

Chapter 120

Jenny gripped the cup in his hand so tightly that his finger bones were whitened.

The rims of his eyes were a little sore, and his eyes were a faintly fishy red.

For a moment, a sudden snort of laughter.

Kelly Wang saw her like this and couldn't help but frown.

"Jenny has drunk too much, Xiu Lian, help her upstairs to take a rest."

Yu Xiu Lian barely smiled and stood up, "Good."

She came over and helped Jenny up, who did not refuse.

The first is that I don't want to be here with these guys any longer, and the second is that my head does get a little dizzy.

She's not a bad drinker, but she can't drink red wine, and when she does, she gets drunk very easily.

Just now she had a glass full of half a glass, all 52% degree high red wine, she drank it all in one gulp, it's strange not to get drunk.

With Yu Xiu Lian's assistance, Jenny Jing went to the first floor.

Her previous room was naturally gone, and Yu Xiulian helped her to lie down in the guest room and brought her a glass of water.

"You lie down here for a while and call us if you need anything."

Jenny didn't say anything and turned his back on her.

Yu Xiu Lian's gaze was cold as she looked at her thin back.

But the voice on the exit was still gentle.

"I'll go down first then."

In the end, Jenny still gave a "hmm".

The door was gently closed and Yu left.

She felt dizzy, and the red wine today seemed to be much more powerful than anything she had ever drunk before.

I'm just afraid that I won't be able to go back tonight, so I have to tell Biden Lu so that he won't worry.

Thinking so, she got confused and touched her phone and sent him a tweet.

Then, only then, did I close my eyes at ease and fall asleep.

Downstairs restaurant.

Xu Tianhong sat on a chair and looked at Kelly Wang across from him with a sunken face.

"Mrs. Jing, shouldn't you explain to me what happened today? Didn't you say that Jenny has only been in love once, how come she's involved with Mu again?"

With her pretty face, he was unwilling to take over even with her ambiguous relationship with Biden Lu.

Kelly Wang was also embarrassed and barely smiled.

"It's, it's a long story, it's actually all a misunderstanding, Jenny did like Yan Ze, but they weren't together, really, that girl left the country five years ago, she probably had a crush on Yan Ze in her heart, but she also knew that the other person was her brother-in-law, so nothing could have happened."

Xu Tianhong sneered.

"Five years in a foreign country and only one relationship? Old Lady Jing, you're not lying to me, are you?"

Kelly Wang said evenly, "This will never lie to you, if you don't believe me, you can look it up yourself."

Only then did Xu Tianhong nod his head in satisfaction at the sight of this.

"Okay, then I'll trust you for now, but the deal will have to change."

Kelly Wang was stunned.

"How do you change it?"

"I can forget about her and young male Mu, and her relationship with Biden Lu, but I want to inspect the goods tonight, if it's real, then I'll send a car to pick her up tomorrow, if it's fake... hmm!!, Xu Tianhong, just have this quirk, I don't like women who have been used badly, if you know what I mean!"

A flicker of annoyance flashed across Kelly Wang's face.

Even if her heart disliked Jenny Jing's granddaughter, she felt that it was a little too humiliating just for her status as the eldest daughter of the Jing family.

It's all because of Jenny, the one who can't win!

Originally, I thought she and Biden Lu would be such a good relationship, thinking that by supporting her to climb up to Biden Lu, the Jing family would be able to soar to great heights.

But unexpectedly, it turned out that Biden Lu was a family man.

land-based

The object of the marriage, without thinking about it, knows that it must be neither rich nor wealthy.

Kelly Wang didn't dare to bet, she had little confidence in Jenny's clear and cold nature, she would never believe that Biden Lu was serious about her.

A man, who is interested in her looks, is just out there playing around.

If she was really discovered by the rightful wife, she would be able to kick and shake it off, and when that one got angry, who would care about the Jing family's life and death.

