

My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1021

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1021-A loud bang was heard as the pavilion's door was kicked open, and all eyes turned to see a tall, well-built figure outside the door.

Dressed in a black-colored agent's costume, the figure had numerous scratches on their clothes as blood stained his skin.

He emanated a dangerously cold aura as if he was a warrior who returned from the battlefield.

Charmine frowned. It was Anthony! 1

Anthony came back!

send the guests to have a walk in the garden. We have things to deal with here.”

“Okay.” Dior instantly invited the guests out of the pavilion.

The guests were curious. Why did the most reputable man in the business industry, Anthony, show up to the wedding?

Moreover, Anthony did not have anything to do with the Grangers in the past...

However, they always listened to Senior Granger, thus they all went out, leaving only a handful of people inside the pavilion.

Anthony eyed Charmine who was dressed in a wedding costume, and his gaze hardened, set ablaze in fury.

He was supposed to marry Charmine on this day, yet there she was, wearing a wedding costume for another man!

She was standing beside Guy, and the sight itself was triggering.

“Come here!”

Two cold, harsh words were uttered, and it sounded like an instruction.

Charmine frowned. He asked her to go with him? They have gotten so far! Was she supposed to give up on the red wolf bone?

“I’ve gotten the red wolf bone,” snapped Anthony. “Come here, now!” 1

This was his second time ordering her.

Charmine was shocked. Anthony managed to retrieve the red wolf bone?

He disappeared for a night just to steal the red wolf bone, and he even succeeded?

At that moment, a maid ran toward them and fretted, “Sir, Madam, it’s bad! The red wolf bone in the underground was stolen!”

The eyes of the two elders widened with disbelief.

The red wolf bone was indeed stolen!

The underground was located below the Granger mansion, and it was akin to an underground labyrinth as large as 700-square meters. There were hundreds of organs and gears, and not even the Grangers’ special agents could come back out if they entered!

How was it that Anthony Anthony could get in and walk out alive?

To top that off, he only had light, skin-deep wounds...

Senior Granger was the first to react as he barked, “Someone, capture him!”

In came more than ten agents dressed in black with his command, and every one of them seemed like they would do their worst.

The vicious aura they emitted could only come from warriors who had joined battles.

Instantly, Charmine went to Anthony and stood next to him.

She said to the two elders, ‘To be honest with you, I came here to get the red wolf bone. It’s rightfully mine, but your family took it away, and I had no choice but to get it back this way. Since the situation has unfolded to this point, I hope you’ll consider making an offer. As long as we can fulfill it, the Jordans and the Baileys will do our best.’

Her voice was no longer gentle like it was before-she sounded clear and harsh.

Guy felt a sharp pang in his chest when he saw her standing with Anthony.

Yes, he had long anticipated this happening, but it still hurt him... 1

Charmine was right; this red wolf bone belonged to her.

Guy thus turned to his elders. “Grandpa, Grandma, let them go. Don’t make it hard for them!”

“My foot! It’s incredibly rare for you to fall for a girl you genuinely care for, Guy. You can’t just let her walk away!” yelled Grandma Granger with a glint of ferocity in her eyes.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1022-Grandma Granger thus looked at Charmine and Anthony. “Do you two think you can walk out of the Granger mansion unharmed? Charmine, are you sure you want to leave with Anthony?” 1

Charmine glanced at Anthony by her side. He must have been through hell throughout the night in the underground labyrinth; he was wounded because of her. Since he had the red wolf bone with him, there was no reason for her to stay.

She nodded without hesitation. “Of course, you can’t force love. Why don’t we end things well?”

“I don’t think it’ll be that easy. I’ve asked Dior to tell the world about your marriage with Guy today,” confessed Grandma Granger.

Charmine frowned. The news was out?

Sensing something, she quickly took out her phone to see the most-discussed topic:

Clicking onto it, there were photos of the ceremony taken by Dior.

In the photos, she was in the same red traditional costume as she walked side-by-side with Guy. The two of them looked like a perfect match.

The comments went everywhere.

[The Navy General! It’s a big wedding!]

[How powerful! No wonder Charmine looked down on Julian.]

[God bless them!]

[Wishing them the best!]

Everyone commented under the articles, and the news was heavily dosed with news of the supermodel Charmine marrying into the Granger family!

