

Chapter 121 Madelyn, Call Me Husband!

The room fell silent.

The men who were drinking and playing poker stopped and looked at Madelyn. Eleanor sat next to Benjamin, with the posture of a hostess. Madelyn's situation was very awkward.

If she came to play, no one invited her.

If she came to catch someone cheating, she wasn't anything to Benjamin...

Last time, Jackson had an argument with her and used Madelyn as his first target. He spoke sarcastically, "What wind blew Madelyn here! Shall we play together?"

Madelyn looked at Benjamin.

He was dressed casually today, in a black shirt and black pants. He was sitting on the sofa, exhaling smoke rings.

That was a wild look that Madelyn had never seen before.

Benjamin glanced at Madelyn and seemed annoyed, but didn't try to defuse the situation. Suddenly, Eleanor leaned in and kissed Jackson, then smiled insinuatingly, "Jackson, don't tease Ms. Green. Girls like her are too serious to play this."

Madelyn tightly clenched her hands.

Another person saying she was too serious! Eleanor and Benjamin were the same!

Benjamin's gaze was deep. He stared at Madelyn for a long time before he finally spoke harshly, "Madelyn, go back first!" That statement gave Madelyn no face at all. It was as if she was ignorant enough to come and catch someone cheating, yet not capable enough to take away another man!

Jackson sneered.

He finally got to vent his anger.

At this moment, someone spoke up, "Okay, let's not force Madelyn anymore and continue playing." The atmosphere livened up again...

But just then, a voice softly rang out, "I can play it!"

It was so soft that it was almost drowned out by the noise.

But Benjamin heard it. It was Madelyn who spoke.

His gaze narrowed and his tone became more severe than before, "Madelyn, go back first!"

...

No one dared to speak. Even a fool could see that Benjamin was very unhappy.

point, David lowered his head again. His body was almost stacked on top of Madelyn's, but they didn't touch each other.

His gaze and voice were both gentle, "Madelyn, call me husband."

Madelyn had drunk enough to play it!

She looked straight into David's eyes, as if her whole world revolved around him... as if they were deeply in love. Madelyn's red lips parted slightly, and her voice was raspy and sexy, "David... hus..."

She didn't have time to finish the last word.

Her hand was tightly squeezed and pulled up, and then she fell into a warm embrace... Benjamin took Madelyn and headed towards the door.

He threw down a sentence, "Tonight is on me."

The room was silent...

David straightened his clothes and shrugged at everyone. "I told you Ben couldn't handle it!... Madelyn's gone, Eleanor, why don't you call me 'husband'?"

Eleanor's face turned pale.

She really didn't expect Ben to care about Madelyn that much! Didn't he love her, Eleanor? How could he watch her kiss someone else, but couldn't stand to hear Madelyn call someone else 'husband'?

...

Benjamin took Madelyn outside.

The night wind blew away her drunkenness.

She wanted to break free from his grip, but Benjamin held on tight and led her to his gold Continental parked in the parking lot.

Once in the car, Benjamin didn't immediately drive.

He gripped the steering wheel and stared straight ahead.

"Eloise brought you here?" he asked.

Madelyn was already feeling down, so she turned away without acknowledging him.

Benjamin turned to look at her profile...

He wasn't sure if it was just his imagination, but he felt that Madelyn looked more beautiful every day. Every time he saw her, he felt something different.

He stared at her for a moment, then stepped on the gas.

Madelyn thought he was going to drive back to the apartment, but the car turned onto two streets and stopped at the entrance of the nearest five-star hotel...

"Get out!"

He unbuckled his seatbelt, got out of the car, and came around to her side.

Madelyn knew what he wanted to do. He just wanted to do it.

But she refused, she didn't want to!

Chapter 122 Should I Call You Darling?

Madelyn refused to get out of the car!

She sat in the car and looked up at Benjamin.

She felt wronged with teary eyes.

Benjamin bent over and actually carried Madelyn out.

"Walk by yourself, or shall I hold you?"

Madelyn wanted to be face-saving, so she asked Benjamin to let herself down. "Benjamin, I don't want to be romantically linked with you."

Benjamin put Madelyn down.

He stared at her with deep eyes, from her face to her pretty shoulders to her beautiful dress.

After a while, Benjamin said in a husky voice, "The dress is very beautiful!"

