

Chapter 141 - Teach everything except knowledge

, The fastest update to the latest chapters of the technician manual!

Kaimon University, Lecture Room 107.

“The deconstruction of human settings is a very important research direction of the psychic faction.”

“Ordinary people and even magicians who have not understood the spiritual knowledge will inevitably carry out the ‘personal pre-construction’ of the strangers they first met, which is commonly known as labeling. Rich and gentle, poor and inferior, strong and domineering, Weak and gentle... We will extract the most conspicuous qualities of the other party and incorporate them into our own thinking field.”

“Tagging is a normal spiritual activity. It can help us quickly find the most reasonable way to interact. To be humble in the face of strong enemies, and to keep an inch in the face of the weak. It can even be said that tagging is a necessary survival skill. “

“But for the psychic, this kind of labelled ‘human pre-construction’ is often the best time for us to cast spells. We can deconstruct the human setting and affect strangers silently. There are usually two ways. “

“The first method is the simplest and caters to deconstruction. Generally speaking, after experiencing close interaction and contact, people will gradually modify their perceptions of others, from simple labeling to complex labeling, such as “rich “Gentleness” will become “rich, mean to others, gentle, but only for friends” and so on. People use limited information to deconstruct a complex individual into an easy-to-understand concept. “

“Catering to deconstruction means that after giving the other person the first impression, the psychic keeps showing the other’s ‘expected’ traits. For example, when I dress up as a rich and funny middle-aged man in a wine cafe, I will talk to someone. I think I have a luxury car, and I really took out a luxury car key; the other person will think that I live in the upper area, and then I accidentally reveal that I live in Phoenix Garden... Then what do you think of my accusation that night?”

“Showing the first impression that the other party likes, and constantly revealing details to let the other party automatically ‘fill up’ the persona, you can quickly gain the other party’s trust. Because ‘you’ didn’t say anything, everything about ‘you’ It is the other party’s inference and thinking-people will unconditionally believe in their own judgment.”

“Many victims of emotional fraud cases are mostly confused by this technique, so that they believe that love really exists in this world. Personally, I don’t recommend that you use this method. Even if you use it, don’t cheat money. Just a nice night.”

“There are many ways to use it to cater to deconstruction. I won’t expand it here. Interested students can buy the “108 Practical Human Design Templates” I wrote, and they can download it on the curtain.”

“The second way is the most difficult, reverse deconstruction. You don’t need to think about your impression of others, you only need to construct the impression of others in detail. In simple terms, it is guided by skills such as magical spirits, miracles, and words. , Let others ‘match’ your impression of him.”

“You think that the other person is a kind and generous person, so in front of you, he becomes a kind and generous person. But you can’t simply label it. You have to think about ‘why is he kind’ and ‘why is he generous’, and then through various The details strengthen the other’s cognition, allowing the other party to unknowingly cater to your ‘impression’-even if the other party resists this impression.”

“It’s more complicated to say that, but if you have read “The History of Social Change”, you can definitely think of an ancient social unit-yes, it is the family system that Fei Nanxue said last night.

“In the family system, male guardians and female guardians often use this reverse deconstruction method to mold children into the “good children” in their impressions. It is said that in ancient times, the easiest way to become a psychic was to cultivate A perfect child.”

“Here we will not discuss the correctness of Fernanxue’s remarks, but there is no doubt that reverse deconstruction will stifle children’s personalities and deprive children of their human rights and freedom. This is one of the reasons why the family system has been swept into the garbage dump of history. But for us psychologists, inverse deconstruction is the direction of our lifelong research and study.”

“A powerful psychic is no longer satisfied with deconstructing intelligent creatures, but deconstructing the world—‘the world revolves around me.’ This is the highest state of the psychic!”

As the bell rang for the end of get out of class, the students hurriedly left, and soon the classroom was mostly empty.

Adela, who was next to Freya, slumped softly on the table and sighed: “When will I summon the psychic spirits to gamble on money-this elective course really only teaches all knowledge except knowledge. “

Freya was wearing a cool sling and one-neck vest today, and nodded in agreement.

The comprehensive university does not have a Department of Mind, or in other words, there are no departments of Mind in all universities in the entire Blood Moon Kingdom. At most, there are only elective courses on spiritual knowledge, such as this section of “Mind Analysis” they chose.

The professor talked loudly on it, but he never said how to summon Shu Ling. It was just some interpersonal communication strategies, and he also tempted everyone to buy his books. If Freya was right, the professor just used ‘hint’ and the like. The Shu Ling, so students think that the “108 Practical Human Design Templates” contains Shu Ling’s summoning methods.

Although the quality of the course is low, the price is not cheap at all. For this course alone, the total amount of student loans for Freya has increased by a full 5%.

Although everyone can find all knowledge in the curtain these days for free, the knowledge that can make money is never free, and the threshold is extremely high and secretive.

For example, in the Department of Biology, the 17th century was the century of biology. Biological dresser is currently the highest paid profession, but if you want to learn relevant knowledge, you can only become an apprentice of biology professor. Basically, a ten-year employment contract cannot run away.

The only career in the Department of Mind is psychotherapist, but everyone knows that real psychologists are either criminals or politicians (in fact, both are similar). They can be described as high-risk and high-reward. It is only natural that knowledge of psychic factions is difficult to obtain.

If it wasn't for Freya to be a Veeva, there is a high probability that she would be able to call psychic spirits on her own.

Adela said, "Go to Sales for dinner tonight?"

"No money." Freya said lazily: "I just went to Shuangluo last night."

"Oh please."

"Did you win money?"

"Hehe." Adela snickered like a cat: "I made a big bet on Fernanxue in the Blood Moon Trial last night and made a lot of money."

"How much did you earn?"

Chapter 142 - Cult leader cooks online

"You really are not afraid to lose all your scholarship..."

Freya shook her head: "And don't look up to yourself, you may not be able to get the lowest grade green tea in tea and coffee. If you want to make money in tea and coffee, you should first take a loan to do a full-body medical beauty, body curve, Various structures such as appearance, hair, lips and teeth, smell, romantic points, etc. have to be adjusted..."

Adela looked horrified: "So scary?"

"Let me describe it to you." Freya pointed to herself: "If I go to tea coffee, at most I will be a tea master at the green tea level, and my performance must be at the middle or lower level."

"Tea and coffee are over-rolled too! Even Veeva can only eat with rice!?"

"Actually, in my opinion, there are more inside rolls of clay coffee than tea coffee. Next time you go to clay coffee with me, I can introduce you to an orc who is more beautiful than Veeva."

"Blame the medical doctor!" Adela was itchy with hatred: "Even a natural and beautiful girl like me can't make money from the body these days."

"So you have to study hard. The technician is the most unscrupulous profession." Freya packs up her schoolbag: "Vulture doesn't care about rankings, it only cares about whether you are qualified."

Adela followed up: "Go, eat Saleh."

Sales is a music restaurant near the university. The price is affordable and the dishes are rich. It is very popular with students. It also divides the moon sugar area and the non-moon sugar area. Students do not have to worry about the diners next to them suddenly eating sugar while eating. .

"I won't go with you."

"Ah, why? I'm a treat."

"I have something tonight."

Adela was startled slightly: "Go to Nica for two consecutive nights? Are you so rich?"

"It's not going to the clay coffee." Freya said with her chin, "It's not suitable for telling you."

Before going out in the morning, after Ah Xiu asked Freya about the schedule, he asked her to go home as soon as possible after class. Freya also felt that she had sheltered the escaped prisoner, so she planned to go back to see the situation first.

Adela hesitated, and suddenly remembered something, and grabbed Freya's beautiful shoulder and asked: "Should you not fall in love anymore? Don't be fooled by those masons!"

"No, how is it possible." Freya smiled and waved her hand: "Have you heard that a Veeva will be deceived by the opposite sex?"

Adela thought for a while, indeed. Since she knew Freya, Freya has patronized more than a dozen clay cafes, large and small near the university, and never missed a single mason—veva is a well-known one-time race, and she will be very busy before mating. Like it, it will be disgusting after mating, only a very small number of individuals can become an exception for Veeva.

Being in love is naturally insulated from Veeva, and they can't stand the long-term close relationship with the same person.

Adela snorted: "If you don't go, I'm too lazy to go to Sales, then I'm going to eat the "fortune high" buffet. "

"Fortune High" is the most famous big casino near the university. As long as you purchase a certain amount of chips, you can enjoy the buffet inside for free. Freya exhorted: "Don't lose all the money for the meal, I have no money to lend you."

"Bah, baah, I'm lucky today, don't curse me!"

After leaving the classroom, I separated from Adela. Freya silently prayed to the Blood Moon Supreme Lord, hoping that he would bless Adela not to lose everything—otherwise Adela would definitely follow her to eat and drink.

Adela is her university friend, a human female, has green eyes with wine, and his hobby is gambling. Although gambling is serious, it is not uncommon in colleges—gambling and **** are basically the same for every college student. Of course, the probability of both gambling is greater. As for those who do not touch these two kinds of “wooden people” at all, they will be Everyone excludes the isolated.

However, the proportion of sugar people among college students is relatively low. Although there is no survey, everyone believes that eating sugar will reduce their thinking ability, and sugar people basically do not have the academic ability to be admitted to college.

But Adela is not an irrational gambler. She has the confidence to dare to be so arrogant, because her results are among the best. As long as she works hard, she can be admitted to the graduate school of the Red Mist Institute when she graduates. Naturally it will help her to waive the student loan.

In popular terms, she will soon be able to ‘go ashore’, and naturally she has little worries about the future.

For those who fail to pass the postgraduate entrance examination like Freya, they have to repay their student loans after graduation. If they cannot find a good job and cannot repay the loan, the bank will introduce them to “more profitable” jobs-such as tea, coffee and tea. Teacher or something.

How many of the masons in Nikali who have been transformed to cater to the various hobbies of customers are her seniors...

