

Chapter 132

Aunt Liu footsteps, behind their backs secretly gritted her teeth and scolded herself for being so uninteresting, not coming sooner or later, but coming at this particular time.

Knowing that Mr. and Mrs. are alone in the study, a couple of handsome men and women alone in the middle of the night in a secret room, must be doing something shameful, why did she come to deliver supper?

Is the snack any good?

Aunt Liu blushed and walked back in awkwardly.

"Sir, ma'am, I'll bring up some supper for you."

She smiled stiffly, her gaze falling on Jenny who was still being pressed by Biden Lu to sit on her lap, only to see her raising her hands to cover her face, her whole back to her burying her head in the man's bosom, looking like she owed death to the Valley of Shame.

The smile on her face deepened and her eyes held a hint of relief as she placed the tray in her hands on the table beside her.

Biden Lu didn't say anything else, but only instructed, "Don't just come in when my wife and I are alone in the room from now on."

"Ah, yes! Yes! I get it."

"Well, go on down."

"Yes."

Aunt Liu turned around and went out, that back, that pace, simply incomparably cheerful, if you do not know the inside story, thought she had won five million like the lottery.

It was even very thoughtful to close the door for them as they left.

Biden Lu withdrew his gaze and lowered his eyes to look at the little woman in his arms.

s*xxy thin lips quirked up, eyes full of laughter.

“Still hiding?The people are gone.”

Jenny revealed her eyes and stole a glance at the doorway, seeing that Mrs. Chen was really gone, even with the door closed, before she was relieved and lifted her head up.

“It’s all your fault!”

She swung her fist at the man’s shoulder, ashamed and angry.

Biden Lu laughed out in a low voice, “Well, blame me.”

This spoiled and pleasant look of his, instead of Jenny’s empty anger, made him unable to lash out.

Just stared at him with one beautiful eye open.

Biden Lu has taken advantage of the situation tonight and is in a good mood, so he doesn’t want to tease her anymore, lest he really pisses people off if he teases her too hard.

So I squeezed her tiny soft waist and asked, “Are you hungry?”

Don’t tell me that although Jenny had eaten dinner in the evening, he was busy with work, so he had only eaten a few bites hastily and was really hungry now.

But to think that I was just angry with him and have a score to settle with him for the stolen k*ss.

It would be too embarrassing to eat his food right now.

As if the man could see what was in her heart, the smile in his eyes deepened, and he held up the corners of his lips in pleasure.

"I'm hungry, eat some with me?"

Jenny's guilty eyes darted around, but eventually, she still managed to hold on to her bottom and agreed, "Fine, for the sake of you asking me to accompany you, I'll just eat a little with you!"

Biden Lu smiled and didn't care, releasing her to take her hand and walking over.

There were two bowls of seafood porridge on the table, both colorful and delicious.

Jenny had felt just a little hungry earlier, but now that she smelled such fragrant porridge, her stomach growled with hunger.

The air was quiet for a moment.

Her expression stiffened as she looked up at Biden Lu and smiled awkwardly.

"That...you heard wrong, there's a toad outside!"

Biden Lu taboo nodded, "Well, it's a toad call."

Yet the undisguised teasing and laughing banter in those eyes was clearly telling her that he'd heard her already, that it was her stomach that was screaming.

Jenny wanted to scratch the wall in shame.

The good thing is that as long as you shamelessly pretend you didn't see his face, the man won't reveal it, and the two finally finished their snack in peace, Jenny was satisfied.

She took the initiative to clean up the dishes and bring them down, and when she came back, Biden Lu had already gone into the bathroom to take a shower.

Jenny randomly picked up a fashion magazine leaning on the bedside to look through, the magazine is this issue of the new issue, it contains her favorite amy master out of the new models.

After all, it's an internationally famous designer and hired international models, so naturally the length is huge.

Jenny Jing casually flipped through a few pages, his gaze suddenly pause.

The only thing that was published in the magazine was Hershey Kwan's photo.

Guan Xue Fei, entertainment circle clear general goddess, high education, high face value, high origin.

As the only daughter of the Guan family, one of the four families in Kyoto, she was blessed with the advantage of being a graduate of a prestigious foreign school with several degrees in her hands, yet she was obsessed with acting and preferred to become an actress.

Perhaps limited by age, the acting is not top-notch, but it is outstanding among other actresses of the same age.

At the very least, it has starred in several big hits and won an international award for the art film it appeared in last year.

What's even more remarkable is that she, whose fame is already skyrocketing, is usually very friendly and low-key, and has never had any scandal or any spiteful black spots in her seven-year debut.

This is a perfect existence.

Jenny recalled what Biden Lu had said before, and it was hard to believe that she was actually just an adopted daughter of the Guan family.

