

Nothing to Give but My Heart Chapter 1350 – 1359

Chapter 1350

Xu Yanwan stared at her faintly, “I always thought you knew, after all, you are boy and girl friends, shouldn’t he tell you this matter?”

Jessica was completely stunned when asked so.

Yes, they are boy and girl friends, they should know all these things, but... she doesn’t know anything.

However, Jessica is not the kind of person who likes to be horny. She smiled, “If this is his wound, he doesn’t want to mention it and I don’t think it is anything. This time I may be reckless. I should ask clearly. .”

Xu Yanwan didn’t expect Jessica to let her go so soon, she was a little surprised, but at the same time she admired Jessica’s heart, she was really generous, she said that she was actually ignited before the slightest.

Sure enough, it was the person Victor Han liked, not that kind of petty.

But this is not the result Xu Yanwan wanted.

Her heart was crying, controlling herself, what should be said and what should not be said, although her heart had been trying to control, but in the end she couldn’t resist her own desires, and whispered: “I think he should let me tell you this. The two of you won’t be in trouble today. Now that this kind of thing has happened, will there be a gap between you in the future? Do you need me to explain it to you?”

Jessica shook her head: "Forget it, I will go find him myself, I will explain to him, thank you for telling me that he is not a birthday."

Xu Yanwan smiled helplessly: "I'm sorry, when I heard that day, I really thought you had helped him overcome this problem. I was still thinking in my heart that you really have the ability. So I didn't say it. Now it is like this. , I also have a certain responsibility."

"No." Jessica denied quickly: "This is a matter between me and him, it is a problem between the two of us, and it has nothing to do with you."

Hearing, Xu Yanwan's face turned pale, she didn't speak any more, she said after a while: "Then you go find him quickly."

"Ok."

After Jessica left, she couldn't help but recall the words Xu Yanwan said to her just now.

Is it her illusion? She always feels that what Xu Yanwan said to her has a deeper meaning in it, but it clearly sounds like a kind of good intentions.

Jessica pursed her red lips, and walked outside quickly.

No matter what, she doesn't know anything anymore. At least she knows Victor Han doesn't want to celebrate his birthday. As for why he doesn't have a birthday, Jessica didn't ask Xu Yanwan just now, but also wanted to ask him after seeing Victor Han he.

She didn't want to hear his past from others, she wanted to hear him tell herself.

So Jessica is going to find Victor Han now!

“Jessica, Jessica!”

When Jessica was about to get into the car, she heard someone calling her name.

At first she thought she had heard it wrong, and when she was about to bend down into the car, the voice behind her got closer.

“Oh, why did you ignore me when I told you for a long time?”

Jessica turned her head and looked at the panting front desk girl in astonishment.

“Are you looking for me?”

The girl at the front desk ran over. After she came back, she heard her colleague say that Jessica was here, so she chased it out immediately. Who knew Jessica was walking fast, so she chased her very hard, but luckily stopped her.

“Yes! I have something to tell you!”

The girl at the front desk stepped forward to pull her hand, but her gasping noise was too loud and she was too tired. Jessica looked at her as if she was about to breathe, so she could only say, “If it’s not a matter of importance, don’t you tell me another day? I have very important things now, I...”

“No, no, I can’t say another day. What I want to say is also a very important thing.”

Jessica: “???”

After waiting for about a minute, the atmosphere at the front desk finally calmed down, and she pulled Jessica and said: “Actually, I thought for a long time whether to tell you or not, but I feel a bit conscientious not to say it. After all, your ramen is so good to eat.”

Jessica’s doubts became even greater, her eyebrows frowned slightly, she was going to find Victor Han now, she really didn’t have any thoughts to listen to other words.

“Um, sorry, I really have something very important today, should we talk about it another day?”

“No, just listen to me!” The front desk stubbornly grabbed Jessica’s hand and refused to let her go.

Jessica had no choice but to nod her head helplessly: “Then you speak quickly, I have to leave after speaking.”

The front desk looked around and made sure there was no one else, but still lowered her voice: “I don’t know if you know, if you know, then you will treat me as if I didn’t say it, if you don’t know, then my master In the future, you must never say that I said it.”

Jessica: “...”

Why is she so mysterious? What is the important thing?

“That Xu Yanwan, do you know him? I saw you and Mr. Victor took her to the hospital.”

When Xu Yanwan was mentioned, Jessica became even more puzzled.

“What you want to say, has something to do with her?”

“Yes!” The front desk nodded vigorously, took a deep breath, and finally said what he wanted to say.

“Actually she is President Han’s fiancée!”

For a moment, Jessica thought she had heard it wrong.

For a moment, Jessica thought she was dreaming, but she blinked, and the girl at the front desk stood in front of her well, and she grasped her with great strength, and it was a little painful after a long time.

The pain is passed through clearly, so people can’t ignore it.

“Have you heard what I’m talking about?” Seeing that she didn’t respond, the front desk asked again.

Hearing, Jessica came back to her senses, she looked at the girl at the front desk standing in front of her, “You just said...”

She still felt that she had misheard, otherwise, how could she have heard the receptionist say that Xu Yanwan is Victor Han’s fiancée?

She didn’t tell her about this.

The girl at the front desk looked at Jessica with a pale face, and realized that she should have listened to her just now, but was afraid that she would not believe it, so the girl at the front desk emphasized it again.

“Xu Yanwan is President Han’s fiancée. I’m afraid you don’t know, so I’m here to tell you.”

Jessica finally realized that she had heard it right.

But she still couldn't believe it, after all, it happened suddenly.

"Is there any evidence for what you said?"

"Does this still need evidence? Didn't she know Mr. Victor? Mr. Victor helped her transfer, isn't it obvious?"

"Isn't that because of the relationship between the two parents?"

"It's because the two parents have a good relationship, so the two have booked a kiss! Otherwise, why do you think Xu Yanwan joined the Han group?"

Jessica still felt that it was not convincing, but... she just felt that what Xu Yanwan said was wrong, and she always thought that she had been thinking too much.

It now seems that if one of her identity is Victor Han's fiancée, then what she said is completely understandable.

Chapter 1351

After the receptionist had finished talking to her, her expression was still mysterious, "Well, now I have told you everything I know, don't tell others that I said it, I will go now."

After the person was gone, Jessica still stood there stupidly, and hadn't digested the words of the sister at the front desk for a long time.

Xu Yanwan, is Victor Han's fiancée?

If these are true, then... what is she?

Is it a third party who forcibly intervenes in other people's feelings???

"Sister, you still can't get in the car?"

The driver was urging her, and Jessica came back to her senses, "Sorry, master, can you bother you to wait for me, I have something to ask."

"Waiting for you? Then I can't do business..."

"Thank you, Master, I'll make up for your fare later."

Hearing what she said, the driver nodded in satisfaction: "Okay, then you go, but don't let me wait too long."

After that, Jessica ran back, and halfway through, she stopped again.

No, why should she go to Xu Yanwan to ask clearly.

If she is really Victor Han's fiancée, then she should also ask Victor Han to ask clearly, after all, Victor Han is her close person.

She wants to listen to him.

Thinking of this, Jessica turned back again, and the driver looked at her strangely when she saw that she was back soon after going out.

"You don't need to go in?"

"No, I think of other things, let's go back."

"Where to go?"

Jessica originally wanted to say the address of the Han family, but when the words came to her mouth, she became her own home, "Let's go."

Although she doesn't know where Victor Han is now, if he doesn't want to see her, let him calm down.

Moreover, Jessica's mind was also confused at the moment, and was shocked by the words at the front desk.

