

Chapter 1080

It wasn't until the evening when Biden Lu returned from his business outside and played a game with them for an hour that he managed to dispel this resentment.

This time Jenny and Biden Lu had been out for so long, so it was natural that they were both very busy when they came back.

The two men were busy at the office for a long time before they had a little time to spare.

Nina Hua knew they were back and brought the child to visit.

Now her child Gogo is also five and a half years old, and she and Gu Siqian have a very good relationship.

The two men are now as close as can be, though they had many misunderstandings in the past.

Hua's father initially disapproved of her and Kepler being together, but that was only because he knew that things between Kepler and the Jin family were complicated and didn't want his daughter to suffer and regret later.

But now it's been so many years, and I can see that Kepler didn't treat Nina Hua badly.

In the end, Hua's father was reluctant to let go of his daughter, and now the relationship between the two fathers and daughters has eased up considerably.

Plus, with the fruit in the middle as a lubricant, every New Year's Eve, Hua's father would urge them to go back to the New Year so that he could see his children.

It is only he who actually knows within himself which child he is looking at.

I heard that Nina Hua is now pregnant again, and after a checkup, it's still a girl.

She and Kepler had always wanted a daughter, and were usually very fond and happy to see Anh.

Now I've gotten what I wanted.

Jenny Jing and Nina Hua chatted together for a while, and then met up to go shopping together.

The two of them went to the most prosperous and upscale mall in Kyoto.

Unexpectedly, only just after getting out of the car and before we could enter the mall, we saw many people gathered in front of us, like they were discussing something.

Curious, they walked up through the crowd and entered only to find an old woman with white hair sitting on the floor.

The old lady sat there covering her leg the whole time, ouching and screaming, and there was blood gushing out of her leg.

Many of the people who were gathered around to watch the fun but none of them would come forward to help.

Jenny Jing didn't frown and whispered, "Why are these people like this? Can't even give a hand?"

She said, going to step forward to help the old man up.

Unexpectedly, it was held back by Nina Hua.

Jenny Jing looked towards Nina Hua in confusion, and Nina Hua nudged her towards a place not too far away, gesturing for her to look.

As Jenny looked up, he saw a big, thick man in front of him walking this way.

All the while walking and cursing at the top of his lungs.

The old lady saw him and shuddered a little.

The man walked up to the old man and said in an angry voice, "What are you selling here again? Haven't you embarrassed me enough? Do you think anyone can help you if you come out and cry and sell your misery?"

When he said that, someone beside him couldn't watch.

"Hey, I said Wang Ma Zi, what's the matter with you, this is your mother anyway, how can you do this to her?"

"That's right, people raised you hard when you were young, even if it's not your own, but it's better to be raised with grace than born with grace, can't you have some conscience."

The crowd that had just gathered around to come forward and not dare to assist the old lady immediately yelled.

The young man called Wang Pocky glared at the crowd around him and said in an angry voice, "What business is it of yours what happens to my family? She's my mother not your mother, you're so keen to take her to your house and raise her ah."

"Eh, how do you talk like that."

"We're only saying a couple of things because we really can't stand to watch, so you can listen if you like."

"If you're so heartless, watch out for the wrath of God."

Everyone spoke out in anger.

Jenny had never expected that this man was actually this old lady's son.

From what the onlookers said, it didn't seem to be pro-life.

But no matter how much it's not biological, you can't let your adoptive mother sit unattended on the street like that, can you?

There was a hint of anger on her face.

Just then, the old woman slowly climbed up.

Her pale face was red-eyed and covered with some shame, and she said to the people around her, "Stop it, you're not to blame my son, it's my fault, I fell down by accident."

"I say, old lady, why are you still defending him so much even now."

"You raised him with pain and suffering for over a decade, and now that he's older and married and has children, he doesn't treat you like a human being, so why do you keep spoiling him?"

"According to me, this is the kind of situation where you should go to court and sue him for elder abuse."

The middle-aged man became angry at their words.

The old lady was so anxious that she kept explaining.

"My son really didn't abuse me, stop saying that about him, I'm going to sue you for slander if you say that about him again!"

As soon as everyone heard her, they were furious.

And Nina Hua and Jenny Jing, who were standing not far away, were also in a state of shock.

No wonder no one was willing to come to the aid of the old lady who had fallen to the ground before.

Now, there's no one else to blame for this.

After all, judging from the old lady's defiance of her adopted son, she probably couldn't tell whether the others' good intentions were malicious or not.

