Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1071-Yvonne quickly found a topic to speak with Guy, and they hit it off afterward.

With that, Guy did not even have time to speak to Charmine during the meal. 1

Anthony noticed this and his thin lips curled into a small smirk. It was indeed the right choice to bring Yvonne back with them.

In the dark and unnoticeable corner, a maid secretly left.

After leaving Violet Residence, she made a phone call and reported back,” Sir, they’ve all left and returned with a new member. Everyone is getting along well; there’s no conflict.” 1

On the other end of the phone, Max frowned. 1

He worked on the kitten in hopes it would worsen the tension between Anthony, Charmine, and Chris when the latter brought it home.

What he observed was that Anthony got mad at Charmine. Who would have thought that everything changed after they went to the Bailey mansion?

He said, “Who’s the person they brought back?” “Apologies, but I’m just a sweeping maid, I can only observe from a distance. I don’t know anything else,” answered the maid.

Max was depressed. He spent so much money for this kind of answer?

He helplessly hung as he rubbed his temples. 1

Waverly walked out of the ward at that moment and happened to see him having a headache.

She asked caringly, “What happened, Brother?” “Nothing, just something unexpected. I don’t know who’s the person they had brought home,” replied Max.

Waverly said, “I received a text from McKenzie. She thanked me for treating her grandmother and said she’ll visit Yvonne Eckert soon. She also said that she’s now living in Violet Residence with Anthony and asked if I’m still staying there.”

“What you’re saying is that...the person they brought home is Yvonne Eckert?”

Max’s eyes instantly lit up.

Waverly nodded. “Yeah, McKenzie is intentionally telling me this. She wants to use us to go against Charmine, but this information is quite useful nonetheless. I checked on Yvonne-she’s usable “

She handed her phone to Max as she spoke.

Max took it from her and read Yvonne’s information.

The Eckert family was Grandma Bailey’s family, and Yvonne was Grandma Bailey’s sister’s granddaughter.

There was only one granddaughter in the Eckert family. Yvonne was the only heiress to all of the family assets. Therefore, Grandma Bailey adored Yvonne very much and they all spoiled her.

In other words, if Yvonne did not like Charmine, Grandma Bailey might see things differently...

Max thought of something as he said to Waverly, “Perhaps we could work on Yvonne.” 1

The night was dark, and there was not a visible star in the sky.

Anthony was about to go back into their room when Yvonne went forward and grabbed Anthony's hand, pulling him to an empty hallway. She said to Anthony, "You're resting so early, Anthony? Have you not figured that Charmine has a small habit before bed? Guy is such a catch, so you should present yourself well." 1

Anthony frowned. "Small habit?"

He had spent so much time with Charmine; he did not notice any habit.

Yvonne tiptoed and went closer to Anthony's ears.

Anthony frowned with a faint glow in his eyes.

"Go on," said Yvonne, "I'll help you keep an eye out on Charmine and Guy."

"Thank you," said Anthony before he walked downstairs.

Yvonne gazed at his back and then at Charmine and Guy who was inside. Her red lips curled up beautifully.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1072-Once she was sure Anthony had left, Yvonne found something and walked into the room Charmine was in.

There used to be a small sofa in the resting lounge before it was swapped out with two single beds with a simple drawing hanging above them. The setting was simple and elegant. 1

Nial slept on the outside with his head covered.

Guy was also lying down, resting with his eyes closed.

He had to maintain his energy so he could be there for Charmine in her migraines, whenever it would strike. He had to ensure his body was in a good state to provide the optimal blood.

Knock, knock, knock!

Guy looked up to see Yvonne standing by the door.

He asked, “Can I help you?” “You’re from the Granger family, aren’t you? You should know how to fix this, right? Can you please have a look at this?”

Yvonne opened the door and walked toward Guy’s bed, passing to him a black colored weapon.

Guy, still lying on his bed, was uncomfortable when women got so close to his personal space, but his eyes lit up when he saw the weapon in her hand.

He quickly sat up.

It was an older version of a wooden gun. It seemed to have seen many seasons, evident by the scratches the body of the gun had. i

Yvonne explained, ‘This is my great-grandfather’s weapon, one that was passed down to my generation. I don’t know when it was broken, but I’ve always wanted to fix it. I didn’t manage to find anyone that could, though.’