She felt that she needed to go home and think carefully about what happened.*

After returning home, Jessica lay on the bed without even eating dinner. She lay down, tears dripping down her eyes unconsciously, and then she was out of control.

Badass...

Even if it's just a birthday, you can tell her, then she won't give it to him. Why not tell her? Uh...

Jessica hugged the quilt and shrank into a ball, tears rushing out of her eyes like broken beads.

She had prepared for so long, and worked so hard to prepare for so long, just to give him a birthday, and... to tell him the news of her pregnancy.

As a result, he just left, and she could not find him.

Bad guy... bad guy.

Jessica kept cursing Victor Han in her heart, turned over and continued to cry.

Why can't you tell her if there is anything?

Knocking——

“Yan Yan, what's the matter today? I went home quietly and went into the house without knowing how to come out and eat something?”

It was Janis's voice. Jessica was startled, and quickly pulled the quilt over her head. She couldn't speak now because she just cried. If she speaks, it will definitely be a nasal sound, and she will surely let Janis hear it.

If her mother heard that she was crying, Janis would definitely ask something.

So Jessica can only pull the quilt over her head and pretend to sleep.

“Yan Yan, get up to eat?”

Janis stood at the door of the room calling Jessica's name, but there was no movement in the room, so Father Zhou walked over and asked.

“Did you fall asleep?”

When Janis heard it, she raised her eyebrows: “Sleeping so early?”

“She has dark circles under her eyes recently. She may be sleepy. Let her go to sleep. You can eat again when she wakes up.”

Hearing what Zhou's father said, Janis thought it was fine, so she didn't knock on Jessica's door again.

And Jessica, who was hiding in the quilt, opened her eyes and continued to cry.

Probably because she was tired from crying, Jessica fell asleep deeply.

She doesn't know how long it took, it seemed that someone was knocking on her door.

Jessica was awakened directly, and then she heard Janis pat the door outside and asked: "Yan Yan, are you awake? Victor Han came to see you, and he said he couldn't get through."

The expression on Jessica's face was still lifeless at first, but after hearing Victor Han's name, she had a whole meal, then lifted the quilt and sat up.

Victor Han is here?

What time is this time?

Jessica glanced at the time and realized that it was twelve o'clock in the night, and there was heavy rain outside the window, and lightning and thunder.

This kind of weather coupled with what happened today, for Jessica, really couldn't be worse.

She was still sitting blankly, but Janis had already opened the door and entered.

"I said what the matter with you is girl, you can't hear me talking to you..."

As soon as the voice fell, Janis looked at Jessica's swollen walnut eyes, and the words on her lips stopped like this, "What's the matter? Why are the eyes swollen like this? Did Victor Han bully you?"

Jessica stared at Janis blankly, and shook her head after a moment: "Nothing, where is he?"

“Out there, I let him in, but he didn’t come in. I wonder what’s going on. You two have a quarrel?”

Quarrel?

If it’s just an ordinary quarrel, it’s not a big deal.

“There was no quarrel, but I want to ask him about some things in person.” Jessica said as she lifted the quilt and got out of bed. Janis saw her daughter look like this and couldn’t help holding her, “What do you want to ask? If you don’t want to see him, then mom can...”

“Mom, I’m fine.”

Jessica held Janis’s arm and showed her smile that was uglier than crying: “There are some things, I want to know, so I have to ask him.”

“Well, since you said that, mom will support you.”

Then Jessica got up and changed her clothes, and then walked outside.

Victor Han did not enter the house, but stood in the corridor waiting for her. When Jessica went out to look for him, the Zhous and his wife bit their ears in a low voice.

“What’s the matter with Yan Yan? Why didn’t Xiao Qing come in in the middle of the night?”

Janis squeezed him, and then said: “The two probably had a quarrel. There shouldn’t be any major problems, just let them explain clearly.”

“Tsk tsk.” Zhou’s father shook his head helplessly: “You girls are easy to be hypocritical. Many times it is obviously not a big deal, but it makes a lot of trouble and causes headaches.”

Hearing that, Janis suddenly widened her eyes with dissatisfaction: “Who do you mean by hypocrisy? You men think this is not a big deal. What is your own gross nerves and weird women’s hypocrisy? And that’s your daughter. You can talk nonsense. Believe it or not, I will throw you downstairs.”

Father Zhou: “...”

Forget it, the tigress is not easy to mess with, she still doesn’t talk to him so much.

Father Zhou touched his nose and sat back on the chair, quietly waiting for the result.

After Jessica came out, she found that Victor Han’s clothes standing in the corridor were nearly half soaked. She subconsciously felt distressed and wanted to call him in, but when she thought about what she had heard, she felt hard again.

Chapter 1352

Victor Han’s face was not good-looking, he was even more embarrassed after being exposed to the rain, but his slender body was still standing steadily, his face calm and steady, his thin lips moved when he saw Jessica come out.

He took a step forward, Jessica took a step back subconsciously when she saw this.

So after Victor Han saw her move, Victor Han could only stop.

“Yan Yan.”

He spoke and called her name, his voice hoarse, and his eyes seemed to be painful.

What does it mean?

Jessica didn't understand, but she didn't want to understand at this moment, she just wanted to know the truth.

“Why did not you tell me?”

Because he had just left for his birthday during the day, Victor Han thought that Jessica was talking about birthdays, and did not expect someone to tell Jessica that Xu Yanwan was his fiancée.

So he didn't think much about other things. After listening to Jessica's question, he whispered for a long time: “It's not easy to speak.”

After all, it was the wound he hid in his heart.

No matter who it is, he is unwilling to touch or tear open his old wounds again.

And his Victor Han is the same, he is also unwilling to tear his wounds, today is also a sudden incident, just like this.

After he left, he regretted it, and went back to find Jessica. She was no longer there.

Then, after listening to those staff members talking about how Jessica had taken care of her affairs recently, Victor Han realized that his little girl really wanted to celebrate his birthday.

It's just that she doesn't know her past, and Victor Han has never thought of showing her deep wounds again, but this time it seems inevitable.

Then he told her, but it was really difficult to speak before.

First, he didn't want to reopen his wounds.

Second, he didn't want to talk about his past when he had nothing to do.

But this time, he came to make it clear.

But in the eyes of Jessica, what she asked Victor Han about Xu Yanwan was about Xu Yanwan. Now she can't talk to him. Is it because she thinks he has a fiancée?

It's a good sentence...

Jessica sniffed, as if hearing the sound of her heart breaking.

"It's not easy to speak? So... is it true?"

Xu Yanwan, is it really Victor Han's fiancée? What about her... is she really a third party?

The front desk already knows about this. Does that mean...everyone in the company knows it? She was kept in the dark.

Whenever she thought that she always went to the company, and even took Xu Yanwan away from the company with Victor Han, and in the eyes of those people, she was a third party, Jessica thought it was ridiculous.

And Victor Han did not speak to argue under her questioning, standing there, and looking indefinable and silent.

Quite often, silence is terrible.

Because it may represent the default.

Then in this case, he was silent, that is, he acquiesced to the question he asked.

So the marriage between Xu Yanwan and Victor Han is real, and her Zhou Jessica is indeed an intervener!

Jessica's steps began to back, seeing that there was no light in Victor Han's eyes.

"I see, you can go."

Because the distance between the two is not far, Victor Han actually saw the little light in the little girl's eyes go out. For no reason, a panic rose in his heart, and he subconsciously stepped forward and grabbed Jessica. Wrist.

