

Chapter 1621: Untitled

“Fans?”

The reporter didn't expect Shen Fanxing to answer his question. He paused and nodded blankly.

“Yes... Didn't you know that there was such a huge commotion online?”

“That's right. You've accumulated a lot of fans in the past. All of them are supporting you silently. Don't you feel anything?”

Shen Fanxing's lips curled into a sarcastic smile.

“Personally, I don't think I'm a public figure. I... feel very honored to have fans. As for silent support...”

Shen Fanxing smiled and said, “I'm very honored. However, I still suggest that if everyone has more family members, you can save your energy for yourself and your family...”

Although Shen Fanxing's words were tactful, before she had angered everyone, her words had angered the frustrated fans.

“What do you mean? Do you think we're cheap and want to be your fans?”

Shen Fanxing raised an eyebrow, but she maintained her smile. Her eyes were cold.

“Every time you encounter something, we're the ones who support you silently. When everyone is slandering you, we've been calming them down and maintaining order between the fans!”

“Also, I'm afraid you've forgotten that it's always us fans who tear down those people who target you. If not for us, you would have been slandered long ago. Yet, you're despising us now?”

“Look at yourself. You're the one with the most problems every day! Being your fan is so tiring!”

...

“So, am I wrong to ask you not to be my fan?”

Shen Fanxing's words were cold and domineering.

His aura made everyone speechless for a moment.

“I'm not a public figure, not now, and I won't be in the future. I'm honored to be your fan, but I'm telling you very clearly that I can't give you any response. I heard that there's a term called self-love...”

She paused and the look in her eyes changed. Her gaze on everyone became sharper and colder.

“Think about why you suddenly became my fans! Since you treat me as your spiritual food, don't think that I have to be grateful for whatever you do for me!”

“Since you're talking to me about how difficult it is for your fans... I'm not forcing you to do anything for me. Since you want to do it, don't take credit in front of me! Because our relationship is only a one-sided choice. It's not a one-sided decision. It's just your one-sided wish. It has nothing to do with me! Figure out your position and think about whether you have the right to behave atrociously in front of me!”

Shen Fanxing's words infuriated the fans, but they couldn't refute her.

They were willing fans. They stood up for her and fought with the anti-fans. They even thought of ways to protect her reputation. Everything they did was done willingly. Indeed... it had nothing to do with her.

What they had just said had indeed turned them into a joke.

"You... you're too much! We supported you for so long in the past. We treated your kindness as ill intent!"

"I finally understand. You really don't take us seriously! Forget it, I won't be your fan in the future! Just take it that everything we've done in the past has been fed to the dogs!"

"Then why are you filming a television drama? Also, your company and the perfume you designed don't have any fans. Who do you think you are? Do you really think you're so awesome that no one needs you?"

"Ha, ha, Da..."

"Your EQ is really low! These words have completely offended your fans. I'm waiting for the day your drama flops!"

"That's right! She won't even recognize me!"

Shen Fanxing pursed her lips and said casually, "Do you know who my grandma is?"

The fan froze. After some thought, panic flashed across her eyes.

Wasn't Shen Fanxing's grandmother the Queen of Country Y?

Shen Fanxing glanced at the crowd and ignored the reporters who were recording her words. She turned to leave.

However, she was stopped by a reporter.

"CEO Shen, don't you think your words today will offend all the fans? Now that your drama is about to start filming, aren't you worried that the fans will fail?"

Shen Fanxing paused. Two seconds later, she turned to face the camera with a calm and cold expression.

"Everything depends on strength. If they have any other choice to replace me, it's because I'm not capable."

With that, she turned around and walked towards the stage.

The reporters were shocked by Shen Fanxing's words.

But after a while, she felt relieved.

This woman had given them too many surprises.

She had always been domineering in handling many things.

Many people had called her arrogant, but in the end, the arrogance in their eyes became a matter of course when it came to Shen Fanxing.

But this matter...

She already had dirt on her and had just offended all her fans. If she wanted to turn the situation around, they really couldn't think of anything else she could do.

Although everything depended on strength, in this era where marketing methods were everywhere, her actions today were not wise.

But for some reason, they didn't want to give up on Shen Fanxing.

He was always looking forward to her every move.