After he inspected the wooden gun, Guy then said, “I can fix this, but I’ll need some time.” “No problem! Thank you! Just give it back to me when it’s done.”

Yvonne smiled and turned to leave.

As she turned, however, she accidentally knocked onto the small desk by the side with an audible thump.

“Argh!” a loud groan resonated in the room.

Charmine was already in bed, but she had to walk out when she heard the commotion. 1

Nial, who was fast asleep in the same room, was also awakened by the noise.

Yvonne gazed at them innocently. “I accidentally knocked against the table.

What do I do with the bruise? What if it stays there? How am I supposed to wear shorts?”

She rolled up her pant leg as she spoke, revealing the bruise she talked about on her knees.

Nial frowned. “I don’t think we have the medication to fade out bruises here

“No, I don’t care! You have to think of something, Nial! I don’t want a scar! No way! If you don’t help me, Grandma will force you to get married!” Yvonne threatened Nial.

Nial, comfortable in his blanket up until then, shivered as he quickly shot up from his bed.

“Let’s go, let’s go. Go to the third floor-we have everything in there. I’ll help you!”

He rushed as he wore his slippers before dragging her out, and Yvonne had to limp quickly behind him.

Charmine made way for them, which left only her and Guy in the room.

Guy was leaning on the bed frame as he examined the wooden gun, and Charmine eyed it warily.

Back when she underwent her training, one of her Uncles once told her that this kind of wooden gun was a collector's item. She thought to herself that she had to get it when she eventually found one, yet it was broken instead...

Guy inspected it and worked on it, but he did not seem to have a way to fix it yet. i

Charmine was about to walk toward him before she decided against it. Only the two of them were left in the room, after all. Anthony was not around, and Guy was in bed. i

With that in mind, Charmine turned away and was about to go back to the bedroom.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1073-What Charmine did not expect, however, was that just as she took a few steps...

Beep, beep, beep!

The phone next to Guy's pillow rang urgently.

Charmine looked back to see a blinking red sign that popped out on the phone screen.

There was a firewall program installed in the device, and the warning beep would only ring when someone tried to locate or dox Guy's location.

Charmine frowned. Who was tapping into Guy's location? The Grangers, or was it someone else trying to screw them up? 1

No matter who it was, Guy played a vital role in her wellbeing, and he must be kept safe.

After a moment of thought, she walked toward his bed and took Guy's phone. 1

The phone was still beeping out loud, so she quickly worked on it. In less than 20 seconds, the phone was forced to execute its anti-virus program and shut down.

Guy looked up and asked her worriedly, “What was it? Was something wrong with the phone?” “Someone’s tapping into your phone, and I need to investigate it,” informed Charmine concisely.

Guy did not hesitate as he spoke, “Of course, my password is...”

Charmine nodded as he relayed his password before she left with the phone.

Suddenly, Guy thought of something. In his phone were a few photos of him and Charmine! i

They were mostly taken on their wedding day. Dior took them and sent them to him.

He always thought of deleting them but had no heart to see it through, thus the photos remained.

If Charmine found out about these photos, she might...

He quickly stood up and said, “Ms. Jordan, hold on-“ Charmine was engulfed in working on his phone, however, as she racked her thoughts on who the attacker was. Was this person against her?

She was so caught up that she did not hear him.

Seeing that she was about to unlock his phone, Guy rushed up to her and blocked her, much to her shock.

Thump!

She knocked into his chest.

She snapped out of her thoughts as she staggered two steps back, and Yvonne saw it all transpired as she returned.

Charmine quickly backed away as if they were up to something moments before she walked in.

Were they hugging one another?

Charmine frowned at the sight of Yvonne as she thought of explaining herself, but on a second thought, she questioned, “You led Nial away to test me, didn’t you?”

Yvonne did not expect Charmine to question her. Instead of explaining, she tipped her chin up high. “So what? You think you get to be all cozy with Mr. Granger when no one is around? If I didn’t test you, I wouldn’t have known you’re this kind of person!” i

Her tone was full of displeasure.

“Ms. Eckert, you’ve misunderstood. I stood before Ms. Jordan so abruptly that she bumped into me...” Guy explained.