"It happened suddenly and I didn't have time to explain it to you. You are angry now, give me some time."

Jessica shook her head: "No, no time is needed, you can go."

Hearing, Victor Han frowned tightly: "Why?"

Is she unwilling to listen to her own explanation?

"There is no reason." Jessica began to break free from Victor Han's gripping her hand inch by inch, while backing hard, her face pale: "You let me go."

Seeing her eyes swollen like walnuts, Victor Han's self-blame grew a bit thicker, so he had to loosen the hand that clamped her, "If you don't want to listen today, then I will come to you tomorrow."

Hearing that he said that he would come to find her, Jessica didn't know why, her anger surged up frantically, and she threw away his hand forcefully.

"Don't come to me again, from now on, we will have nothing to do! We broke up!"

What does he think of himself? Come to see her tomorrow? Are you so good to lie???

For the first time in her life, Jessica made such a big fire in front of Victor Han, so ignorant of her image, her eyes were wide, but they were red like rabbits.

Victor Han also knew that Jessica was really anxious like this.

"I had known this incident would make the little girl react so much, he should really control himself at the time."

"Yan Yan, stop making trouble, okay?"

Although he was also at fault, Victor Han didn't think this matter could cause them to break up.

"Don't call me Yan Yan." Jessica stepped back a few steps, her small face was gloomy, she stood there with her eyes down, her whole body covered with hostility, "Call out from your mouth, I listen to disgusting."

From the time he admitted that he had a fiancée, Jessica felt that she was a third party and lost the respect she deserved for Victor Han.

Probably it was too angry, that's why it was so reluctant to speak.

Victor Han probably didn't expect that she would speak so hard, standing still with his brows frowned.

"Just because of this matter, do you want to break up with me? I don't want to listen to an explanation?"

on???

Jessica keenly caught the word. She looked at Victor Han amused. He seemed to think that this matter was not important, and that was right. After all, he was a man, and the person who was scolded at the back would only be herself.

Anyway, she decided to break up with him, so Jessica spoke without mercy.

"Yes, because of this matter, I want to break up with you, do you think it is serious? I think it is very serious, so serious that I don't want to see you again, okay? I'm done, President Han Da ,you can go now!"

Janis and Father Zhou, who hid behind the door and overheard their speeches, looked at each other, and did not dare to make a sound.

Because they didn't expect that their daughter would have such a strong temper when facing Victor Han, so strong, and the speech was so sharp, ruthless and direct.

Victor Han stood there and looked at Jessica for a long time. He clearly saw sparks in the little girl's eyes.

But he didn't understand, he was really wrong with this matter, but he didn't say it was serious enough to break up, right?

“You go!” Jessica drove him: “I said I don’t want to see you anymore, why are you still here with a sullen expression?”

Because she has been rushing to Victor Han, Victor Han was not in a good mood at first. Now that he hears her saying this all the time, there is some anger in her heart, “Are you sure?”

“Definitely and surely, you go now.”

Probably he was really agitated by her. Victor Han really wanted to turn around and leave, but after thinking about it, he took a step forward.

“Stop making trouble?”

Chapter 1353

Trouble?

Jessica didn’t expect that at this time, she actually felt that he was making trouble.

Are these all trivial things in her opinion?

“Since you think I’m making trouble, don’t come to me anymore. Just do it today.”

After speaking, Jessica turned around and entered the house, shutting Victor Han outside the door with a bang.

The two people who eavesdropped behind the door happened to meet Jessica’s eyes after the door was closed.

Three people stared with big eyes and small eyes.

For a long while, Father Zhou touched his nose in embarrassment, and smiled happily, “Yan Yan, it is normal for this little couple to quarrel together. You are a girl who is angry. Don’t be so fierce. Talk. Be careful.”

Jessica stood still, with a dead gray expression on her face.

Father Zhou continued: “Your mother and I have heard Xiaoqing’s conversation just now, although I think you are very imposing, but...”

“Dad, mom.”

Jessica looked at the two men seriously and said softly: “I want to break up with him.”

Janis: “...”

Father Zhou: “...”

“I can’t be with him anymore.”

When facing them, Janis didn’t expect Jessica to make such remarks, and asked carefully, “What happened?”

Jessica didn’t want to say, she shook her head: “Anyway, I won’t be with him again.”

“Yan Yan, my mother told you before that there is something to tell you, if you quarrel, just break up, isn’t it a bit serious?”

is it serious?

After Jessica knew that she was an intervener, she didn’t think this solution was serious at all. Breaking up was the best ending.

“I’m going to bed.”

So she turned around and entered the room without extra explanation.

Janis and Zhou’s father looked at each other, “What do you think?”

Father Zhou: “Where do I know? This girl seems to be in a serious situation, or... ask Xiaoqing what happened.”

Janis thinks it’s okay. After all, she saw how much that girl liked Victor Han back then. Now that she broke up, she broke up. There must be a reason.

Thinking of this, Janis was ready to open the door quietly.

Who knows that Jessica walked out of the room at this time and said to them: “Mom and dad, you go to bed, no one is allowed to ask about this, anyway, I have already decided.”

Janis’s hand that was about to open the door stopped like this.

Father Zhou could only poke her back: “Yan Yan has said so, or forget it, wait a few days before she is angry.”

After all, it is her own daughter, Janis must have stood by her, so she nodded.

Victor Han waited outside for a long time, trying to call Jessica, but her phone was always off, as if she was going to compete with herself.

And this is not the house where Jessica lives alone. It is already late at night, and he is embarrassed to disturb the two elders.

Knowing this earlier, he should have carried Jessica directly into the car when she came out.

Then lock her in the car, and explain what you want to say inside. If you get angry, you will get angry in it.

Now what...

Victor Han stretched out his hand to pinch his temples, fatigue welled up from her eyes.

After Jessica returned to the room, her tears couldn't stop, she went into the bathroom and washed her face with cold water, so that she awoke.

Then she looked at her swollen eyes in the mirror, took a deep breath, and forced a smile into the mirror.

It doesn't matter, it's not too late to know, at least she hasn't told Victor Han that she is pregnant, and her face has not been completely lost.

Pregnancy...

Thinking of pregnancy, Jessica couldn't keep the smile on her face anymore, and she slowly dropped her hand, touching her abdomen.

Why???

Why would she get pregnant at this time? Jessica was very happy when she knew she was pregnant before, but now?

She broke up with Victor Han, what should the child do?

She thought that she would never like others in her life except Victor Han anymore. Even now, she still thinks so.

But she can't be with him anymore, kid...

Jessica slowly closed her eyes. Is she going to give birth by herself or kill?

The next day, when Janis went to ask Jessica to wake up, her tone was very cautious. Who knew that Jessica looked pretty good. She drank porridge quietly and then ate fried dough sticks. She seemed to have a good appetite. Look like.

Janis was a little confused, because she thought her daughter would have no appetite, but she didn't expect that she would still eat.

Jessica finished her breakfast quietly. When she raised her head and found that Zhou's father and mother were staring at her blankly, she also asked: "Parents, why don't you eat? Just watch me eat, Can you be full?"

Zhou's father and Zhou's mother did not expect that she would still tease. After looking at each other, Janis cautiously asked: "Yan Yan, are you okay?"

Jessica smiled, "What can I do? Mom, don't worry, hurry up and have breakfast."

Father Zhou also felt that his daughter's state was not right, so he asked, "Really all right? It's only one night. Did you make up by phone last night?"

Reconcile?

How is this possible?

