

Chapter 1341-Yvonne noticed how Grandma Bailey eyed Guy, thus she gave him a nudge.

"Hello, Grandma Bailey," he finally greeted. "I'm Yvonne's husband."

Grandma Bailey looked at Guy from head to toe before she nodded with satisfaction. "Well, well, well..."

Faye was pouring tea for everyone as she glanced at the guests that came so abruptly. She then realized that they must have been sent by the mysterious woman.

Wonderful!

She shot Charmine a sneaky glance. According to what she knew, the man she had an affair with was still in the room in the backyard, busy working on something.

If Charmine went out to meet that man, Faye could lead them all to catch them in action!

That was what she planned, at least, but Charmine was talking to Grandma Bailey that she probably would not visit that man.

Faye grew desperate. The guests might leave if she did nothing about it!

Faye pursed her lips, but as she was about to contact the woman...

Charmine's phone rang just as she was chatting with Grandma Bailey. She picked up to see a text from Eddie.

[Come over! Now! Help!!!] What happened? Was Eddie in danger?

Charmine looked worried as she turned off her phone and said to Anthony, "I'm going to the bathroom."

Anthony looked at her and nodded.

Charmine then stood up and walked to the backyard.

Faye triumphantly stared as she walked away.

Was she going to look for that man?

For safety's purposes, she did not want to make a fool out of herself. She followed behind her secretly and saw Charmine was indeed walking to the room in the backyard!

Internally leaping in joy, Faye turned back to the living room right away and hurriedly said to Anthony, "Anthony, it's Charmine! She-"

Anthony squinted. "What about her?" "She's with another man! They're cheating behind you!"

Anthony's eyes turned dark. "Mind your words!"

Grandma Bailey seemed irked at her. "Who are you? What are you talking about?"

Faye donned an innocent demeanor. "I'm telling the truth! I saw it with my own eyes that she's seeing another man in the backyard room. The man is even staying in this compound! If you don't believe me, we can go and look now!"

Anthony frowned, but he stood up and walked out regardless.

The skeptical Grandma Bailey walked out as well, followed by the rest of the guests.

Was Charmine this kind of person? They had to see on their own.

Meanwhile...

Eddie was fixing the design diagrams in the resting lounge when a python's head suddenly reached out from the ceiling.

Inherently a scaredy-cat, he feared animals that crawled, especially pythons.

His instant reaction was usually to scream and run, but he remembered that Charmine asked him to hide himself.

Thus, he tried to curl up in the corner and, with shaky hands, texted Charmine.

He shivered in terror until he heard footsteps.

When the door was opened, Eddie looked as if he saw his savior. He did not hesitate to hug Charmine tightly.

"Charmine, I'm terrified! You have pythons here! That scared me!"

Charmine looked at the python on top of the ceiling and squinted.

This python could not have slithered its way into this room. Someone placed it there!

Charmine then recalled the malicious expression Faye had on her. Was this one of her doings?

How childish.

Just as the thought occurred to her, footsteps were suddenly heard.

Her heart sank as she looked at Eddie who clung to her.

As expected, in the next second, everyone walked toward them, and Anthony was the one ahead!

Chapter 1342-Faye became smug when she saw both Charmine and Eddie in an embrace.

Perfect! Charmine was done for. She dared hug this man in broad daylight!

"Look, Brother Anthony, I didn't lie to you!" rambled Faye. "The truth is right in front of us!"

Anthony saw it too, how both of them hugged, and his beautiful face contorted into silent fury.

His Charmine was hugging another man!

Grandma Bailey and the rest were just as shocked.

What was this? Charmine...

Charmine pushed Eddie away and walked up to them.

"Anthony...hear me out."

Anthony tried his best to repress his anger, but his gaze remained fierce."

Speak.” He gave her a chance to explain herself.

“What’s there to explain, Charmine?” scoffed Faye. “I have another piece of evidence with me!”

With that said, she took out her phone and played the recording of their conversation.

“Charmine! I missed you!” “We used to stay up all night!” “Don’t forget me after getting a husband.”

“What if your husband finds out...”

The conversation sounded awfully flirtatious, and topped that with them embracing...

Everyone looked at Charmine in shock. They never thought Charmine would do such a thing!