Charmine’s hand around her phone tightened. “Grandma Granger, why would you do this!?”

“Sorry, but for my grandson, I don’t mind pushing it. You may resent me or blame me, but don’t you ever think of marrying Anthony!” scoffed Grandma Granger. 1

Charmine’s face turned green.

With this news out, would the Baileys agree to it if she ended up marrying Anthony? What would the netizens think?

It was already a challenging marriage, and it had just become a notch harder! 2
Anthony merely scoffed, “Do you think you’ll be able to trap her this way? Ha! Not even in your wildest dreams!”

With that said, he grabbed Charmine’s hand and looked at the surrounding bodyguards.

He was a man who managed to get out from the underground labyrinth. Why would mere bodyguards scare him?

Grandma Granger was shocked. News of Charmine and Guy’s wedding went viral! Did Anthony not care at all about that?

Seeing that he was about to attack, she could only say, “Do you think that’s it? Doesn’t Ms. Jordan feel unwell?”

Charmine frowned. Feeling unwell?

As she assessed herself physically, she suddenly felt a sharp migraine.

It felt like a churning machine was churning her brains, as if it was about to explode in her head.

“Argh!” she groaned as she grasped at her head.

Anthony instantly held onto her and frowned. ‘What is it?’

been in so much pain before, so much so that she could not even hear what others around her were saying. 1

Anthony could only hold onto her and glared at Grandma Granger coldly.” What have you done to her?!”

Guy was just as shocked. He glared at Grandma Granger furiously.

“Don’t be too anxious,” said Grandma Granger. “This is just a pain-drug invented in the laboratory not long ago. If she doesn’t get the antidote, this poison will stay in her body. She’ll suffer pain three times per day, and it won’t stop.” 1

Anthony’s figure emitted an ominous aura as he held Charmine while marching forward. He grabbed Grandma Granger by her collar.

“Give me the antidote, now, or I won’t hesitate to attack you!” 1

His tone sounded dangerous.

He held onto Grandma Granger’s collar tightly, nearly lifting her off the ground entirely.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1023-Grandma Granger was never treated in such a way before. Even though

Anthony was not a soldier, he exuded an even deadlier air than troopers.

Although she was terrified, she thought of Guy’s future and met Anthony’s gaze fearlessly. “Mr. Bailey, by all means, go ahead. Only I have the antidote, kill me if you will. Charmine will be in pain forever!”

Tightening his grip on her collar, Anthony lifted Grandma Granger off of the ground entirely. “You’re threatening me!” i

“If you think so. I’ll stand by my choice!” Grandma Granger eyed him squarely. Guy, who was by the side, quickly walked forward. “How could you do this, Grandma? Bring out the antidote now! Ms. Jordan is right; there’s no point forcing these things. Furthermore, I merely admire her, but it’s not love. Please, let them go!”

“I won’t! Kill me if you want to!” Grandma Granger shut her eyes stubbornly. She looked as if nothing in the world could make her afraid!

Anthony felt his anger filling up his chest. He was just about to toss Grandma Granger in the air when a hand caught his wrist.

He lowered his gaze to see that it was Charmine, and though her migraine was easing up, her face was still pale.

She gently parted her lips. “Let go of her. Let’s move. Dr. Weir and the other Uncles should have a solution to this.”

Furthermore, she practiced the Ultimate Seventy-Two Needles. If she worked on it, the inflicted status should not be an issue.

There was no point holding it against an elderly woman.

Noticing how worn-out Charmine was, Anthony tossed Grandma Granger away to where Guy was at, and Guy quickly caught onto his grandmother.

Charmine had no interest in speaking to them any further. She held onto Anthony’s hand and left.

‘There’s no point for you to leave!’ Grandma Granger called out behind them.

‘No one will have the antidote, no matter who you seek after! If you leave now, you’ll have to go through the migraine three more times today, Charmine! You’ll be in pain longer if you don’t give in now. Are you certain of leaving?’

Her words sounded like a warning.

After a moment, she did not even turn back as she scoffed, ‘Even if I have to live in pain every day, I’ll still choose this. There are things in the world that you can’t gain by force!’

Her voice was arrogant and cold, and Grandma Granger jolted.

Charmine would still choose to be with Anthony, even if she had to live with the immense pain?

She was not afraid and called this ‘things that can’t be gained by force’? Was she that adamant of not wanting to be with Guy?