Although Jessica still had a smile on her face, her smile faded a bit after listening to Zhou's father, but she quickly recovered: "No, it won't be reconciled. Mom and Dad, everything I said last night It's true, it won't change."

After hearing what their daughter said, the two had ten thousand doubts in their hearts.

“I know you guys must want to know what happened, but I am not in the mood to say it now. If I can adjust my mood, let me tell you.”

Janis first stretched out her hand to cover her wrist: “Silly girl, just say it if you want to. If you don’t want to say it, don’t say it. We are your parents and will never force you. But you make this decision. Regret it?”

Regret it?

Although she will be sad when she leaves Victor Han, she does like Victor Han, even if she likes him, her love for him cannot be recovered, but... if she wants to stay by his side as a third party, then she would never accept this identity.

Leaving is the best choice.

So Jessica shook her head.

“No regrets.”

So determined, the Zhous did not say anything.

Soon, Jessica said that she was going to open a store first, and then she went out first.

After she left, Janis sighed: “It was good before, but why did it suddenly make such a big noise? Looking at Yan Yan’s appearance, there is probably no room for reversal.”

“Forget it, let the children decide for themselves.”

“That’s for sure, is it possible that you have to force her to reconcile with Victor Han? Although the child looks good, but... we should respect our daughter’s decision.”

“It’s a pity that kid Victor Han... I seem to like it.”

Chapter 1354

Han family

“Ahem...”

“Sir, is it uncomfortable? Why don’t you arrange it and go to the hospital.” Uncle Nan stood beside Victor Han and made suggestions, the expression on his face looked worried.

“Ahem...”

His response was a steady stream of coughing, which made people feel sour.

Seeing Victor Han like this, Uncle Nan felt distressed.

When the husband came back last night, the whole body was warm, and the weather was cold again, and then he persuaded the husband to hurry up to take a bath, but the husband sat quietly on the sofa for a long time. The breath of the whole body was very low, which made people dare not dare near.

Then he got sick early today.

Uncle Nan felt very distressed, “Sir, I will prepare the car, and I will send my husband to the hospital.”

“No need.” Victor Han coughed for a long time, and finally eased over, with a heavy voice with hoarseness: “It’s just a small problem, you don’t need to go to the hospital.”

“Sir, don’t you go to the hospital if you are coughing up like this? You don’t take your body seriously anymore!” Nan Shuyu said earnestly, “Even if the husband is still young, he still needs to be treated in time if he is sick. Start.”

However, Victor Han didn’t pay any attention to his broken thoughts anymore, got up and walked outside, Nan Shu’s expression changed slightly: “Where are you going, sir?”

“There is something to deal with.”

Uncle Nan wanted to accompany Victor Han out, but Victor Han did not let him follow, and in the end he had no choice but to stay at home.

On the way to find Jessica, Victor Han continued to call Jessica again.

Like last night, her mobile phone is still turned off. It seems that she is still angry and still doesn’t want to care about herself.

She didn’t sleep all night after she came back last night, so she stayed till dawn with her eyes open.

Realize that she did make a serious mistake during the day.

Although Jessica celebrated his birthday at that time, which triggered memories that he didn’t want to remember anymore, the little girl was unintentional after all, and she never told her, so she didn’t even know that giving him a birthday would trigger this. Case.

He was wrong, he shouldn’t hide it from her.

Now that you have chosen her, you should surrender everything you have to her without reservation.

He selfishly hid his wounds.

Thinking of the little girl's meticulous preparation during this period, the result was that he directly threw her in the dining room, making her laugh at her, Victor Han felt heartbroken.

In contrast, the past suddenly became unimportant.

It's all over, and the most important thing now is that she is by her side.

It's just that the little girl doesn't seem to hear anything right now. She is very angry about this matter. The more angry she is, the deeper she is hurt.

Victor Han didn't plan to be tough, he planned to wait for the little girl to calm down, and then tell her things bit by bit.

The phone failed to get through, but the car had already reached Jessica's downstairs.

When Janis was about to go out, she saw a familiar car parked quietly downstairs at her house, and her steps suddenly stopped.

Isn't that Victor Han's car?

Is he looking for Jessica again?

While thinking about it, the car window suddenly lowered, revealing Victor Han's thin profile face.

"Aunt."

He nodded at her, then opened the door and got out of the car.

Janis simply stood still, waiting for him to come over.

“Mother, early.”

Victor Han glanced at Janis’s back, and found no trace of the girl.

“Looking for Jessica?” Janis sighed: “Although I don’t know what happened between you, I don’t think you should come to her for the time being these days.”

Hearing, Victor Han frowned slightly, “Auntie?”

“She doesn’t want to forgive you, she’s very angry. Although this girl looks normal in the morning, I think this is the most terrible. The more normal the more abnormal, have you heard of this sentence? Did you act like that last night? Da, when she got up in the morning, she had breakfast normally, and she would joke with me and Lao Zhou.”

After listening to Janis’s description, Victor Han also realized that the matter was much more serious than she thought.

“Ahem...”

Victor Han wanted to say something, his throat started to itch again, and he didn’t restrain himself from coughing.

With this cough, Janis only noticed that his face was pale, and when she thought about how he was wet from the rain when he opened the door last night, she immediately understood.

“Did you catch a cold from the rain last night? Your face is so bad that you should go to the doctor to get some medicine and don’t wait for your face anymore.”

Victor Han didn’t speak, but his body didn’t respond either, obviously he didn’t want to leave.

Looking at him like this, Janis sighed heavily: “My daughter’s temperament is too clear to me. Don’t look at this girl who talks very well. She looks honest and bully, but when she gets up, no one can say anything. She. When she was about to leave Yeshi, her father was so angry that he ordered that if she dared to leave the Yeshi group, he would sever her father-daughter relationship. This girl left without saying a word, and did not go home for five years. , After listening to this, you should know? She doesn’t want to see you now, and doesn’t want to forgive you. Even if you wait here, she won’t pay attention to you.”

This advice made Victor Han look ugly again, but soon he smiled again and said faintly: “My aunt is still willing to tell me this, I am very grateful, but I must explain some things clearly to her. If she is still angry with me, then I will wait until she is angry.”

“You...hey, why is this? You are still sick now.”

“Auntie, go ahead.”

Janis was also very firm when she saw the other person’s eyes, and she was obsessive about it, so she didn’t bother to persuade him anymore and simply left.

Before leaving, Janis wanted to tell Victor Han that Jessica was actually not upstairs. She had already set off to the store, so let him go directly to the store to find her.

But thinking about her daughter's unfeeling appearance in the morning, Janis is still her own daughter.

Her daughter is not angry whenever she wants to be.

At this time, she can't mess with her daughter.

Victor Han waited downstairs for a while, but Su Jiu called him when the phone rang.

"Mr. Victor, the meeting is about to begin. Why didn't you come to the company this morning?"

"Push them all."

Su Jiu heard his voice a little hoarse and was taken aback: "Mr Han is not feeling well?"

Victor Han did not directly answer her words, only said: "The work in the last few days has been pushed to the back. You can solve everything you can solve, and you can push everything you can't."

Su Jiu: "...that important project..."

"Well, I pushed it all."

Su Jiu was a little shocked in her heart, but President Han rarely made such willful decisions. Thinking about what might have happened this time, she thought of how Jessica came to the company to look for Victor Han yesterday, and only said quietly: "I know Mr. Victor."

Chapter 1355

Jessica was empty for a day in the ramen restaurant.

Because she is always doing wrong things, sometimes placing the wrong things, and sometimes sending the wrong guests. She wants to help but always does not help.