Yvonne merely scoffed, “You two are just reaching right now, anyway.” “No, I’m telling the truth, I truly-” Guy wanted to explain when Charmine cut him off.

“No need to explain; we have a more important matter to settle,” interjected Charmine as she took the phone into the study room and sat down before the computer.

Yvonne frowned. “What important matter? You should be explaining things to me first, Charmine! You don't even care what I think? I'm Grandma Bailey's favorite! If I speak lowly of you, you won't be able to be with my cousin!" she sneered, much like the mannerism of a spoiled princess. 1

Charmine, on the other hand, had connected the phone to the computer. She was working on it rapidly as her fingers fluttered across the keyboard, 1 She wanted to find out who it was that hacked into Guy's phone.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1074-Charmine was so focused that her face seemed apathetic. One would not want to disturb her with such an expression.

Yvonne was livid as she was left standing by the side. Any other girl would have bent over backward to please Yvonne just to look good for Grandma Bailey or to even hear Susan's secret.

Why was Charmine not so keen?

Just as Yvonne was about to scold Charmine for that, Charmine's fingers stopped moving and an IP address appeared on the computer screen as well as some codes.

The IP address showed Royal Hospital where Max and Waverly were at!

Charmine instantly understood right off the bat.

It was Max working against them again, as was his goal...

Charmine looked at Yvonne and asked, "Ms. Eckert, do you know you've been used?" "Huh?" Yvonne was dumbfounded.

Charmine said, "You wanted to use this wooden gun to test whether I'll be with Guy, but I won't fall for that. I have my standards. You should know, though, that someone hacked into Guy's phone at this very moment, causing us to interact. Why would this person hack into Guy's phone at the exact moment, though? Why would the person know about your plan? Ms. Eckert, do you know what that means?" i

Charmine questioned her calmly.

Yvonne was transfixed on the spot as a look of shock overtook her.

After hearing that, it was apparent that the hacker's aim was not to bring Charmine close to Guy. The hacker wanted Yvonne to hate Charmine and dislike her. The hacker tried to take advantage of Yvonne!

How was that possible?

How did the hacker know about her plan, when she entered the room, or when she left?

Most importantly, how did the hacker know the exact time?

Yvonne stared at Charmine. "You're messing with me, right? How can someone control the timing so well? Are their eyes on me or something?" "That's the question I should be asking you. Have you been anywhere, met anyone strange, or is someone spying or tapping you?" questioned Charmine.

"Impossible," Yvonne answered firmly, "I've been staying here and haven't been anywhere. Oh, yes, when someone gave me this wooden gun, I went out to get it and accidentally bumped into a fifty-year-old maid. She's only a maid so she can't do anything, right?"

Charmine squinted. It was apparent that Max had bribed the maid.

Also, a maid bumped into Yvonne?

Charmine scanned Yvonne from head to toe before her eyes landed on Yvonne's feet.

She was wearing a pair of burgundy cotton slippers. Paired with Yvonne's red pajamas, the slippers did not stand out.

Charmine bent down and rooted out an incredibly small device from Yvonne's slipper.

Yvonne took it from her and saw that it was as small as a sesame seed. If she did not look closely, it would be completely unnoticeable. 1

Upon closer inspection, however, it was apparent that it was a tapping device!

Yvonne exploded. "Someone planted this on me!? How dare they! Did you find out who it was? Tell me his name-I want him dead!" 1 "He's coming for me, but I'll fix that. I told you because I hope you can understand one thing: Anthony and I are already facing quite a lot of troubles, and we've got tons more coming. Try not to pull such childish tricks or there will be repercussions, that you'll end up being played like a fiddle," advised Charmine sternly before she went back to the computer desk.

She handed back the phone to Guy and connected her phone to the computer.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1075-Charmine searched her phone storage for a certain video before turning it to a video that looped back and forth.

Meanwhile, in the hospital...

Max sat before the computer with Waverly as they tapped into Yvonne, but when they found out Yvonne's plan, they stopped tapping so other devices would not be able to pinpoint the mini listening device they planted on her.

They never would have thought that Charmine was able to deduce from logic and her eyes to find the listening device on Yvonne's slippers!