Seeing that she was about to leave, Guy quickly said, ‘Ms. Jordan, please, hold. I didn’t know this would happen. I’m very sorry. If you leave now, you’ll suffer incredibly. I’ll ask Grandma to let you have the antidote now, so please wait!’

With that said, he looked at Grandma Granger as he wore a grim expression that was not seen before. ‘Grandma, bring out the antidote right away! Now!’

‘What’s wrong with you? I’m trying to help you! I’m helping you!’ Grandma Granger fretted as she comforted him, ‘Charmine won’t be able to go through the pain every day. Even if she leaves now, she’ll come back after a few more times.’

Her tone was determined.

Guy pushed her away angrily. “If you don’t bring it out now, I’ll go find it myself!

Don’t blame me if I flip through everything

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1024-As he spoke, Guy rushed out of the pavilion and instructed the bodyguards that gathered nearby, “Go and find the antidote! Look for it in her bedroom and everywhere else!”

The bodyguards were blocking the exit as they stared down at Charmine and Anthony, but the guards turned to Grandma Granger upon hearing Guy’s order.

“What are you all still standing there for?” snapped Guy. “Don’t forget who’s in charge of the Granger family!” 1

His tone was filled with authority, and the guards lowered their heads as he reminded them of this fact. ‘Yes, Sir!’

They then left and went ahead to search for the antidote.

Grandma Granger was so furious that her lips twitched. ‘You, you, you... You’re pissing me off!’

‘You’ve crossed the line, Guy! Why are you helping the outsiders!?’ Senior Granger held onto Grandma Granger as he shot Guy a glare.

Guy did not care about them as he instead walked toward Charmine and Anthony and humbly spoke, “I’m very sorry. This is my fault.”

“Hmph! Get lost!” growled Anthony before he left with Charmine.

He wanted to act like a nice guy in front of Charmine? Get real!

If Grandma Granger hid the antidote well, how would Guy find it at all? i

Their only hope was to seek help from Dr. Weir.

Charmine did not stop, either. She went away with Anthony.

Although she knew Guy was innocent, she chose to end things swiftly in case he still held the feeling of wanting to be with her. Both of them were not meant to be, after all.

Guy saw the two of them leaving, and his fists clenched tightly.

Charmine must have hated him. She must be blaming him.

He was trying to help Charmine, but he did not expect this to happen instead...

Grandma Granger walked forward and scowled at him angrily, "Did you see that? Even if you're trying to help, they won't be grateful! If you let them go, Charmine will keep distancing herself from you!"

before he marched away. The yard was filled with wedding decorations, but they became an eyesore instead.

Those who did not know what truly went down thought this was a happy wedding ceremony, but it was nothing but an act...

When Charmine left with Anthony, they bumped into Dior who was returning from ushering the guests. Dior wanted to stop them, but they did not let her.

After the two left, they went inside the car.

"Contact everyone," Anthony instructed Luke, "and gather them in Violet Residence."

With that said, he looked at Charmine. "Which of the Uncles practice medicine?"

Charmine took out her phone. “I’ve already sent him a text. He’ll be at the Violet Residence.”

Anthony’s face eased at that, though his facial expressions still looked visibly tense.

Although he had brought Charmine out of the mansion, he did not know if these people would be able to get the poison out from her body.

If they could not, what else can he do?

The car drove toward Violet Residence, and both Charmine and Anthony said not a word throughout the drive.

Charmine saw the wounds on his body and frowned. She wanted to clean them for him, but there was no equipment in the car to help her clean them.

Finally, the car pulled over outside the villa.

When the two of them went out, Chris jumped toward them.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1025-“Mommy! Mommy! You’re finally back! I thought you don’t want Momo anymore...”

Charmine quickly hugged Chris. He wore a nice little suit, and he looked formal and sharp. It was apparent he was ready to be the flower boy for their wedding!

1

She reached out to ruffle his head. “Why would Mommy leave you? Don’t overthink things! Oh, yes, how’s your illness? Did we get the red wolf bone?”

Nial, who was walking out, nodded. “Yes, Bro sent it over earlier. I’ve examined it and deduced that it truly can treat Momo's illness. Currently, I'm ready to extract its essence to turn them into capsules. Momo only has to take it once a day, and his illness will be cured in less than a month." 1

Charmine let out a sigh of relief.