In the end, the employees in the store couldn't stand it anymore, and collectively took her to the private room on the second floor and let her rest.

After Jessica sat down, she was lying on the table in a daze.

She touched her belly with her hands from time to time, her eyes empty.

Why does such a thing happen at this time?

If... If she knew it earlier, she wouldn't be as tangled as she is now.

The more she thinks about it, the more uncomfortable. Because she didn't sleep all night last night, her eyes are too tired now, but she is not sleepy. If she closes her eyes at the front desk, it will sound in her mind.

Xu Yanwan is Victor Han's fiancée, she is the third party.

So she didn't dare to sleep at all, but she was pregnant with a pregnant body, plus she stayed up all night a while ago, she was already very sleepy.

So in the end Jessica fell asleep on the table.

But she had a nightmare.

In the dream, Xu Yanwan forced her to the wall, her expression stern.

“I am the one who should stand next to him. I am his fiancée, and what are you? You are a third party, and you are worthy to fight with me?”

Then the employees of the Han Group pointed to her all kinds of mockery.

“Oh my God, she’s so shameless, she’s actually an intervener of other people’s feelings. Is it really that good to be a junior? A good girl has to be a junior if she doesn’t do anything wrong. It’s really shameless.”

“That is, she still ran to the company every day to deliver soup to the man. Does she rely on this to win the man’s love? This kind of woman has no merit at all and will be abandoned sooner or later.”

“So I can only be a junior, and the junior will not end well.”

“Disgusting mistress, get out of the Han group, okay? Don’t come to our company again, you will be disgusted when you see you.”

The people in the dream, those who have seen them, those who have not seen them, showed disgusting expressions on their faces and mouths accusing her.

Jessica was forced to step back constantly by these thunderous curses, until the end, she didn’t know who she had hit.

She raised her head and saw that she met Victor’s cold eyes.

He looked at him coldly, with very ruthless words in his mouth.

“Don’t pester me anymore.”

No, it’s not like that, she didn’t pester him on purpose.

If she knew he had a fiancée, how could she keep pestering her? She didn't.

Jessica kept shaking her head, denying, and stepping back, and then she hung her foot back and rolled down the stairs.

“What!”

Jessica woke up in her dream screaming, touching her belly with her hand, a heart beating almost from her throat.

At the end of the dream, she fell down the stairs, and then blood came out of her legs, and her stomach hurt almost to death.

She doesn't know if the feelings in the dream are too real, Jessica actually feels that her stomach hurts at this moment.

Large pieces of cold sweat fell from his forehead, dripping onto the table, Jessica's lingering fear was not gone, and the door behind him was pushed open.

Janis ran over nervously and squatted down beside her.

“Yan Yan, what's the matter?”

Seeing Janis, Jessica's hand on her belly immediately retracted.

She took a few deep breaths, then shook her head: “Mom, I'm fine...”

“Is it okay to scream so loudly? Look at your cold sweat...” Janis distressedly wiped the cold sweat on her forehead with a tissue.

“I’m really okay.” Jessica pushed her hand away, slumped back on the table, and said indifferently: “I just had a nightmare, otherwise I won’t scream so loudly and worry you.”

After speaking, Jessica took another deep breath and said, “Mom, I want to go out.”

Janis immediately answered: “Where to go? Mom will go with you.”

Jessica shook her head: “I’m not going to the neighborhood, I just want to...go out to relax and take a walk on my own.”

She can’t stay here anymore. This city has something to do with Victor Han. She wants to leave here and go to another city for a while, and it might be better then.

“Out of town?” Janis’s face was not very good. “You are in your current state, and you are asked to go out of town alone. How can mom be relieved?”

“Why don’t you rest assured?”

Jessica pulled her lips and smiled pale: “Your daughter is an adult, she will neither seek death nor be cheated away by others, but just go to relax, so mom don’t worry, at most I won’t be bothered someday. I’m back. It’s just... during the time I was away, things in the store will bother you and dad. If you feel tired, please close the store temporarily.”

She really has no extra energy to take care of the shop now.

Even if she failed Lin Xuzheng, Jessica felt that it didn’t matter, just as she didn’t believe her words and was an irresponsible person.

Jessica closed her eyes tiredly.

She moves quickly and does everything she decides immediately.

So when she went back that day, she was going to pack her clothes. Who knew she saw Victor Han's car and...People downstairs at her home.

When he saw her, Victor Han didn't know how long he had been waiting for her.

However, before Victor Han found her Jessica walked forward quickly, trying to avoid Victor Han's sight and go straight upstairs.

She didn't want to meet Victor Han, nor did she want to talk to him.

But even though she walked faster, Victor Han's legs were still longer than hers, and soon overtook her and blocked her way.

Jessica: "Get out of the way, I don't want to say a word to you."

Victor Han looked at the little face that Mao had exploded, and stepped forward helplessly, with a light tone, "Can't you just talk to me peacefully?"

Talk?

What to talk about?

Jessica just wanted to laugh when she heard this question.

Talk about how she became a footer? Jessica is very sensitive to this topic now, she feels dizzy when she thinks that everyone knows that Xu Yanwan is Victor Han's fiancée, and only she does not know.

“Mr., I should have told you very clearly last night? We have broken up, and I can’t be friends with you. Now we are strangers. What do you want to do if you block my way? If you ask me to call the police, please leave immediately.”

Victor Han’s slightly frowned eyebrows frowned a little deeper because of her words.

Unexpectedly, Jessica would do such an amazing job this time, speaking to this point, how deeply did he hurt her?

“Yesterday...”

“Enough, I don’t want to listen!” Jessica covered her ears and shook her head vigorously and backed back: “No matter what you say, I don’t want to listen. You can go and go!”

She can still think of everyone’s spit on her in her dreams, those disgusting eyes make her feel pressured, and her psychological defense tells her that she can’t pass this level at all.

When she got excited, Jessica felt her stomach hurt again, she could only lean against the wall, her face pale.

Chapter 1356

Victor Han looked at her in pain, and wanted to step forward, but Jessica shouted again not to go there.

It seemed that he was emotionally excited because of his existence, so he had to stop, “Well, I won’t go over, you can control your emotions and stop being excited.”

Seeing Victor Han no longer walking towards her, Jessica took a deep breath several times before finally adjusting her breathing and her mood finally eased.

But the faint pain in her stomach still didn't disappear completely, Jessica held the wall forward with a pale face, and walked towards the elevator.

Victor Han didn't follow, probably because he was really afraid that she would faint because of being too excited.

Jessica didn't even look at the expressions of the people behind her. After going upstairs, she went straight into the room, probably because she was too emotional just now. She fell on the sofa as soon as she entered the room.

The stomach pain has slowly disappeared, Jessica poured herself a cup of warm water to drink, and then looked at her stomach, a little worried.

It hurts twice today, is there something wrong with the child?

Jessica felt very flustered when she thought that the child might have problems, and at the same time spurned this behavior.

Things are already like this, she is still worried about the child.

If this child is sane enough, she should not be able to stay, but she feels that the child is not just Victor Han alone.

Half of his blood shed on this child, and he didn't have the opportunity to choose, and he went to his stomach. Now he said that he didn't want it. Wouldn't it be unfair to him?

Moreover, she really likes it very much and looks forward to the birth of this child.

When she found out that she was pregnant, Jessica's mood was joyful and joyful. She felt that she had been hit by the lottery ticket and was even happier than when she was with Victor Han.

It's painful.

Jessica closed her eyes and curled up on the sofa.