Madelyn blushed with anger.

She had been with Benjamin for a long time and naturally knew that he was lustful. If she dressed better, Benjamin would immediately be aroused and want to have sex with her regardless of time and place.

Madelyn didn't feel honored at all.

She knew she was just Benjamin's sugar baby, while Eleanor was his beloved woman.

At the hotel reception.

Benjamin took out his identity card and hundreds of dollars.

The receptionist looked Benjamin up and down quietly when she checked in.

Benjamin was famous as an eligible bachelor in Gredax, but it was said he had a girlfriend... Looking at the very beautiful girl next to him, the receptionist thought that the girl should be his girlfriend.

The receptionist was gossipy. Looking at them curiously, she handed over a room card.

"Room 3601, hope you have a great night."

Benjamin took the room card from the receptionist.

In such a place, he could even do such things calmly with a poker face, and his movements were elegant.

It was the first time Madelyn came to the hotel with Benjamin, so she was very uncomfortable from beginning to end.

Inside the elevator.

Benjamin pressed Madelyn against the wall, pinched her chin, and kissed her. Madelyn couldn't avoid it, because Benjamin put his knee against her as soon as she escaped.

Madelyn suddenly turned to jelly.

Benjamin chuckled.

The night was thick...

Benjamin hadn't had sex with Madelyn for a long time, so he was very indulgent tonight. Actually, he wanted to sleep very much, but Madelyn insisted on this matter and refused to sleep, so he had to get up.

The bedroom light was on.

Benjamin got up and dressed. He said, "I'll go to the pharmacy to buy the pill."

Madelyn sat up and bit her lower lip lightly. She said, "Buy... Buy a topical ointment. I'm very uncomfortable."

Benjamin looked at Madelyn with deep eyes.

Madelyn looked away and explained, "It hurts a little."

Benjamin got out of bed, buttoned up his shirt, and zipped up his trousers.

After going out for about 20 minutes, Benjamin brought a small box of pills and an ointment. When he handed them to Madelyn, both of them were a little embarrassed.

Benjamin had never bought these things for a woman, while Madelyn had never taken such a kind of medicine and applied the ointment.

Madelyn sat on the bed and read the instruction. After reading, she took the mineral water from the bedside and unscrewed the lid. Then she put a pill in her mouth and swallowed it with water.

Benjamin just looked at Madelyn by the bed.

Madelyn was quite calm, without the hysteria of the heroine in a TV drama taking the contraceptive pill. Benjamin couldn't help but ask, "Did this medicine just kill my..."

Madelyn glanced at Benjamin.

She was quite surprised and wondered why he felt torn.

Madelyn directly ignored Benjamin.

She got out of bed in a bathrobe and was going to go to the bathroom to apply the ointment.

Benjamin stopped Madelyn and said, "Just apply it here. I'll help you."

Madelyn certainly refused.

She didn't think they were so intimate.

But Benjamin carried Madelyn back to the bed and insisted on applying the ointment for her. Madelyn was speechless and helpless during the process. After Benjamin applied the ointment, she tucked her quilt around herself and said, "I want to sleep."

Benjamin cleaned up the things and hugged Madelyn from behind.

Madelyn was so tired that she didn't break away.

When it was almost dawn, Benjamin felt a hot sensation in his arms.

Reaching out and touching Madelyn, he found her body was very hot. He thought Madelyn might have a fever.

He had some common sense and guessed that it was because of himself. He patted Madelyn on the cheek and said, "You have a fever, and I will take you to the hospital."

Madelyn was a little in a trance because of the fever.

She opened her eyes and stared at Benjamin, and she was as delicate as a poor little animal.

Benjamin's heart skipped a beat all of a sudden.

Chapter 123 Ben, Are You Serious?

Madelyn lay on the snow-white pillow.

Probably because of her illness, she was groggy and said in a soft tone, "I don't want to go to the hospital."

She would feel embarrassed if she went to the hospital because of sex.

Benjamin stroked Madelyn's face, picked up his mobile phone from the bedside table, and gave a phone call.

"Paisley, find a doctor."

"Well... Room 3601 of Galactic Hotel."

"It's not me. Madelyn is sick."

...

Paisley opened her mouth wide and hadn't come to her senses for a long time!

She thought, "Why did they go to a hotel but not at home? Mr. Clark is really good at cavorting!"