Anthony looked at Charmine coldly. “You planned our wedding in front of us yet fool around with this man behind my back?”

What did he do for her? He tried his best to look for doctors to give her a secured future, all so she would not be heartbroken.

Grandma Bailey looked at Charmine with disappointment. “Charmine, you’ve disappointed me.” “How could you do this to Anthony, Charmine?” snapped Yvonne. “He’s treating you so well!”

She even married Guy for their sake, yet she did such a low blow!

How unbelievable!

Sherlyn and Tim, at that moment, exchanged glances and sighed in relief.

Luckily, Guy married Yvonne, luckily, or the Grangers would be the joke of the town if he married a woman like Charmine!

Faye kept her phone and looked at Charmine triumphantly.

Charmine swept her steely gaze from Faye to Anthony. She was going to say something when Eddie, who was behind her, finally put two and two together.

Did they think Charmine was cheating with him?

Eddie found it absurd, and he pulled Charmine behind him and said, “You guys got it all wrong!”

Anthony glared at him, “Do you have the right to speak here?” “Anthony...”

Charmine pulled at his hand.

Eddie flew in from Italy to help her, and the last thing she wanted for him to face was rebuke!

Anthony’s fury-filled eyes grew intense as he stared into her eyes. Was she protecting this guy?

Eddie felt the atmosphere getting out of control, thus he came forward and asserted, “Fine, stop talking. Let me explain.” “The truth is right in front of us,” scoffed Faye. “What’s there to explain?” Eddie was always a friendly and enthusiastic individual who made friends with everyone he met, but the moment he looked at the woman before him, he frowned in disgust and wanted her to have a piece of his mind.

Chapter 1343-“Who are you to speak here? Do you even belong here? I’m not explaining to you, so get out if you don’t want to hear!”

Faye paled at his words and dared say nothing else.

The evidence was right before them. She wanted to see what lie he could pull out to mask it all.

Eddie turned to Anthony and began, “You’re Charmine’s husband, right?”

He was only met with Anthony’s steely gaze.

“Hurry and explain!” Yvonne pestered. She was afraid that Anthony might burn him before he could get a word out.

He even called Charmine’s name so flirtatiously! How daring!

“Fine, fine.”

Eddie looked at everyone and explained, “We’re not what you think. I’m a small suit-designer, Eddie.”

As he feared no one would believe him, he handed out his name card as he spoke.

Everyone frowned in shock.

Eddie? The most famous suit designer from Italy, Eddie!?

He was a child prodigy who taught himself skills and made a name for himself internationally later down the line. Rumor had it that a suit he made was sold at 80 million!

Someone even spent a billion to have him make a suit!

The man in front of them was a world-renowned suit designer, Eddie?

Everyone looked at him in shock and disbelief. This famous designer stood right in front of them...and Charmine had an affair with this man?

Eddie continued to explain, “I’m one year younger than Charmine, but I always see her as a sister. We have a close bond because I was once tricked and got wasted. At my lowest, I attempted to end myself every time, but Charmine saved me. Heck, she even invested in my studio. She could spot the problems in my design, and with her support and guidance, she made me. All my dreams and success are thanks to her.”<sup>1</sup> He gazed at Charmine proudly and gratefully as he relayed the truth, much to everyone’s bewilderment.

They looked at Charmine with disbelief. She was a mentor to this internationally renowned suit designer, and Eddie was successful because of her?

Everyone looked at Charmine from disgust to awe.

They knew Charmine was always impressive; they just did not expect her to be so versatile...

Grandma Bailey looked at Charmine and, knowing her, believed Eddie’s side of the story.

Faye stood by the side, and her face turned pale.

Who would have thought that Charmine and this man were just friends?

Still, she could still twist it all around to her favor, could she not?

Faye smiled coldly. 'You don't have any evidence, so you can say anything! Who knows what you two did behind our backs? If you're merely friends, why would you hug so tightly?'

Everyone had just started to believe in both Charmine and Eddie again when they were brought back into doubt.

True, they did hug, and the recording sounded very flirtatious...

If they were merely friends, why would they speak this way? If they were normal friends, why would she have to hide him?

Charmine looked at Faye coldly.