Twelve o'clock at night

Jessica watched the car downstairs finally leave, dragged out the suitcase she had packed, put on her coat and hat.

The Zhou couple looked at Jessica, very worried.

"Or, let your dad take you to the train station?"

"No need Mom, I called the car, and the meeting will be there soon."

Janis still feels uneasy: "That mom will go with you. You go out alone, and I'm always worried."

"Mom, I really didn't think much about it. I just want to go out alone to relax and see the scenery. I have been very busy these years. No one has ever traveled. This time I think it's a good time to relax. "

"But..."

Janis wanted to say something more, but was hugged by Jessica.

"Well, you two elders don't have to worry about me. I promise to come back after I'm relieved. Your daughter will still stand in front of you as it is now, okay?"

“Yan Yan...”

“Okay, she has decided, so don’t tell her anymore, so that she won’t be bothered by us. This girl has been floating outside for five years before, and she knows what to do, so she won’t be abducted.”

Father Zhou spoke, Janis said nothing.

The two sent Jessica out.

Jessica got in the car, turned on the phone, and saw countless missed calls from Victor Han. She quit with a cold face and then entered WeChat.

There was a text message from Su Jiu to her, probably asking her what happened.

And Xu Yanwan sent her a txt message.

Xu Yanwan only posted one piece of content.

“Did you know? Don’t think too much about it. Although I have booked a kiss with him, he will be responsible for you if you are together now.”

Heh, after all, they are together now, he will be responsible for her?

She wanted to tell herself that Victor Han had no love for her, only responsibility?

Before, Jessica felt that Xu Yanwan’s eyes looked a little strange, and the words she said were not quite right. He didn’t expect that there was so much meaning hidden in it.

After the mystery was solved, everything suddenly became clear.

Jessica took out the old phone card and replaced it with a new one. Without even thinking about it, she threw the phone card outside.

She did not contact Stella, nor did she tell her about herself and Victor Han.

Now Stella lives very happily, if she were to know that she and Victor Han were in such a situation, she would definitely be very worried and would run around for them.

Stella had had a hard time before, and had gone through a lot of hardships, but now she finally has both children and a happy family.

Jessica didn't want her to become worried because of her own affairs.

After she adjusts her mood, let's tell her about it.

By then, even if Stella was worried, she would be fine.

The train ticket that Jessica bought this time was actually bought randomly. She bought whichever time was the longest, but she didn't grab the sleeping ticket. When she bought it, she had a hard seat.

It doesn't matter, anyway, she can't sleep in either a soft or hard seat.

Even in the middle of the night, there are many people at the train station, some holding each other reluctantly, some traveling together, and many lone rangers.

Jessica was one of the Lone Rangers. She waited in the lobby for a while, then checked the ticket and entered the station.

Then she found her seat and sat down.

Compared with flying by plane, the train is really noisy. Many people with children cry constantly, and there are also various kinds of phone calls with their mobile phones. Jessica got a headache because of the noise, and put on some music with headphones. It's not so tight.

But soon she became a little desperate, because her next door was an aunt with a child. The child kept making noises at first, and then even started crying loudly.

Jessica couldn't help but glance at the child.

She didn't know what was going on. After the child glanced at her, he stopped crying, and then he tried to grab her earphones.

Jessica subconsciously stretched out her hand to block.

The aunt glanced at Jessica, then smiled and said, "Oh, the little girl is also on the train, alone?"

Out of politeness, Jessica nodded lightly, and gave a hmm.

The child wanted to pull her earphone again, Jessica pulled the earphone back indifferently, so as not to be damaged by the child.

Seeing this scene, the child couldn't help crying loudly, then threw himself into the arms of the middle-aged woman and pointed at Jessica's headphone cord.

"Yes! Yes!"

The aunt glanced at Jessica, then at her headphone cable, and then smiled and said: "That little girl, my little tiger looks pretty good on your headphone cable, can you lend him a fun?"

Jessica refused without thinking, "Sorry, I'm using it."

The aunt probably didn't expect that she would refuse so simply, she was stunned for a while, and her complexion became unsightly.

And Jessica has switched to another music.

The stranger on the train just cares about people asking for things. She doesn't dare to agree with this kind of tutoring.

She also borrowed it for fun, her headphone cord is not his toy.

The child didn't want what she wanted, and started crying again. The aunt was so upset by crying that she slapped the child on the cheek and cursed and said: "Why cry? I want everything. I didn't see you give you one. White eyes?"

Chapter 1357

Aunt's voice is very penetrating.

So even after playing the music, Jessica still clearly heard her mocking herself.

Her eyes became a little cold, and she didn't expect to be so unlucky to run into such a person on a train.

She was too lazy to scream, closed her eyes and leaned back, turning up the volume a bit, as if she hadn't heard.

Just get off the train, Jessica thought.

It was cold at night, Jessica didn't feel sleepy at first, and then slowly fell asleep, and the trains at this time were all rushing at night, so most of them started to make trouble at first, but then began to quiet down.

In such an environment, Jessica actually felt a little sleepy, closed her eyes and took a little rest.

She tightened her coat and continued to sleep.

Who knows that not long after, the child next to her started to make trouble again, clamoring for her headphone cable.

Someone next to me couldn't listen anymore, and said aunt.

"Can you take care of your children, everyone is sleeping now, can you stop making noise?"

The aunt replied without hesitation: "Would you like to teach you? What can I do if the child is not obedient? If it is too noisy, you can just pack a whole train and go back?"

The man was so arguable that he couldn't help but say something.

Who knew that he would be scolded, so he could only keep silent?

But the aunt was probably irritable, and the two sentences were not enough, she continued to mock her.

"There are some people who really don't know how heavy they are. They require so much to buy a hard seat. You think you are the emperor, and you need so much to sit in a car. You can't even afford a soft sleeper. What do you say? Look at how you are. I dare not even say anything."

The man was said to blush and his neck was thick, and said, "Who said I can't afford a soft sleeper? If it weren't for all the soft sleepers, I would not buy a hard seat!"

"Really? It's so arrogant, but you still can't afford a carriage. Who is it? Isn't it normal for children to make trouble? There is no education and love."

"Okay, what you said is right, aunt, I won't tell you."

"If you can't tell me, I just started playing tricks, what is it?"

With that, the aunt suddenly grabbed a handful of melon seeds from her pocket and threw it to the child in her arms: "Knock your melon seeds, why are you crying? Did you hear someone scolding you just now? Then cry and throw you off the train."

The child was so violent, and if he was really quiet, maybe he saw the handful of melon seeds, so he started knocking the melon seeds after he took it.

The surroundings slowly calmed down again, Jessica finally breathed a sigh of relief, but when she was about to continue to sleep, things changed suddenly.

Because the child started throwing melon seeds and shells at her.

At first, Jessica dressed thickly, so she didn't notice it, and gradually felt something was wrong.

So she looked down and found that several melon seeds had been thrown on her clothes. When she looked at the child, there was nothing but pride in the child's eyes.

It seemed to be deliberate, because he wanted her earphones just now, but she didn't give them out to play, he was avenging her.

After thinking for a while, Jessica pulled her lips and took off the headset.

“Auntie.”

The aunt was also knocking on the seeds, so she turned her head and glanced at Jessica.

“When your child ate melon seeds, he threw the shells of the melon seeds on my clothes.”

She pointed to the shell on her clothes. She thought that the aunt would apologize. Who knew she just glanced at it, and then contemptuously said, “Aren’t you just a few shells? The kid doesn’t know what to do. You are an adult who cares about him.” What? Can’t you just pat it off with your hands?”