Paisley was sophisticated. She immediately contacted a reliable family doctor and took him to the hotel in person.

When the two arrived at the hotel, Benjamin opened the door.

Before the doctor could speak, Benjamin frowned and asked, "Why is it a male doctor?"

Paisley thought, "Why does he care if the doctor's a man or a woman?"

Benjamin didn't let them in and said to Paisley, "Ask a seasoned female doctor to come over, whose lips...are sealed."

Benjamin knew Madelyn was keen on face-saving.

Paisley was very clever and immediately asked an authoritative gynecologist in Gredax to come. The doctor was really something. She only prescribed but did not give Madelyn an injection.

Madelyn reduced the fever by noon.

But she was still weak and kept sleeping.

Paisley didn't leave, helping to clean up the hotel suite. While cleaning up, she was secretly surprised.

Benjamin was in the bedroom.

He sat on the sofa and handled some affairs with his mobile phone. Then he came to see Madelyn and touched her hand.

Grayson was waiting for Benjamin's answer.

Unexpectedly, Benjamin said lightly, "I'm not going there! It's boring."

Grayson was quite surprised.

"Ben, I'm calling you with a mission."

Benjamin said bluntly, "Madelyn is not feeling well, so I have to take care of her at home."

Grayson was completely stunned.

He thought, "We have always been the only ones taken care of by women. How could Ben take care of a woman? He is not a doctor! Is he..."

Grayson asked with a deep voice, "Ben, are you serious?"

Benjamin showed his respect to Madelyn in front of Grayson. He smiled lightly and hung up the phone.

Benjamin looked at Madelyn with a charming smile and asked, "Ms. Green, are you satisfied with this?"

Madelyn directly ignored Benjamin.

She thought, "His concessions and flirtation are just usual tricks used by men. If he really likes me, he will give me a stable and long-term relationship, but not just physical contact."

Benjamin's concessions and thoughtfulness eased their relationship a bit.

During the weekend, in addition to taking care of Madelyn, Benjamin worked in the study and even went downstairs to feed the dog!

Madelyn was not well, so Benjamin didn't have sex with her but liked to kiss her...

When he made her excited with a kiss, he chuckled.

In those two days, Madelyn felt that she had returned to the past, but she knew she hadn't. Benjamin's thoughtfulness and flirtation were just because he was still interested in her.

Madelyn thought Benjamin didn't care if she liked him or was in pain at all!

After two days of rest and recuperation, Madelyn was better and she suddenly wanted a cup of coffee.

When Madelyn half made the coffee, the doorbell rang.

Benjamin was in the study, and Madelyn went to open the door. She originally thought it was Eloise.

After opening the door, Madelyn was stunned.

It was Eleanor who stood at the door.

Eleanor had a smile on her pretty face, unlike her malicious attitude that night.

Madelyn didn't dare to underestimate this woman.

She didn't prevent Eleanor from meeting Benjamin. She turned sideways and asked Eleanor to come in. Then she walked to the door of the study and said to Benjamin, "Ms. Bennett is here. Would you like to meet her?"

Chapter 124 Benjamin, I Did It on Purpose!

Benjamin was a little surprised and asked, "Eleanor?"

Madelyn nodded.

Benjamin stared at Madelyn's face, capturing every detail of her expression, as if looking for something.

Madelyn behaved perfectly.

In the end, Benjamin lowered his head to continue to read the documents and said lightly, "Let her come to the study."

When Madelyn turned around, Benjamin looked up at her figure...

In the living room.

Eleanor was visiting this high-end apartment.

She stared at the Morning Dew piano, and her face almost deformed because of jealousy.

She thought, "It's Morning Dew. Legend has it that Louis II often used it to play music to his beloved wife. Benjamin gave it to Madelyn. Does it mean he has fallen in love with her? Impossible!"

Eleanor would rather die than admit it!

She continued to think, "I know Benjamin. He likes the minimalist style. How could he tolerate Madelyn making this place a real family feel and filling with her smell everywhere? Everywhere!"

Madelyn stared at Eleanor after coming out and didn't speak until Eleanor found her. "He is waiting for you in the study."

Eleanor gave a rather meaningful smile.

She raised the document bag in her hand.

"I have an economic case to ask Ben. Do you mind?"

Madelyn had a faint smile.