Wonderful!

They finally got the red wolf bone, and they could at last treat Chris!

As for Annabel...

'What's the situation with Annabel then?'" asked Charmine.

"Hmm... Sigh! We've been following the suspected people, but we haven't found out who kidnapped her. There's no clue yet."

Nial sighed heavily at that, though he continued, 'These are small matters.

Annabel isn't a threat now. Now that you two are back, quickly get ready.

Everyone is waiting at the venue."

Anthony's face sank and Charmine was just as bitter-looking. She could only walk inside with Chris. 1

Nial noticed that they did comment anything on the matter so he frowned."

What's the matter? Why are you two not saying anything? Aren't you all back?

The venue is ready..."

Anthony walked inside and looked at Charmine who was sitting on the sofa. He said in a low voice, "Ask them to accommodate the guests first.

Wait for further updates."

Nial was perplexed. Wait for further updates? What updates?

Chris sensed that something was not right. He quickly checked his phone and saw the news online.

He was with Nial in the science lab on the third floor, and they had been working on the red wolf bone to the point they were not even updated with news at the time.

Who would have thought that Charmine was married to Guy. She even wore the bride's wedding costume!

It was also then Chris realized that Charmine wore the same costume as she did in the photos.

He asked with disbelief, "Mommy, what happened...? You don't want Daddy anymore...?"

"No, it's a misunderstanding. Mommy did it to get the red wolf bone," Charmine explained.

Chris frowned. "But why are Mommy and Daddy not happy...?"

Charmine was thinking of an excuse when the bell rang outside.

Nial walked over to see the few seniors coming over; Dr. Weir and the other five seniors.

When Charmine saw them, she said to Chris, "Momo, be good. Go up to the computer room to help Mommy stand. Scold those netizens who scolded Mommy."

Although many congratulated her for getting married to Guy, many people thought she was not good enough for him.

Chris knew she was trying to get rid of him, but this was indeed an important matter. He nodded and went upstairs.

After making sure that Chris was upstairs, Charmine said to them, “Come over here.”

“Charmine, we heard that you were poisoned? What poison is it? Did The Ultimate Seventy-Two Needles not work?” Dr. Weir walked over and looked concerned.

Charmine nodded. “I examined myself on the way back, but I can’t even figure out what type of poison this is. I don’t know where its source is either. You’re all my only hope now.” 1

“Hurry, let me feel your pulse.” Dr. Weir sat beside her and quickly searched for her pulse.

The few others grew anxious-they were all very worried.

This was the first time Charmine had faced such a challenging situation since her return to Burlington. 1

Would they be able to fix it?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1026-Dr. Weir checked her pulse for a very long while. After that, he frowned.

Uncle Pop asked instantly, “What’s the matter? Say something! Otherwise, let Old Sam have a look!”

By the side, Uncle Sam had opened his medical box, one filled with all sorts of devices.

Dr. Weir retrieved his hands and sighed heavily. “You all have a look, then.”

As he spoke, he stood up and let Senior Sam have his seat. He walked to the window and said nothing else.

The atmosphere was intense.

Uncle Sam had no worries as he instantly took out all of his devices.

He was one of the first few doctors who went abroad to hone and perfect his medical skills. He had innumerable experiences in treating patients.

He had a helmet-like device at hand and he fitted it on Charmine’s head.

Once he pressed on a button, the helmet made some beeping sounds.

“This is a high-tech neuron sensor,” he explained, “and it can examine all kinds of illnesses in the head.”

Charmine frowned. Uncle Sam had such a high-tech device?

She hoped he could detect something after all.

Not long after... Beep!

“No illness detected.”

Uncle Sam frowned. “How could it be? Don’t worry, I have other devices,” he spoke as he took out all of the other devices to put on Charmine. He even extracted her blood to examine!

However, no result was shown.

Everyone asked in shock, “Old Sam, what’s the matter?”

Uncle Sam frowned. “It doesn’t make sense. Why can’t I even detect any problem!?”

“No need to check anymore,” said Dr. Weir. “There are too many illnesses in the world that even devices can’t sense nor explain.”

For example: Why would some women have period cramps and some did not; why some herbs had the benefits of nourishing one’s beauty and looks.