Jessica, who was not in a very good mood at first, immediately became angry after hearing this.

She wanted to lose her temper and found it funny. She looked at the aunt for a long while and said, “Don’t you think there is a problem with children’s education? You don’t need to throw it in the trash can. Throw it on others, and think that I am thinking about children. ?”

“Isn’t he? How old is he? I said that a little girl of yours looks so good, why is it so bad? How can such an older child tell him? I told you that he is ignorant, you wouldn’t it be enough if you shoot it yourself?”

The people around heard the sound and stopped sleeping, and then began to watch the show.

Jessica sneered and slammed over.

“There is a child’s saliva on this melon seed shell. How do I know if the child is healthy and touch the saliva casually. What if I get infected?”

This is also an angry word, not deliberately cursing the other party.

But she was really angry at this time. If the aunt apologized to her, and then quickly patted the melon seeds off for her, and then educate the children, she might forget it.

But not only did the other party not apologize, but the attitude was so natural and arrogant, which made her feel that she was really intolerable.

Bear kids, no matter whether you can teach or not series!

Who knows that when the aunt heard it, she became angry, "Oh my god, why are you young girl thinking so vicious? Actually cursing my child to get sick!"

The aunt seemed to hear something terrible, and began to scream in the carriage.

"Everyone, help me judge. This little girl looks like a human. My child just accidentally threw the melon seed shell on her clothes. For children, all skins are normal. She actually I cursed my child to get sick! How could there be such a person? God, everyone help me judge."

The aunt started to cry, but no one spoke to her.

Because it was her child who was arguing before, it was her turn to quarrel now, so everyone was very annoyed with her and didn't want to speak for her at all.

The aunt cried for a long time, but when she saw that no one was commenting on her, she began to scold Jessica again.

"You said you are a little girl, how can you be so vicious? Are you still married and have no children? I tell you, just like you, you will have no farts in the future. I will tell you."

Jessica happened to be pregnant. When she heard the other party cursing herself like this, she immediately became angry and said with a sneer: “If a child is born without teaching himself, and he is allowed to make trouble everywhere, then it is better not to have a child and cause trouble everywhere. You should fortunately, what you met today was a little girl like me, not a rough man with a hot temper. Otherwise, your child would have been carried off the train. Also, what is a melon seed shell that was accidentally thrown? Throw it over deliberately, and you, as an elder, don’t care about it, and just let your children mess around like this? Depending on your age, are you his grandmother? You raised your grandson into ignorant waste, do your son and daughter-in-law know?”

Jessica was just too lazy to talk to her before, but it didn’t mean she couldn’t speak.

At this time, the aunt came, and it was a witty remark, and the aunt was stunned.

A few unhappy aunts nearby began to admire Jessica.

After Jessica finished speaking, she glanced at the other person, and when she was about to put on the earphones again, the aunt suddenly pinched her thin arm: “You dare to speak to me like this, apologize to me, otherwise today is not over!”

Chapter 1358

Jessica was caught by the arm and was stunned.

Aunt, with great strength, and her arms are very thin, she almost pinched her, Jessica’s face changed immediately: “Let go of me, you will call the train guard again like this!”

“Sell, come here to comment, and see what you vicious little girl looks like, “I’ll see if you still bully our grandchildren!”

“Quickly apologize to me!”

The child on the side also became angry and threw a handful of melon seeds on Jessica’s body.

The people around watched the excitement, but no one helped.

“You were the one who made the mistake first. I won’t apologize for this.”

The aunt wanted to say something more, she suddenly felt a sharp pain in her hand, as if her hand bone was about to break.

“Let her go.”

A low, cold voice rang overhead.

As soon as the aunt looked up, she saw a handsome and tall man standing next to her, holding her hand at this moment, his face was as cold as if he was about to kill her.

Probably because his aura was very icy and cold, the aunt was frightened for a while, and the hand pinched on Jessica’s arm was released suddenly, and then she looked at the incoming person.

“Who are you? Hurry up and let me go!”

Jessica’s arm was pinched very painful, but the sudden sound of a male voice made her forget the pain, and she looked up and saw a familiar face that appeared in her dream.

Victor Han...

Why is he here too?

And how did he know this train he was on? Obviously she just bought the ticket casually, so he...

Victor Han said with a gloomy face, "Apologize to her."

"Apologize? Why should I apologize to her? She cursed my grandson first. Ouch..."

Auntie, she screamed before she finished her words, her face was so ugly, she immediately cried out, "Look at me, everyone here is bullying the old man, can anyone help me?"

Everyone who had witnessed everything looked at their noses and hearts, pretending not to see.

And the louder the aunt screamed, Victor Han seemed to have heavier strength in her hand. After a while, the aunt raised the white flag and surrendered, "I was wrong, I was wrong, please raise your hand high, let go quickly."

Victor Han said with a cold face, "Apologize."

The aunt hurriedly turned to Jessica: "Little girl, hello, it's my fault. My grandson shouldn't throw all the melon seeds on you, and I shouldn't scold you, let alone pinch you. You should let your boyfriend loose. Let's go."

Jessica was a little surprised, still wondering why Victor Han would appear here, now that the aunt apologized to her, Jessica recovered and turned her head.

“He is not my boyfriend and has nothing to do with me.”

Then just sit down.

Aunt: “...”

“Little girl, this is your boyfriend? If he is not your boyfriend, why would he stand up for you? You let your boyfriend let go, my old waist veteran... If this goes on, I will stay for a while I’m going to have a heart attack.”

Jessica didn’t want to talk, the wicked had their own wickedness, and she was also asking for the pain now.

However, before she could react, Victor Han had already let go of her hand, and then stepped forward and grabbed Jessica’s wrist.

“Follow me.”

When Jessica saw it, she felt a little frown.

“Mr., who are you? Don’t touch me.”

Victor Han frowned slightly: “Yan Yan, don’t stay here.”

Jessica replied subconsciously: “I stay wherever I want to stay, you can’t control it.”

The people around watched this dramatic scene.

She probably didn’t expect Jessica’s boyfriend to run out suddenly, and then made the aunt dare not to speak.

He even saw that Victor Han wanted to take Jessica away, so he quickly took his grandson to stand up: "Sit down, this gentleman."

Everyone: "..."

Sure enough, the truth that wicked people have their own wicked people is right.

Victor Han did not sit down, but got up and walked to the side of Jessica, "You go by yourself, or should I hold you?"

Hearing, Jessica widened her eyes and looked up at him: "What the hell are you going to do? I didn't say, I want to break up with you and don't want to be with you anymore, so what are you doing with me?"

"I didn't agree."

"What?"

"What you said about breaking up, I didn't agree."

So now, the two are still boyfriend and girlfriend.

Jessica was stunned for a moment, but she didn't expect Victor Han to say such a shameful remark, she simply said: "You don't need your consent to break up, I just want to break up."

"Still not getting up?" Victor Han did not continue the topic, but continued: "I will give you ten seconds. If you still can't get up, then I will take you and walk here."

Jessica looked at his firm eyes, and felt that he would definitely do what she said, but... she was just stubborn and didn't want to get up.

Why does he say what? Who does he think he is?

Why should she listen to him?

She had to sit here and ignore him.

Jessica grabbed the back of the chair in front and sat there stubbornly.

But she subconsciously counted down the ten seconds in her heart.

Sure enough, when she had counted to one, the whole person jumped into the air and was beaten up by Victor Han. During the whole process, she had no time to react, and before she had time to say anything, she was taken away.