She thought, "Fortunately, I'm not Benjamin's wife, otherwise I will be so angry that I'll have a heart attack!"

Madelyn was very generous.

"I'm making coffee. Would you like a cup?"

A glimmer of the smile flickered in Eleanor's beautiful eyes. Eleanor said, "Thank you." Then she walked into the study.

The sound of conversation came from the study, sounding like Eleanor and Benjamin talking about business.

Madelyn was not interested in it, so she walked into the kitchen to make coffee.

Even Madelyn had to praise that Eleanor was really good at being hypocritical.

Madelyn thought, "What a pity! That cup of coffee was not hot enough! Otherwise, I must show Eleanor the darkness of the human heart!"

Benjamin kept staring at Madelyn.

After a long time, seeing Madelyn didn't want to explain, Benjamin thought she was deliberately trying to push him out.

Eleanor refused.

Benjamin waited outside for a long time.

Eleanor came out, while Madelyn didn't.

Benjamin walked back and asked, "Are you not going?"

Madelyn had already cleaned up the coffee grounds. She put the coffee beans into the coffee machine and said calmly, "Just go. You two can take the opportunity to catch up."

Hearing this, Benjamin knew Madelyn was taking her anger out on him!

They had gotten along well in the past two days, and Benjamin indeed had sexual satisfaction in the hotel that night. So he thought, "Madelyn is not feeling well and was disgusted by Eleanor, and it's normal for her to have a temper."

Chapter 126 It Turns Out That I'm Overconfident!

Madelyn was silent for a long time.

Benjamin was patient and he said softly, "I will pick you up at night."

After a long time, Madelyn heard herself say okay.

She knew Benjamin would put his mind to what he wanted.

Benjamin wanted to have sex with Madelyn, so he was pleasing her. Madelyn didn't know why he understood women very much, but she knew she couldn't refuse him when he tried his best to please her.

This night was more romantic and crazy than all the nights they spent before.

Every place in the apartment was filled with Benjamin's sweet words!

Benjamin hugged Madelyn and made love for most of the night...

Madelyn must admit that she got the best enjoyment and the most exciting senses from Benjamin.

Early in the morning.

When Madelyn woke up, Benjamin was wearing a tie by the bed.

Seeing Madelyn awake, Benjamin leaned over and kissed her.

"Are you really going to the opening banquet?" Madelyn asked softly, and her eyes became shining again after last night.

Benjamin replied, "Yes. There may be a court trial that will be held later, but it is no problem to get there at nine o'clock in the evening. How will you introduce me then?"

Madelyn put her arms around Benjamin's neck and said something.

Benjamin changed his look slightly. If it weren't for being in a hurry, he would have sex with Madelyn on the spot.

He would plead a case in court this morning, so he left soon.

Madelyn's body was a little sore. However, the music studio was run by her and Penelope. She had no reason to keep Penelope busy alone, so she took a break for a while and got up.

Madelyn had been receiving parents all day.

It wasn't until 6 p.m. that she had time to rush back to the apartment and change into clothes suitable for the dinner party.

Madelyn was wearing a long light pink bodycon dress, showing her slender waist.

She wore her long brown hair in a bun and a pair of pearl earrings.

She looked particularly beautiful and elegant.

After wearing makeup, Madelyn looked at herself in the mirror and couldn't help flushing.

She thought her current dress seemed to deliberately cater to Benjamin's aesthetic. She knew what kind of woman he liked and knew how to dress up to make him want to hug her.

Benjamin's phone was still switched off.

Madelyn knew the nature of Benjamin's work, as well as his cautious personality, and Benjamin generally did not switch off the phone easily.

Madelyn felt something faintly but she didn't want to believe it.

They got along so well these days, and Madelyn didn't want to think that Benjamin destroyed the balance between them because of that person. She thought quietly that they should have a good talk when they met.

Madelyn and Penelope were the last people to leave.

When Madelyn got in the car, a flash of lightning suddenly appeared in the sky.

The night sky was bright suddenly, like being torn apart, making people shocked.

The heavy rain was pouring down.

Madelyn dialed Benjamin's phone number again, but the phone was still switched off.

She lowered her eyes and started the car...

The rain was getting heavier and heavier.

The rain wipers kept swaying. The windscreen glass was misty, and Madelyn felt that her mind was a mess. She thought it was a bit dangerous to drive on such a rainy day.