In the end, not only did he fail to climb the Lu family, but he also offended a powerful nobleman, which was simply too much to pay for.

Thinking of this, Kelly Wang's face became a little more gloomy.

This Xu Tianhong, although rude and crude, but the wealth and connections behind that were solid.

It's better to seize the opportunity before you than to count on the possibility of disaster with little certainty.

Thinking this way, Kelly Wang Fang eased her face.

I bit my teeth and said, "Fine, I can promise you, but don't disown Mr. Xu when the time comes."

As soon as He Tianhong heard her promise, he immediately smiled happily.

"Don't worry!!, Xu Tianhong, am not rogue enough to go that far, not to mention that I also really like Jing, and that face is enough to move another person's heart, so Old Master Jing can rest assured!"

Kelly Wang heard him say that, and only then did he let go.

"Then I'll send someone to get ready, and Mr. Hsu should go to the guest room as well."

She said, and asked the maid to take Xu Tianhong to the guest room.

Jenny didn't sleep very deeply.

Anyone who's ever been drunk knows that it's easy to get a dry mouth when you're drunk and sleep through the night.

Jenny also felt the same way at this point, she wanted to get up and go get a drink of water, but her head was so dizzy that she couldn't get up.

As it turns out, red wine is her nemesis.

I was lying there ready to endure the night, but in a daze, I felt someone come in.

If she remembered correctly, a maid named An Yun was in charge of these guest rooms.

Then he shouted in a hoarse voice, "Is that An Yun? I want some water."

A gentle voice sounded, "Okay, I'll pour it right back to you."

A short time later, a glass of warm water was handed to her lips.

An Yun lifted her up to lean against the bed and said softly, "My lady, the water is here."

Jenny drank several gulps right from her hand before feeling the dryness in her throat ease a bit and barely opened her eyes to smile at her.

"Thank you."

An Yun was dazzled by her half-drunken smile, slightly startled and struggling with her eyes.

But in the end, she lowered her head to avoid her gaze and said, "You're welcome, missy, you smell a little like alcohol, would you like me to help you take a shower?"

Anyone who knew Jenny well knew that she had a slight germophobia and didn't like to smell anything else on her body.

As expected, Jenny nodded his head.

"Well, thanks a lot."

An Yun helped her up and went to the guest room's own bathroom.

She thoughtfully put the bath water on for her and helped her into the tub, which is why she said, "You can wash first then, just call me when you're ready."

Jenny nodded.

After An Yun went out, Jenny relaxed against the bathtub, feeling the steam of the heat, only to feel the pores of his body stretching open.

She wasn't so drunk that she was completely unconscious, just a little dizzy, but giving herself a bath would do the trick.

She lifted the hot water and washed herself carefully.

I don't know if it was the comfortable hot water soaking her body that made the whole and mind and body too relaxed, or if she was just really tired after a long day.

Halfway through the wash, I felt only a little soft and drowsy throughout my body.

Chapter 121

Faint footsteps were heard outside.

She bobbed her head, thinking it was An Yun coming in, and shouted out, "An Yun, I'm not well yet, you can wait outside for a bit longer."

When I finished, I was strong enough to get up and go to the flush.

Yet the numbness in her body made her knees go weak and she was almost about to fall over.

Jenny turned pale and snapped awake.

That familiar feeling, how could she not know what was going on?

But damn!

How is that possible?

She remembered that she had eaten everything tonight and had seen others touch it as well, so that glass of wine couldn't be out of the question.

Is it...?

Her pupils dilated, and she suddenly remembered the warm water An Yun had just given her.

Her eyes went cold, raging anger almost bursting out of her chest.

These people...the tiger doesn't get angry, and they really think she's a sick cat?

You think she's easy to bully when you've used such cheap and brainless tactics against her time and again!

Jenny bit his tongue hard, the fishy, salty taste spreading through his mouth, temporarily clearing his head for a few moments.

Then, on her hands and knees, she worked her way out of the tub.