In random thoughts, Freya returned to the apartment where she lived.

On the stairs, she met Aunt Mulan on the second floor. As soon as she said hello, she grabbed her arm. The fluffy area of the forearm is Veeva’s weakness. Freya didn’t dare to exert any force. She only listened to her aunt nagging: “Freya, don’t trust a man, no matter how good the other person is, it’s a lie. I can’t empathize with women, I was...”

After listening to the classic story of ‘the young and beautiful Mulan was cheated by a scumbag’ again, Freya saw the opportunity to break free and said: “I know Aunt Mullan, I am a Vewa, and I won’t be fooled by a man! “

Aunt Mulan sighed as she watched it, and shouted from behind: “Men love to tie you up with small favors, as long as he refuses to spend much money on you, it is a lie!”

Today's Aunt Mulan is so excited, did she go to Nica to order the man who cheated her money back then? ...Frya was thinking about it, and when she took out the key to open the door, she suddenly remembered that there was a cult leader living inside.

Speaking of which, why did he call me to come back earlier?

What does a cult leader do when there is no one?

It must be an evil sacrifice ceremony!

Did he call me back as a sacrifice?

No, the contract last night clearly had a rule of 'the two sides cannot hurt each other'~www.mtlnovel.com~ Is he short of manpower for the ceremony and wants to call me back to help?

Then, won't I change from sheltering to accomplice? !

And even though the cult leader can't hurt me, there are not many cult leaders under him. Maybe there are a lot of villains in black robes holding up torches!

Even though she said that, Freya still had to open the door to take a look, and run away if there was any danger. This is the urban area. It is impossible for a prisoner to chase and kill a female college student in the street, right?

Freya opened the door, her nose moved slightly, and she smelled the scent of food. She walked into the hall suspiciously and saw Ah Xiu wearing an apron in the small kitchen, who was busy working with kitchen utensils she hadn't taken out since she moved in.

Xiao Xian turns around his feet, meowing from time to time, seeming to want to taste his craftsmanship.

When Ah Xiu saw her, he smiled and said, "Sit down for a while. I will prepare the last dish soon and I will have dinner soon."

"Welcome back."

Chapter 143 - Try not to kill you

, The fastest update to the latest chapters of the technician manual!

Freya's home does not have a dining table, so the dishes are all placed on the desk.

Freya was sitting on the chair that was originally used to put dirty clothes-the dirty clothes were taken by Ash to be washed, and they were hanging on the balcony-she pointed to the Chi Yan Lala fat rice bowl in front of her, and the lettuce salad from the master. The misty spinach quiche asked in a daze, "You call me back, just want to eat together?"

Xiao Xian's cat food today is covered with a layer of Chi Yan Lala Fatty Sauce, which is very fragrant.

"Yes." Ya Xiu unlocked his apron, "Although I can wear a mask to avoid the surveillance of camera eyes, I have to show my face when I eat. I can't eat outside... so I can only buy ingredients to cook at home. It's like buying a cake at noon and coming back to eat."

"Then you can eat bread at night, why do you cook?"

"To be honest, my food standard in the prison is pretty good. Lunch is not enough. If I can't have a good meal for dinner, it's kind of..."

"Then why are you calling me back?"

"Because there is no way to cook for one person, I can't eat three dishes alone, so I call you to come back and eat together."

It sounds reasonable, but Freya still feels weird-you are the leader of the Four Pillars Cult cult, Ash Heath, you are hungry, shouldn't you just find a passerby to pick up your skull and taste a fresh brain?

As a matter of fact, Asia Xiu didn't know how to cook before. This was the "Master of Common Recipes" obtained by reading the Technician's Handbook. I didn't expect it to come in handy.

"You just came out of prison, where did you get the money to buy ingredients?" Freya suddenly thought of this.

She wasn't afraid that Ash would take her money. In fact, her family had no money at all. She is not a magician yet, so she doesn't need to carry silver coins on her body, just deduct the data currency in the chip for consumption.

"You can also make money in prison." Ya Xiu took out a wad of exquisite banknotes from the bag and exclaimed, "I can get back so much change when I buy food ingredients directly with silver coins."

To be precise, the ingredients for this sumptuous dinner can't even cost one-twentieth of a silver coin. A silver coin can probably meet the food needs of an ordinary person for 20 days, and 18 in a year, while gold coins The exchange rate with silver coins seems to be 1:100...

After a day of shopping, Ya Xiu felt that he needed to revise his impression of the medical doctor [222]- she was not a rich woman who could give out a gold coin, she was a rich woman!

While talking, Ah Xiu opened a video in the Veil of Knowledge, titled "Why the Magician is Great". There are many such knowledge videos in the curtain, and the main audience is ordinary people who are not qualified to go to college.

But in the eyes of a quasi-skinner like Freya, the knowledge inside is a bit superficial, but with the humorous lines and hilarious pictures, it still looks quite interesting.

Did he find the video casually? He is a full-fledged magician, no need to watch this kind of knowledge video...

It is worth mentioning that a 30-second advertisement came before the video was officially played, and this advertisement was switched to a wanted public notice in the crime hunting hall in the last ten seconds.

“‘Necrophilia’ Archibald Harvey, a wingman, a reward of 10 gold coins for death/alive capture, and a reward of 1 silver coin for news.”

“‘Rotten Crow’ Ronald Wade, a wingman, a reward of 8 gold coins for death/alive capture, and a reward of 8 silver coins for news.”

“‘The ‘fraudster’ Ikola Borgin, a two-winged wizard, a reward of 15 gold coins for death/alive capture, and a reward of 2 silver coins for news.”

“‘Death Eater’ Ronal Chios, a two-winged wizard, a reward of 20 gold coins for death/alive capture, and a reward of 2 silver coins for news.”

“‘Evil Saint’ Ash Heath, strength unknown, 50 gold coins for death/alive capture, and 5 silver coins for news.”

“You are so valuable.”

“Thank you for the compliment. Do you regret it?”

“That’s not the case, after all, it’s hard to buy a spirit system like Sympathy Shuling. You can’t get 5 silver coins.”

Speaking of this, Freya paused for a while, and looked at Ya Xiu: “If the Lord Evil Saint wants to go back to the prison, please let me send you back.”

“Don’t think about it, if I want to surrender, I will definitely accept this reward myself.”

“mean.”

The two of them were eating while watching the video, and Ya Xiu looked at it and suddenly said, “Frya, discuss something with you.”

“Um?”

“Can you wear clothes at night?” Ya Xiu said euphemistically, “After all, I have the opposite **** now...”

After all, last night was the first day of boarding at someone else’s house, and Asia held back all night without saying anything. Even though he was asleep on the ground, but when he thought of a naked lamb lying on the bed, he didn’t fall asleep in the middle of the night.

Freya glanced at him strangely: “You are here, why do you want me to wear clothes?”

“Don’t you feel embarrassed to be looked down on naked by others?”

“No, if it weren’t for violating the law and order, I wouldn’t want to go to class without clothes. The weather has been quite hot recently.”

Freya opened her little vest, glanced inside, and asked strangely: “Or I’m not good-looking, making you feel uncomfortable?”

“No, you look good, but...” Ya Xiu racked his brain to explain in elegant sentences: “You made my body yearning...”

“Oh!” Freya suddenly realized, took out a tissue and wiped her mouth, and then pulled the vest with her hands: “Then let’s do it, you will get used to it after finishing your body. Don’t worry, I will try to be careful about you— —”

“Why is your brain circuit like this!” Ya Xiu pulled down her vest: “This is too casual!”

“What you said is a bit too much. If it weren’t for signing a contract with you, I would like to sue you.” Freya was a little unhappy: “I am not a casual person. Look, you are the leader of a cult. , In the future, I will be given a magical spirit, plus I can look good, so I don’t think it’s a problem to do it with you. This can be regarded as Veeva etiquette.”

“Or are you afraid to do it with me? Don’t worry, I will try my best not to kill you.”

At this time, Ya Xiu finally heard what was wrong: “What is meant by staying power and not killing me?”

“Don’t you know? Our veeva’s body fluid has a peculiar effect, which can reduce the male’s refractory period to zero, plus we enjoy the joy of mating, and sometimes accidentally kill each other. “Freya said: “But I will pay attention, and stop as soon as you feel comfortable. After all, the contract does not allow me to hurt you. Really, I will be very, very careful.”

Freya’s words are serious, because she can’t do it if she’s not serious—the masons of Nijia have basically undergone special transformations, and can freely decide the end time and have unlimited battery life, but normal people who have not been transformed basically do not have this kind of technology, even if A race that is naturally strong will not work.

Even now, Freya will hear the news that ogres, orcs and even elves have been killed by Veevas from time to time. The Blood Saints are squeezed out of blood and unconscious. Only the pure Moonshadows can be immune to Veevas. Appeal.

In a sense, Veeva is ushered in a good era. When the biological transformation technology was not industrialized one or two hundred years ago, Veeva basically had seven murderers for every ten people, and the other three were just because no dead bodies were found.

However, because of the interference of the Human Rights Association and the Race Rights Association, as long as Veeva did not conceal her race beforehand, it would not be considered as a deliberate murder, but a suicide by the other party, and it would be a matter of tens of hours of social service time for Veeva.

If the refusal just now was due to the inexplicable virgin code of ethics, then Ah Xiu’s survival instinct has the upper hand, and he firmly grasped Freya’s waistcoat to prevent her from taking it off.

Although this method of death was very cool, Ya Xiu had no plans to die.

Freya pouted, "I don't want to put on clothes after the shower~www.mtlnovel.com~ and you don't want your body to get used to me, so what do you say?"

"I hold it."

Freya shrugged and continued to eat, "You are such a strange person."

"In my opinion, you are too weird."

Ah Xiu sighed: "I walked around the university during the day and saw three casinos and five or six sugar shops. I even saw a group of female college students enter a place called "Mixue Tea Coffee" and changed it. A set of extremely revealing clothes to solicit guests outside..."