"Don't worry," Max assured Waverly. "With what we've done today. Charmine had to have gotten close to Guy, and Yvonne will hate her guts for it. As long as Grandma Bailey hates Charmine, it won't be easy for Charmine to stay with Anthony." "Let's hope so," Waverly sighed. She wanted nothing more than to have Charmine kicked out by the Bailey mansion.

Once everyone hated Charmine, she would not be as arrogant and she might treat Waverly nicer. 1

Just as the thought occurred to them, the screen before them flashed as a video-clip surfaced.

The video clip played as it showed Max in throes of passion with a fat middle aged woman, and they both moaned loudly.

Waverly's face changed. What did she just see?

Max, the D'cruz family's heir, the 'brother* she liked, he...

Max was so stunned that it took him a while before he snapped out of it and reacted to the video.

How could he let Waverly see this video? How?!

He quickly shut down the computer, pulled out the plug, and said to Waverly panickedly, “Don’t believe that video, Waverly—that wasn’t me! That cruel, wretched Charmine used an AI face-swapping method!”

Waverly frowned. Face-swapping method, he said? If this was not real, why would Max be so anxious?

She felt he was hiding something...

Max sensed that she did not trust him, and he grew furious.

He had always had a perfect image in front of Waverly. No, scratch that— his image had always been pristine for all eyes to see!

As the heir of the D’Cruz family, how could he let such an accursed material be leaked?

He grabbed Waverly by her shoulder as he reminded her, “Remember: you didn’t see anything. I’ll find Charmine right away!” “Okay...”

Waverly’s gaze narrowed. Seeing how anxious he was, she vaguely had an answer.

Still, it was unimportant whether Max slept with another woman. The most important thing was if he would still do anything for her... i

After Max left the ward, he went to an empty balcony and called Charmine, barking, “You used the same video-clip to rob me of my company and as blackmail a few times now. What else do you want to do!?” “As I said, a good trick can be used a couple of times. As long as you do anything that might harm me, I’ll post this clip! This is just a minor warning. If you do anything again, I don't mind posting this for the whole world to watch!" Charmine growled arrogantly before she hung up.

Her behavior stunned Yvonne. She had never seen a woman as arrogant as Charmine.

Max threatened Charmine, yet she used such a method to threaten him?

A stellar comeback, that was!

She wanted to worship Charmine before her mind brought her back to reality.

No! She had to be rational!

Her goal here was to...

She had to plan again. She must not surrender so easily!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1076-Charmine turned off the computer and wiped off all traces of her.

"It's late," she said to Yvonne. "Go back, and don't pull such a childish act again."

Yvonne pouted and walked away.

When Charmine saw the unfixed wooden gun in Guy's hands, she thought of something. She took the gun from him and made a few turns.

Yvonne heard something, and when she turned to look back, she saw Charmine fixing the broken wooden gun in just a few moves.

She handed the wooden gun back to Yvonne as she said calmly, "Bring this back with you. If you want to test me, just come to me straight away or place a camera in my room. Don't use such a bad excuse."

Yvonne was stunned.

It was not easy for her to have come up with this excuse. It was very normal to ask someone like Guy to fix the broken gun, yet Charmine knew it was an excuse. She even stated it out loud! 1

She was embarrassing her in front of Guy!

Hmph! Others would only please her, and Charmine was the first to do such a thing to her!

Perplexed, she then walked out.

Once Yvonne left, Guy turned to Charmine and muttered, “My apologies, Ms. Jordan. The Grangers had put you in such a difficult position.”

The Baileys would not have suspected Charmine and sent someone to test her if the Grangers had not done what they did.

‘You offer me your blood every day; there’s no need to be guilty,’ answered Charmine. “Have an early rest.”

She thus returned him his phone and, without exchanging another word, left for her room.

Guy knew to back away, and he did not speak. He turned to walk out as well.

At that moment, the pace of steady footsteps was heard.

Anthony had returned with a paper bag at hand, and a strong barbeque smell came from it.

He spotted Guy walking out as he walked to the door, and he also noticed Nial was nowhere to be seen. His lips automatically turned into a frown.” What happened?”

Yvonne, in the hallway, was worried that Anthony might take it the wrong way, thus she helped Charmine to explain, it's nothing. I was hurt, so Nial went to the third floor to find me some medicine. I needed Charmine's help to fix something, and we just came out.”

Anthony saw the wooden gun in Yvonne's hand, and his suspicions were alleviated.

