

Chapter 1044

"Yeah, but it can't really be an ice cellar, just something as cold as an ice cellar, like a cold basement or something."

Quexu thought, shaking his head.

"You've got me beat, I do have a basement here, but it's not cool, you know, we're in the desert, you're looking for shade in the desert, that's bullshit."

As soon as he said that, Wen Wen immediately frowned.

"What about it? Without the right geography, it's impossible to grow this successfully."

Biden Lu said in a deep voice, "Does it have to be a place like that?"

"Right."

Biden Lu thought about it and said, "In that case, why don't we move to another place? I do have a mountain resort in China, and the geography there is quite consistent with what you just said."

"Domestic?"

Wen Wenjun turned pale and immediately shook his head.

"No, I'm not going over there."

Biden Lu was stunned.

Jenny asked, "Why?"

Wen Wenjun's face didn't look too good, but Quexiu seemed to remember something and said in a roundabout way, "Not domestically, how about this, you take this with you and send it over to us when you're done studying it."

Wen Wenjun's eyes lit up.

"It works."

But in the next second, he gave a slight pause and turned to look at Jenny Jing and Biden Lu beside him.

"But are you assured of that? Not that I'm saying that it's a treasure, the kind that money can't even buy, although I don't know where you got it from, but I'm sure there aren't many of these things left in the world, and if I take it away and don't send it back, you're going to lose a lot of money."

Jenny thought about it and smiled, "Fear not, since we use people then we have to trust people, we trust Mr. Wen."

Wen Wenjun smiled immediately.

"Okay, I won't be polite to you then, so don't worry, I'll make this my business and let you know as soon as I hear anything."

"Good."

There is nothing more to say now that the matter has been agreed upon.

Wynne is a very executive person who says she wants to do it right away and can't wait a moment.

So he actually didn't even stay overnight, so he just sent someone over, took his stuff with him, and got on a plane overnight to the city where he himself was staying.

In the evening, Jenny called Bella Qiao and informed her of the incident.

Jackie didn't say anything, though, and agreed with her.

They are not stingy people, although this is about Bella Qiao's life and must not be sloppy, but when you ask for help, you have to trust people.

And it's true that just that one plant there alone can't top anything.

Now, Bella Qiao and the others had already gotten one piece of heavenly jade in their hands, and would soon be getting the second.

According to her, the situation on the Yunnan side had gone smoother than she had expected, and they had agreed with each other to spend a large sum of money to buy the piece of jade over and trade it in the evening.

For Gu Siqian and Bella Qiao, as long as something could be done with money, it certainly wasn't difficult.

Jenny nodded after hearing that, feeling slightly relieved.

Right after that, she spoke to Bella Qiao about Nangong Jin.

About Nangong Jin coming over here and deliberately approaching them, until now, Jenny hadn't come up with a clue.

No idea, at all, what he was doing this for.

Bella Qiao was also very shocked after hearing this.

But even she, in fact, didn't know that much about Nangong Jin.

So it's hard to figure out what he's doing in this place.

Jenny sighed.

"If you can't figure it out, then you don't have to think about it, anyway, the soldiers are here to stop him, I'm not afraid of him making things happen, but I'm afraid he'll hold still, and I'll inform you if anything happens then."

"Good."

After hanging up the phone, Jenny spoke to Biden Lu about this matter again.

Biden Lu's reaction was the same as Bella Qiao's, and anyway, the soldiers would be here when the time came.

So she didn't think twice about it.

When the night went on, I went to sleep at ease.

The next morning, the snow finally stopped.

It had snowed all day and all night, and even though the snowflakes were small, they still wrapped the entire city in a thin layer of white.

Since it was so cold outside, Jenny and the others had no plans to go out, so they sat in the living room, chatting around the fireplace.

The conversation, for some reason, got to the subject of Ann's life.

After these few days together, Mo Caiwei truly liked An An as a well-behaved child.

It was also very heartbreaking about the fact that she hadn't had a real mother since she was a child.

And after these few days, she could see that Biden Lu was really good to Jenny Jing.

So, she wasn't so attached to Biden Lu's past.

In the end, she was just having those thoughts because she had been hurt in the past, so she was afraid that Jenny would be hurt and lied to just like her.