After driving for a while, Madelyn parked her car on the side of the road.

There was a hotel nearby. Madelyn hesitated whether to spend the night here, but she immediately thought of Benjamin.

She thought, "His phone is switched off. Could it be that something happened to him?"

Madelyn took out her mobile phone and wanted to call Benjamin again to see if his phone was still switched off.

However, when she held the phone in her ear, she froze.

A golden Bentley Continental stopped across the road, and Madelyn saw Benjamin through a glass.

Benjamin sat quietly with a confused and pained look that Madelyn had never seen before.

At this moment, the car door opened...

A slender figure rushed out of the passenger seat, and Madelyn recognized it was Eleanor.

Eleanor ran willfully on this rainy night! After more than ten seconds, Benjamin got out of the car. He quickly took a few steps before catching up with her and then pulled her, and Eleanor fell into his arms.

Madelyn's hand holding the phone froze.

She thought, "It turns out that this is the reason why he switched off his phone and why he broke the appointment!"

The wipers kept swinging.

Everything in front of Madelyn was clear yet vague.

Madelyn saw that Eleanor hugged Benjamin's waist and that Benjamin didn't push Eleanor away.

Eleanor seemed to be crying.

Benjamin put his hand gently on Eleanor's head, with a hesitant and pained look.

Seeing the couple who had loved each other deeply, Madelyn suddenly laughed softly and thought, "It turns out that I'm overconfident!"

Chapter 127 How Could I Have Thought He Really Liked Me?

Until now, Madelyn finally knew that Benjamin only didn't care about her.

She thought, "That's right. Only me! Well, I was so confident before that I felt I was more important than Eleanor in Benjamin's heart. It's so ridiculous! How could I have thought he was serious about our relationship? How could I have thought he wanted to see my parents? It's just... It's just that I'm self-assertion!"

Madelyn's lips trembled.

Madelyn didn't want to watch the old lovers hug anymore. Every moment of their hug cut Madelyn to the quick.

It made her heart hurt and made her embarrassed to the extreme.

Madelyn held the steering wheel. At this time, no matter how bad the weather was and how dangerous it was to drive, she just wanted to leave the place that was like a slaughterhouse.

But Benjamin saw Madelyn.

They looked at each other through the rain.

Madelyn was sitting in the car, while Benjamin stood in the rain holding his beloved woman affectionately.

Time seemed to freeze.

Madelyn's eyes were sour. Madelyn stopped looking at Benjamin, lowered her eyes, and smiled slightly.

She thought, "It really discomfits me !"

She wanted to drive away, but Benjamin had already pushed Eleanor away and strode toward this side. He stretched out his hand and wanted to open the car door.

Madelyn locked the door.

Benjamin patted the car window of the driver's seat and shouted loudly.

"Madelyn! Madelyn, open the door!"

...

Madelyn turned her head stiffly and looked at Benjamin. At this time, her eyes were full of tears.

Madelyn knew she was not good-looking and so undignified now.

But she didn't have the strength to hide it.

Benjamin looked into Madelyn's eyes and was a little shocked. He patted the car door hard and continued to shout, "Madelyn, open the door!"

The rain poured into Benjamin's mouth, covering his volume.

Madelyn laughed at herself in a daze and thought, "It's so difficult for him from a rich family to explain and apologize to me. And I don't want his explanation and apologize anymore!"

But when the door opened, Benjamin stood outside.

He was no better than Madelyn. His whole body was wet.

Madelyn blocked the door.

Benjamin looked at her with deep eyes and said in a very hoarse voice, "Madelyn, let me in."

Madelyn turned sideways and let Benjamin in.

She thought, "We really need to have a talk. In the current situation, it is better to make some things clear."

Benjamin took a towel to wipe his face.

Then he stretched out his hand towards Madelyn.

This action was actually intimate, but Madelyn was indifferent. She said lightly, "If you have something to say, just say it! These...are not necessary."

Benjamin knew Madelyn was angry.

He had lived with her for some time and always knew that she had a temper. Usually, the innocuous things were over after she got angry. But if he didn't explain or coax her, she would probably be angry for a long time about today's thing.

Benjamin walked up to Madelyn and said in a low voice, "I didn't want to meet her. Mr. Bennett asked me to see her. He said that Eleanor was in a bad state."

