

Chapter 130

Half an hour later.

The Graham's.

Milo Graham saw Leon and directly pulled Leon to play chess.

Leon didn't refuse and followed Milo to the study.

Watching her husband being dragged away by her grandpa, Alyssa simply sat down and ate the fruit.

Azul took a closer look at Alyssa and found that she had not only gained some weight but also looked good. She came over to Alyssa and asked softly, "It seems that your grandfather has a good eye. Mr. Hunter has taken good care of you."

Looking at her mom's expression, Alyssa was a little surprised, "Mom, you don't think I don't like Leon?"

Azul smiled and said, "I didn't think that much. I'm just worried that you'll get upset. You've been spoiled by us since you were little and you're a bit arrogant. Because of that, you don't have many good friends. I'm just worried that your personality will make you suffer. As for feelings, I was very relieved when you came over last time."

"That was the old me. Mom, don't worry. I have grown up a long time ago."

Alyssa came up to Azul, "I'm going to tell you a secret. After you know this secret, you will definitely be more relieved about my relationship with Leon."

"What secret?" Azul looked down at her daughter and vaguely sensed something. Before Alyssa could say anything, she asked, "Have you had your period this month?"

Her mother guessed it instantly.

She didn't need to say anything, and her mother already knew what was going on.

Thinking of this, Alyssa suddenly felt a little embarrassed and smiled with her head down.

As a woman, Azul naturally understood Alyssa's meaning. She immediately stood up. She was so happy that she was even a bit overwhelmed, "I'll ask them to add a few more dishes. You do not move, wait for me here. I have a lot of things to tell you."

Her daughter was pregnant.

As soon as she saw her daughter's expression, she knew what was going on.

There was no need to ask more questions!

Azul hurriedly went to ask the maid to prepare more of Alyssa's favorite food.

Once a woman was pregnant, there were two people taking in nutrients. There was definitely a need to eat more.

Azul got involved in the kitchen herself.

Watching her mother, who rarely cooked, talk to the maid for so long and then do it herself, Alyssa couldn't help but smile.

In her previous life, she would have been indifferent if she had seen this scene.

But this life was different.

Alyssa only felt a special warmth.

She also cherished what her mother did for her.

In her last life, her mother had also cooked for her personally, but she had never cherished it.

She suddenly wanted to say a lot of things to her mom. So, she got up and went to the kitchen.

Seeing that Alyssa had come to the kitchen, Azul hurried out and said sternly, "I told you to sit and wait for me, didn't I? Why are you coming here? The kitchen is full of fumes of cooking fires. You get out!"

Alyssa hugged her mother directly, "I want to ask you so many things. How can I tell you if you're in there?"

She didn't want her mom to see what was on her mind, so she said it naturally.

She blinked her big eyes like she really had so many questions to ask.

Azul, naturally, didn't notice the cherished look in Alyssa's eyes as she hugged her.

Soon they went to the room. Azul was a little excited and asked Alyssa a lot of questions.

After hearing her mother's words, Alyssa realized that her pregnancy had been too hasty.

She should find a good day, one that could confirm whether she was having a boy or a girl ...

She thought ... that it was kind of funny.

Alyssa then really laughed.

Azul was a little embarrassed, "Be serious! Pregnancy is a very important thing."

"I think both boys and girls are fine. I love my child as long as it's from Leon and me."

"That's true! Even though you're a girl, I've never heard your father say anything bad about it."

Hearing this, Alyssa felt even more guilty.

Not only did her father never think girls were bad, but grandpa had never been patriarchal either.

She came up to her mother and whispered, "I'll definitely repay you, dad, and grandpa in the future, okay?"

"We don't need you to repay us anything. We are only worried that you won't like the husband we choose for you. But your grandfather said Leon was the best choice. Our family had no business with the Hunters. But the Hunters seemed to want to do commercial trade, so your grandfather meant that because of that, the Hunters would probably depend on our family. With that selfish purpose, they won't treat you badly. Others might not."

Alyssa's heart warmed.

So that was what grandpa had thought in the first place.

He stood in the Hunters' shoes, thinking of what the Hunters needed.

But in fact, he only wanted to find her someone who could spoil her, even if it was only materially, which was what grandpa wanted to see.

She really enjoyed all the love and didn't even know it.

"Alyssa, you're pregnant now, so you and Leon ..."

"We're fine. Don't worry, mom."

Azul smiled and said, "That's good, as long as you guys are fine. So do you feel any discomfort now?"

Alyssa shook her head, "No."

She wouldn't say that because she didn't have any reaction to being pregnant, she had tested several times.

The results were all the same. The two obvious red lines proved that she was indeed pregnant.

Azul nodded, "That's good! I didn't feel much during the first three months of my pregnancy, but after three months, I felt quite hard. At that time, I really didn't want you. But when I went to the hospital for a checkup and saw those beautiful babies, I kept you anyway."

"Did you regret having me?"

"How could I! You are so well-behaved now. I feel so happy."

Azul really felt she was happy.

Her daughter had a child now. Nothing could be happier than that.

They talked for a while longer.

Dinner.

Jalen Graham came back too.

They sat at the table and ate dinner.

Alyssa was in a good mood and had a good appetite. She ate twice as much as usual.

Milo squinted his eyes and peeked at Leon, who nodded at him, and Milo smiled while eating.

Azul was also happy to see Alyssa eat a lot. She had made what Alyssa liked to eat today. Pregnant women should eat more.

Seeing that Alyssa ate a lot, Jalen was confused.

Alyssa used to keep saying that she wanted to lose weight. Why did she suddenly eat so much now?

Thinking about it, he felt that his daughter was definitely not full at the Hunters.

He put down his chopsticks and looked at Alyssa, but said to Leon, "You don't eat much normally. Today you came home and ate so much. Do you have no delicious meals at your home?"

Alyssa understood what her dad meant immediately. Had she eaten so much?

She looked up at her dad with embarrassment and explained with a smile, "I haven't had a meal from home for a long time."

"You can talk to your maid at home if you want to eat anything. Could it be that they don't make it for you?" Jalen looked at Alyssa and always felt that his daughter had lost weight.

To be continued