Now, the facts proved everything, and Biden Lu was indeed Jenny Jing's good man, so there was nothing more she could say.

As for Ann's birth mother, since she hasn't been around since the beginning, she probably never will be around in the future in all probability.

Even if they showed up, I'm sure it wouldn't affect their relationship now.

Jenny saw her think this way before she let her mind down.

She actually looked at herself rather openly, didn't think anything of it.

Ann is her child, and she loves this child with all her heart, and as far as blood relations go, she doesn't care.

They chatted for a while, Jenny was pregnant and a little sleepy, so they went back to their room to rest.

When I woke up, I suddenly received a phone call.

It's the old lady calling from F.

After playing at Jin's for so long, the old lady and the old man, were already planning to leave for home.

This call was just to talk to them.

Jenny smiled at the news and instructed the old lady.

The old lady was very worried about her, she was pregnant and couldn't go anywhere easily.

Jenny Jing smiled and told his recent situation so as not to worry the old man.

The old lady was relieved to hear that she ate and slept well and was well taken care of over here.

Still, she repeatedly told her that it was best not to leave the house, lest something happen to her.

Jenny didn't think much of it and warmly agreed, before hanging up the phone.

After hanging up the phone, Biden Lu just happened to walk in, saw her holding her phone, and asked, "Who's calling?"

Jenny said, "Grandma's, she and grandpa are planning to go back to China."

"So soon?"

Biden Lu was a little surprised, after all, Old Mrs. Jin and Old Mrs. Jin hadn't seen each other for a long time, so it was hard to get together.

Chapter 1045

He had thought that they would stay a little longer.

Jenny smiled, "People are getting old, after all, they love their families, so they can't stay out all the time."

"You're right."

Biden Lu came over and gave her the milk in her hand.

Jenny took the drink before asking, "What time is it?"

"Two o'clock, it's still early."

Jenny nodded, paused for a moment, and asked, "I was wondering if we should go back as well."

Biden Lu asked, "When do you want to return?"

"Tomorrow, I've checked the weather forecast before, the day after tomorrow is a breeze, it's time to go home after being out for such a long time, Ann still has school."

"Well, then, talk to Mom and the others at dinner tonight."

"Well."

After the two of them had decided, Jenny brought it up at dinner time.

As soon as Mo Caiwei heard that she was leaving, her face immediately changed.

"You're leaving? Do you feel uncomfortable living here? Not used to it? Or is there something else?"

Jenny Jing smiled: "No, it's quite good here, live comfortably, eat well, nothing uncomfortable, but we have been out for some time, have to go back, the company has a lot of things to deal with, An'an also has to go to school, I came over this time, mainly want to see where you live, are you doing well, now see you live so well, I also feel relieved."

Mo Caiwei's expression was sad.

"But I don't want you to go back."

She had always been of a rather simple and direct nature since she had lost her memory, and whatever was on her mind, was on her lips.

Jenny's heart warmed in her ears, and she couldn't help but put a smile on her face.

"I know you can't leave me behind, and I can't leave you behind, so if you have time in the future, you can come back to China to play with me, I also want to introduce you to Grandma and Grandpa, they are also very nice people, right, and Uncle, aren't you and Guan Jiwan good friends? Her own brother is the current head of the Guan family and a very nice man, so I'll introduce you to him when you return to the country."

Once Mo Caiwei heard her mention Guan Jiwan, light flashed in her eyes, but in the end, she shook her head.

"Never mind, I'd rather not see these people, I don't remember a lot of things from the past, and when I see them I'll just have to look at each other instead."

Jenny Jing knew that she hadn't fully accepted her past in her heart, so she didn't force it and nodded her head.

Mo Caiwei saw that this thing they were leaving couldn't be changed, so she couldn't say anything else at the moment.

After dinner, it was a silent effort to pack up some of the things you wanted them to take with them.

Jenny Jing noticed her unhappiness and found a lonely-looking Mo Caiwei in her room while everyone was finishing dinner and going for a walk.

In the room, Mo Caiwei was stacking something there with her back to the door.

Jenny shouted, "Mom."

Mo Caiwei turned back and saw that it was her before she even wiped the tears from her eyes and smiled, "You're here."

Jenny didn't expect her to be quietly crying alone, frowned and walked in.

"Mom, what's wrong with you?"