Madelyn just listened indifferently.

Benjamin stroked her face and said, "It's normal for you to be angry. Eleanor threw my phone in the water, so I didn't call you."

Madelyn lowered her eyes and smiled softly.

She looked up at Benjamin and said, "Benjamin, are you explaining or telling a lie now?"

Benjamin frowned slightly.

A man like him with such a high status didn't need to explain anything to a woman, let alone be meek and subservient.

Madelyn smiled again.

"Are you sure you couldn't make a phone call? You just don't care about me enough! Benjamin, you and Eleanor have a falling out, but you still have a friendship because of your parents. You two still have sweet memories of your childhood. However, I, Madelyn, have nothing! Well, I'm just a sugar baby who sleeps with you."

...

Madelyn's eyes turned red as she said, but she tried her best to not cry.

She thought, "It's not worth crying for such a person!"

"You are not!"

Benjamin frowned deeply and wanted to touch Madelyn.

But Madelyn didn't let Benjamin touch her. She took a step back and looked at him.

She said softly yet firmly, "You are right. I am not! Benjamin, have you ever seen a sugar baby have to prepare meals, wear a tie, deliver your dry cleaning clothes, do housework, and run a bath for you?"

Chapter 128 Benjamin, Our Relationship Is Over!

The atmosphere was terrifyingly silent.

Madelyn directly told Benjamin about her thoughts. "No woman who just sleeps with you has to prepare a good meal and wait for you to go home every day. Benjamin, you can't humiliate me like this!"

Benjamin rolled his Adam's apple gently.

He didn't even know what he was enjoying made Madelyn so painful.

Benjamin stared at Madelyn with his deep eyes.

After a while, he whispered, "I didn't know you cared about it so much!"

Madelyn sneered.

She looked at Benjamin and said bluntly, "I just care about it. I just take it seriously! Benjamin, I'm just a sore loser, so what?"

Madelyn suddenly calmed down.

She said tiredly, "Benjamin, our relationship is over!"

Benjamin stared at Madelyn.

After a while, he said, "Just because of today's thing, you want to break up with me, don't you? Madelyn, do you think our relationship can be over if I don't want to?"

Madelyn's eyes turned red.

Madelyn certainly knew the answer.

She knew Benjamin's abilities very well. He didn't want to get married and could casually flirt with a woman he was interested in.

She thought, "I'm probably the most interesting woman he has ever seen, so he hasn't gotten tired of me until now! Bully for him! Fuck off!"

Madelyn clenched her fingers and tried her best to restrain herself.

She pretended to be indifferent and said, "It's okay to keep the relationship! If Mr. Clark needs to make love in the future, just call me, and I will be on call!"

Benjamin stared at Madelyn's face and said in a very soft tone, "If I need to vent my sexual desire, you will go to the apartment to sleep with me. Is that what you mean? Madelyn, are you going to move out of our home?"

After speaking, Benjamin took a step forward and pressed Madelyn against the TV stand. The TV screen showed their overlapping figures, making them look particularly intimate. Benjamin ran out of patience.

She hesitated for a moment and asked, "Madelyn, what do you think?"

Madelyn agreed with Penelope, because the operation of the Music Center was very mature, and the teachers were elites in the industry.

Madelyn knew it was a one-way bet, but...

She told Penelope the truth.

She said softly, "I fell out with Benjamin! So I can only take out 500 thousand dollars at most."

Penelope was not surprised.

She thought, "Benjamin broke the appointment last night, and it's normal they fell out. Moreover, his beloved woman is also back."

Penelope was very considerate and said, "It's okay as long as you agree! If we don't have the funds, we can raise funds. I'll be cheeky to flatter the investors, and we will definitely get the money."

Madelyn was very moved.

She was glad that there was such a person who helped her get rid of hardship in time when she was frustrated.

Madelyn said softly, "Don't worry, Penelope. I will also think of a way."

Penelope comforted Madelyn with a few more words, making Madelyn's heart not hurt that much.

Madelyn got up, called the hotel receptionist, and asked her to buy a set of clothes at the hotel mall. After washing up, Madelyn was about to go out.

She didn't trust the express delivery to send Daniel's and David's 800 thousand dollars safely.

She decided to return the money in person.

Madelyn drove to send David's check to the front desk of his company.

David was in a meeting.

