

Catch Me If You Love Me Chapter 162

Zoey Gu paused, her body collapsed into a line unconsciously, and turned stiffly.

The old lady squinted her eyes and stared at her, and suddenly asked nonchalantly.

“Can you make egg syrup?”

Zoey Gu was taken aback.

I don't know what the old lady's intention is, she can only lower her head and reply subconsciously.

“The old lady wants to drink, I will tell the chef right away.”

“It's you that I asked.”

“...meeting.”

“Then do it.” The old lady paused, then went on to say, “After it's done, you will deliver it yourself.”

Seeing Zoey Gu turned around and entered the kitchen, the old lady stood there quietly thinking for a while, then turned and ordered the housekeeper on the side.

“Go and call Liam down, I'll wait for him in the restaurant.”

The butler responded and hurried upstairs all the way, knocking on the door of Liam Lu's room.

After a while, there was a violent clash of fetters on the ground, from far to near.

Liam Lu seemed to have just taken a shower. He was wearing a black bathrobe, the belt was loosely tied around his waist, and the hair was still dripping.

Every time he took a step forward, his fetters made a crisp sound on the steps.

But even so, it did not affect his inherent noble temperament and powerful oppressive aura.

Seeing the old lady sitting in the restaurant, Liam Lu immediately curled his lips and said with a smile.

“Grandma came here early in the morning, because I hurt your little eyeliner, Xiaolan asked the crime?”

Old Mrs. Lu frowned, but instead sternly accused.

“Your eldest brother is paralyzed all year round. Sooner or later, you have to take over the responsibility of the Lu family. When can you stay calm and be more stable?”

Liam Lu immediately refuted.

“Grandma doesn’t want to be shaved, she doesn’t need others at all, wouldn’t it be better to be on her own?”

At this moment, there was movement from the kitchen, and Zoey Gu slowly walked to the dining room with the prepared chicken syrup.

The old lady glanced at her sideways and snorted coldly from her nose.

“I know, if it wasn’t for that Zoey Gu who betrayed you, you would not have chosen to return to the Lu family and live this unfree life. But since you accept it, this is your destiny.”

Hearing this, Zoey Gu, who was approaching with the egg syrup, turned pale, shaking her hand, and the contents of the tray instantly fell down...

A crisp sound of fetters suddenly sounded.

Liam Lu got up quickly like lightning, stretched out his hand to firmly catch the falling sugar water, and put it directly in front of the old lady.

Turning to his side again, frowned and glanced at Zoey Gu, then said lightly.

“Be careful.”

His eyes didn’t stop for a moment, and he sat back again.

Zoey’s face was like wax paper, she lowered her head and took a step back and said in a low voice.

“Sorry old lady, I will pay attention next time.”

In my heart, there was already a throbbing pain.

It was because of her deceit that Liam Lu agreed to return to the Lu family, and now he has a life of oppression that is extremely controlled.

Blame her...

The old lady on the side suddenly raised her eyes and looked at Liam Lu at the moment when Liam Lu suddenly got up and sat back in his seat.

“Why is your face restored?!”

Liam Lu narrowed his eyes to look at the old lady, and asked instead, "Is it possible, grandma wants me to suffocate from the pain?"

Old lady Lu lifted up the crutches too violently and slammed it on the ground.

"I'm asking you seriously, the medicine I gave you, unless I want to, you can't recover on your own!"

The old lady said, seeing Liam Lu leaning back on the chair, squinting her eyes and gritting her teeth fiercely.

"good very good!"

As she said, she took out a white pill box from her pocket, raised her hand and threw it in front of Liam Lu, and said coldly.

"In that case, take this medicine again in front of me! It will hurt for another month!"