Mo Caiwei smiled, "It's nothing, I just opened the window and the sand from outside blew in and blew into my eyes."

I said, rubbing my eyes that were a little red.

But Jenny could see distinctly, where was the sand lost to his eyes?

It was clear that she was the one who was crying because she didn't want to be.

She sighed silently and took Mo Caiwei's hand, sitting down on the sofa next to her.

"Mom, are you sad to see us go?"

Mo Caiwei looked at her and nodded.

She looked a little sad, "Actually I know that you can't stay here with me all the time, but all these years, I've been living here alone, it's just too lonely, Suu has his business to attend to, sometimes once he gets into the lab, he doesn't come out for a day and a night, I can't force him to stay by my side all the time, I can only guard this huge castle by myself, and I have no friends or relatives, I wasn't bored before, but since you've been here, I've felt the excitement and joy of having a family, and then I think about the old days, and suddenly I feel a little scared, like I'm living here alone, living as an island."

Jenny Jing looked at her, his brows light.

She had never thought that Mo Caiwei would think like that.

Mo Caiwei also seemed to realize that she was a little too sad.

She forced a smile and reassured herself, "But it's okay, it might just take a while to get used to it, just get over it."

But what she didn't know was that the more she looked like this, the sadder Jenny looked.

She raised her hand and took Mo Caiwei into her arms.

After a long time, she released her and whispered, "Mom, why don't you come home with me and stay at my place?"

Mo Caiwei was stunned, looking at her blankly.

"May I?"

"Sure." Jenny smiled: "I simply can't wait, in fact, don't say you don't want to leave us, we also don't want to leave you, we mother and daughter, after all the ups and downs, it's not easy to reunite, I also don't want to be separated like this, why don't you move to my place, if Uncle Que is willing, let him also move there, if he is not willing, he can always take time to visit you, so you won't be alone. And he was able to concentrate on his healing arts, what do you think?"

Mo Caiwei frowned, somewhat embarrassed.

"This...I'm afraid he won't agree."

"Nothing to disagree with, I'll talk to him later, if you don't want to talk, I'll do it for you."

Jenny said, about to get up.

But Mo Caiwei held her back, "Eh, don't..."

Mo Caiwei paused and smiled.

"Never mind, I'd rather I go talk to him, but..."

She bit her lip, seemingly hesitant again.

Jenny Jing saw that she still had worries in her heart and asked, "What are you worried about?"

"I..." Mo Caiwei sighed, "I was worried that my passing would affect your lives, after all, you know that I'm not like normal people."

Jenny's face was suddenly serious.

She held Mo Caiwei's hand and solemnly said, "Mom, don't think like this, you're nothing different from others, you're not some abnormal person, things like memory loss, there are many people in the world where this happens, and I haven't seen what happened to others, so you're not allowed to think nonsense."

Jenny's words gave Mo Caiwei some courage.

She managed a smile, "Is it really not affecting you guys if I go over there?"

"No." Jenny paused, suddenly mischievous, "If it does have an effect, and it's a good one, then there will be someone to help look after your precious grandson when he comes out."

Chapter 1046

When Mo Caiwei heard this, she couldn't help but smile with joy.

She looked at Jenny's slightly bulging belly and couldn't help but look forward to what it would be like when the little baby in her belly was born.

She had no biological children of her own, and the only one born that year had died in an accident.

So, even with Jenny by her side later, the child thing was actually still a bit of a regret for her after all.

The good news is that now that things have moved on, she has let it go.

After they had agreed, they packed up their things together and went out to find Quexu to mention this matter.

Before going to find Quexu, Jenny Jing first found Biden Lu and mentioned the matter to him.

After hearing this, Biden Lu also agreed that Mo Caiwei should go back with them.

As for Quexu's side, as long as Mo Caiwei wanted to go, he had to agree even if he didn't.

Thinking so, a group of people went to find Quexu.

When Quexu learned that Mo Caiwei wanted to return to China with Jenny and the others, her face sank slightly.

I know that Uncle Que really loves mum, so I'm willing to accommodate her and choose a more suitable living environment for her, right?"

It had to be said that Jenny's words actually spoke to Quexu's heart.

He really loved Mo Caiwei, from the first moment he saw her.

Unfortunately, she was already married by then, and learning that she was married, Quexu was very lost for a while then.