It seemed that she came prepared this time! How could she explain this? 1 Eddie and her were merely close friends, much like siblings. Eddie was also asexual but did not want anyone to find out about that bit, so it was natural Charmine would not air that piece of information.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1344-While Charmine tried to come up with a better reason, Eddie stepped up to the plate. "I clung to her in horror and out of reflex because a python appeared in my room out of the blue. Also, I'm asexual."

Charmine instantly turned to him, wide-eyed. He was brave enough to out himself like that, just to explain for her!

Eddie reassured her with a look and said, "If you don't believe me, I can show you my report!"

He then went into the room and opened his luggage to take out the report.

Everyone then eyed the report that stated, [Asexuality.] A person with no sexual feeling toward any gender.

Everyone looked at Eddie in shock. This perfect-looking man was asexual!

That meant there was nothing between Charmine and him...

Charmine looked at Eddie. "I'm sorry to have involved you in this mess." "It's okay, I'm glad that's out of my chest. Furthermore, you've helped me so much, and this is nothing in comparison to what you've done for me." Eddie reassured her and said to Anthony, "Anthony, I hope you don't blame Charmine. She didn't want me to be seen because she was planning a little surprise for you. In the past two days, we've been designing a suit for you."

Anthony's heart sank the moment he heard Eddie's explanation. He then looked at Charmine with disbelief.

Charmine invited Eddie to design him a suit as a surprise while he so foolishly wronged her?

Goodness, gracious...

He guiltily looked at Charmine and, after a moment, muttered, "I was wrong, Charmine." "Don't worry about it," she dismissed it.

She was inconsiderate, anyway. Sure, she was friends with Eddie, but anyone else would have misunderstood that they looked more than friends.

None of them thought that it was all a misunderstanding.

"I'm sorry to have blamed you, Charmine," apologized Yvonne as she recalled what she accused her of. 1 "Charmine, we were misdirected. Please don't take what we said seriously," Grandma Bailey added remorsefully.

"It's okay. As long as it's all cleared up now."

With that said, Charmine glared at Faye coldly. She had ruined her perfect plan!

Faye sensed that things were already out of hand, and she tried to leave.

Charmine glared at her back and snapped, "What? You caused trouble and are trying to leave now?"

Everyone then turned to look at Faye, instantly recalling how it was she who brought them out here and misdirected them.

They would not have misunderstood Charmine if it was not for her!

Faye, on the other hand, acted as if she heard nothing and continued to walk out, but Guy obstructed her from leaving the room. "Ms. Jordan is talking to you." 2 Faye's face turned pale. She bit her lip and looked at Guy.

Yvonne thought of her plan and sneered, "How can you be so evil-hearted? You knew Charmine and Anthony are married, yet you keep trying to break them up.

What good does that do to you? Let me tell you: even if Anthony and Charmine are to divorce, he won't fall for you!" 1 Grandma Bailey scoffed at her, "You look so young, but you're so evil-hearted. If they didn't explain themselves, this would've turned out worse! Where did you come from? How dare you mess around here?" Faye was trapped where she stood as she clenched her fists tightly.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1345-Faye orchestrated everything for everyone to see, and Charmine should have been the one receiving the brunt of it all, not her!

What had she done wrong?

Charmine was the one flirting with that man behind their backs! She was acting weird!

Anyone would have thought so, and moments ago, they believed her. Why did they chide her all of a sudden?!

Everyone sided with Charmine already, and she had no way of defending herself. She could only purse her lips and repress her emotions. Her eyes looked red and pitiable. 1 Charmine glared at her coldly.

"Faye, how many times do I have to say this to you: my relationship with Anthony isn't something you can mess with! Even if we file for a divorce, you're not even up next! Instead of putting so much effort on tricking me, why don't you spend some time upgrading yourself?!" 1 Her voice was clear and filled with mockery, and it made Faye clench her fists tighter than her nails dug into her palms.

Her plan backfired, and Charmine was on to her.

She refused to give in!

Hearing what Charmine had said, Grandma Bailey took her hand worriedly. "What else has she done to you, Charmine?" "It's in the past," assured Charmine, "don't worry about it." "Sigh! I'm sorry that you met this kind of person." Grandma Bailey's heart went to Charmine as she decided, "Kick her out. Let her vanish on her own!" "We could call the police," offered Sherlyn. "She's breached the law, and she can be put to jail!"