A question mark appeared on Freya's head: "What happened to female college students doing part-time jobs in their spare time? Then did you take care of their business?"

"Freya, I am an escaped prisoner."

"Don't worry about this. You can wear a mask all the way, and you can also use silver coins to pay the bill. Tea and coffee will not be nosy, and will only think that you are a customer with special habit."

Freya said: "If you feel uncomfortable after eating, go quickly, I will wash the dishes."

Chapter 144 - Towards a better life

, The fastest update to the latest chapters of the technician manual!

Ya Xiu's expression froze for a moment, and he changed the subject: "Tea coffee is not good, after all, I also like to see beautiful women, but the question is why there are so many exposed men scratching their heads in some places called “mud coffee”, which is really hurting. It’s in my eyes. If I am not an escaped prisoner, I would like to report to the crime hunting hall that they affect the appearance of the city. This should be clearly prohibited by legislation—”

“I advise you not to be nosy.” Freya warned: “You don’t like to watch, we love to watch. Just allow your men to look at beautiful women, and not allow our women to look at beautiful men?”

“Actually, these are nothing more. They are traditional occupations after all. Although they are a bit larger, they are not incomprehensible.” Ya Xiu’s expression turned gloomy: “I walked a little farther and wandered and saw workers on a construction site.”

“What happened to the workers?”

“They...most of their bodies have become machines. Their feet have become wheels, their hands have become multi-functional toolboxes, and even their eyes have been replaced with mechanical artificial eyes... If I didn’t see them drinking and hear them chatting, I They thought they were robots.”

“How could it be a robot?” Freya waved her hand: “A fully automatic robot is expensive and has to be maintained frequently. Compared with hiring these mechanical workers, it is much cheaper. I remember you haven’t been in prison for long. Mechanical workers have been popular in Kaimon more than ten years ago. Why do you seem to have never seen it before?”

“...Are there many such mechanical workers in Kaimon?”

“It’s not necessarily on the construction site. They can change parts with their hands, and after simple training, they can take up technical jobs such as assemblers, maintenance workers, and assemblers at any time.”

Freya ate a big mouthful of red flames to pull the fat, and the corners of her mouth were covered with mayonnaise: “Generally speaking, most ordinary people who have no hope of becoming a machinist will become mechanical workers. Even clerks are no exception. It’s just mechanical.”

Asia was stunned: “Unskilled labor types will also be mechanized?”

“Of course, not to mention the limbs and spine, it is very advantageous to replace the internal organs with mechanical reproductive equipment.” Freya poked her own dumpling: “The heart can be replaced with a stronger “fire”, and the lungs can be replaced with a more powerful circulation. With a strong “internal combustion engine”, the stomach is replaced with a “energy pool” with stronger digestion and absorption capacity...”

“Now mechanical transformation is very cheap. A set of standard mechanical reproductive equipment can be repaid with only three or four years of loan if you work seriously, but the effect is excellent: it allows you to last longer and save energy.”

“When you are in distress, you can barely survive by just drinking water, and you can stay energetic. When you are rich, you can have more physical energy to enjoy and get a more exciting sensory experience.”

“If it weren’t for the mechanical cloning that would reduce the magician’s mana absorption efficiency in the virtual world, perhaps many warlocks would perform mechanical cloning instead of choosing more expensive biological cloning.”

Freya shrugged: “But now for ordinary people, the “universal” manipulator and the “energy pool” mechanical stomach are almost necessary, otherwise no company is willing to hire them. Most practical tools are designed with a manipulator as the interface. You can hardly use tools without a manipulator. For example, the manipulator of the chef in my university canteen connects to the spatula, which can automatically heat up, cool down, and add seasonings. The steaks he fries are particularly delicious. “

“The mechanical stomach can eat all day’s food in the morning and then slowly digest it, which not only increases working time, but also saves food expenses-like our meal, it can be replaced with 30 ‘feed’.”

“Mechanic workers only need to eat one feed to support a day’s work. In other words, we can be regarded as eating a one-month ration of a mechanical worker.”

Ah Xiu couldn’t understand: “What about the Human Rights Association? What about the Racial Rights Association? They don’t care?”

Freya frowned: “What’s the matter with the Human Rights Association? It’s not that someone forced them to make mechanical transformations. They are all voluntary. The Human Rights Association cannot restrict their freedom to make mechanical transformations, let alone prevent them from running towards a better one. life.”

Towards a better life.

Ah Xiu was dumbfounded.

He was silent for a long time, and when Freya was full and wiped his mouth, he suddenly asked a question.

“The mechanical workers save money so much, so where are their wages spent?”

Freya Breaking Fingers: “Clay Coffee, Tea Coffee, Casino, Sugar Shop, Chase Voting, Costume Jewelry, Creature Modification, Update Chip Version, Update the Veil of Knowledge, “The Rise of the Sorcerer”, “Vision Fantasy 14 “, “Miracle World”,...”

After a day of surfing, Ya Xiu knew that the next three games were the hottest multiplayer games in the curtain. The curtain is the information world built by all citizens, which is equivalent to the Internet. It is called the curtain because it has a high degree of concealment. Except for the crime hunting hall that manages the chip, it is impossible for ordinary people to find other people from the curtain. In the information world Everyone is an invisible person ‘behind the curtain’.

Also because of anonymity, everyone’s speech in the curtain can be described as unscrupulous. In just one day, Ya Xiu learned a lot of swear words about racial discrimination, **** discrimination, academic discrimination, and occupational discrimination.

Even if there are no mothers in the blood moon kingdom, their proficiency in swear words still amazes Ya Xiu, and he wants to change a pair of eyes that have never seen these swear words.

He even felt for a moment that the ‘speaking restriction’ regulations like the Broken Lake Prison actually have merits, and that these wanton-spraying people should be captured and reformed.

As for voting for dramas, it is a special charging model for the film and television dramas of the Blood Moon Country. Simply put, when the audience watches the first half of the episode, the show will give multiple ending choices. The audience can choose their favorite ending direction by voting (money), and then the show will do what you want Take it out.

For example, the comic book “It’s Only Blame I Said I Like Married Women” that Ashiu has read, after the film and television, it may give out “Male Number One and Female Number One Live a Happy Life”, “Male Number One and Female Number One, Female Number One”, There are more than a dozen ending directions, such as “No. 1 and No. 2 women”, “No. 1 and No. 2 men” and so on. After the audience watched the first half of the episode, let them choose the ending!

As for costume jewelry, Ya Xiu discovered today that although Freya is not big, she has three wardrobes filled with all kinds of good-looking clothes and accessories. He thought it was a female hobby, but when he walked on the street, everyone was basically dressed in a very high-end style. Even the male tellers in the food supermarket dressed like rich boys.

In addition to middle-aged and elderly people, most young people are very beautiful, regardless of gender, even goblins are beautiful, some people even have stars in their eyes—they are real stars, and their pupils will be bright. The kind of blinking Bling.

Obviously everyone’s appearance has been artistically processed by the medical doctor, but Ah Xiu can’t say anything about this—he was also pinched by the medical doctor[222].

As for why the Curtain of Knowledge was purchased, it was because it also cost money to update the chip version. Most people are born with the miracle type 1 chip version, which is slow, has a small storage space, and can only be regarded as “usable”. Most adults will update the version to type 10 or higher. The newer the chip version, the stronger the function and the better the experience. Not to mention that many applications have version requirements. The lower version of the chip cannot use the higher version of the application.

The Curtain of Knowledge is the glass display they are looking at~www.mtlnovel.com~ Compared with the narrow light curtain displayed by the chip, the Curtain of Knowledge has higher resolution, larger size, better color, and larger storage space. , Better performance and other features.

Although they are all infotainment terminals, the chip status is equivalent to an implanted mobile phone, and the screen of knowledge is equivalent to a personal computer.

“In other words, after most people make money, they will invest in pornography, gambling, drugs, body modification, costume jewelry, virtual entertainment?”

“Yes.”

Ah Xiu opened his mouth to say something, but closed his mouth again.

After he had eaten the last piece of quiche, he couldn't help asking, “Are you the same?”

“Yes, but I have no interest in gambling drugs, and I want to become a magician in the future, so I can't make biological transformations for the time being.”

“Then are you happy?”

Freya glanced at him strangely.

“very happy.”

Chapter 145 - half an hour

Freya was very conscious, and washed the dishes with Ya Xiu.

After the incident, Freya glanced at the Curtain of Knowledge, "Do you still use the Curtain of Knowledge tonight?"

"Well, I want to check some information."

"Can't you use your own chip to connect to the curtain to check?"

"The premise of my escape is to get rid of the chip on the back of my neck."

Freya was a little surprised: "Then where will you live in the future? You can't rent a house without chip registration... Wouldn't you want to live with me all the time!?"

"It is stated in the contract that I will stay with you for at most seven days." Ya Xiu said in a huff: "I will go to sleep under the bridge by myself in seven days."

"As long as you give me sympathy magic spirits in accordance with the contract, I actually don't mind letting you stay for a few more days... If you are willing to cook every day, then I can give you no rent."

Freya paused: "I need to use the Curtain of Knowledge after taking a shower. It takes about half an hour."

"No problem, I just want to take a shower too. I will let you use that time."

Yaxiu continued to surf the curtain, and Freya started to write homework in the Department of Social Studies. The Department of Sociology is not a school of magic, but the content of the city public examinations are all from the Department of Sociology. It can be said that if you want to be admitted to government officials in the future, you basically have to have a silver degree in the Department of Sociology.

Last night, Fernanxue's speech in the Blood Moon Trial was out of the circle. Even people like Freya who didn't watch it were forced to watch it in class. Therefore, the professor assigned the homework "Discussing Socialized Raising and "Pros and cons of the family system", it is said that'socialized parenting' is likely to become a compulsory content of the municipal public examination in the next few years, and it is a key knowledge that must be mastered.