You might not make it to the end, but you might get into trouble.

Put in any ordinary person's shoes, they wouldn't want to do such a thing.

The middle-aged man's face flashed with pride when he saw the old woman say that.

And then not cold and hot: "line, my family's business is not on you guys to interfere, nothing else, just hurry back! Don't embarrass yourself out there."

The old lady looked at him, her lips mumbling a few times.

In the end, I didn't say anything, covering my leg and limping towards home.

It was only then that the middle-aged man followed.

Nina Hua sighed.

"Okay, let's go in too."

Jenny nodded.

They went into the mall, not taking the little interlude they'd just had at all to heart.

Jenny hadn't been out shopping and relaxing for a long time, and it was a rare day when she had the time, and she was shopping with her good girlfriends, and she didn't want to be affected.

So, they strolled around for a while and went to a nearby beauty salon and had a spa.

Lying on the massage bed, Jenny Jing suddenly said, "Yao Yao, this time when I was abroad, I suddenly thought of one thing."

Nina Hua closed his eyes and grunted, signaling that he was listening.

Jenny Jing sighed, "Life is short, you really have to cherish the people in front of you, I know that you and Kepler have a good relationship, I'm really glad that you're both happy, no matter what you've encountered in the past, you've all persevered in the end, instead of ending up like Nangong Jin."

Nina Hua's eyelids moved slightly, a smile curving his lips.

"Jenny, everyone has their own destiny, destiny is determined by character, Nangong Jin's character determined that he would not end well, he was too determined and selfish, he never respected Shallow's decision whether it was life or death, do you really think that he was so determined to let Shallow live because he loved her?"

Chapter 1081

Jenny was stunned, as if he didn't quite understand what she meant.

Although she's not exactly smooth in her relationship, she has experienced that sc*m guy Rovell before.

But all in all, ever since they had been together with Biden Lu, their relationship had been smooth sailing, with few setbacks.

So it seemed to her that the relationship was basically that way.

Since Nangong Jin was able to do this for Shallow, he didn't give up even after being obsessed for a whole thousand years.

It sounds like it's scary and crazy though.

But in the end, it was his love for Shallow that had sustained him for so long.

If he really didn't love Qian Shallow, then how had this whole thousand years lasted?

Nina Hua knew she hadn't gotten the point when she looked at her dazed face.

Not a sigh.

She said slowly, "Actually, it's best that you don't understand this truth, because if you don't understand it, it means you've been living in happiness, and if you do someday, I'll feel bad for you instead."

Jenny was stunned again, but this time she seemed to understand something.

And silence followed.

"So what you're saying is that Nangong Jin isn't doing it because he really loves Shallow, but because he's obsessed with the little bit of guilt he feels inside for Shallow?"

Nina Hua smiled coldly, "It's not that there was no love at all, maybe he loved Shallow, it's just that it's not certain how much this love was.

He's been obsessed for a thousand years, but look what he's done in that thousand years.

He didn't do anything, he just stayed put and remembered everything he and Shallow had been through.

While searching for the heavenly book of jade and trying to bring Shallow back to life, he indulges himself in this illusion that he loves him so much.

But honestly, does he really love Shallow, does he really understand Shallow?

Did he ever wonder why in the end Shallow would rather die than become his queen?

He's told you a lot of details about his love for Shallow, right, but he must not have told you what's really going on inside him.

To this day, does he even know where he went wrong? And do you know why Shallow left him in the first place?"

Jenny was stunned, "He..."

She recalled in detail that when she had spent time with Nangong Jin, he had indeed talked to her a lot about his past.

But it did seem as if he hadn't said what was really going on in his own mind.

So that's something Jenny isn't sure about.

Nina Hua said indifferently, "He should have never thought about this question, because deep down, he didn't even need to cloud his mind to find an answer to it.

Because he had long since defaulted to the fact that Shallow was born for him and died for him.

And with the matter of Shallow's death out of his hands, and the possibility of some guilt, he desperately wants to bring Shallow back to life.

Even if the plan sounds so crazy, will sacrifice many people, and will run counter to what Shallow stands for.

But if I were Shallow, I wouldn't be happy when I saw him like this.

Because I died so that he would understand the preciousness of life, and the meaning of life, and if he remained so unappreciative of the lives of others and himself, then what was the point of my death?

Even if I live, what's the difference between what's going on between the two of us and what was going on between us a thousand years ago?