He sighed. “Whatever it is that has poisoned Charmine, it’s something beyond the current studies. The poison isn’t administered into her head- it’s inside her body. This type of poison will attack one’s head and induce a painful migraine.

Unless we get the antidote, then...” 1

Sitting at a side, Anthony’s large hand tightened.

Crack!

The armrest his hand was resting on suffered cracks. 3

Charmine looked at him and put her hand on his, a silent form of comfort in her attempt.

Meanwhile, she looked at them and asked, “So what you’re saying is that unless we get the antidote, there’s no other way?”

Dr. Weir sighed again. “Apparently so.”

Uncle Pop clenched his fists angrily. “Who poisoned you? Tell us, and we’ll blow their house right away! We’ll make them bring out the antidote!”

“No need for that, but thank you for coming. Go home for now. We still have things to sort out,” assured Charmine.

The seniors exchanged looks. At the thought of how Charmine and Anthony were about to marry yet this instead happened, they felt sympathetic.

The atmosphere was intense, yet all they could do was leave the villa.

poisoned?

He asked weakly, ‘The wedding...’ 1

“Cancel it,” muttered Anthony before he marched upstairs.

Nial was completely baffled. Anthony had been looking forward to this wedding for so long, yet all of a sudden, he wanted to call it off?

Was it not just some poison? They could still get married! Why cancel it? i

Nial seemed confused as he looked at Charmine.

Charmine’s expression was solemn as well. “Cancel it for now. Treat Momo first, and make sure he takes a capsule every day.”

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1027-With that said, Charmine went upstairs as well.

After all, her migraine would happen three times a day at regular times.

If they had a wedding ceremony at that moment, it would only cause a big scene when the migraine would come. 1

Nial saw the two of them leaving, and he felt like crying.

He spent so much effort taking care of Annabel, yet he ended up with even more things to deal with...

prepare were sent out. On the other hand, the people only assumed that Anthony was getting married, and to Waverly as well.

Canceling the wedding ceremony would not cause any harm to Charmine.

Upstairs...

Dark clouds were everywhere, and the sky was dull.

Standing at the balcony, Anthony had a cigarette between his fingers, and he was blanketed in smoke.

He never smoked before, yet he at that moment let the smoke linger around him, and Charmine saw him as she finally reached upstairs.

His well-built figure stood below the darkening sky as he emanated a foreboding aura.

Her eyes narrowed, but just as Charmine was about to speak, she felt a sudden sharp migraine.

She quickly leaned on the wall, not wanting Anthony to see it as she forcefully bit her lip and forced the yelp that threatened to spill down her throat. 1

Unfortunately, the pain only grew worse and more significant.

While it initially felt like a churning machine, it slowly grew into a pain akin to knives poking her head.

The pain worsened, and it felt as if her head would explode any time.

“Argh!” she finally yelped in pain.

The smoking Anthony heard her cry, and he instantly tossed the half-used cigarette away and walked toward her quickly.

He saw how the usually arrogant and cold Charmine leaned against the cold wall, hugging her head deeply in pain.

He instantly pulled her into his chest tightly as he called out for Nial who was downstairs, i

However, Charmine grabbed on his arm and stopped him.

“No need... Don't let Momo...know...”

Momo would be upset if he saw her in such a state; he must not know much of this as he was just a young boy.

Since Dr. Weir and Uncle Sam had no clue on what to do, Nial would not have any clue either.

She leaned onto Anthony's chest and pushed him to the balcony.

Anthony knew what she was thinking. Even at times like this, she was more concerned about Chris instead of herself?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1028-Charmine's pain lasted for a long while before she eventually passed out in Anthony's arms.

Anthony held her close to him; he had never seen her so pale and weak.

Large hands clenched into fists, he swung one to the wall, witnessed by Nial as he opened the door.

“What happened to Charmine?” he asked, perplexed.

“Take care of her, I need to go out,” came Anthony's order as he carried Charmine downstairs and placed her in bed.

Nial quickly stopped him. “Bro, what are you going to do? Your wounds aren't even cleaned yet, and our grandparents have seen the news of Charmine getting married to Guy. They're on their way.”

“Ask them to leave. Don't let them disturb her!” he spoke, words cold like frostbites, and he then marched out with a baleful aura.

After leaving, he went inside his car and drove away.