She didn't know much about the Guan family, but she did know that the couple was very close, and Mrs. Guan, as one of the most famous painters of this era, would often attend various public events, and Jenny had occasionally seen her on television a few times before.

It was a woman of supreme beauty and gentle temperament.

Although her face had the frost etched into it over the years, it didn't detract from her beauty at all, but rather added a bit of charm to it.

Such a man must be good at producing children!

Suddenly recalling the previous misunderstanding, Jenny absently laughed.

It wasn't that there was a total lack of mustache, but since he had already chosen to believe him, there was no reason to be imaginative.

Thinking so, she put the magazine aside and didn't look at it again.

A few days later.

Visterdem received its first light snowfall since the start of spring.

The snowflakes were so small that they turned to water when they landed on your fingertips, and they were obviously much warmer than the goose feather snow of years past.

But spare a thought, it's still easy to catch a cold in the already warm and cold early spring.

Jenny, for example, got sick straight away because of this sudden snowfall.

"Sir, Mrs. is just having a cold, it's nothing serious, you don't have to be so nervous."

Looking at Biden Lu, who had been sullen since morning and hadn't shown any hint of a smile, Aunt Liu kindly persuaded him.

Biden Lu looked at her, his face still not too good, and walked straight to the doctor who was treating Jenny Jing, asking, "How is she?"

The doctor even stood up and replied respectfully, "It's just a little cold, just take some medicine and rest more."

Biden Lu's face only slightly eased a little at this.

After the doctor went out to prescribe medicine, Jenny looked at him and couldn't help but laugh, "I've said it's fine, just you making a fuss, it's just a little cold, you look like this people still think I'm what's wrong."

Biden Lu glared at her, "You still have the nerve to say that? Who was it last night that didn't listen to the advice to stay out in the cold in the middle of the night?"

Jenny stumbled, feeling a little guilty for a moment.

Chapter 133

In fact, it's also because it's been so busy for such a long time, it's been hard to get everything done in the last two days and the tight strings have loosened.

It just so happened that it snowed yesterday, after dinner Jenny would pull Biden Lu in the courtyard walk, but also blew a cool breeze for a while, did not expect to be sick.

She knew she didn't dare speak again.

When the doctor has dispensed the medication and brought it in, take it.

Biden Lu saw her usually a lively face, but now it was full of wan expressions, knowing that she was uncomfortable and didn't say anything more.

Let her rest well at home, and ordered the aunt Liu to take good care of a few people, before going out.

Jenny was dizzy and lay at home for half a day until noon, when his condition finally improved, but there was a loud noise coming from downstairs.

Jenny was surprised.

As Biden Lu's private residence in Jin City, Lu Garden has always had very few outsiders in the house, except for the servants.

And the maids knew she liked silence and would not make such loud noises.

Who's here?

She was up to the point where Aunt Liu came running in in a panic.

"Ma'am, it's not good."

Jenny frowned, "What's happened? Why is it so noisy downstairs?"

Aunt Liu had a very embarrassed expression on her face, "It's the aunt coming over."

Jenny was stunned.

Biden Lu had an aunt, Lu Lanzhi, who knew about it.

It is said that when Biden Lu's parents died unexpectedly young, it was this aunt who brought him up.

It was reasonable to say that such a relationship should be extremely close, but for some reason, after being together for so long, she had never even heard Biden Lu mention this aunt of his.

Even the existence of this person was something that Jenny had accidentally learned about from somewhere else.

As she changed, she asked, "What's wrong with her coming over? You look as if you're on the verge of a great battle."

Aunt Liu did get a little nervous.

"You don't know, this aunt is not a person to be messed with, every time she comes over, she always picks out some fault, everyone is mindful of her kindness to the gentleman, she doesn't dare to say anything, but she also doesn't dare to take it lightly just."

Jenny nodded, not saying anything else.

After changing, I was just about to go downstairs when I heard a woman's loud yelling from downstairs.

"How do you do things? Is this the kind of tea you usually give young master? Did young master normally treat you too well and cause you to forget the rules?"

Jenny frowned and stepped down.

I saw a middle-aged woman in a white dress in the living room, reprimanding several servants.

And on the floor in front of him lay a shattered celadon teapot with tea scattered all over the floor, disheveled.

The maids bowed their heads, not daring to speak, while a few steps away from the door, there was another person standing in the Hermitage.

Jenny raised his eyebrows, very surprised.

"What's going on?"

She walked down slowly, and the maids, hearing her voice, thrilled as if they had seen a savior.

The woman standing in the living room, naturally, noticed her presence.

Her brow furrowed in displeasure, she asked, "Who are you?"

Aunt Liu was busy coming forward to explain.

"Aunt, this is the young lady."

Lu Lanzhi became even more unhappy after hearing this, her eyebrows furrowed into a Sichuan frown, and she examined Jenny with a searching and wary gaze.