“What are you doing? Let me down! Victor Han, you bastard, I don’t want to go with you, why are you following me? Let go of me, let me go...”

Jessica struggled hard on him.

Victor Han hugged her tightly, “If you don’t want to fall, don’t struggle, I will take you to change a carriage.”

Victor Han took her to another carriage.

She was held on the way and was always watched by others.

When she finally stopped, Jessica found that Victor Han was standing in front of a soft sleeper and discussing something with the owner.

Victor Han wanted this position, but that person was not willing.

Victor Han directly said that he would buy it with the money, and the host directly said, “You can buy it when you say it?”

“Ten thousand yuan, can you sell it?”

The owner of the soft sleeper was taken aback, afraid that he didn't expect that Victor Han would take such a lavish move, and was stunned for a while before he could react.

The man in the soft sleeper upper berth heard that he was playing with his mobile phone. At this moment, the mobile phone was put away and he slid down numbly. His eyes were bright and authentic: “Ten thousand yuan? Really fake? I sell it, brother, I Sell this position to you, mobile phone transfer or cash?”

He asked urgently and even took out his phone.

But the people in the lower bunk who were stunned saw the upper bunk being so active, and immediately stood up, “Why are you stealing other people's business? Brother, I sell it, let alone 10,000 yuan, I will sell it to you for 5,000 yuan.

Just giving the position to someone else can get five thousand yuan in vain, unless he is a fool he won't sell it.

“Buy mine, four thousand will do.”

“I wipe, you guy...”

Jessica in Victor Han's arms: “...”

Is it necessary?

Victor Han put Jessica down, locked her waist and took out his mobile phone:
“I need to go up and down, transfer money.”

Chapter 1359

Jessica: “...”

When Victor Han finished paying the money, Jessica couldn't help but scold him, “Are you crazy? These two tickets don't have to be so expensive at all, you actually spent 20,000 yuan to buy them!”

Is he a fool?

Although she knew that Victor Han was rich, she would never put the 20,000 yuan in her eyes, but this kind of waste of money still made her dumbfounded.

The two men who really received the money took a look at their mobile phones with joy, and then looked at Shangyan and Victor Han, their mouths were fatally sweet.

“Sister, your boyfriend is so generous, you are really blessed to find such a boyfriend, cherish it.”

Jessica: “...what's up to you, I didn't say that he is my boyfriend.”

She wanted to struggle, but Victor Han kept holding her tightly, not letting her escape at all.

“Hey, it seems that this is awkward. No wonder he was so lavish and chased you to the train. He was also very careful. Brother, yes, I wish you 99.”

Originally, Victor Han only thought that they talked too much, and wanted them to pack up and leave quickly.

But after the other party wished himself and Jessica 99, he moved his lips for an unprecedented time: “Thank you.”

After that, the two quickly packed their things and left. While packing, Jessica tried to struggle, but Victor Han never let her escape.

Finally, Victor Han placed her things beside the sleeper and asked her to sit down on the bed.

It’s very quiet here, because everyone is sleeping. After the two people left, this area was basically quiet.

In such a quiet environment, Jessica can’t speak loudly, let alone lose her temper.

She could only lower her voice to look at Victor Han, what she wanted to say, and then turned her head after thinking about it.

After a while, she turned her head back and said to Victor Han, “Are you crazy for spending 20,000 yuan to buy such a place?”

Victor Han: “...”

Unexpectedly, she still remembered this thing now.

Facing her angry gaze, Victor Han sighed and said helplessly: “For me, these are not important.”

The important thing is that the little girl in front of me was bullied just now.

If you don’t bring her here, she will continue to be wronged over there.

Victor Han began to clean up the bed, Jessica watched quietly by the side, and found that his movements were a bit awkward. It was obviously the first time he did this kind of thing.

Thinking of this, Jessica asked subconsciously: "This is your first time taking a train?"

Victor Han paused, and then said: "Everything has the first time."

Is he crazy?

"I booked train tickets casually. How did you find me?"

Jessica still couldn't believe that she would meet Victor Han on the train. She always felt that all this pain was a dream.

No, maybe those happy scenes before this are just a dream.

Now, the dream woke up.

She should retreat to her original position.

In the real world, there is still a huge difference between him and her, the position beside him belongs to others.

Victor Han arranged the pillow for her, raised her feet, and Jessica subconsciously held down his hand: "What are you going to do?"

"Isn't it sleepy? Go up to the break."

Victor Han said to her, taking off her shoes, Jessica wanted to resist and stop her, so she was hugged by Victor Han and put on the bed, covered with a quilt.

What is this? After you come, you don't say anything, just do these things directly.

Thinking of Xu Yanwan, Jessica felt a little sadder.

"You haven't answered my question, how did you find me?"

Victor Han moved gently to tuck the quilt for her, pursing her lips tightly, probably because her eyes were too strong, so he raised his head and explained: "If you want to find it, you can naturally find it."

"Sleep for a while, your face is terrible, when you wake up, we will be there."

His tone was light, like a glass of warm water.

Jessica's heart was like a knife twist, she closed her eyes, feeling the heat in her eyes.

"Is this compensation in disguise? Do you think you have done these things and I will forgive you for concealing my things?"

When Victor Han asked about concealing her, her eyes darkened a little.

In fact, it's not that he doesn't want to tell her what happened when she was a child, but that these dark memories don't need to be relayed to her beloved.

Those are just his own pains, why should he say it and let the little girl bear with him?

What he wanted to give her was a warm, happy and bright environment.

Not the scene full of fire, full of piercing cries everywhere.

“I didn’t deliberately want to hide from you.”

“Then why didn’t you say it?” Jessica still couldn’t accept it, and she suddenly became a third party.

When I thought about it, I felt that her head was about to explode, so she didn’t wait for Victor Han to speak, she turned over and said, “Okay, you don’t need to explain, it’s the same as the facts. After the train arrives, you go back. Come on, stop following me.”

She came out to relax, another way of saying it was to forget Victor Han.

If he has been following and entangled with himself, what is the point of her coming out this time?

The more she thought about it, the angrier it became, Jessica simply pulled up the quilt over her head, and stopped talking to Victor Han.

In fact, Victor Han did not intend to say to her angrily that she is too irrational now, although he always felt that this matter did not seem to be so serious.

But the little girl, after so careful and accurate for so long, suddenly messed up and being read by others, naturally she will think more. So Victor Han decided to stay with her these few days, and do whatever she wanted, until her anger subsided a little and calm down.

He told her about the past.

There was a deep sigh over her head. For a long time Jessica heard Victor Han say: “Go to sleep, get a good night’s sleep, I am here to guard you.”

Hearing this, Jessica couldn’t help but flushed her eyes, tears burst into her eyes.

If it were before, she would have thought that Victor Han was really kind to her and felt safe after hearing this.

But now... she felt that she was infinitely mocking.

He is a man with a fiancée.

But he chased her out, and his fiancée stayed in his company.

The funny thing is that she didn't know anything, and she personally sent his fiancée in front of him, and took her to the hospital together and brought her food.

It is estimated that Xu Yanwan will laugh at herself to death.

Think about the message Xu Yanwan sent to herself before.

It is said that the person with him now is himself, and he will be responsible for himself.

She doesn't want to be responsible, she doesn't want...

Jessica's tears were very fierce, but because Victor Han was on it, she could only suppress her crying, bit her lower lip firmly, swallowing all the choking back into her stomach.

But despite her restraint, she still ran away slightly from her lips.

Victor Han, who was guarding by the side, heard this sob, and his heart was clenched.