The homework is not difficult. As long as you follow the writing idea of "socialized raising and comprehensively crushing the family system", you can pass. If you want to get a high score, you have to use your brain to write something that is not written in the book, but the current society shows advantage.

Thinking of the professor's intention... Fei Nanxue's speech... The Blood Moon Clan...

Freya soon had an idea.

"... The family system will cause more factional struggles between the blood moon races, and those who have successfully transformed into blood moon descendants will use their power to help their relatives who are still native races to grab illegal benefits and rob other native races. Resources...will cause mediocre people who were originally not eligible to join the Blood Moon Clan to transform into Blood Moon family members through unspoken rules such as kinship, reducing the average literacy of Blood Moon family members..."

"If the family is of the same blood and moon clan, it will form an unbreakable interest group, which is not conducive to the leadership of the research institute and the church... it will pollute the rule of the government affairs office..."

"Family **** is a debilitating poison for the Blood Moon Clan, an introduction to civil strife..."

"The Blood Moon Clan is the foundation for the development and growth of the Blood Moon Nation. We must not allow the backward system to tarnish the purity of the Blood Moon family..."

Because there is no other table, Freya is also sitting next to Ya Xiu doing homework.

Fortunately, the desk is big enough. Freya is doing homework on the left, and Yaxiu is surfing on the right. Except for sitting a bit close, the two sides can not interfere with each other. The desk on the left is originally equipped with skin care products, lubricants, and lubricants. Snacks, paper towels, cotton swabs and other miscellaneous items are now cleaned up.

Speaking of which, because Freya has no money to hire part-time workers to clean, her home is basically in a state of 'sleeping'. Underwear must be accumulated until there is no need to wear it, and the trash must be thrown away when the aisle is full. The landlord said she was normal because it was full of clutter mazes that only allowed one person to walk.

At first glance, Freya found that her home was completely renewed. The clothes were washed, the trash was thrown away, and the clutter was sorted out and placed in the corner, even causing Freya to wonder, "Is this really my home?"

"Did you clean up during the day?"

Ah Xiu hesitated, but still nodded: "Well, to be honest, the sanitary environment here is worse than the restrooms in the prison. Anyway, I am idle, so I just do some cleaning and treat it as paying you rent. NS."

Ya Xiu said, "By the way, I took your clothes to wash, don't you mind? After all, the weather has been a bit hot recently, and there is no air-conditioning here. In such an excellent experimental environment, the piled clothes have happened very much. Wonderful odor response. Fortunately at night, I can't stand it during the day..."

Freya blushed to the base of her ears and said embarrassedly: "Yes, right? I don't even smell anything myself... I don't mind, thank you."

"That's good, I'm still afraid that you will scold me for being perverted when you come back, so I personally cook to see if I can please you."

"Why do you scold you, don't worry, I can leave my clothes to you for washing in the future!"

"It's not necessary, but can you wash your clothes every day?"

"No, I'm used to storing a lot of dirty clothes and then washing them together. Just like you can't ask me to put on clothes after a shower, you can't change my laundry habits."

“Tsk, you look so good, why are your hygiene habits so bad...”

“What does it have to do with good looks? Everyone is like this. It’s a waste of time to tidy up the room and wash clothes every day.”

The full Xiaoxian jumped onto the table and curled up into a ball of hair, seeming to fall asleep through their chat.

With the small talk, Freya quickly completed her social department homework. Seeing the time was almost the same, she naturally took off all the clothes and threw them on the chair, humming and walking into the bathroom.

Ya Xiu glanced at the underwear on the chair, and listened to the sound of water rushing inside. He couldn’t look away from the lace underwear at all. After finally turning his gaze back, he urged the substitute Shu Ling and asked the substitute to put these clothes into the laundry basket on the balcony- young people are not good, so I can’t see such stimulating things!

Xiao Xian instantly propped up the edge, chasing the double to play.

On the other hand, Freya in the bathroom also felt something was wrong. Veeva is the most sensitive to mental state, she can clearly perceive strange emotions in her heart.

She didn’t know how to describe this feeling, it was an experience she hadn’t experienced in the past eighteen years. Standing under the shower, letting the water wash her white and tender skin, Freya soon knew the source of this weird emotion-who else could it be besides the demonic saint who suddenly broke into her life?

are you afraid? A little.

Like it? It seems there are too.

Disgusted?

As if her stomach was twisted like a towel, Freya felt her stomach hurt so hard to breathe—yes, she hated Ash. Although she could not give a specific reason, she suddenly hated the man.

So, do you want to stay away from him?

Freya panted silently under the water, stood next to the wall for a while, and suddenly smiled: “How come there is such a contradictory mood...it should be due to physical reasons? Well, it must be due to physical reasons. Xiu interrupted.”

She quickly put it down, wiped her body and wrapped her hair in a towel. As soon as she went out to blow her hair, she saw Ya Xiu slam into the bathroom with a ‘sa’, and closed the door in one go. It was as fast as using Shu Ling, Furui. Ya didn’t see him clearly.

“Are you in such a hurry to take a shower? Say it early~www.mtlnovel.com~ I can let you wash first.” Freya murmured, sitting in front of the curtain of knowledge and began to do daily tasks every night.

As soon as Ash was in the bathroom for a while, he heard a low groan of ecstasy.

At first, he thought that the soundproofing of this apartment was not good, and there were young couples in other rooms preparing to earn fertility funds. But when he turned off the faucet and gave himself shower gel, there was no sound of running water to cover up, and the low groan suddenly became clear.

This impact is much stronger than underwear.

Yaxiu turned on the faucet silently and turned it to the maximum water flow, cold water!

However, the melodious and melodious voice tickled in Ah Xiu’s earholes like goose feathers. Even if the sound of water is blocked, it will not help. On the contrary, it expands the imagination space like a special filter.

Suddenly an idea came to him.

“Will it really take half an hour?”

Chapter 146 - Serious people who fall in love

, The fastest update to the latest chapters of the technician manual!

Freya was awakened by the scent of the food.

Today is April 29th, the third day she shelters the escaped prisoners, and it is also a day when she can sleep in without class in the morning.

Adult Veeva’s normal sleep time is 12 hours, but this kind of work and rest obviously can’t keep up with the fast-paced urban life, so Freya always sleeps for six hours and then wakes up with magical medicine during class. If necessary, she can Only sleep for four hours and then take two magical pills to wake up.

However, the awakening medicine will accumulate resistance, and once the dosage is increased, it will be difficult to reduce it. Therefore, Freya is very cautious to maintain the rhythm of one one a day, preferring to yawn and not take the second one.

It’s not that I’m afraid of addiction. The main reason is that the awakening medicine is more expensive- this thing is more expensive than the moon candy.

In fact, the other way round is that moon candy is too cheap.

Blood Moon is like this. Entertainment is always cheap, and those that can be used for work are definitely expensive.

For example, the ogre can use moon candy to assist in drawing, which belongs to the racial talent for exploiting loopholes and cannot be envied.

Say hello to the evil demon saint, Freya yawned and went to the bathroom, put on non-slip hair bands, took a bath, washed her face, brushed her teeth, and trimmed her hair, because she was a natural beauty, and Freya was not currently To entertain people with color, she is the party responsible for giving the money, so she only needs to perform simple skin care, which takes less than half an hour in total.

Before going out, she thought about it and decided to give Ya Xiu a face, put on her clothes and go out. After all, she was waiting for class instead of sleeping, and she had no reason to be naked.

Ah Xiu has already prepared the meal, and is watching the video while eating. Freya leaned over and took a look and then ignored it—"Analysis of the Advantages and Disadvantages of Each Spell Faction (Part 1.

"I advise you to watch a funny video, although this video is also quite funny."

Ah Xiu was a little surprised: "Why? I just want to briefly understand the knowledge of other factions..."

"Your understanding like this will only make you prejudiced." Freya said: "Can you sum up yourself in one sentence? You think a few minutes of introduction can sum up a door that has existed for hundreds of years. Or even a thousand-year-old magical faction?"

"Watching this kind of video will only make you think that earthmoving is moving earth, thundering can beep, swordsmanship requires melee combat, the illusion system is not lethal, and the prophecy system is a group of weak scholars, and the mind system only needs to be blocked. The ears can restrain them—you might as well know nothing, at least you will be more vigilant."

"If you want to understand a school of magic arts, you have to read at least an introductory book, and then you have to listen to the lectures of professional professors. Like this kind of video, it is not for the audience of the magician, but the audience who is not the magician— These audiences just want to gain a sense of superiority that'the original magic faction is not so mysterious or even useful'."

"You might as well watch the video in the newly created folder, at least it doesn't hurt, and it can increase your appetite."

Asia was startled: "Can it really increase appetite?"

"You question the vision of a Veeva, I will pick you one that will definitely increase your appetite--"

"No, no, let me change the video." Yaxiu quickly rejected the recommendation of Veeva, and quickly selected in the video curtain: "Well, just watch this "Why is So Expensive" video, it just so happens that we are also eating... ..Gan, the video of exploring tea and coffee shops!?"

"Wait, just watch this."

"Are you so omnivorous?"

"It stands to reason that I should not be an omnivorous." Freya shrugged, "But it's also possible that I just haven't met the woman who makes my heart beat... Hey, you don't like to watch tea coffee, then I'll change to a mud coffee shop search video. ?"

"Then look at this." Ah Xiu gave in.

Not to mention, the food seems to have become more fragrant.

Looking around, Ah Xiu looked around the single room and asked: "Have you been alone since you were admitted to the university and left the foster home?"

Freya, who was holding seafood and eating it, looked at Ya Xiu with a puzzled look, "I'm not alone, can I still be a cat?"

She smiled at Xiao Xian, stretched out her hand to scratch the ear cat's chin, Xiao Xian showed a very refreshing expression, and her saliva was about to flow out.

"Have you never thought about living together with others?" Ah Xiu asked, "Isn't it more cost-effective to live with two people? The cost of living will be reduced and the quality of life will be improved..."