As he walked further into the house, he eyed Guy before he turned to Charmine who was in bed inside the room. It was apparent that nothing happened between them.

His thin lips curled up slightly. “Come out, Charmine. I bought you something,” he spoke as he placed the bag of food on the living area's table.

The table was on the other side opposite to where Guy slept.

Charmine frowned.

Anthony used to never want her out in the same space as Guy. It was already late at night, yet he asked her to come out?

Judging by the smell, did he go out to get that bag of food?

Suspiciously, she got out of bed and walked out.

On the small table were barbeque grills: lamb grill, fish grill, and everything in between.

She frowned. “Why did you buy this?” “I heard that you liked to eat these at night. I bought them for you,” replied

Anthony as he helped her to sit down and handed her a stick. 1

Charmine frowned. She indeed used to like eating them, especially at night.

Back then, she was a very ordinary girl. Although her family did not treat her well, she was living alright with a sister who treated her well. She also had someone she fancied, and she was kind-hearted and innocent.

Ever since the incident five years ago, everything changed. She changed.

After she was sent to Africa, she worked hard to grow and became stronger, more mature. She did it all to return stunningly and to take back everything from Tiffany. She had always had late supper ever since then. Who would have thought Anthony would bring her these?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1077-Seeing that Charmine did not dig in, Anthony comforted, “Eat them if you like.

You’re no longer in the entertainment industry. I’ll take care of you.” “I’ll take care of you,” spoken with sincere love. It sounded so warm on that cold night.

Charmine was somehow moved.

She would have turned down these dishes instinctively, seeing as she had grown used to being harsh on herself, but Anthony wanted her to be that innocent woman again.

She scrutinized the lamb stick at hand, hesitating before she finally took a bite.

Anthony’s lips curled up in satisfaction. Recalling something, he turned to Guy and asked, “Mr. Granger, would you like to join US for supper?”

His tone was gentle and gentleman-like, void of any hint of hostility.

“No thank you,” replied Guy, “I’m not hungry.”

He did not want to get in their way.

Anthony’s lips curled up. “I won’t insist, then.”

He then handed the stick to Charmine. Seeing that she was only wearing her pajamas, he removed his jacket and wrapped it around her. She was hit with gentle warmth as the jacket enveloped her, seeing as Anthony’s body heat had warmed it.

Charmine ate her supper with a warm heart and a warm belly.

He even picked up tissue paper to wipe her lips from time to time and poured her a glass of water. “Drink, it’s spicy. If there’s anything else you want to eat, I’ll buy it for you.” “No need,” dismissed Charmine as she ate, “this is enough.”

Her hands were cold as it was already winter, and she grabbed the glass of water to keep herself warm.

Anthony saw it, however, thus he took her hands and placed them in his pockets.

“Just sit still, I’ll feed you,” he offered as he began to feed her.

Charmine was baffled.

Since when did Anthony become so gentle?

They were not only having supper, but they even showed their affection publicly.

Nial happened to come in at that moment, intending to eat something before he turned back to his bed upon seeing Anthony feeding Charmine.

He did not want to be a third-wheeler!

Just like that, Anthony fed Charmine until they were done before he lifted her into his arms and put her in bed. 1

Half-way in, he even turned back to Nial and Guy. “Don’t fall asleep too soundly; Charmine might have another migraine tonight.”

With that said, the two men had to open their eyes. Under the light, they saw Anthony carrying Charmine in his arms, and the atmosphere was filled with romance and warmth.

Guy agreed and closed his eyes.

As long as she was happy.

Anthony glanced at Guy, and his thin lips curled into a small smile.

The night was perfect. What they did not expect, however, was that Charmine only had two migraines instead of three.

When they woke up in the morning, Anthony looked at Charmine who was sitting soundly beside him. He frowned suspiciously.

Did something happen? Was it a good sign?

When he saw Nial waking up, he woke up too and walked to him. “She only had two migraines yesterday.”

Nial, who was putting on clothes, halted. “That doesn’t make sense. It’s only been two days, and it’s unlikely for this to happen. We must find out why.”

My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1078

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1078-Anthony was worried that something might turn bad, thus he spoke, "Get the devices ready." "Alright, bring Charmine up here," instructed Nial before he rushed upstairs.