Jenny Jing curled her lips and smiled, falling back and extending her hand.

"Hello, my name is Jenny, just call me Jenny if you don't mind."

Unexpectedly, the other snorted.

"So you're the little b*tch that Biden raised in Visterdem, I thought you were some kind of great goods, but it's nothing more than that! Gee, look at what you're wearing. Picked it up from the street? The beggars on the side of the road are better dressed than you, aren't they?"

Jenny originally wore her housecoat at home, but only just now, when she learned that someone was coming, did she casually grab a shirt to change into.

It wasn't really bad clothes, Biden Lu has always been reluctant to begrudge her in this regard, the cloakroom at home was almost as big as someone's three-room room, but she was used to wearing it comfortably at home.

The bedroom was prepared with some light loungewear that she favored, and it wasn't particularly cheap, a few hundred dollars a set, with comfortable fabrics and simple styles that she liked.

But in Lu Lanzhi's eyes, it became a street vendor that even beggars couldn't compare to.

Jenny smiled and didn't want to explain anything, after all, the other party was Biden Lu's elder, and she, as Biden Lu's wife, was more or less less unwilling to cause friction with her.

When Lu Lanzhi saw her silence, she just assumed she was afraid and snickered again.

"I heard you've been with us Jenny for a while? It's not easy for you, a small family to climb up to Biden, it must have taken a lot of effort. Only some things aren't what your kind can dream of after all, don't you think, Sheffield?"

Lu Lanzhi turned to Guan Xuefei, who was standing a short distance away.

Guan Xuefei smiled and walked up holding her handbag with a gentle smile, "Aunt Lu, you're joking again."

Her voice is extremely nice, the whole person behaves gently and quietly, and the smile on her face always maintains a gentle and polite, one cannot help but feel good about her.

Especially when standing next to the arrogant Lu Lanzhi, the more she was able to set off her outstanding temperament, gentle and calm.

Lu Lanzhi unhappily left her mouth, "You ah, just too introverted, what's on your mind mouth will never say it, if not, Biden would have been with you long ago, and what's the matter with those little vixens outside?"

She bites a b*tch vixen and everyone knows who the curses are.

Some people can't help but be a little bit angry, after all, Jenny and Biden Lu is a ripped off, the name of the couple, to the family's servants have always been very good, never treat them harshly, usually if there is anything, will try to help, everyone is very convinced of her.

At this time, but suddenly being pointed at and scolded like this, anyone would feel uncomfortable.

However, Jenny only smiled faintly, as if he hadn't heard, and ordered the maid to sweep up the residue on the floor and make new tea over again.

"I didn't know Auntie and Miss Kwan were coming over, sorry for the delay! Ah Shen doesn't like to drink tea at home, so the tea you just drank is what I usually use to pass the time, this pot is a good puerh, you try it first."

She said, pouring a glass for each of them herself.

After half a day of sour words from Lu Lanzhi, she didn't react at all, like a fist hitting soft cotton, not a little weak.

With a grunt, he lifted his glass and took a sip.

In the next second, I heard a scream, and the cups flew towards her with a swish.

"Bastard! You're giving me something so hot to drink, are you trying to scald me?"

Chapter 134

Everyone was shocked.

You know, that's scalding hot tea, even a little bit of it will bubble, let alone a whole cup thrown directly on a person?

Everyone looked nervously towards Jenny, but they saw that she had flinched and stood to the side, unharmed, while the teacups fell against the opposite wall, shattering everywhere.

That was a relief to everyone.

Looking at Lucian again, it couldn't be more depressing.

Jenny was also a little angry.

She respects Lu Lanzhi and doesn't want to fight her because she has raised Biden Lu.

But that doesn't mean that she can do whatever she wants in front of herself and target herself again and again with no boundaries.

She lowered her face and said in a deep voice: "Aunt is still in her thirties and forties no matter what, doesn't she even understand the reasoning behind waiting for the tea to cool down before drinking it?"

You are blaming the person who pours the tea when all the kindergarteners understand what you don't. Are you playing with all your fingers in your eyes? You can't see the white steam coming out of the top or feel the temperature? Do you have to wait until it's in your mouth to know it's hot?"

Lu Lanzhi had never thought that Jenny would say that.

As Lu's youngest daughter, she didn't enjoy flattery and praise wherever she went, when had she ever been so angry?

And now, this woman in front of her, daring to call her names?

And you say she's worse than a kindergartener?

God, who gave this woman the nerve? Does she even know who she is?

Not only Lu Lanzhi, but also Guan Xuefei and a group of maids beside her were stunned.

Simply incomparably admired Jenny's courage.

You know, in the absence of parents, Lu Lanzhi is likely to take on the role of mother to Biden Lu on some level.

If that were true, then Lu Lanzhi would be Jenny's mother-in-law!

How dare you speak so rudely to your mother-in-law....