“No.” Freya shook her head again and again: “I have rent subsidies for renting a house alone, plus college student subsidies, which can probably save me 80% of my rent. Renting is so cheap, why do I need to share with others? “

“Wouldn’t it be cheaper to rent the two people together?”

“It’s not that I can’t live alone. Why do I have to live with others?” Freya tilted her head: “I used to have a separate room in the nursing home. Why did I have to live with others when I came out? “

“But if there are others around, you can help each other in life, for example, you fell and injured...”

“I can use the chip to notify the hospital to dispatch an ambulance.”

“Two people can cook at home without going out to eat...”

“Actually, I spent less money to eat in the school canteen than to buy the ingredients.” Freya muttered: “I have to wash the dishes when I cook by myself... My apartment is not equipped with a dishwasher...”

Ah Xiu couldn’t help saying, “But since you have that need, wouldn’t it be more convenient to live with your lover?”

Last night, Ya Xiu almost washed off his skin and waited until he murmured for a while. He thought it would be done by staying up all night, but when he came out, he realized that Freya needed to solve the problem every night, basically three times. Different factors such as mood, homework, etc., the casting time ranges from 15 minutes to 45 minutes.

Freya tilted her head to look at Ya Xiu, her big eyes full of questions.

“Let’s not mention that I am a Veeva, but to solve needs is to solve needs. What does this have to do with love? Have you ever been in love?”

Although Yaxiu wanted to be hard-pressed, in front of a super senior driver like Freya, who only had a large car driver's license but did not have any driving experience, he felt that he was better off.

"no."

Freya's response surprised Asia: "Neither do I, anyone who is serious about falling in love."

Ah Xiu asked puzzledly: "Why? Isn't it easy to get the favor of the opposite **** based on your appearance? Or is it because your Veeva's physique makes other people afraid?"

Freya shook her head: "No, I'm really surprised why you think I should fall in love. Do you four-pillar cultists still have such unrealistic illusions?"

"Why is it unrealistic to fall in love?" Ah Xiu felt inexplicable: "You still chased the love comedy "Sorcerer One Hundred Percent" with the curtain of knowledge last night, didn't you also laugh very happily?"

Freya was rather unhappy: "Then what do you think about the love in "The Magician Hundred Percent"?"

"Well...I love each other deeply, think about each other wholeheartedly, and will fight to protect each other in times of crisis, and I am willing to accommodate each other in daily life..."

"Yup!"

"What's right?"

"How can this kind of love exist in reality other than film and television dramas as you said?" Freya opened her hands: "Who would be willing to accommodate others, be willing to consider others, and even be willing to protect each other regardless of their own body? Anyway, I Not willing."

She paused: "Like love~www.mtlnovel.com~ I like it, and I will have infatuation. For example, I think you are pretty good, and I am willing to come with you once or twice, or once regularly. But it is fine. But If you want to go further with me, such as living with me, fully participating in my daily life and even future plans, then I cannot accept it.”

“For things like love, most college students recognize that there is no such pure relationship in reality. On the contrary, people with lower academic qualifications will believe in the plots in film and television dramas, and wishful thinking that there will be true love in this world-in the curtain game. There are many kinds of fools, and the end is often cheated of money, especially stupid people will even carry debts, but the opposite side of the curtain is not beautiful or handsome, but the uncle orc and the fat goblin.”

Ah Xiu couldn't understand: “But isn't the relationship of love normal? In reality, you can always find someone you can trust? Can't you start with your friends and develop your relationship with your lover step by step?”

Freya snorted and laughed. She couldn't help reaching out and touching the demon saint's head. She smiled and said: “Silly boy, people can change. He can be trusted now, but he may become addicted to moon candy tomorrow. Stupid, the day after tomorrow may get an adventure in the virtual world and become despised of me.”

“Didn't the nursing home teach you not to trust strangers, not to expect strangers?”

Chapter 147 - Everyone is the same

, The fastest update to the latest chapters of the technician manual!

Ah Xiu put her hand away, his expression seemed a little uncomfortable.

“But you don't fall in love, and you don't have a home, so don't you have to be alone all the time?”

“We have always been... yes!”

Freya suddenly remembered something, and took out his homework paper from her schoolbag and wrote wildly: “The benefits of the socialized parenting system are also this... Cultivating independence from an early age... Used to fighting alone... It is more advantageous to explore in the virtual world... “Every A blood moon citizen is a qualified technician reserve” ...Well, this time the professor doesn’t give me full marks, it can’t be justified! “

Ah Xiu watched her writing the paper and continued to ask: “Don’t you want to have a perfect rapport with your lover, don’t you want to share your joy with your loved ones and talk about your pressure, don’t you want anyone to care about you?”

“Why do you ask so many strange questions... Do you want to be my lover and live with me?!”

“All said that I will leave after staying here for at most seven days.”

Freya shrugged and replied: “I don’t need to find a lover, I only need to spend some money to go to the clay coffee, and I can get a perfect blend of water and milk; if I want to share my joy, I can show off my achievements to my classmates in the curtain. If I want to talk about pressure, I should go to a psychotherapist. As for caring, isn’t this another way of saying ‘investment’? If someone cares about me, it means that he wants to reap greater benefits from me.”

“If I have great use value, everyone will care about me; if I have no value, naturally no one will care about me, even lovers will leave me. This is a very simple human nature.”

Asia Xiu said softly, “But human nature is not only about the balance of interests, but also truth, goodness and beauty.”

“But why should I place my hopes on others instead of using all resources to invest in myself?” Freya smiled: “I can go to the restaurant when I am hungry, and I can go to the mud cafe if I need it. If the room is dirty, I can go to the restaurant. Find a part-time job. If you are under pressure, you can go to a psychotherapist. A psychotherapist is actually one of my future career options. It is in the 17th century. What needs can be met by spending money. Why should I bet on human nature?”

“Even my friend Adela, who is addicted to gambling, dare not participate in this kind of gambling game where the initiative is entirely in the hands of others. It is too risky to enter a close relationship.”

“But don’t you feel lonely?”

Freya wrote the last period, put the homework back in her schoolbag, and turned to look at Ya Xiu.

“Everyone is the same,” she said.

Then she reached out and hugged Xiao Xian, and touched Xiao Xian’s face affectionately. On the contrary, Xiao Xian pushed her away with a meat ball, “And I still have Xiao Xian, how can I be lonely?”

Facing Veeva’s pure and happy eyes, Ya Xiu suddenly realized that the ogre mayor Fei Nanxue had actually failed to reach the core of the blood moon kingdom.

Because he is also an orphan, he has no relatives, and he will not love anyone.

Just as Freya would not realize the sour smell of her clothes, most people living in the kingdom of Blood Moon would not realize that they had lost the ability to be a lover.

How can people who have never seen the sun know the warmth of the sun? How can someone who has never felt cared by family members believe in selfless feelings?

Maybe they believe that there will be selfless love in this world, and they also yearn for this kind of love, but they are even more convinced that this kind of love will not come to themselves.

Just as Fei Nanxue believes that the kingdom of the blood moon does not deserve a savior, they also believe that they are not worthy to embrace love.

The ogre thought that Blood Moon would isolate everyone by planting seeds of suspicion and building walls of discrimination. But in fact, the blood moon is to extract the seeds of love in everyone’s heart through education, so that everyone spontaneously resists entering into an intimate relationship. Discrimination and suspicion are just the stench of the rotting and weathering soil without love.

Ah Xiu suddenly thought of Ronald—the werewolf was regarded as a traitor to Moonshadow, could it be that his **** was too strong?

Freya saw that Ashiu hadn't spoken for a long time, so she couldn't help asking, "What's the matter with you?"

Ah Xiu came back to his senses and smiled: "No, I'm just thinking about where I can make some money."

"If you are willing to show up, I suggest you do a part-time job with a mud maker. According to your appearance, although you are not the most advanced mason, you can still be regarded as an intermediate and lower-level mason. There should be many customers who will order you. Or I will introduce a mud maker. Here you are? Even if you don't want to do it for a long time, you can experience it. Many men with good looks will work as a mason for one night to judge their market positioning."

"Thank you, but my skills are very poor and I am not qualified to make this money."

"Beginners are actually a good selling point. Many rich women like virgin men, and I can accompany you if you want to practice skills..."

"Didn't you say that class will start at 2pm? It's 1:50 now."

Freya took a look at the time and quickly picked up her schoolbag: "That's awful, I almost forgot the time, this bowl..."

"I'll wash it," said Ah Xiu. "Are you coming back for dinner tonight?"

here we go again.

Freya felt that she had that weird emotion again.

It has nothing to do with lust, it has nothing to do with greed. It makes Freya both hate and like Ash, and it makes Freya want to stay away and get close to Ash.

Is it the curse of the Four Pillars Church? Or is it the pollution halo emanating from the evil saints unconsciously?

Thinking like this in her heart, she replied, "Yes."

"Are there any dishes you want to eat?"

"Chi Yan Lala Fatty Fish Roe Bowl, is it okay?"

"No problem." Ya Xiu waved his hand: "Be careful on the road."

The weird mood in her heart grew stronger and stronger, Freya nodded hurriedly, put down the small string and left the house in a hurry.

Ya Xiu decisively turned off the shop-exploration video and clicked on "Blasting Void Creatures with Hands: Slashing Fish and Dragons". After watching this video, he put on his clothes and a mask, and summoned a stand-in.

"Wash the dishes, do the cleaning, and play with the cat if you have spare time. If you encounter an accident, you can directly remove the double, you understand?"

The substitute nodded.

In the Curtain of Knowledge, Yaxiu opened a worksheet called "4.29 School Hours Schedule". This is a file that can only be downloaded on the curtain of Kaimon University, but Freya also happens to be a student of the University.

At the beginning, he didn't just find a family to live in, he came prepared.

His gaze stayed on a line in the timetable.