The sound of footsteps outside grew closer, and the next thing I knew, the bathroom door was being opened from the outside.

Xu Tianhong walked in with a dirty smile on his face, looking around excitedly as he pushed the door open.

But only the bathroom was empty, the bubble-lined bathtub still lingering with steamy mist, but not the body that should have stayed in it.

He froze slightly and said "Huh".

Then the gaze swept to the corner of the bathroom, where the hem of the curtain revealed a pair of slippers, and the curtain moved faintly.

He understood immediately, swinging a couple of laughs and rubbing his hands together in excitement.

"My dear little darling, what are you doing hiding behind the curtains? Come on, let me take a bath with you. Washing fragrant brother to sleep with you sleep okay."

The obscene tone of voice and nasty words were several times nauseating.

Xu Tianhong quickly walked to the curtain, just the thought that behind it stood a naked, delicate like a flower-boned beauty, only to see a heart is about to be excited to the throat.

He gripped a corner of the curtain in excitement and mouthed, "Boy, here I come!"

Then, swish it open.

The next second, stunned.

There was nothing behind the curtains, just open windows and a cool breeze coming in.

Xu Tianhong's face changed.

"Shit! How dare you play me!"

He subconsciously thought that Kelly Wang was playing a trick on him and was about to turn around and go down to settle the score with her, but just then, "Bang-!"

"You-!"

Xu Tianhong didn't dare to look at the woman standing in front of him, covering the back of his head and falling down softly.

Jenny looked at the man lying on the ground and was relieved.

She laboriously dragged him behind the curtains and took the rope to tie the man up before changing and walking out.

The bedroom door had been unlocked from the outside and she twisted it twice, not unscrewing it.

I didn't think Kelly Wang would do this to prevent her from escaping.

Jenny's one pair of eyebrows furrowed fiercely.

It's too late to leave now, she thought for a moment, and touched her phone to call Biden Lu.

On the other hand, Biden Lu was eating out at this time.

The lavish compartment almost contained some of the most famous families in Kyoto.

Some are in politics, some are in the military, some are in business, and all of them are great in their own right.

They were all good brothers of Biden Lu, and best friends who had grown up in the same courtyard.

At the moment, we are laughing and feasting and discussing something.

Biden Lu sat on one side of the round table and did not join their discussion.

His face was tinged with a faint blush because of the wine he had been drinking, but spare him the handsome look.

Instead, it was the alcohol that made his entire body look loose and lazy, slightly crooked against the back of the chair, like a legendary aristocrat.

A man poured the glass of wine in front of him and smiled, "Brother Shen, you are considered the host this time, we brothers have come a long way, you have to accompany us to drink a few more glasses."

The man who poured the wine was named Xie Fei, the second son of the Xie Clan in Kyoto, who loved to save up and have fun, and it was his idea to come to the party in Visterdem this time.

Biden Lu also did not refuse, smiled and drank the wine in front of him.

The other man saw this and stepped forward to fill his glass.

He was the only son of the Fu family in Kyoto, called Fu Yuanhang, and because his family was in the business world, he was naturally even closer to Biden Lu.

At this time as he poured the wine, he squeezed his eyes shut and smiled badly, "Brother Shen, I heard Xie Snap say that you found us a little sister-in-law in Visterdem, is it true? Why didn't you bring it out to see it?"

The rest of them were surprised at what they heard.

"What? Is Sham married?"

"How is that possible? I don't believe it!"

"I don't believe it either, Deep has never been interested in women, didn't I say that even if the iron tree blossoms, it's impossible for Deep to find a woman?"

"Hahahahaha... you guys! The news is outdated! I've got the real proof, tsk, ask Shen yourself if you don't believe me."

As the words fell, everyone looked curiously at Biden Lu.

Biden Lu smiled, his deep ink-black eyes had a softer warmth compared to the usual coldness.

He played with the glass with one hand and smiled lightly, "She has something to do today, she'll bring it out to you some other time."