Eddie crossed his arms as he looked at Faye with disgust. "I agree.

Charmine is hosting and caring for you. How can you be so heartless?"

Anthony walked to Charmine's side and took her hand, saying, "Why don't we take her to the police?"

Faye was an adult, and she had to be responsible for her actions and words.

She had tried to break Anthony and Charmine up. She had crossed the line many times!

Charmine frowned.

She did not want to see Faye anymore, but then there was Frank...

She was the only family he had left in the world. How could she send his only sister out through the door?

It did not help that Frank was about to get an operation.

Charmine turned to say to Anthony, "No need. When Frank is discharged, she'll go back to the bamboo forest with him." 2 None of them were pleased with that decision.

"Charmine, why would you keep someone like her by your side?" fretted Grandma Bailey.

Grandma Granger frowned as well. "Listen to us. You'll only cause yourself more trouble by keeping someone like her around you." "They're right, Charmine. She treated you so badly, and you're just going to let her off? This isn't your style!" Eddie was curious.

Charmine glanced at Faye coldly. "Frank is about to undergo the operation, and I don't want him to worry."

Everyone began to see it from her point of view.

Grandma Bailey held her hand fondly. "You're so kind, Charmine. You're my good granddaughter-in-law." "That's right!" beamed Eddie as he patted her shoulder. "My Charmine is cold on the outside and warm on the inside. She's very kind-hearted!"

Anthony glanced at him coldly, causing Eddie to let go of her shoulder and distanced himself from her.

Anthony's face softened.

Faye was only provoked as she heard them praising Charmine and scolding her.

She gnawed on her lip so harshly that it almost bled.

Did Charmine expect her to kneel to thank her?

Hmph!

“Who are you kidding, Charmine? I won’t thank you!”

Glaring at Charmine with reddened eyes, she cried and ran out.

No! She refused to accept this! She hated this!

She had to make this woman pay! She had to think of another way to take her down!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1346-Everyone stared at the retreating Faye, at a loss for words.

She did something wrong and still acted as if she was right?

How unacceptable!

It did not bother Anthony, however. All he thought of was how he misunderstood Charmine because of someone like Faye, and he was overridden with guilt. 2 He held Charmine’s hand and said gently, “Charmine, I’m truly sorry.”

She planned everything for him, yet he did not trust her.

Charmine looked at him and smiled with her ruby lips. “It’s okay. Just treat me nicer in the future.” “Okay.” Anthony wrapped his arm around her waist.

Eddie crossed his hands in front of his chest, “Hmm... It looks like you’ve found yourself a good husband, Charmine.”

Charmine glanced at him. “You don’t say.” “May I now walk around your villa without sneaking around?” asked Eddie.

“Sure,” said Charmine. “The surprise is ruined, anyway.”

Anthony hugged her. “To me, this is already a surprise.”

Charmine met his gentle eyes shyly, and they both walked back to the living room with her in his hold.

Faye was agitated-she did not expect things to take this turn.

She was all fired up to see Charmine getting ridiculed, yet it backfired on her instead. She became the joke.

She ran out of the villa and thought of the woman who planned this. She thus took out her phone and dialed her number.

The other side picked up, and that familiar cold voice was heard, “How did it go?”

Are they fighting yet?" "How dare you ask me that? I got exposed!" yapped Faye. "She's not cheating with the man; he's just a friend of hers! I was publicly criticized, and they almost kicked me out!"

Recalling how she got so many visitors to visit them altogether, Faye gritted her teeth and hissed, "I suggested last night to only have Anthony see that guy. Why did you want me to bring so many people to them?"

She would not have been scolded by many if it was not for this elusive woman.

She never faced such embarrassment ever since she was a child!

"Heh!" the woman scoffed. "You took my money, yet not only did you fail to get things done, but you're also blaming me?" Faye pursed her lips and dared not challenge her. She did use up the one million she had transferred to her bank account, after all.

She bought expensive clothes, skincare, bags, shoes, and lipsticks.

What if she agitated the woman and the woman wanted the money back?

Furthermore, she could not do anything to this woman. She did not even know a name to rat out!

She was the only one responsible for everything!

Faye pursed her lips and said, "I was too impatient."

The woman was calmer with that shift in tone. "It's a small matter. What's the hurry? This is just the start."