"16:00~18:00, "Ancient Ritual Faction", Schilling Carl, UU Reading www.uukanshu.com classroom 108."

After confirming the goal, Ya Xiu was also ready to go out, but saw Xiao Xian sitting on the floor like a fat house, feeling lack of energy.

A Xiu's heart moved, and he urged Xiao Xian to sympathize with Shu Ling, and immediately received a burst of painful feedback.

Although it is painful and uncomfortable, it does not feel unhappy because of it, and it feels calm as if it is used to getting along with pain. Seeing the sympathy Shu Ling in Ya Xiu's hand, it tilted its head and seemed a little curious.

"Congenital rickets..." Ah Xiu gently stroked Xiao Xian's head, "I have been screened from birth. Only lucky ones who meet the aesthetic value of existence can survive, and then live in a cage and undergo castration and sterilization. The dry value of the goods..."

"Because I have been with pain since I was young, I don't think that it is misfortune, but take it for granted. Because everyone is like this, I don't think it is pain, and naturally there is no trouble."

He stretched out his hand and scratched the chin of the fold ear cat, Xiao Xian smiled pleasantly.

"It's really hard to be a viewer."

Chapter 148 - Professor Xi Lin and the shelf life

, The fastest update to the latest chapters of the technician manual!

Kaimon University, lecture hall 108.

“If you have ten times the extra mana, but the price is that you will always be chased by an undead snail, would you be willing? Willing to raise your hand.”

This strange question almost instantly turned the entire classroom into a sea of joy. One of the elf students in the front row couldn't help but smile, and raised his hand and said, “Professor, who should you ask if you don't want it!”

Standing on the altar is an outstanding elf professor, with shawl and black hair, blue eyes like sapphires, fair skin, thin lips, thin face, tall stature, wearing a dark gray trench coat, and white gloves on both hands.

Faced with the student's answer, he smiled at the corner of his mouth: “Then if it is replaced by eight times the mana, the hunter will become a red wolf? Well, it seems that everyone is not very afraid of the most widely distributed hunters in the natural forest. “

“Then if it is replaced with five times the mana, the hunter is replaced by a juvenile fish-slicing dragon?”

At this time, everyone hesitated a bit-the juvenile ichthyosaur can be said to be a silver killer. There is a joke that the wizard has no experience for the first time, and he disarms in the face of the sea of knowledge; the wizard has experience for the second time. But facing the fast, fierce and passionate fish-cutting dragon, he still has to disarm.'

Of course, because this joke is suspected of discriminating against men and women, it is basically impossible to hear it in reality. This kind of connotative joke can only be seen in the curtain.

But everyone basically raised their hands, and the Elf Professor nodded, and said: “Then if it is replaced with triple mana, the hunter will be replaced by a standard blood mad hunter?”

This time the number of people raising their hands is reduced by half. The blood mad hunters are divided into hunter apprentices, formal hunters, and hunter captains, corresponding to the first wing, second wing, and third wing respectively. The standard blood mad hunters are almost all second-wing level combat warriors, and To become a blood mad hunter, a two-winged surgeon needs to go through rigorous assessment and training. It is almost impossible for a normal production department to be an opponent of a blood mad hunter.

“Then if it is replaced, it will only double the mana, but will always be chased by the Titan Executioner-level virtual creature?”

Everyone put their hands down, and some unhappy students couldn't help but say: “Professor, if I want, can you give it to me?”

“Of course I am not that generous.” The Elf Professor laughed: “But Void Realm can.”

“The reward is to double the extra mana, and the price is to be chased and killed forever by the immortal and powerful creatures of the virtual world. This kind of “gift” is very common for the virtual world. As long as you are willing to pay for the virtual world, the virtual world will really satisfy your wish. “

“Everyone has signed an academic loan contract? The signing parties pray for Xujing to act as a notary and let Xujing supervise the execution of the contract. Whoever violates the contract will be sanctioned by Xujing... This is actually the most common “gift” “! “

A student raised his hand and asked, “But almost everyone can sign a contract for anything. Is the virtual world so easy to talk about?”

Professor Elf smiled and said: “Of course it's easy to talk, because you are the one who needs to abide by the contract, and you are the one who pays the price for breach of contract. In this process, you don't get any extra benefits, but you need to pay all the time. The gift of self-interest has always been generosity-of course, this is because the insurance industry has developed for many years. It is said that signing a contract a long time ago was also very troublesome.”

“But if you dare to ask for the “gifts” that benefit you from the Void Realm, Void Realm will show a face that is more hideous than a bank, and fangs that are more greedy than loan sharks. For any magician who tries to take shortcuts, The virtual realm will give the most severe test. “

“But ‘reward’ and ‘test’ are not static mechanisms. If the magician knows the correct way to use the power of the virtual world, he can greatly increase the amount of rewards and greatly reduce the difficulty of the test.”

“Pray for gifts, adjust gifts, this is the power of the ritual faction.”

The elf professor looked around the classroom: “Increase the reward from double the mana to ten times, and reduce the killer from the Titan executioner to the snail. This is not a fool’s lie, but a real miracle.”

“Of course, praying for a gift is not when you yell a few words in the imaginary realm, and you can immediately get a response from the imaginary realm. This kind of service quality may not even be able to provide the operator of the crime hunting hall. In fact, the ritual of praying for the gift is very complicated and not only requires Various magic spirits are used as materials, and multiple magic factions of the magician are also tested, so it is a faction that requires a lot of prerequisites...”

Sitting in the back row, Adela cupped her face and fixed her eyes on the elves on the altar.

“Professor Xi Lin is really handsome...”

“Huh?” Freya looked at Adela in surprise: “I thought you would sigh, “Is there any reward for increasing gambling? The best test is to lose fertility?”

“How is it possible? I will listen carefully to Professor Schilling’s class every time!” Adela said in a huff: “Of course I wouldn’t mind if there was that kind of gift!”

At this time, the lecture hall was full of people, not only in the aisle, but even a lot of people on the windows, everyone came to listen to Professor Xi Lin’s class. Professor Lin Lin can be said to be one of the most popular professors at Kaimon University. His academics, appearance, and teaching level are all at the top level. Unfortunately, because of the off-campus work of parliamentarians, he ceased to be a resident professor a few years ago and only occasionally come to school for one or two lectures.

In addition, the most popular thing about Professor Schilling is that his classes are free! No tuition is required, anyone can listen in, and fools will miss this kind of free lectures given by the Second Wing Master.

If it hadn't been for Adela to help Freya take a position, she would have to lie on the window to listen.

"... But after all, there are only a few magicians who can greatly leverage the power of the virtual realm. For example, the example I just gave is doubling tenfold. I am afraid that even the legendary four-winged magician will have to do their best. Therefore, compared with "Adjustment", ordinary ritualists prefer to match gifts through "conflict". "

"Suppose I now have two gifts. The price of the first is 'I will never taste the taste of food', and the price of the second is 'I will taste everything in sight.' What do you think will happen? thing?"

The students looked at each other, and Adela stood up and replied: "The two costs are in effect at the same time, but the practitioner can taste the food by looking at the food when eating, which means that the second price weakens or even suppresses the first price to a certain extent. A price."

"Yes, this is the mystery of "conflict." The use of different costs to conflict with each other to reduce the negative impact of costs. "Professor Xi Lin nodded appreciatively: "Of course, not all gifts can achieve such a clever combination. The more common combination is to gather multiple costs that will affect the same place. "

"Suppose I have two gifts. The first price is to lose sight of me, and the second price is to turn the world in my vision into a quagmire of flesh and blood. After I pray for these two gifts, although I will still lose sight, But there is no need to bear the second price, which is equivalent to taking advantage of the virtual realm."

A student asked: "If I have ten gifts, and the price is all related to the eyes, do I only need to pay my eyes to gain the gain of the ten gifts?"

“Yes, that’s the idea.” Xilin smiled: “Pray, adjust, and conflict. The ritualist can get the greatest benefit from the virtual realm through ingenious combination and at the least cost.”

Another student was puzzled: “Since the ritual faction is so strong, why is it now gradually declining?”

Xi Lin said: “There are two reasons. The first reason is that I just said that the ritual faction is too difficult to get started, and it is almost necessary to master multiple silver factions to hold the ritual. Therefore, the lowest threshold for the ritualist is the second-wing gold. “

“It is often difficult to pass on such a high-threshold magical faction. Once it encounters an accidental period, it will be annihilated in history. Until a magician obtains inheritance from the virtual realm and improves it, then these treasures of the past can be used. Shine again.”

“The second reason is that the ritual faction is too dangerous.”

Some students laughed: “Even if the magic faction is not dangerous? The water magic faction that is good at healing can kill people invisible.”

Xi Lin shook his head: “I said just now that although Void Realm is stingy to bestow benefits, Void Realm is very lenient about ‘harming others against oneself’. In some taboo rituals, a two-winged golden mage only needs Sacrifice yourself, and you can pray for a storm of destruction comparable to a four-winged magician’s full blow!”

“We magicians can be greedy, risky, and unscrupulous, but we must live no matter what, we must cherish life! The ritual faction goes against this direction, plus many gifts will cause physical and mental disabilities, making the magician Become extreme, violent, and despise life, so naturally it will not be spread.”

“There is no way to learn the knowledge of ritual factions in the virtual realm, but in reality, all wise magicians will prohibit the spread of ritual factions. Not only for social stability, but also because ritual factions are too easy to create lunatic magicians, except for evil. Outside of the chaotic organization, the ritual faction is not good for any stable organization.”

"I am holding this lecture to clarify the dangers of the ritual faction. If you encounter the inheritance of the ritual faction in the virtual world in the future, remember not to be greedy and use this dangerous knowledge carefully."

At this time, a student wearing a mask raised his hand and said, "Will anyone in the Four Pillar God cult master the ritual faction? Is it possible that the natural disaster storms that have occurred before were the evil deeds made by the Four Pillar God cult?"