Despite the wounds on his figure and his shirt torn out, his elegance and authority remained intact, though laced with viciousness, i

As the car sped away, Anthony made a phone call and seethed coldly when it was answered, “You love Charmine, huh? Meet me at the beach outside the Granger mansion.”

It was near the end of autumn, and the seawater was extremely chilly.

An upright figure stood at the empty beach, silently waiting.

It was Guy.

Guy had searched every nook and cranny for the antidote, all to no avail.

Grandma Granger, on the other hand, had fainted out of anger and refused to hand over the antidote.

The last thing he expected was a call from Anthony.

What was it for?

A Hummer raced toward his location from afar, its speed causing clouds of dust and sand to flutter in the air. It looked much like a scene from a racing show.

Anthony’s gaze was set ablaze in fury the moment he spotted Guy. He did not slow down as he zipped in, closing in toward Guy. 1

Charmine’s body, hugged her, and even slept with her.

To top that all off, his family even caused Charmine so much pain!

His large hand maintained the grip on the steering wheel though he was dangerously getting closer to Guy. He had no intention of slowing down. 1

Guy saw it all, too. He knew Anthony was coming straight for him and his pupils dilated at the sight, but he did not even flinch.

Anthony hated him and blamed him, but so what? He hated himself, too.

If his death could ease Charmine's pain, he would gladly go through it.

The seven-foot-tall man remained standing where he stood, and he had his eyes closed, i

The Hummer was about to crash into him when a loud sound was heard and the car stopped abruptly.

The front of the car was merely 0.01 millimeters away from Guy!

Anthony was sitting inside the car. When he saw Guy's face, his brows furrowed.

'You want to die? Well, you don't get to until Charmine gets her antidote!'

Guy frowned. He gradually opened his eyes.

He wanted to speak but did not know where to start.

It was all his fault-he was to be blamed for not talking his grandmother out of it.

He did not protect Charmine well, and for that, she had to suffer. 1

'What do you need me to do?' he spoke. 'I'll do what I can.'

Instead of saying anything else, Anthony took out a pill from his pocket and tossed it at him.

'Eat this.' There was no room for negotiation, based on his tone.

The pill was invented when they worked on Annabel's illness, and they made a similar drug administered into Annabel. Whoever consumed the pill would suffer sharp pains at unusual times. He must have the antidote once every month. 1 Since Grandma Granger was unwilling to give out the antidote, they could only poison Guy.

Of course, Grandma Granger would not want to see her grandson in pain!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1029-Guy instantly understood.

He caught the pill Anthony tossed to him and ate it without hesitation, and

Anthony's eyes turned steel-cold at the sight. 1

Guy had only known Charmine for a few days, yet he would do anything for her?

Charmine was his woman! She signed the marriage certificate with him, yet this man did not hesitate to butter up to Charmine!

Oh, how he vexed him!

He wanted to punch him so badly, but before he could lift his hand, Guy groaned and grimaced.

The side effect had kicked in.

This was an upgrade to the one Annabel suffered, and the side effects were more severe.

Anthony grabbed his collar and tossed him into his car. 'Your grandmother should see you in pain!'

With that said, Anthony went in and drove straight for the Granger mansion.

When Guy left the mansion, the 'fainted' Grandma Granger opened her eyes.

She asked Dior who was by the bed, “Where’s your brother? Did he manage to find the antidote?”

“He looked all over the mansion but found nothing. He’s probably given up now,” answered Dior.

“Wonderful! Since he won’t be able to find it anyway, Charmine will have two more migraines today. They’ll give in soon!”

Grandma Granger seemed delighted, pleased even.

She believed Charmine would give in eventually.

With a frown on her face, Dior asked, “Grandma, is this a good choice? She’ll hate the Granger family, and who knows? She might hate Brother more...”

“What’s there to be afraid of? As long as she gives in and stays with Guy, their romance will build over time. Furthermore, once she becomes my granddaughter-in-law, I’ll apologize to her and pamper her lovingly every day.

Now we need to get her to marry Guy first,” Grandma Granger spoke with anticipation.

Dior nodded; she had a point. So long as Charmine married her brother, they could make it up to her. i

At that moment, a loud engine sound was heard coming from outside. It was as if something had been rammed over, as if something barged into their mansion!

Dior quickly held onto Grandma Granger and walked out from the room together, only to be greeted with the sight of a Hummer parked inside their living room. 2

The car door opened and Anthony got out.