Admire!

Lu Lanzhi was going crazy with anger and screamed, "What are you! How dare you lecture me? Do you know that I raised Biden since he was a kid? Just say the word, and you'll never appear here again!"

"Just because I know that Ah Shen was brought up by you, I've always been polite to you, but in this world, it's not that if you're polite to others, they know to respect you as well, there are always some people who are arrogant and domineering in other people's territory by virtue of their own favors, and since that's the case, I don't think I need to tolerate it anymore."

"You! You-!"

Lu Lanzhi pointed at her and said two words "you" in a row, her face was so red with anger that she didn't say the rest of her words.

Guan Xuefei frowned at the sight of her and stepped forward to help her.

"Aunt Lu, are you all right?"

It took Lu Lanzhi a long while to get that breath back, pointing at Jenny and nodding her head repeatedly.

“Good, so good! It’s the first time I’ve ever met anyone who dared to talk to me like that, you wait! I do, who does Biden choose between me and you?”

After saying that, Lu Lanzhi left with Guan Xuefei in a rage.

A group of servants were so frightened into silence that they didn’t dare to speak out.

It wasn’t until the sound of the car engine outside had gone far away that Aunt Liu squared up to Jenny and worriedly said, “Madam, I’m afraid the aunt won’t let up if she leaves in such a fury, you...”

Jenny Jing slightly dropped his eyes for a moment and said in a soft voice, “Let her go!”

She didn’t get to where she is today by flattering and sucking up to anyone.

She would observe the most basic courtesies between people, but if the other person insisted on leaning on the old man, there was no way she would let them have their way.

Whoever it is!

“But...over there, sir...”

Aunt Liu was worried.

Jenny smiled faintly.

“If he doesn’t trust me with that, then what’s the point of the conjugal name?”

Finish and leave straight away.

Only a bewildered Aunt Liu was left standing there.

Other side.

LU.

The door of the president's office was heavily pushed open, Biden Lu frowned, and when he raised his eyes, he saw a gorgeous Lu Lanzhi walking in with Guan Xuefei.

"Aunt Lu, Brother Biden is working, we..."

"Xuefei, don't stop me, that woman dared to do that to me, shouldn't I come to Biden for an explanation? I had to find him today!"

As they said that, they walked up to Biden Lu.

Biden Lu stood up, looked at Vicky who looked anxious at the door but didn't dare to stop him, then withdrew his gaze and set his eyes on Lu Lanzhi in front of him.

A smile blossomed on his handsome face as he asked, "Aunt, when did you come over?"

Lu Lange was dressed in a white Chanel suit and looked charming despite being over forty years old.

Just being angry at this point really affected her a bit.

She took a deep breath and didn't answer Biden Lu's question, but directly got to the point and asked, "Biden, what's going on with you? Kyoto introduced you to so many famous girls, but you don't even like them, and you picked this one! What was so good about her that you had to marry her?"

Biden Lu was stunned, then his face sank.

"You've been to Land Park?"

When Lu Lanzhi saw that not only did he not answer his question, but instead asked himself in an extremely serious tone, he became even more angry.

"What? I can't go to Luk Yuen because it's a hidden treasure? I just went what? Biden Lu, what kind of drugs did that woman give you? So that you can talk to your aunt in that tone?"

She said, and her eyes grew red with aggravation.

The resentment towards Jenny grew even deeper.

In the meantime, Guan Xue Fei saw the situation, her eyebrows knitted together, and she gently reassured Lu Lanzhi.

"Aunt Lu, don't say that, Brother Biden has always treated you with the utmost respect, everyone knows that, doesn't he?"

She said, looking towards Biden Lu and giving him a quiet wink.

But Biden Lu was right to ignore it.

"Aunt, Jenny is not the goods, nor is she that kind of woman, she is my wife, Lu Yuan is her home, you came to Visterdem without coming to the company to find me first, you had to come to the door to find her trouble, can't you blame someone else for being wronged?"

He had softened his tone, but Lu Lanzhi was refuting his anger after hearing it.

"Biden Lu!What are you talking about?What do you mean Land Park is her home?That's your place!It's the landlord's territory!Why should she, a woman who is nothing, lord it over there..."

"Auntie!"

Saying the words that Biden Lu had just sunk his face, this time, it could be truly serious.

With a cold face, he looked at Lu Lanzhi and said in a deep voice, "I reiterate for the last time, she is my wife!"

Lucian: "..."

Guan Xue Fei saw that the atmosphere between them was not right and even came out to round things up.

"Brother Biden, Auntie is just angry, that's why she's like this, don't take it to heart, and just now..."

She bit her lip and spoke with some difficulty, "Miss Jing is indeed a bit aggressive, of course, I'm not saying that she's bad, but my aunt is her elder after all, no matter what, she can't say those words!"