Nothing I did made sense and he never even thought about what was really going on inside of me?

Can you say that a man like that really loves me?"

Jenny was dumbfounded, she had never thought that this matter could still be pursued so deeply.

Half-heartedly, she laughed to herself.

"It does seem that I don't see it as well as you do in the emotional aspect. It was explained to me by you, and it seems to be true."

When she said that, Nina Hua was embarrassed.

She laughed lightly as well, "I'm just talking nonsense, you don't have to take it seriously, he's dead anyway, it doesn't matter what the truth is."

Jenny nodded.

After they finished the spa, it was getting late, and by this time, Ann and Jingze should have finished school.

So they said goodbye to Nina Hua and went home separately.

When we got home, Ann and Little Competeze were indeed back.

Both kids are smart and she doesn't have to worry about homework at all.

Do it yourself quickly.

After finishing their homework, Ann and Little Competeze ran over and pestered her to play games with them.

Jenny was still pregnant and bulky, so she was tired after playing with them for a while.

At this time, Biden Lu also returned from outside.

Seeing that the two children kept pestering Jenny, he fiercely drove the two children away with a sinking face.

"Okay, can't you see your mommy is tired? Go play by yourself yet!"

Ann and Little Jing Ze threw their tongues out at him and didn't pester Jenny Jing anymore, holding hands and running off on their own.

Jenny laughed and said, "You're always so fierce, be careful that the kids aren't even k*ssing you."

Biden Lu snorted and walked to her side, placing a hand on her stomach after sitting down.

Concerned, "How's it going? Are you tired today? Did those two little guys bother you?"

Jenny laughed and shook her head, "They were obedient and didn't make fun of me."

As soon as I finished, my belly bulged a little.

Biden Lu's hand was very clear because it was placed right on her stomach, so he felt it very clearly and opened his eyes wide in shock.

It wasn't the first time he'd been a father, but it was the first time he'd really felt the sensation of fetal movement so clearly.

Jenny hadn't expected this fetal movement to come so early.

She couldn't help but laugh, "Look, say Cao Cao Cao is here, I doubt they can hear us."

It was fine if she didn't say it, but when she said it like that, Biden Lu took it seriously.

Looking at her stomach, it was as if the child inside could actually hear him.

Seriously, I instructed, "You two be good and don't mess with your mommy, or when you come out, I'll spank your little butts, got it?"

Jenny was so amused by him that he couldn't help it.

At that moment, Ann and Little Competeze also came running at the sound of the voice.

They asked curiously, "Mommy, Daddy! Is it a little brother and sister coming out?"

Jenny laughed at their amusement and said, "How could it be that early? It's just over five months now!"

Ann is a little older now and knows a little bit about these common sense.

She gave a big "oh".

"That's still months away, brother, don't worry, the little brothers and sisters will be out sooner or later!"

Kogyozawa nodded seriously at the news as well.

Chapter 1082

With a small face and a serious look, he stared at Jenny's stomach and said, "I have to make a few robots, the best ones, and when my little brother and sister come out, I'll give them to them."

Jenny Jing smiled, "What if little sister doesn't like it?"

Kotetsuzawa stared at it.

Since he loved robots himself, he subconsciously thought that robots were the best gift in the world.

It was hard for him to imagine how anyone could dislike robots.

Jenny smiled as he looked at his adorable face.

Biden Lu smiled, "It's okay, if little sister doesn't like it, then give her a gift that she likes, okay?"

As long as it's a gift from my brother, my sister will love it."

Kyozawa seemed to understand this and nodded his head.

With a serious look on his little face, he said, "Mommy and Daddy, don't worry, I'll take care of my little brother and sister!"

He's such a little adult.

Ann saw her brother's assurance, and naturally she was not to be outdone.

And also patted his chest, "Don't worry, Mommy and Daddy, I'll take care of them, too!"

Jenny couldn't help but smile and lovingly touched their heads.

"Well, I know Ann and little Competeze are the nicest, nicest kids! I believe you!"

The two little ones were happy to see that they had Mommy's trust.

As Jenny's belly grew larger and larger, seeing that the time of labor was approaching, Quexiu and Mo Caiwei Fang came over from the desert.

Now that Quexu's side is completely over, he has moved all of his research projects as well as his labs to China.

Whether it is in terms of funding or in terms of venue and connections, Biden Lu has been a great support.