"...The Four Pillars of Gods cult has been completely blocked by the Crime Hunting Hall, and all members including the leader have been arrested. This classmate, you should usually read the news more." Xi Lin said coldly, "Your question. The premise does not hold."

"Also, why do you wear a mask to class? Can you take off your mask?"

Everyone looked over and found that the student who asked the question was actually wearing a crow mask of the same type as a medical doctor, as if playing a role-playing role. Freya naturally saw this scene too, she suddenly recalled that the cult leader seemed to have such a mask.

Could it be...

At this time, the classmate took off the crow mask, revealing an apologetic face: "Sorry, Professor, I like this mask a lot, so just..."

Xi Lin stared at this classmate, and suddenly covered his eyes with his gloved right hand, then put it down after a moment: "Don't wear a mask in class, it will distract me."

As cheers and laughter sounded, Freya keenly noticed that someone was walking outside. He was carrying a schoolbag, wearing a hood and a mask, and walked through the classroom like this. Everyone didn't seem to notice him. Except for Freya, no one put their eyes on him.

Although she couldn't see her face clearly, based on her figure and clothing, Freya could be sure that it was Ya Xiu.

What is he doing here?

Returning to the apartment after class, Freya opened the door and smelled the scent.

“Welcome back, it’s time to eat.”

“.....I am back.”

After Ya Xiu prepared the meal, Freya couldn’t wait to ask, “Did you go to Professor Xi Lin’s class this afternoon?”

“Yeah, did you see it?”

“Why come to class suddenly?”

“Well, there are two reasons.”

Ya Xiu picked up Xiao Xian who was picking up cat food: “The first reason is to go to the university treatment room to find someone to treat Xiao Xian.”

Freya was taken aback: “Xiao Xian is sick?”

“Well, congenital rickets, I saw it sitting on the ground in the afternoon, feeling a little distressed, and felt it should be uncomfortable, so I took it to the medical practitioner for treatment. The medical practitioner said that if I want it to be relieved of pain, basically every month. Have to go for treatment.”

Freya hugged the fold-ear cat in her arms distressedly: "Sorry, Xiao Xian, I don't know...Thank you."

"Great, I'm afraid you will blame me."

"Why do I blame you?"

"If you don't receive treatment, Xiaoxian will not know that the pain can be dispelled, nor will he know that health is so comfortable. It may be difficult to tolerate the pain in the future, and you need to take it for treatment every month."

As he browsed the video for the meal, he said, "I'm afraid you will blame me for causing you trouble."

"What's the trouble?"

"Isn't it troublesome to take Xiaoxian to see a doctor every month?"

"How come!" Freya shook her head: "How can I find it bothersome? It shouldn't have suffered such pain in the first place. You rescued it from the pain. I thank you for it's too late."

Ah Xiu glanced at her: "That's good... I was actually quite surprised. You don't accept any intimacy, but you can give wholeheartedly to a cat."

"It's different again," Freya muttered: "How can people have cute cats, and Xiaoxian won't leave me. It's a friend with no expiration date."

Ya Xiu smiled: "When you meet a friend, you will consider the expiration date of this friend?"

"Otherwise?" Freya said frankly: "If the shelf life is only a few hours, such as a mason, then you can be polite and install a cute veil for a few hours; if the shelf life is one week to several months, you can make an appointment during the holiday. If you come out to contact your relationship, you can usually talk about hobbies; if the shelf life is a few years, then you must talk about political views as soon as possible, and quickly determine whether the other party can be a type of deep friendship. If there is a fundamental conflict of ideas, you must immediately draw a line. Do not communicate with each other except for work.”

“Then what conditions must be met to make you feel that this person’s shelf life is a lifetime?”

Freya was stunned for a moment, lowered her head and thought for a while, hesitatingly pinched the fold-eared cat’s meat ball and raised it up: “At least there must be a small string so cute, right?”

Xiao Xian was hugged by Freya and out of breath, she used a meat ball to push away Veeva’s fierce attack~www.mtlnovel.com~ Freya let it go back and asked: “It’s the first time to take Xiao Xian to a doctor. One reason, what about the second reason?”

“Passing by the school, so just take a look at how you go to class.” Ah Xiu said casually, “Hey? The first episode of “Blame Me That I Like Married Women” has been released? Just watch this.”

“I actually want to continue to see the tea cafe...” Freiya poked Chi Yan Lala Fei with a fork: “What’s so interesting about class?”

But her mind is neither on the food nor on the video.

For some reason, the weird emotion in her heart grew stronger and stronger, and she was even...somewhat happy.

Speaking of which, the shelf life of this cult leader is...

She forced herself not to think about this issue.

Chapter 149 - Fear

“Why are you studying to do your homework again tonight?”

“Isn’t it a college student if I don’t study and do my homework every day? I paid so much tuition and backed up my academic loan. How can I get back if I don’t study hard?”

“Wow, that’s amazing, then go on.”

“Wait, I remember it mentioned in the wanted order that you also went to college! Come, how about doing homework for me?”

“Didn’t you just be eager to learn, resolutely refrain from evil ways, and made up your mind to study hard?”

“But there are also some homework that is meaningless, and I have to learn it for the sake of mixed credits. Come and help, help—”

“Don’t, don’t post it, it’s so hot and sweaty. Let me take a look, (take a look at it), oh, that’s it.”

“How about it, are you willing to help?”

“Well, I am willing to provide all support except help.”

“What’s the meaning?”

“Meaning I can’t do it either.”

“But haven’t you already graduated? You must have done this kind of homework too!”

“How can people remember what kind of bread they have eaten in the past? How can I remember how to complete this kind of homework?”

“Hey, gray and inferior college students are really useless.”

“If you want to become a golden legendary college student, do your homework obediently. For your own sake, I am willing to suffer shame and spur you as a negative example.”

☹~☹) You are so shameless.”

“Axiu—the shampoo ran out—help me get a new one from the bottom floor of the cabinet.”

“Strange, you actually know that you can’t just walk out and get it.”

“I haven’t finished the shower yet, and I’m too lazy to wipe my body. I will get the floor wet when I walk out. I still have common sense about this.”

“You are so caring, I am so touched, I hope you can have more common sense... For example, taking things from the bathroom does not require half of your body to be exposed!”

*—) You are so annoying.”

“Ha, um, um, huh~~~ Ah, Ya Xiu, did you take a shower? You take longer than me, and the water is very expensive...”

“Whose fault do you think it is.”

“You say it as if I forced you to wash it for so long...Oh, oh, I get it! Oh, I’m not shy, why are you shy.”

“what?”

“If you want to solve it by yourself, you don’t have to hide in the bathroom. As long as you don’t get it everywhere, I don’t mind if you solve it in my bed. And although I don’t have many videos suitable for men’s use, I know I should go. What kind of curtain can be downloaded, you can slowly find the casting materials. And I also have lubricating fluid, which is much better than water...”

“Stop, I really just took a shower in the bathroom and didn’t do anything else!”

“Then did you solve it during the day when you were alone in the apartment? By the way, let me check the browsing history...”

“No! I haven’t done anything like this in your house.”

“No, you have been living in my house for three days... Do you have a tendency to abuse yourself?”

“I’m too lazy to tell you, get out of the way, I want to use the curtain of knowledge.”

“ㄟ( ▽ ㄟ ) You are kind of weird.”

“have you slept?”

“No.”

“Is it uncomfortable to sleep on the floor? Why don’t you go to bed, I will give you some space at most.”

“No, I’m afraid of you.”

“Hey—what you said makes me sad. To be honest, although there are many people who are afraid of my Veeva physique, many more people will be attracted by my appearance. After all, besides being real, there are many other little ones. Games can make you very comfortable... do you want to try it?”

“Speaking of which I have always had a question, Freya, your conditions are so good, there should be many people who are not afraid of death to talk to you when you go to a wine cafe, but why are you more willing to spend money at a clay cafe?”

“Hey, Ya Xiu, haven’t you been to a wine cafe? You really don’t understand a bit of common sense.”

“Oh roar, I was actually told by you, who slept naked and didn’t cover the quilt, that I don’t understand common sense.”

“Let me tell you, the most significant difference between the wine coffee and the mud coffee and tea coffee is that everyone is equal in the wine coffee.”

“Is equality bad?”

“But equality means that both parties have to serve each other. You make me comfortable, and I have to make you comfortable. I have to pay as much as I want. And I just don’t like the character of serving others, so I would rather spend some money. Clay coffee.”

“When I hear this, it feels like you are eating alone...”

“Moreover, Mud Cafe also has entertainment items such as buffets, baths, saunas, spas, etc. “Mason Service” is just one of them. Every woman can temporarily relieve the troubles in reality and find suitable entertainment in Mud Cafe. Therefore, going to the mud cafe is a very comfortable and relaxing experience. According to statistics, every adult woman goes to the mud cafe on average once a month, and some senior women even have long-term exclusive rooms in the private mud cafe, and live directly in the mud cafe, and can enjoy the top service every night. . “

“Oh, I understand, sister is the queen, confidently shine!”

“Also, if you give money, you can make some requests that ordinary men can’t agree to.”

“Well, that’s it...Huh?”

“Axiu, come (shoot the bed), if it is you, I am not unable to serve you.”

“When you finish your service, will you ask me for a return?”

“And the request is a special service item that ‘ordinary men can’t agree’?”

“But you are not an ordinary man! A little bit of courage, OK, demon saint!”

“I found that the floor was quite comfortable, so I fell asleep.”

“Huh, (# ~ #) You are quite timid.”

.....,

“I’ve been asking for a long time, why do you keep wearing sleeves and leg covers?”

“What cuff and leg cover?”

“Don’t you wear the fluffy white hair on your hands and feet?”

“Excessive! That is my natural fascination hair. Veeva will have it. This is the biggest difference between veeva and human beings.”

“A male Veeva I know doesn’t have this kind of hair.”