When he got the check, Madelyn had already driven away.

David called Madelyn to complain, "Madelyn, don't you even give me a chance to have a meal with you?"

Madelyn had always treated David well.

She said in a gentle tone, "Next time, David. You can pick a time next time."

David stood in front of the floor-to-ceiling window of the 36th-floor office, playing with the blinds with slender fingers.

He said in a husky voice, "Madelyn, if you break up with him, please give me a chance, okay? I won't let you feel wronged."

Madelyn was silent.

She guessed that almost all the people in the high-society circle knew what had happened last night.

When Madelyn was upset, David said gently, "Take it easy, Madelyn! I just want to tell you that I'm waiting for you."

Chapter 129 Her Thriving Love Life

David James' love words were so sweet, no woman could reject him.

Madelyn's heart was in turmoil.

She couldn't even recall when or how she hung up the phone.

All she could remember was David's final words: "What's wrong with putting a little effort and time into chasing a girl? Madelyn, I've waited for you a long time, so I don't mind waiting a little longer."

Madelyn parked the car and gently stroked the steering wheel...

She didn't know how to reject David. After all, he had everything going for him and didn't need to wait for her.

She had been with Daniel Campbell for four years, and now she was seeing Benjamin Clark.

Madelyn knew that she could never be David's true love.

Sighing softly, she opened the door of the imposing Campbell Group building, the one place she never wanted to return.

Understandably, Madelyn didn't want to see Daniel. So she handed the check to the receptionist and said, "Please pass this on to Mr. Campbell."

The receptionist, who had been working at the Campbell Group for six years, recognized Madelyn immediately as Mr. Campbell's ex-girlfriend.

Outsiders believed that it was Mr. Campbell who had abandoned Ms. Green. But the rumor around at the Campbell Group that Mr. Campbell had changed his mind after getting engaged and tried to win her back, only to be rejected.

Mr. Campbell had gone mad recently!

The receptionist was polite and promised Madelyn, "Don't worry, Ms. Green. I'll make sure Mr. Campbell receives this." As soon as she finished speaking, she looked behind Madelyn.

"Mr. Campbell!"

Madelyn turned around slowly.

Daniel stood behind her, and nobody knew how long he had been there.

Madelyn said flatly, "Thank you for your kindness, Mr. Campbell. I appreciate it."

There was no need for any further pleasantries between them.

Madelyn turned to leave, but her hand was caught tightly by Daniel.

"Madelyn!"

His tone was urgent, as if he was afraid she would suddenly disappear.

Madelyn shook off his grip. "Daniel Campbell, have some self-respect!"

Daniel smiled bitterly.

back to retrieve her things.

Benjamin was at home on a weekday

She opened the door and walked in.

Benjamin was sitting on the sofa, dressed casually and reading a magazine, clearly not having gone to the office.

As soon as he saw Madelyn, flames flickered within his dark eyes.

He didn't say anything, probably waiting for her to speak first.

Madelyn felt uneasy.

She cleared her throat and said, "I come here to get my things."

Benjamin didn't pay any attention to her, he just continued reading his magazine. His aloof and indifferent attitude made Madelyn feel even worse.

She hurriedly went to the master bedroom to start packing.

As she packed, she realized that she didn't have much of her own things. Most of the clothes and skincare products were provided by Benjamin...

She didn't want to take them with her.

As a result, she quickly packed a small leather suitcase and carried it lightly, making it convenient to leave.

Before Madelyn could leave, Benjamin stopped her at the door and leaned in close to her.

He looked at her intently and said, "Ms. Green, have you forgotten something?"

Madelyn placed the keys on the bedside table.

Then she took out the bank card that he had given her, which had been unused for a long time but was still in her wallet, and gave it back to him...

Finally, she whispered, "The valuable jewelry and those clothes are still here. You can have your secretary check them."

Benjamin's face looked very angry.

He snorted lightly and said, "Don't you feed the dog downstairs anymore?"

Madelyn remembered the little white dog. She couldn't bear to leave it behind. Maybe she would come back and feed it secretly in the future!

But she said, "I won't feed it anymore! It doesn't recognize me!"

Benjamin remained silent.

Madelyn was ready to leave with her suitcase.

Benjamin stopped her at the door and lowered his head. His prominent nose was very close to her, so close that their breath mixed together...

Madelyn glanced downward.