As long as Quexu and Mo Caiwei could settle in China and make Jenny happy, he was willing to do anything.

Mo Caiwei took it all in and became more and more relieved that Jenny had found the right person.

Jenny Jing was also happy, she and Mo Caiwei had separated a long time ago, and had been hoping to see Mo Caiwei again for so many years.

I thought it was just an extravagant hope, but now I've not only met them, but we're living together.

Just like before, morning and night, she was naturally incredibly happy.

Quexu and Mo Caiwei had just moved here not long ago and had a lot of work to do.

In the meantime, as the month of King Ning was getting bigger, she didn't go to work.

Actually, according to Jenny's own thoughts, she could still take classes for a while longer.

But Biden Lu insisted that she stay at home and was not allowed to go to the office anymore.

Jenny Jing saw how insistent he was, so he didn't press the issue.

After all, her pregnancy this time can be different, she is carrying twins and her belly is much bigger than before.

Not to mention that Biden Lu was worried about her, even the old man and old lady couldn't help but count her out when they knew she still wanted to go to work.

Jenny could not help but see the whole family treasuring themselves as if they were rare animals, and wanted to laugh a little.

Mo Caiwei, however, felt that it was her good fortune.

After all, someone hurting was a good thing in itself, not to mention the fact that so many people still loved her.

This is a blessing that many people could never ask for.

Jenny naturally understood this, so she wouldn't intentionally die having to go to work.

So, you're at home resting in peace.

Quexu and Mo Caiwei didn't stay directly at the Maple Bridge Villa, but Biden Lu arranged to re-buy a villa for them at a place not far from the Maple Bridge Villa.

Quexu and Mo Caiwei weren't polite, and after moving in, Jenny accompanied Mo Caiwei to decorate the home again.

It took most of a busy month of back and forth before I was completely settled.

And all this time, Quexu had been busy with things over at the lab, and rarely came home.

Jenny sometimes slept at Mo Caiwei's place.

It's nice for the two mothers and daughters to speak their hearts together and spend some time with each other.

Although Biden Lu was a little upset that he couldn't see her at night, but seeing how happy she was with Mo Cai Wei, he couldn't bear to call her back.

As for Ann and Little Competeze, it didn't take much effort to explain to them.

All Kingning has to say is how do you like spending time with Mommy?The two children would just nod their heads.

Then she would say I like spending time with Mommy too.

Two children will about understand what she means.

They were sensible and well-behaved children, so naturally they wouldn't be unreasonable or force her to do anything.

And Jenny has a point of his own.

Basically, they would only go to Mo Caiwei's place for a small stay every few days, and they would still usually spend more time with their children and Biden Lu.

So no one had anything to say.

During this time, Quexu had been researching about the antidote to Bella Qiao's illness.

But this is the kind of thing people have been studying for years without any results.

It's not so easy to find a cure in a short period of time.

Everyone understood this, so although they were all anxious, they didn't dare to rush him.

On the contrary, after Quexu learned that there wasn't much money strains left on Bella Qiao's side, he became more and more anxious.

Lately it's been almost all day and all night in the lab.

It was heartbreaking to see Mo Caiwei, but she couldn't bear to persuade him.

After all, everyone knows that being able to work out a cure is most important at this time.

It's a matter of millions of lives!

Biden Lu also worried that it would be too much effort for Que Su to study this alone, so he had recruited many experts from all over the world, as well as capable hands to assist him.

Quexu used to be a high-minded and arrogant person, if it was put at that time, he would have never agreed, instead he would have felt that the other party was not trusting him and was insulting him.

But this time, in a rare instance, he didn't refuse, instead he was gracious enough to leave them behind.

You can see the difficulty of this matter from this matter.

Even for him, there was no certainty.

That is why there is no hesitation in leaving these people behind.

These people are so nervous, but instead the person involved in this matter, Bella Qiao, sees it very openly.

She was even in the mood to enlighten them when Jenny called her about the progress of the matter, so that they wouldn't have to rush too much.

Life and death are fated to be rich and powerful.

For the first half of her life she had lived, loved and done all that people could live and do.

So even if she dies now, she has no regrets.

Every time Jenny heard her say that, he just felt his nose turn sore and wanted to cry.

It just feels like God's will to be a redhead.

It made it so that Bella Qiao would have to comfort her in turn.

But while Bella Qiao is optimistic, Gu Siqian is different.

Gu Si Qian and Bella Qiao have been in a good relationship since their marriage.