“There are no male Veevas in this world. There are only men who have a certain Veela descent. Veevas are a noun specifically referring to women. And if Veevas give birth, the girls must be pure Veevas, while the boys will be the men’s. Primarily ethnic origin.”

“I learned common sense that is not useful.”

“Now, do you think my charm hair looks good? Although I like it a lot, many people seem to hate charm hair. I feel that this is a feature of beasts. There are also Veevas who will go for hair removal surgery, pursuing the appearance of humans. No difference...”

“It looks good! Can I touch it?”

“But don’t you think this looks too much like a beast?”

“Isn’t that better?”

“Ah? Do you like the type of Moonshade Clan, Ya Xiu?”

“I mean, charm hair will only make you better. Charm hair gives you a wild temperament, and you also make the charm hair more lovely and beautiful. In other words, it’s not the charm hair that looks good, it’s you, even you They look good with shaved heads.”

“Really! I actually plan to change my hairstyle...”

“-But I think your hairstyle is very good now, there is no need to change it.”

“Hehe, I think so too, o(*▽*)o you are quite discerning.”

“what’s for dinner?”

“Fruit salad, and...”

“Are there no Chi Yan Lala Fatty Roe Rice Bowl?”

“That’s actually quite troublesome to do...”

“Oh, then I’m going to class.”

“But I want to eat too today, so I will replace the fried steak with red flame lala fatty roe rice bowl.”

~▽~)~You want to eat, not what I beg of you.”

“Have you encountered any good things these past few days?”

During class, Adela suddenly asked such a sentence, Freya felt inexplicable: “No.”

“Then why are you so happy these days?”

“Am I happy?”

“The corners of your mouth have been upturned, I haven’t put it down, I look tired!” Adela propped his chin, and looked at Freya with a slanted face: “I think even if I get admitted to the Red Mist Institute, it may not be so happy for you.”

Freya covered her mouth subconsciously, but quickly let it go: “No, I’ve always been a happy little Veeva every day.”

“Well, what good happened, can’t you tell me?”

Freya gave Adela a strange look, “Adela, you seem to be a little... impolite.”

Although the two of them are friends, they are just friends.

They can communicate their hobbies. Adela takes Freya to the casino, and Freya takes Adela to the clay coffee, which is completely fine.

But when it comes to privacy, it is a ‘taboo’ that neither party can touch. Although it is difficult to describe what privacy is considered a ‘taboo’, judging whether the current topic is a ‘taboo’ is very simple-when the other party tries to avoid and refuse to answer, this is the ‘taboo’ that you cannot continue to ask.

Those who cannot do this are ‘barbarians’ who cannot read the air, have no social skills, and are easy to use words to hurt others.

Adela is naturally not a 'barbarian'. In fact, she has a good reputation. Besides Freya, she has a few friends. In addition, her ambition is also a spiritual faction. It should be almost instinctive for her to understand the air.

As if perceiving Freya's surprise, Adela asked, "Should you plan to go to a psychotherapist in the near future?"

"How did you know?" Freya asked subconsciously.

In the same language.

Freya has recently felt that the weird emotion in her heart is getting stronger and stronger. UU reading www.uukanshu.com has already affected her sanity.

Although it was the first time to experience this situation, she did not think about it or try to solve it alone, but planned to go to a psychotherapist for treatment.

For the citizens of the Blood Moon Nation, if you have a physical problem, you should go to a medical doctor, and if you have a mental problem, you should go to a psychotherapist. These two points are almost the survival skills even ogres know.

Moreover, the probability of mental problems in modern people is very high. Some people even have to keep meeting with a psychotherapist once a month when they are young. Therefore, the demand for psychotherapy can be said to be increasing and even surpass ordinary treatment—after all, modern people may There will be no illness or injury for a year, but there is basically no modern person who has no psychological problems for a year.

At the same time, psychotherapist is also a very common profession. For example, if Freya does not become a surgeon in the future, she will probably become an ordinary psychotherapist.

The market is vast, there are many practitioners, and college students have medical subsidies. Therefore, for Freya, psychotherapy is cheaper than eating a meal. Naturally, she will not force herself to face it alone.

Adela said softly, "Because you are scared now."

Chapter 150 - Because you want to protect yourself

, The fastest update to the latest chapters of the technician manual!

"I am afraid?"

Freya asked subconsciously: "But didn't you just say that I was very happy?"

"Happiness and fear are emotions that can exist at the same time." Adela said: "In the casino game, I have seen a lot of people like this-they have excellent hands, so I am very excited and happy that I can They won, but they are worried that their opponents have a better hand, so their fears and fears linger."

"Happiness comes from what you already have, and fear comes from the opponent being able to deprive yourself of what you have at any time. Freya, who are you playing with and what gambling game are you playing?"

"This class is boring anyway. Instead of talking to a psychotherapist, you might as well find me. I don't need you to spend any money."

Freya hesitated: "Generally speaking, if you want to undergo psychotherapy, you should find a psychotherapist who has nothing to do with your life..."

"Yes." Adela held his chin and looked at Freya's beautiful face: "But you are so happy, but your eyes are full of distress signals of 'help me', I really can't stand by. "

Freya gently stroked her face, losing her senses for a moment.

Adela did not urge, and waited quietly beside him.

The sunshine today is very good, and the teacher's lecture is also very hypnotic.

In such a peaceful daily life, Freya became out of place.

Because she exudes an aura of happiness that Adela has never seen before.

Even if Adela sees a gambler in the casino to make a comeback to pay off his gambling debts, and avoid being dragged into the fate of a mechanical miner to dig a mine for a lifetime, it is not as happy as Freya;

Even if a student is admitted to a graduate student of the Red Wist Institute, it is not as easy as Freya;

Even successful entrepreneurs, technicians, professors, scholars, they are not as at ease as Freya.

This is really...too dazzling.

Even Adela felt a little disgusted, and even wanted to nausea.

After a long silence, Freya finally said: "I know a Veeva..."

"Oh, puffy hahaha, you can keep talking." Adela could hardly hold back.

Freya gave Adela angrily and continued: "She recently met a man for some special reason..."

Because of the signing of the contract, Freya could not reveal the identity, appearance, and living in her apartment, etc., but the information could still be disclosed to others after the information was obscured. For example, if they spend the night together, it can be said that they spend the night in a hotel outside; for example, if they dine together every night, it can be said that Freya goes to Ash's house for dinner; for example, Freya is so scared that Ash does not dare to go to bed...

After talking about it in bits and pieces, Freya revealed the inexplicable emotion in her heart: "I now like and hate him. I want to be close but I want to stay away from him. I feel that I am I'm not sick..."

"Isn't this easy to understand?" Adela smiled: "Veeva is in love with him."

"No, absolutely not." Freya shook her head: "It's not that I have never loved. Love is approaching, hugging, greedy, and taking, how can I dislike or stay away?"

Adela said: "Love also has many forms, or love has many purposes. The kind of love you are accustomed to in Freya is only born from the value of the face, just to satisfy desires and passion. When you When you meet a better skin, your love will also be transferred. For you, this kind of love can be replaced."

"And the man brought to Veeva is not a desire on a whim, but the joy of knowing each other, daily companionship, and soul fit. You may encounter more beautiful skins in the future, but interesting souls, Maybe there is only this one."

"This is why Veeva feels disgusted with this love and even tries to stay away-he is irreplaceable. What's more frightening is that he has gradually integrated into Veeva's life, deep into the bones of the bone like poison, and cannot be used by any means. removal."

"What an evil man, he let Veeva join his life, so Veeva's life is also set by him; he wants to understand Veeva, so Veeva will also want to understand him; he is dependent on Veeva, so he The baby will also rely on him."

"Perhaps only a man who completely abandons self-esteem, abandons independent life, and abandons privacy will make such a move. Even if he has received the most basic moral education in the fostering house, he will not do such a sordid thing." Adela Shaking his head: "There is such a shameless man these days, and he has successfully charmed Veeva. It's really bad luck for Veeva."

Freya was at a loss when she heard it, and subconsciously asked: "Then what should I do?"

"Follow your instincts, loathe him, stay away from him." Adela said softly: "If you continue like this, you will only sink into the growing deep affection and become no longer yourself. When the time comes to lock you, not only It's just a man, and everything you have done with him in the past."

“Have you heard it many times in the nursing home? “All the relationships that make you worry will pollute you”, “All the relationships that make you wrong will hurt you”, “All the relationships that make you change will dominate you.” All that man does is pollute you, hurt you, and dominate you. “

Adela grabbed Freya’s hand, “We have received so much education, but not to lose ourselves. We were born for ourselves, and only for ourselves, there is no room to let others go.”

“Do you remember the main connotation of the “Blood Relations Prohibition Law”?”

Freya murmured: “It’s... Personality Freedom...”

“Yes, personality freedom, because after the prohibition of blood relationship, the family ceases to exist, family affection and love no longer have a foothold, everyone has cut off all social shackles, so they can obtain freedom in personality. “

“Maybe you attach great importance to him now~www.mtlnovel.com~ but that is just an illusion of the present. Next year, next month, tomorrow, or even the next second, you may have new ideas at any time and like new people. And want to live a new life.”

“This is not only for yourself, but also for each other. After all, humans can become more than Veeva.”

“Think about it, if the other party suddenly has a new idea and chooses to take the initiative to leave you, how would you feel?”

Thinking of the shelf life of a few days, Freya suddenly felt unable to breathe, and said with difficulty: “...it will be uncomfortable.”

“It didn’t take long for you to get acquainted. If you have known each other for a few months or a few years, would you distorted yourself and greet you in order to keep him?”

“You yourself anticipated this possibility, and you are also worried about this kind of future. That’s why you are so upset, so you want to stay away from him.”

“Because you want to protect yourself, you know that although he is a cotton candy now, you are still afraid of being stabbed.”

Seeing Freya’s increasingly pitiful expression, Adela whispered in her ear: “We don’t need irreplaceable love.”