Guy followed behind him, saying, "If anything happens, just let me know how much blood you need." "Don't think of it so negatively-perhaps it's a good thing," Nial comforted him.

Guy looked at the bedroom. Charmine had migraines yesterday, and she suffered so badly every time. How could he not think of it negatively? disturb her since she was still asleep.

He went to the wardrobe to look for clothes for her, and he even pulled out some socks for her.

Hearing rustles and movements, Charmine's eyes gradually opened as she saw Anthony busy in the dressing room looking for clothes.

She was about to get up but felt her body rather listless. She frowned and asked, "Anthony, what are you doing? Can you come and help me?"

Anthony heard her waking up, thus he quickly went back to the bedside." What is it?" "My body feels strange... I can't seem to move," muttered Charmine as she tried to sit up.

She managed to sit up with Anthony supporting her. Still, she felt rather off, and her body was listless.

Anthony frowned and was even more uneasy.

“Don’t worry,” he assured her. “You only had two migraines yesterday, and it might be a good sign. Let’s go to the third floor to have a full check-up.” “Okay.”

Charmine took her clothes and put them on.

She used to move so quickly in the past, but at that moment, she moved so slow as if she had a cold or fever. She felt lifeless. 1

Anthony noticed this and he personally put her clothes on for her and fixed her collar.

Following that, he even helped her to put on her pants.

Charmine somehow felt like a child, allowing Anthony to take care of her. never a man who would take care of her so well.

She could not help asking, “Anthony, would you take care of me when I’m paralyzed?” “Don’t make things up!”

Anthony glared at her. After putting on her pants, he carried her and walked upstairs.

Nial had prepared all of the devices. When he saw them, he said, “Let’s get a blood test and then run a full-body CT scan.”

Charmine felt something was wrong with her body, and as she was about to get tested, she grew worried.

Would something happen? Was it not strange?

Anthony put her in bed and sat beside her, accompanying her.

Nial brought over the syringe needle. It looked so sharp that it gleamed coldly under the light.

Anthony shot him a deadly glare. “Don’t hurt her, or you’re not getting meat for three days!”

Nial wanted to cry.

Good God. He was robbed off of his holiday because of them, and he never got a proper break for a very long time, yet Anthony still threatened to take meat away from him? 1

Goodness, gracious!

He had to be fully concentrated. He held the syringe and precisely extracted blood from Charmine.

Luckily, Charmine sat still without even flinching.

Nial let out a breath of relief; thank goodness she did not flinch!

Quickly, a test tube of blood sample was ready. He brought them away.

Charmine laid on the CT scan for the full-body checkup.

The devices were of the most advanced design, and the entire procedure took less than a minute.

Nial turned off the device and said, “Everyone should wait for me here. I’ll need half an hour to analyze the result.”

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1079-Anthony nodded and looked at Charmine, i’ll carry you to get some sunlight?”

“No need, I’ll sit here for a while,” Charmine replied.

Somehow, she felt uneasy as if something was about to happen...

Yvonne came to them at that moment as she questioned, “What’s going on? Did something happen?”

Anthony did not reply to her.

Guy was worried, and he did not speak either.

was an innocent young lady.

“Don’t worry,” she replied, “it’s just a full-body checkup.” “Oh, that scared me-I thought something big happened. Did you find anything?” Yvonne turned to Nial.

Nial was working in the glass room, immersed in his work. He went through all the procedures and read the CT scan with a hardened, solemn expression.

Everyone waited uneasily.

Time passed, and half an hour later, Nial walked out of the lab room.

Charmine and Anthony, who looked calm a moment ago, instantly asked, “How’s the result?” “The result...” Nial frowned as he sighed. “It’s very strange. Very strange. Compared to the previous test, the toxin in her body had lessened but very mildly. This shows that having only two migraines yesterday isn’t normal. The full-body CT scan looks normal, too. She shouldn’t be feeling listless.”

That meant he did not detect anything off.

‘That’s good news!’ chirped Yvonne but was met with everyone frowning at her.

They eyed Yvonne suspiciously.

Realizing she spoke inappropriately, she quickly backtracked, “What I meant was that it’s good news nothing’s wrong. If anything is wrong, we could’ve found out. Isn’t this good news?” “Not necessarily,” said Nial. “We need to run through more detailed tests to find out the cause of Charmine's listlessness. We need to diagnose any illness as soon as possible." "Oh...right." Yvonne nodded.