Faye paused. "What does that mean?"

Did she have something else in store?

She was a homeless rat, and no matter what idea this woman had, there was no use!

Anthony would not trust her anymore.

"Wait for my phone call," concluded the woman.

Faye bit her lips and nodded. "Okay."

Charmine tarnished her image so badly...and she would pay dearly for it.

Furthermore, Charmine would send her back to the bamboo forest once her brother recovered.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1347-Faye never wanted to return to the bamboo forest for the rest of her life.

Since she had a backer who could help her, she would fully utilize the chance she had. 2 Faye clenched her phone tightly as her gaze grew diabolical.

That night...

After dinner, the Grangers left to go home, and Grandma Granger insisted that Grandma Bailey come with them. "Why don't you come with us to look at how Yvonne is living?"

That was also the reason why Grandma Bailey came to visit Violet Residence in the first place, so she nodded. "Okay."

Before she left, however, she advised both Charmine and Anthony, "Charmine, Anthony, stop doubting one another, okay?"

Charmine nodded. "Okay." "Don't worry," replied Anthony gently.

Grandma Bailey looked around and, with Faye nowhere in sight, muttered, "Be careful around that woman. Don't listen to her."

Anthony nodded. "Okay." With that, Grandma Bailey left with the Grangers.

Eddie leaned on the sofa and urged, "Let's hurry, Charmine."

Anthony squinted. Did she have to isolate herself with him?

Charmine saw the look on Anthony's face, and with a smile, reached out to hold Anthony. "This time, all of us together."

There was no need for the element of surprise, anyway.

Anthony's expression grew amicable while Eddie sighed in relief. "Wonderful!

We don't have to hide anymore."

Only God knew how hard it was for him to hide around. He was a well-known designer, for goodness sake! Since when did he have to sneak around?

The incident with the python that afternoon still terrified him, too...

Eddie took the designing tablet and started altering it in the living room. This time, Charmine no longer had to guess Anthony's measurements- they could measure him right then and there!

She took a measuring ruler and stood before Anthony to measure his abdomen.

Anthony looked down at the woman in front of him. Her hair was soft, her eyes focused, her nose upright, and her lips sexy...

Her every feature tugged at his heart, and his mind drifted to the thought of their actual wedding day when Charmine would put on a wedding gown...

She would be the most beautiful woman in the world!

Charmine jotted down his measurements emotionally. Once Frank got discharged from the hospital, they would get married.

She could finally stand with him in public and declare herself, Charmine Jordan, as Anthony Bailey's lawful wife!

That day would soon come...

Charmine was still finalizing their future, measuring him and then telling Eddie his measurements.

Eddie, on the other hand, altered the design one last time.

When the design was done, he added colors to the diagram on the screen.

Charmine swept a glance at the colors and then at Anthony. The colors truly did suit his temperament.

When she thought of him in this suit, she could see him waiting for her at the end of the aisle... 1

Charmine felt her emotions welling up in her chest as she looked up at Anthony and said, "As promised, once Frank recovers, we'll get married."

Her words were bold, laced vaguely with anticipation.

Anthony looked at her gently. "Okay."

Charmine gazed at him, and her red lips curled into a satisfactory smile.

Meanwhile, Anthony's gaze dulled as emotions whirled beneath his irises.

Faye returned that night and saw Charmine and Eddie talking. Wordlessly, she removed her shoes. 1

Eddie scoffed, "How unashamed of her to come back. Her skin is thicker than my cow's skin!"

Faye bit her lips and pretended as if she did not hear him.

She had to hold it in. With the woman's help, she would be able to force Charmine away! 1 Her goal was Anthony; she would not hold this against anyone else!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1348-Seeing that Faye was ignoring them, Charmine glared at her coldly. "Remove the listening devices."

Faye, who just got to the staircase, stopped dead in her tracks as a glint of panic appeared in her eyes.

How did she know? The listening devices were so small, and she could not have seen them!

Faye turned toward them and looked innocent. "What are you talking about?"

What listening devices?"

Charmine's eyes darkened. She was not fixing that attitude of hers!

She said coldly, "Are you too dumb, or do you think everyone is as dumb as you?" denounced Charmine. "If you didn't plant listening devices, do you have super-powerful ears, then? Do you want me to ask someone to run the checks?"