But then, by mistake, Mo Caiwei was plotted by Kelly Wang and the others and had a car accident, and Quexiu rescued her again, which brought her abroad to live a fairy-like life.

These days, although Mo Caiwei had been accompanying him and fulfilling his wishes, he knew that there was a lacking piece deep in Mo Caiwei's heart.

She shouldn't be someone who follows herself into seclusion, like a snail hiding in its shell, invisible to the outside world.

She belongs on earth, she needs to be loved and liked by many people, she needs children and grandchildren, and she needs the life of a truly ordinary person.

Instead of staying here, like a lookout stone, expecting yourself home every day and then living a tasteless life.

Thinking this way, Quexu's demeanor eased.

He looked at Jenny and said in a deep voice, "Are you sure you can take care of her if she passes?"

"Sure." Without even thinking about it, Jenny promised, "I promise that I will take good care of my mother, after all, in this world, you love her and I love her even more, and none of us would want to hurt her."

Quexu nodded.

Jenny added, "Actually, if Uncle Que is willing, he can go back with us, the country is more suitable for you to delve into medical research, both in terms of resources and environment, and this way you and your mother don't have to separate, and you can do what you like to do, so why not?"

Quexu lost his smile and shook his head.

"Forget it, I'm not going, I have a lot of unfinished projects in my lab, what happens to those if I leave? Besides..."

He looked at Mo Caiwei and said in a soft voice, "In the end, I'm the one who owed her all these years, I

I always thought that I loved her, so I was going to keep her by my side, but I never realized that she was so lonely and isolated by my side, and it was a dereliction of duty on my part as a husband."

Mo Caiwei's heart couldn't bear it and spoke out, "Suu, don't say that, if it wasn't for you, I would have been dead in the first place, in fact, I've never blamed you..."

Quexu waved his hand, indicating that she didn't have to say anything else.

He turned around and said in a deep voice, "Alright, now that you've all decided, let's go together, I'll come over to see you when I have time."

Although he had tried his best to act generous and strong, everyone present could see that deep down, he didn't want Mo Caiwei to leave at all.

All of the generosity was just a matter of not wanting to embarrass Mo Caiwei.

Jenny frowned.

At this time, Biden Lu suddenly spoke up.

"Since we are all so reluctant to leave, why don't we just move across the country together, as for the projects you said before, if you can't move away on the projects that can't be completed over here, simply move to the country to complete them if you can, so that you can look after both ends, wouldn't that make everyone happy?"

Quexu frowned.

"Moving the project into the country? To put it simply, you know how much one of those projects cost..."

"Don't worry about the money, I'll take care of it, if you want, I can build you a large laboratory in China, just like the one you have over here now, you can study whatever you want, and allocate a regular annual fund for you to do whatever you want, what do you think?"

It had to be said that this offer from Biden Lu was very tempting.

After all, now that Quexu was over here, there were labs and castles, but these had actually been passed down to him from his master.

As for himself, he had been so engrossed in medicine that he had no desire to take care of business, and although Mo Caiwei had a little business sense, he was unable to deal with strangers, so very little business was involved.

So his lab, in fact, has been very short of financial support.

You know, the cost of studying medicine is actually very large.

In China, if Biden Lu was really willing to pay for him to continue his research, it might as well be a good result.

Thinking like this, he looked up at Biden Lu, a pair of eyes hale and hearty.

"Are you serious? Will you really allocate a regular annual sum to me for research?"

"Sure."

Biden Lu smiled slightly, "Medicine, well researched, is also a great thing that benefits the country and the people, of course it should be supported."

Only then did Quexu nod his head.

"Okay, so give me one night to think about it and I'll reply tomorrow."

"Okay, but it's only for one night, so think about it, and if you say yes, I'll have someone start building you a lab right away, and then you can't go back on your word."

"I know."

When Quexu finished, he waved his hand impatiently and let them go.

Jenny saw the situation and knew in his heart that this could be done ten times over.

Pulling Mo Caiwei was very happy, "Mom, you don't have to be embarrassed about this anymore, right? If Uncle Que is really in the country too, we'll be considered a true family reunion."

Mo Caiwei nodded, and she was glad that things were working out this way.

She turned to look at Biden Lu and smiled, "It's all thanks to Biden."
