

Chapter 112 Do What Young People Do

Emily also looked grim.

George thought she was still angry with Alyssa for making a fool of her earlier. So, he comforted her, "Emily, don't worry about what happened today. No one should bring it up again."

Hearing George's words, Emily looked at George and said with a faint smile, "Of course, people certainly won't remember these minor things. But, George, Leon is too nice to Alyssa. It's just a little thing today, but Leon closed the doors to the party. Mr. Granger's face is so bad."

"It is indeed Mr. Granger's negligence. A person suddenly disappeared from the venue. Since he was the one who hosted the party, he naturally had to guarantee the safety of the guests at the party."

"Alyssa must have annoyed Mr. Nell, and she probably did it on purpose."

George glanced at Emily and only felt that Emily's tone was full of jealousy.

He wanted to remind Emily not to make a mistake in judgment because of jealousy. But before he could say anything, Emily's voice rang out.

"George, Alyssa is a troublemaker. Because of her, Leon has offended a lot of people today. Alyssa is a bitch!"

George frowned at Emily. She had never said these things before.

They were so harsh.

But Emily was his cousin, and she took good care of him, so he couldn't say anything. Looking at Emily's face full of dissatisfaction with Alyssa, George could only speed up the car and leave quickly.

8:30 PM.

The study of the Hunter's House.

Alyssa told Leon in detail about her abduction by Mr. Nell.

Leon saw the bruises on her neck from the heavy attack. So he turned around to get the medicine.

He exerted some force and Alyssa gave a muffled grunt.

Leon slowed down.

"The idea of kidnapping me was definitely not Mr. Nell's. I heard from Mr. Nell that Jacob was the one who suggested it. Jacob is sophisticated and vicious. He wants to get back at you, but he has Mr. Nell as a scapegoat."

Alyssa felt something cold on her neck. Leon's big hands pressed carefully on her neck and she didn't seem to be in so much pain. When Leon didn't say anything, she continued, "Leon, I saw a lot of people groveling to you at the party today. They want to do business with Hunter Group, right?"

"Part of them did, and part of them wanted to establish a relationship with me. I went there today to talk business with Mr. Granger, but it didn't go well."

Leon said the result of his meeting with Mr. Granger, who wanted to take over some warehouse land on the west side of town with him. Those warehouses had been abandoned for years. The other day, Mr. Granger heard that there was a tender for that land, but he knew he didn't have enough money, so he wanted to work with Hunter Group.

But he refused Mr. Granger.

Alyssa knew why Mr. Granger was so angry.

Of course, he was unhappy when he didn't get the business done.

Moreover, Leon also closed Mr. Granger's party, directly disgracing Mr. Granger.

Alyssa got nervous at the thought of it. She grabbed Leon, "There are so many people there today. You're definitely in trouble."

"You're the biggest trouble." Leon looked at Alyssa, but even if she was a troublemaker, he was willing to accept it. After all, Alyssa was the woman he liked. Immediately afterward, he said, "Let me take a closer look at you."

Alyssa shook her head. She felt a little inferior because of Leon's words. She was indeed a troublemaker. Today, she attended the party with Leon and brought him endless trouble.

Sensing Alyssa's depression, Leon knew that he had gone a little too far with his words. When he looked down and saw Alyssa's silence, he felt sorry for her, "I didn't mean it. You don't really believe that, do you? Let's get some rest."

Alyssa nodded. But Leon suddenly came over and kissed her on the lips.

This kiss completely dissolved Alyssa's nervousness and inferiority. She couldn't help but take the initiative. Soon they rolled on the big bed in each other's arms.

Alyssa spent the night dreaming. She was awakened several times by nightmares. Each time, she sat up straight. However, she was no longer crying out for Ryan, but for Leon.

Each time she woke up from the nightmare, Leon held her close to him.

She was indeed frightened. After all, she was just a little girl who could not resist the shock of a kidnapping. Thinking about this, he was much gentler to her.

Since that day, Alyssa had been obsessed with Leon.

Hunter Group had stabilized. He didn't need to work overtime anymore. He slept with Alyssa every day and did what young people did. She also had fewer nightmares.

These days, Alyssa began to prepare for the accounting license. The exam would come up in a few days.

After this exam, she would start school.

She had bought the books to prepare for postgraduate studies. However, because of various things, she hadn't started to read those books yet.

Because of the preparation for the exam, she started to be busy again. As soon as she got busy, her period started to come frequently.

Alyssa felt like her strength was being drained out of her body during her lunch break.

The medication prescribed by the Chinese doctor didn't help at all.

She considered whether she should change her doctor.

But she had to prepare not only for her exam but also for her pregnancy! She just couldn't find the time.

After the exam, she would find another Chinese doctor.

Alyssa contacted Ella because she had to take the test and they made an appointment to meet at the same hot pot restaurant as last time.

That restaurant was very good.

When Ella arrived, Alyssa had already ordered all the food.

Ella came in hastily. When she saw that all the dishes Alyssa ordered were her favorites, she was moved.

Ella was about to cry. Alyssa noticed that Ella became thinner than ever. It looked like she had a lot of work to do during this holiday.

The first thing she did was to order two more plates of beef. She hurriedly said, "You eat more! Why have you lost so much weight! Even if you have to work, you have to take care of yourself! Did your father and brother abuse you?"

"Of course not!"

Ella had lost some of her childishness after the winter holiday. The plaid coat she wore made her look more like a female boss.

Alyssa was impressed by Ella's change, "You look completely different from before! That's great! You look like you have the potential to be a boss now."

"Don't get me started on that. Look at these. These are the ones I sorted out during the last exam. That exam isn't hard. Just look at these materials carefully. You've reviewed it before, haven't you? You keep reading these materials twice more."

"Okay." Alyssa felt the warmth in her heart when she saw that Ella had already prepared the materials for her, "How are you doing? You seem to have lost a lot of weight."