Charmine interrogated her and scoffed, "Before I get angry, you better remove them now!"

Faye bit her lip. The devices were useless, anyway.

"Fine!" She instantly ran up the stairs.

Her behavior agitated Eddie. "How can this woman be so shameless? She did such a bad thing and acted as if she's right!" "Get used to it," muttered Charmine.

"I can't get used to it," protested Eddie automatically. "Charmine, you've become gentler ever since having plans to get married! The thought of living with this woman makes me want to resist with every cell in me!" 1 Charmine merely smiled. "Soon. Just keep it together for now."

Once Frank was discharged, she had to tell Frank about Faye's problems. The girl would ruin herself if she continued down this road.

Frank would not want his sister to end up that way.

Faye went upstairs and removed the listening devices, and when she got back to her room, she struggled to breathe properly due to frustration...

She did not understand why her plan never worked out. The plan was flawless, yet she always ended up being laughed at like a clown!

She picked up her phone to text that mysterious woman the following: [She knew about the listening devices. I took them down.] A reply was received quickly.

[No worries. I'm sending some flowers over. When you receive them, put them into Charmine's room.] Faye frowned. [Why would you send flowers now?] The woman laughed mockingly as if laughing at her like a fool. She did not elaborate as she instead insisted, [Just do as I say.] Faye could only reply, [Ok.] She walked out of her room and went downstairs.

When she walked past the living room, Eddie glared at her and frowned." Can you stop walking in front of me? The sight of you annoys me!" i Oh, how he messed up her sanity!

Faye glared at him. "Close your eyes, then!"

This was not his house! What was he on about?

She no longer bothered him as she walked out.

"You...!" Eddie waved his arms furiously.

He looked at Charmine for help. "Charmine, I beg you-chase her out! I can't take it anymore!" "Keep calm," said Charmine flatly. "Frank is having the operation tomorrow.

Once he's discharged, she'll return to the bamboo forest with him."

Eddie clenched his hands tightly; he was going up the wall. "I'm going upstairs to design. I don't want to see her!" "Alright, then," said Charmine helplessly.

'We'll go upstairs."

Faye, who heard this outside, smiled coldly.

Send her back to the bamboo forest, she said? Hah! She refused to go along.

She wanted to stay! 1 She walked out of the villa and there was indeed a pot of flowers. She held the pot with both hands and walked inside. She went upstairs as if nothing was happening.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1349-As Faye was about to walk into Charmine's room, the door to the next-door study room suddenly opened.

Faye's body jolted, and she slowly turned back.

Charmine stood before the door and glared at her coldly. "What are you doing?"

Faye tried her best to stay calm, and she already came up with an excuse on the way. "I've done wrong today, so to make it up to you, I bought this pot of flowers to give you. Please don't tell Anthony, alright?"

Charmine scoffed. She did not believe a single word she uttered.

She looked at the fresh flowers and, squinting at it, lifted her leg to kick at the pot.

Instantly, the pot of beautiful flowers crashed against the floor and, strangely enough, a powder-like substance wafted out of the pot.

Charmine glared at Faye coldly. "You're not even sorry, Faye!" she hissed.

How dare she give her a manmade musk flower! This could cause infertility if one sniffed it for a long period.

Faye's expression faltered as she cried inwardly.

She knew?

She took a deep breath to calm herself down, but in the process, she sniffed the powerful pollen. 1 She acted as if nothing happened. "What are you talking about? I..."

Faye felt light-headed before she could finish. She instantly lost her senses and fell to the floor right after.

Not knowing what she was playing at, Charmine eyed her doubtfully.

Suddenly...

Faye's skin turned purple!

Charmine shifted her gaze downward to the flowers on the ground and realized that the petals contained a lot of pollen, and they had gathered a thick layer of poison!

Frowning, she took Faye by her arms and pulled her away.

Eddie heard her and saw the purplish-skinned woman on the floor. "What happened?" he cried out. "Is the weirdo possessed by a demon?!" i Charmine said seriously, "She's poisoned. Carry her down, and send her to the hospital." "Me?" Eddie pointed at himself with disbelief.

He had to carry this woman? Dear God... He might as well be killed.

"Do you want me to do it, too?" rebutted Charmine. "Don't waste more time.