"Mistweed! I can't believe it's true."

"Xieji, pinch me and see if I'm dreaming."

"Hiss-!Mistweed, take it easy!Trying to strangle me!"

"It's over, it's over, it's over, the old house is on fire and it's killing us."

The box was almost boiling, and everyone felt incredulous.

After all, Biden Lu was well known for how clear-minded he had been over the years.

Having lived to be almost thirty, I've never seen any women around him.

Even at work, contact with women is minimal.

Even the secretaries and assistants around him were all clean-cut men in order to avoid certain women with bad intentions.

At first people wondered if he had a heart of gold and was deliberately staying away from these people.

Then after all these years of watching it, I realized that people aren't in love, they're really not interested in women.

Gradually, rumors spread that although Mr. Lu is handsome, powerful and wealthy, he is a gay.

An excellent pair of skins fed to the dogs and broke the hearts of thousands of girls in China.

Luke is a real man!

How can a real man do that to a girl?A man's gotta fu*k a man!

Anyway, the incident has been passed down as a laughing matter.

Combined with the presence of a certain little devil who was bred through IVF, there was even more of a sense that Biden Lu didn't like women, or even hated them, and couldn't have children before doing IVF.

Now, the woman-hating Mr. Luke has a wife?

Chapter 122

Not to mention Xie Er and the others, even Ji Yunshu, who was always the most calm and restrained, was ruthlessly shocked.

He held the gold wire glasses on the bridge of his nose and asked, "Brother Shen, is it true? You... wouldn't have deliberately made up such a person in order to break those rumors outside, would you!"

Although Fu Yuanhang was closest to Biden Lu, he was the one who knew Biden Lu's body best.

For no other reason than the fact that his family is a medical family, and it's the kind of thing that's very cool and only treats people who are leaders of the country.

Because he was close to several brothers in Biden Lu, he also took care of their bodies along with them.

Because of this, he knew in his heart that Biden Lu was not a gay at all.

He's normal in terms of s*xual orientation and function!

As for why they don't get women, maybe it's for other reasons.

Biden Lu looked at him and smiled faintly, "Isn't it the next time we see each other that we won't know?"

Ji Yunshu paused, realizing that this matter was true, and became interested.

"It seems that the feng shui of Visterdem is still good. You haven't seen a woman for decades abroad or in Kyoto, and once you come to Visterdem in less than half a year, you even have a wife. Sheesh! It's faster than a rocket ride!"

Biden Lu smiled, "Don't be sour, you won't find it if it's sour."

Ji Yunshu felt a knife plunge deep into his heart.

Xie Er smiled, "I'm curious as to which daughter of the family is able to get into our Brother Shen's eyes, next time Brother Shen brings someone out, I must have a good look."

"That's not it, no matter what you say, you're still my sister-in-law, when will you bring it back to Kyoto, it'll be more fun to get together then!"

"Yeah, you guys are supposed to go back to Kyoto, right?"

Biden Lu nodded, "Yes, in a while!"

"Okay, we'll meet you in Kyoto then."

"Wait for what? I want to see it tomorrow."

"Look at Xie Er's anxious monkey face, hahahahaha..."

The atmosphere in the box was harmonious and cheerful, and just then, Biden Lu's mobile phone rang.

Xie Er immediately joked, "Tsk, it can't be that little sister-in-law has urged Brother Shen to go back!"

Sitting closest to Biden Lu, Fu Yuan Hang tilted his body and leaned in to take a look, and indeed saw four words on the caller ID on Biden Lu's phone.

-k*ss your wife.

"Tsk, tsk, tsk, dog food snores to death, how old are you to make such a greasy note, and not too meat."

Biden Lu snorted, "Do you want someone to flesh you out?"

Fu Yuanhang: "...and..."

So why do bachelors need that extra mouth?

Biden Lu stopped paying attention to them, got up, and walked outside to answer the phone.

