr. Smith, please excuse me for being rude."

His eyes were burning in rage as he spoke, "When all of us welcomed you, these two dogs didn't even seem respectful. Instead, they were having their own moment!"

"It's indeed disgusting!"

"They do not.....deserve to be sitting here!"

Instantly, the entire auditorium turned quiet!

Emilia frowned. It wasn't that she didn't want to stand up, but it was Oliver Walker who stopped her. He had held onto her hand, and she couldn't get up.

Now....this became something that William Davis could use against them!

However, when the godly doctor arrived, it was indeed ill-mannered for her to remain seated.

Especially when she needed help from him!

After being exposed, her heart that finally calmed down started racing once again.

Before she even had the chance to explain herself, the rest of the room couldn't wait to burn her down!

"They are indeed horrible!"

"That bastard and that b*tch! How dare they disrespect the godly doctor? They should be shot to death!"

"Indeed! They're shameless!"
