

Chapter 113 He Almost Couldn't Help Himself

"I'm busy because of the company stuff. Our company's business has expanded this year, so everyone is very busy now. My brother has to study the market, and my grandpa and dad are also busy with the company. I can only do some minor work. A few days ago, Mathieson Group got us in trouble again. They slandered our company with incomplete procedures, and although the situation was later clarified, it still affected the progress of our company's business."

"Mathieson Group," Alyssa said, "I still remember it. Last time, in the simulation competition, they gave you a hard time."

"Yeah!" Ella frowned, "Because of what happened last time, we've gotten into trouble again. In the future, we will probably continue to be in such a hostile state."

"It's okay! I believe that no matter what's going on, you'll work it out."

Alyssa believed in Ella's ability. She was able to adapt to society faster because she had lived again.

Ella hadn't been exposed to society in school before. But now that she had the opportunity to be exposed to society, she was certainly able to keep improving her abilities.

"Alyssa, even if you don't look for me today, I also want to see you."

"Huh?"

"Mathieson Group deliberately slandered Lloyd Group some time ago, and although we had evidence and proved our innocence, it still affected Lloyd Group's reputation. Lloyd Group's old clients don't trust us anymore, and the new clients that we developed before are suspicious of Lloyd Group. I don't know what to do now. Can you help me figure out what to do? How can we dispel new clients' doubts about Lloyd Group's reputation?"

Alyssa smiled and said, "Your company has so much business, so you can just do an influential event. New clients are worried that Lloyd Group really has a problem with the ledger. Ella, you are going to have a birthday soon, right?"

Ella understood immediately. She looked at Alyssa and smiled, "You have to come to my birthday party. You better come with Mr. Hunter."

Alyssa smiled. After eating the hot pot, they went to their homes.

Leon was busy again these days. Last time he didn't agree to Mr. Granger's proposal. Mr. Granger was very dissatisfied, so he deliberately looked for Leon's trouble. As a result, Leon not only solved the problem but also organized the Hunter Group's internal and replaced some of the previous senior executives.

One of the employees who was fired was angry and accused Leon of using his power for personal gain. But Leon's accounts had been investigated just a few days before. His reason was not convincing. As a result, Leon sued him for slander and he went to jail.

For a while, as long as they saw Leon, they were all as scared as if they had seen the living devil.

Only Alyssa knew that he was actually not harsh at all. He was as gentle as a pool of pure water.

During this time, they were busy with their own work in the study every day.

At eleven o'clock in the evening, Alyssa saw that Leon looked tired. She pretended that she was tired and needed to rest, and asked Leon to rest with her.

Today, Leon lay down quietly on one side, and so did Alyssa.

"I'll take you to your exam tomorrow. You go to bed early today." After lying down for a while, Leon noticed that Alyssa hadn't fallen asleep, so he continued, "This exam is not difficult. You've been studying hard, so you'll definitely pass the exam!"

Hearing his words, Alyssa was touched.

Obviously, Leon had been watching her all this time, so he knew how she had been studying.

She nodded, "I met Ella today, and she said the same thing. She said I would pass the exam smoothly and told me not to worry." Alyssa said and felt something was wrong, "Isn't the exam the day after tomorrow? Why did you say tomorrow?"

Leon frowned, "You outlined on the calendar that the exam is tomorrow."

"Huh?" Alyssa was startled and hurriedly went to check the calendar. Once she saw the calendar, she instantly blushed. The marks she had made on the calendar were all to record her special period. No wonder Leon didn't touch her these days. It seemed that he knew everything.

Just thinking about it made her blush with shyness.

She was touched at the same time!

Leon cared about her. Otherwise, how could he worry about her body!

She quickly checked the time. Sure enough, she had an exam tomorrow. She was about to prepare her things for the exam when she realized that everything was already packed.

She went back to her room and quickly laid down next to Leon, "So you've prepared everything for me. I had forgotten about it. Do you think I'll fail the test tomorrow?"

"No!"

Leon felt that Alyssa came closer to him. He lifted his head and kissed her on the forehead. Feeling her forehead a little cold, he took her in his arms. Then, he felt discomfort all over his body.

When he saw Alyssa's big eyes, which were beautiful in the dark, he couldn't help but say, "Close your eyes."

Alyssa didn't know what Leon was going to do, but she obediently closed her eyes.

But as soon as she closed her eyes, she received a passionate kiss. She opened her eyes subconsciously. Leon lost control of himself.

She hurriedly stopped Leon with her hands and Leon quickly stopped.

After a few seconds of silence, Leon suddenly sat up and went to the bathroom. Soon there was the sound of water coming from the bathroom.

Alyssa closed her eyes in embarrassment. She had just felt Leon's passion and inexplicably felt shy.

He had been restraining himself, but he almost couldn't help himself just now ...

But obviously, she hadn't teased him.

She was a little nervous and felt her face all hot. She touched her face and soon heard some noise behind her. When she turned her head, she saw Leon looking at her in his bathrobe.

Before she could say anything, Leon turned around and walked away.

Why did he leave? Where was he going?

"Wait, what are you doing out of bed in the middle of the night?"

"I'm going to the guest room!"

"The guest room is not clean."

There were a lot of guest rooms in the house, but none of them were clean.

"I'll clean it myself."

"Then I'll help you."

"Don't come over. I'm afraid I can't help it."

After finishing the sentence, Leon hurriedly ran away.

Looking at Leon's back, Alyssa couldn't help but laugh out loud.

She really didn't expect that Leon would be unable to hold back.

But after thinking about it for a while, she felt sorry for Leon. Even though he wanted to do such things every day, he had to keep her body in mind ...

The thought of this made her blush.

Leon stayed in the guest room for a while with his mind filled with thoughts of Alyssa burrowing into his arms.

She was like ... a lily in the rain, delicate and attractive.

He hadn't felt that way before. However, last time at Mr. Granger's party, when he saw her jump into his arms with red eyes, he suddenly wanted to hold her tightly and not let her suffer anymore.

Recently, he seemed to be more and more inseparable from her. As soon as he saw her, he just wanted to crumple her up and put her into his arms directly.