Seeing him, Grandma Granger scowled right away, “Anthony, what are you doing? Are you not showing any respect to the Granger mansion!?”

Apathetically, Anthony opened the car door, pulled Guy out, and tossed him at them.

“Brother!”

“Guy!”

Both of them rushed toward Guy and caught him. They saw how he held his stomach, seemingly suffering in great pain.

Beads of sweat rolled down his forehead, and his clothes were thoroughly drenched.

Heart aching at the sight, Grandma Granger shifted her heated stare at Anthony.

“What did you do to him?!”

Anthony scoffed coldly, “Just paying what he deserves!” Grandma Granger jolted. Paying what he deserves?

That meant...

Guy suddenly grabbed her hand and hissed through his gritted teeth in pain,

“Gra...Grandma...give him the antidote, l...argh!”

Before he could finish the sentence, he felt another sharp pain in his stomach that made him wince.

Grandma Granger’s expression changed instantly.

Guy... Guy was poisoned...!

If she did not give Anthony the antidote, would he not give Guy the antidote?

No!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1030-When he noticed Grandma Granger's hesitation, Guy pushed them away in pain and fell onto the sofa.

He pitifully held his stomach and curled into a ball as he whimpered in agony,

“AntL.antidote... Give me the antidote...”

On edge and strung up, Grandma Granger turned to Anthony. “Mr. Bailey, I beg you: please give him the antidote. Please give it to him first!”

Anthony remained emotionless as he glared back at Grandma Granger.” Give me Charmine's antidote.”

His tone was cold. He was not in the mood to negotiate at all.

This trade had to happen.

Grandma Granger looked at Guy who was on the sofa. She was so anxious that she wanted to cry. “But...I don't have the antidote... I don't have it...”

“What are you saying?” Anthony glared at frigidly.

Grandma Granger was terrified, but she had to fess up nonetheless, “I made Guy drink the antidote unknowingly... The antidote is in his body. If you want to let Charmine have the antidote, the two of them have to sleep together for a while. This is the only way to-” 1

“You're asking for death!” Anthony grabbed her by her collar before he tossed her away, i

How disgusting was she? Why did she have to make Charmine sleep with Guy?

How disgusting was this?!

Dior, luckily, was quick to react as she caught Grandma Granger from falling to the ground.

Dior stared at Grandma Granger and, with disbelief, questioned, “Grandma, you really did this? When did you...”

“In the morning, I placed the antidote in the porridge. I thought if they shared it, Charmine could have half of the antidote, and the poison in her body would be repressed for a while. Who would have thought that Guy... Sigh! You can’t blame me!” Grandma Granger wailed, i

Guy and Dior frowned.

So Grandma Granger had set Charmine up since then?

What other options did they have left then?

Guy was in so much pain that his veins protruded on his forehead, though he managed to send his grandmother a heated glare. “Where did you get the poison? Who gave it to you? Ask him to make another antidote!”

“No...there’s no use. The old doctor who invented this passed away last year...”

said Grandma Granger helplessly. Without a choice, she turned to Anthony and begged, “Mr. Bailey, you can’t blame me for that. You really can’t blame me!

Please, save Guy now, and we’ll think of something after he’s fine, okay?

Otherwise, you ask Charmine to marry into the Granger family. We won’t-argh!”

Before she could finish her sentence, Anthony walked up to her with his large hand about to strike at Grandma Granger's face.

She was so terrified that she quickly shut her eyes...but the swing missed her intentionally.

Bam!

He punched the wall next to her.

Anthony's knuckles bled with the impact but he did not feel any pain. He glared at Grandma Granger instead. "You want Charmine to marry Guy? Hmph! You might as well dream about it! As long as you don't hand me an antidote, Guy will suffer just as Charmine is!"

With that said, he went back inside his car and started it. The engine roared to life before he drove out of the mansion arrogantly, causing dust to fly up in the grand living hall.

Dior wanted to cry. She looked at Guy, who still winced in pain, as she fretted anxiously, "Grandma, what should we do now? How can we save Brother?"

Grandma Granger was intimidated by Anthony's deadly glare, so much so that she was still in a trance until Dior spoke.

"Doctor!" she instantly called out. "Call the doctor!"

She did not believe no doctor could cure him. She had to cure Guy!