Charmine said to Nial, "Carry on with the tests, I don't have anything planned today anyway."

Nial went through another series of tests. He took blood samples from her fingers to ankles.

Anthony was by her side all the while when he suddenly received a call from Luke who instantly reported, "President, we seem to have found traces of Annabel."

Anthony frowned. "'Seemed to have'?" "Yes. We've been searching all these days, and someone in the Burlington c area claimed to have seen Ms. Annabel around. However, she seemed to have appeared in Mr. Derek Bailey's villa. We didn't go ahead to investigate it further. You might have to go over yourself," added Luke. 1

Charmine overheard the conversation and frowned.

Derek?

Was Derek responsible for kidnapping Annabel?

That seemed plausible. Derek had vied for Anthony's power, and he had been waiting for his opportunity.

Things would get much tougher if Annabel truly was with Derek.

She said to Anthony, "Go and investigate it. Yvonne and Nial are with me, don't worry."

Anthony frowned. He had to leave when they had yet to fully diagnose her?

“Just go, Anthony,” Yvonne assured him. “What are you afraid of with me around? The results aren’t out anyway, and there’s no point waiting in here.”

Anthony thought of what Grandma Bailey said; she asked him not to present himself as a narrow-minded man. With Yvonne and Nial around, there was no harm leaving them for a while. It seemed he must pay Derek a visit to know the truth.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1080-Antony looked at Charmine, i’ll go out then. If there’s anything, you may seek help from Yvonne or even call me anytime.” 1 “Okay.” Charmine nodded.

With that, Anthony turned to walk away, but it was only after two steps that he turned back and ruffled Charmine’s hair. “Take good care of yourself.”

His tone was gentle as he spoke.

Yvonne was shocked when she heard that. As far as she could recall, Anthony had always been a cold and emotionless robot.

She had never seen him so gentle... It was as if he had given all of his kindness to this woman.

Well, she had to wait and see. She had to find out if Charmine was worth Anthony’s shower of love.

Anthony spoke to Charmine before leaving the villa.

With that, only the four of them were left on the third-floor laboratory.

Yvonne sat at Charmine’s bedside as she said to Guy, “Mr. Granger, go and have a rest. I'll take care of Charmine." 1 "No thank you, I'll wait here. She might suffer a migraine anytime." Guy stood where he stood, his figure tough like a wall. He was unmoveable.

Yvonne found it strange. He was such a good catch. Why would he treat Charmine so well?

Sure, Charmine was somewhat stellar, but...

Whoever she was, Yvonne would find out!

She recomposed her thoughts and looked at Charmine. "Are you bored? Do you want to drink water? Watch dramas? You can hit me up with anything." "I only feel listless, it's not something severe. Just go on as normal," Charmine replied.

She was, in fact, trying to figure out what the problem was.

She was fine last night, so why did she feel listless after waking up?

She was supposed to have her third migraine, but it had not come. 2

Everything was strange. She hoped Nial could detect the cause quickly.

She leaned on the bed frame as she calmly waited.

Even though she was ill, she did not appear weak. She was still stunning as ever.

Nial conducted the second round of checkups and analysis, and he spent two hours for this round.

However, when he walked out of the laboratory after a series of tests, he defeatedly spoke to Charmine, "The results are the same: no problems detected."

Charmine frowned. No problem? Why did she feel so weak then?

Nial was a well-reputable doctor, and he should have found the cause.

Nial comforted, “Perhaps it’s not a big deal; maybe it’s just malnutrition issues. If it’s a sub-health status, the devices couldn’t have traced it anyway.”

Charmine squinted. He had a point when he said that the devices would not be able to detect many diseases. For example, donkey skin had been tested on all devices and its component was similar to a pig’s skin, but it was proven that the donkey skin could cure many diseases that the pig’s skin could not.

Was it, then, that she had a disease that the devices could not find out?

How did this happen all of a sudden? Everything seemed strange...

Seeing that Charmine was thinking, Yvonne had a thought and comforted,”

Don’t think too much. As they say, ‘When you’re happy, your body will be happy.’

Who knows? You might recover naturally!”