Hurry!"

Studying that Faye was indeed poisoned and how serious Charmine seemed, Eddie dared not fool around as he quickly downstairs without wasting any more time, i Charmine went into the tools room and put on disposable gloves. She then went back to her room, held on her breath, and air-sealed the pot before she, too, went along to the hospital.

When they arrived at the hospital, Nial saw how sickly Faye looked and reeled back in shock. "How did this happen?" 1 Charmine handed him the air-sealed pot. "The petals contain poisons. She sniffed it." "Wait for the results," said Nial as he brought the flowers to get tested. He also arranged for Faye to undergo an operation.

Charmine sat by the side as she gazed at the tightly shut door to the operating room.

Tomorrow was Frank's operation. If anything happened to Faye, how would she tell it to Frank?

Eddie asked, "How did the woman get poisoned?" asked Eddie.

Charmine squinted as she recalled the scene outside her bedroom.

Faye was not the one to have bought the flowers... It seemed that even she did not know the flowers were poisoned!

Knowing her, she would have skedaddled when Charmine kicked the pot.

That meant...

Someone had instructed her to do it.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 1350-Charmine then tried to think of whoever it was that could have made Faye do it when the operating room's door abruptly opened.

She stood up and walked. "How did it go?"

The nurse looked at her. "It's severe. I need to find Dr. Nial."

The nurse then rushed toward the lab room, leaving Charmine rooted on the spot.

Severe? How? Was Faye not just poisoned?

The nurse found Nial running tests on the flowers, and she hurriedly spoke, "We have a situation, Dr. Nial! The patient isn't doing well."

Nial put down his work and frowned. "How come?" "It looks like kidney failure.

Please come and have a look!" urged the nurse.

Nial went with her.

Before they went back in, Charmine quickly interceded them. "Why is it severe?"

"The patient is poisoned severely," explained the nurse, "and her kidney is failing."

Charmine was mystified. How could it be so severe?

Nial said to her, "Let me have a look. Don't worry."

With that said, he went in with the nurse quickly.

Eddie crossed his hands at his chest and scoffed, "She's done enough bad things, and God sees everything. She's getting her karma!" i Charmine squinted in confusion. Faye merely sniffed at the pollen. How would it be so severe?

Moreover, the poison was meant for her.

Who would want to kill her?

Faye was in such a critical stage. What if Frank found out? His operation was set for tomorrow!

Charmine prayed that nothing would happen.

She and Eddie waited for two hours in front of the operating room, and the door eventually opened.

Nial removed his mask and looked at Charmine. "She's poisoned," he declared grimly, "and a very severe poison, at that. Strangely, we can't find out what caused it, and her kidney is already failing."

Charmine frowned. 'Was it the poison from the petals?'

Nial shook his head. "No. I ran some tests on the petals; it's just sprinkled with some pollen that could cause infertility. There's no trace of the poison on the flowers." "where did she get the poison from, then?" Charmine did not understand.

Her skin did turn purple after sniffing at the pollen, and she lost consciousness after that.

"We don't know yet, but she's in a critical stage now," concluded Nial. 'Til put her in the ICU while you try to find out what poison it is."

With that said, Nial turned to the doctor beside him. "Send her to the ICU."

Faye was pushed out of the operating room. Charmine stared at the unconscious Faye and was stunned for a few seconds.

She was a healthy woman who deteriorated and looked ten years older.

This poison was so powerful...

Nial explained, "Her kidney is failing, and her body is under a lot of stress.

This is normal. Study the poison while I'll find a suitable kidney for her." "Okay."

Charmine agreed.

Nial started using his resources to search for a kidney nationwide while Charmine stayed in the office to study the poison.

There was no progress until 12 that night.

Nial did not find a good match; the most compatible one was only 35 percent.

At this level of compatibility, even if they moved it in, she would not survive!

Faye's condition was worsening by the hour. Her pulses were not stable, and she remained unconscious.

Tomorrow was Frank's operation, and if he found out...

Charmine's face darkened and persisted in her research.

It was two in the morning.

"This is too strange!" sighed Nial. "There's no poison on the petals, so what caused her kidney to fail so abruptly? If this goes on..."

Eddie, meanwhile, had already dozed off as he sat on the sofa.