"Jenny, done with your work?"

His voice was gentle, with a hint of gentleness that was hard to see by others.

However, the voice coming from the other side was not Jenny's usual calm and clear voice, but carried a hint of urgency and weakness.

"Biden Lu, is it convenient for you to come out now?"

Biden Lu himself heard the wrongness in her tone, and his sword brows twisted slightly.

"What's wrong with you?"

"I...I was drugged, at King's."

The man's face changed.

"I'll be right over."

Biden Lu hurriedly entered the box, without even the space to greet the people present, took the clothes and hurriedly went out.

When the crowd saw that he was not looking right, they even followed suit.

"Deep, what's wrong?"

"What's happened?"

Biden Lu's face was gloomy as he said, "Something happened to Jenny!"

.....

Jenny didn't sit on the bed and wait dry after making the call.

She walked over to the window and looked downstairs.

The villa where the Jing family lived was three stories in total, and the room she was in was on the first floor, not too high off the ground.

She estimated the distance, then returned to the room and connected the sheet to the cover.

Soon, a long rope of cloth was made.

Jenny tied one end of the cloth rope to the corner of the bed and the other end to his waist and slowly climbed down.

The window below was facing the kitchen, where a maid was washing dishes, and Jenny stayed in mid-air, which slipped to the ground while they turned to go out.

As soon as she landed, she immediately untied the rope and ran outside.

The location of the King family villa is the largest piece of affluent downtown.

The neighborhood is nestled between the mountains and the water, and a huge area has been carved out from every inch of land, with all kinds of landscapes and gardens, the size of which is astonishing.

It was good that Jenny had lived here since he was a child and was very familiar with his surroundings.

Quickly, she found the nearest road and ran out.

It was already dark outside, so she didn't dare to stay around much for fear that the Jing family would find something wrong and chase them out.

So as soon as she reached the road, she stumbled to the curb and stopped a taxi.

The driver was a middle-aged man with a huge build and a beard, and couldn't help but be amazed at first sight of her.

When Jenny came out, she was still wearing her own clothes, but couldn't hide her good figure.

Moreover, that face was as exquisite as if it had been meticulously carved and crafted, even compared to some of the popular actresses nowadays, it did not let go in any way.

He offered to open the door for her and asked, "Where are you going, little girl?"

Jenny stumbled, his face flushed with an unusual flush, and rushed into the car.

"Go to 13 Lake Shore Drive, Land Park."

The driver's pupils shrank at the name she gave him.

Looking back at her again, there was a flash of envy in her eyes.

Land Garden ah – tsk tsk!

That's where the rich people live.

Jenny only felt uncomfortably weak and soft, not noticing the strange colour in the driver's eyes.

After giving her address, she leaned back in her seat and closed her eyes.

When the driver saw her like this, he thought she was drunk.

He laughed and accosted, "Have you had too much to drink? A girl should drink less when she's out alone! What if we meet the bad guys?"

Jenny remained with his eyes closed, leaning against the backseat, not speaking.

A moment later, the phone rang.

It's Biden Lu.

"Jenny, how are you? Can you still hold on?"

She raised her hand to her forehead, her voice hoarse, "I'm out, in the car."

"Where are you now?"

Jenny tilted her head to look out the window, "It seems like it's near the International Trade Center! I gave you the address of the land garden, so you should be home soon."

The more she said, the lower her voice went.

The drug had come up eventually, and though she had relied on biting her tongue and using pain to keep her awake and sane before, it wasn't a permanent solution after all.

On the phone, Biden Lu naturally also heard the abnormality in her voice and tensed, "Okay, I'll be there right away."

After Jenny hung up the phone, his entire body fainted.

Xu was rushed and unprepared, Kelly Wang gave her the drug, not like the last time Mang Hongfeng gave her a potent aphrodisiac, but an aphrodisiac that can make people dizzy with consciousness, similar to the aphrodisiac that aids in the development of a couple.