She looked away and said, "If Mr. Clark needs me, just give me a call. I'll be there anytime."

Benjamin stared at her intently.

His gaze was one she had never seen before, angry and irritated!

After a moment, he suddenly relaxed and said with a sneer, "Ms. Green, you're an expert at getting people riled up!"

Chapter 130 Cleared the Nest for Them

Madelyn kicked Benjamin angrily, making him wince in pain.

She then grabbed her suitcase and tried to walk away, but Benjamin's long legs caught up with her just as she was about to open the door.

"Are you really leaving?" Benjamin asked, looking at her with a deep gaze.

Madelyn looked down, her voice soft. "Let me go!"

Lowering his head, Benjamin leaned in toward her, his tone becoming softer. "The Clarks' mansion has sent food over. Let's have a meal together."

But Madelyn knew this was his trick.

Benjamin always used tenderness to win over women, and it always worked.

Madelyn had once fallen for his "gentle love" again and again, only to find out later that he was playing around and she was the only one taking it seriously.

A self-deprecating smile emerged.

"I don't want to eat and there's no need!" she said in a firm tone.

Benjamin frowned slightly, but he didn't let go of her hand.

Suddenly, their conflict was interrupted by the doorbell ringing.

Madelyn knew who was at the door – who else but Eleanor Bennett?

She sneered, "Benjamin Clark, there are plenty of people who want to have a meal with you, there's no need to latch on to me!"

Benjamin's face twisted in disgust, and he finally released her hand.

Madelyn took a deep breath and opened the door.

As expected, Eleanor was standing outside with a gift.

She noticed Madelyn's suitcase and her eyes slanted innocently, like a fox.

"Ms. Green, I came to apologize," Eleanor said, her voice laced with guilt.

"It's my fault that you and Ben had a fight. I'm so sorry! "

"Did I... affect your relationship?"

...

Madelyn couldn't help but feel disgusted.

She swiftly grabbed her suitcase and marched towards the elevator, all while Benjamin called out "Madelyn!" in a displeased manner from behind.

Madelyn carried her luggage and drove to the small apartment she rented.

It may have been small, but it had everything she needed.

Quickly, she tidied up the place and added some daily necessities to make it feel more like home.

Over the following days, neither Madelyn nor Benjamin reached out to one another. There were no calls, no texts - nothing.

Madelyn gradually grew accustomed to being alone.

She kept herself occupied in the music room from dawn to dusk, and it was fulfilling.

A week later, Penelope's financing plan finally had a breakthrough.

A property developer named Lincoln Scott had agreed to invest 20 million into the project. Everything was going well, but he had one condition: he insisted on meeting with another partner.

Penelope shared her concerns with Madelyn, "What if he has ulterior motives?"

Regardless, they agreed to meet with Mr. Scott. To their surprise, he was extremely polite and kind, even inviting them to dinner.

He was quite the gentleman.

"Ms. Green, I've heard you're an excellent piano teacher. I have a daughter. If you don't mind, I'd like to bring her to you to see if she has any talent in piano. If she does, she can learn from you in the future."

Well, it sounded perfect.

Penelope gave Madelyn a wink.

Madelyn smiled and shook hands with Lincoln. "Thank you for your kind words, Mr. Scott. Actually, we should be treating you to dinner."

Lincoln was gracious and signed a precontract agreement on the spot.

Madelyn noticed the payment account was from a newly registered company called "Long Yearning."

Lincoln noticed her expression and smiled meaningfully..

He shook her hand once again and said, "Ms. Waylon, Ms. Green. My wife and I invite you to dinner on this Saturday. Please don't stand us up."

After that, Lincoln left.

As he sat in his car, he sent a Whatsapp message to Daniel: "It's done, my friend!"

Daniel responded immediately, "Thank you, Lincoln. I'll treat you to dinner tonight."

...

After seeing off Lincoln, Penelope kissed the contract several times.

She said, "Mr. Scott probably only came to see us because of his daughter. Madelyn, you're the hero of our music studio this time!"

Madelyn ground coffee beans and brewed two cups of coffee.

She handed one cup to Penelope.

Madelyn frowned.

For some reason, she felt like the deal was progressing too smoothly... or unnaturally smooth.

Suddenly, David called.

"Madelyn, care to take me to dinner?" His voice boomed through the phone.