Perhaps she was really fearless when she said those words just now. Even though she was angry, it did not reduce her popularity.

Not everyone could rely on the support of their true fans to succeed. There were too many people who had been hacked.

On the stage far away, a few actors stood. They had heard Shen Fanxing's words clearly.

Judging from the situation, they didn't approve of Shen Fanxing's actions.

Some of them even started to feel uneasy.

They used to have a few works in the past. It wasn't easy for them to gain some exposure and popularity. All they wanted was to advance. They didn't want to delay their future because of Shen Fanxing's drama.

At that time, those people's anger would be diverted to them. Who knew how their future would be?

The supporting cast looked uneasy. Seeing Shen Fanxing standing at the side, they hesitated for a long time before standing up.

"CEO Shen, I feel that my ability is limited and I'm not qualified to take on my current role. Can I..."

Chapter 1622: Replacement

"CEO Shen, I feel that my ability is limited and I'm not qualified to take on my current role. Can I..."

Shen Fanxing turned to look at the actor.

There was a burst of mocking laughter.

"This is karma, karma is here!"

"I'm afraid you're the only one who doesn't take fans seriously! Do you think everyone has low EQ like you?"

"This drama will definitely fail. It's right to choose not to film it! There's no need to sacrifice your future for such a person."

Everyone shouted loudly below. Two more actors also stood up hesitantly.

“Sorry CEO Shen, we can’t film it either. You should find someone else!”

Shen Fanxing narrowed her eyes and stared at them for a few seconds before saying coldly, “Are you sure?”

Seeing that there was room for regret, the few of them hurriedly nodded.

“Yes! Besides, you haven’t signed a contract with us yet, right? We didn’t see the content of the script, so we should be able to choose to quit anytime, right?”

Speaking of this, they really felt lucky.

Usually, before filming, actors who had been confirmed would sign a contract in advance to prevent any unforeseen circumstances in the future.

She didn’t know if it was because it was Shen Fanxing’s first time filming, or if the opening ceremony was too rushed that she hadn’t signed the contract with them.

No matter what, it was a blessing to be able to reject this drama in the end.

The people below the stage were right. It wasn’t easy for them to get here. They couldn’t ruin their future easily.

Shen Fanxing stared at them expressionlessly for a while before blinking lightly.

“I’m confident that this drama will have good results. Do you want to quit too?”

“I...”

“You’d better think carefully before giving me an answer. You can go back on your words, but once I’ve decided, I’ll never go back on my word. If you choose to reject me now, you have to know that you’ll be on my blacklist forever.

Don’t say that I’m threatening you. I have the ability, but you don’t. I won’t be magnanimous enough to let you take advantage of me in the future.”

The few of them blushed. But with Shen Fanxing’s reputation, they had no idea what would happen in the future.

Based on her blatant rejection of the fans, her future development was set.

Everyone knew how to use various marketing methods to attract fans, but she had completely offended them.

Although she was not a celebrity, the fans she had were not inferior to some international A-listers.

The reason why everyone was trying their best to get close to her was because of her popularity and her ability.

Now that her trump card had been destroyed by her, there was nothing she could trust.

“Since you put it that way, we have nothing to say.”

Shen Fanxing chuckled and said, "Do you know why I didn't sign the contract with you in advance?"

The few of them were stunned. Seeing the calm smile on Shen Fanxing's face, they couldn't help but feel uneasy.

"Because I want to give you a choice. Life is your own and your own path. I want to see with my own eyes how you choose and what kind of life you will have."

"..."

"Since you have a choice now, fine, I'll fulfill your wish. There's no contract between us, so you're naturally free to come and go. None of you can be replaced."

Their faces darkened.

As an actor, uniqueness in the industry was very important.

Most of the characters belonged to someone.

What they didn't want to hear was that they would be easily replaced.

If she was replaced, she wouldn't be the only one. Without any characteristics, it would be difficult for her to stand out in this complicated industry.

In their lives, only failure awaited them.

"What are you waiting for? This place no longer belongs to you. Please leave immediately."

Shen Fanxing stared at them coldly.

The few of them were provoked by her attitude. "CEO Shen, you should take care of yourself first. Whether we can be replaced or not is not up to you to decide."

For some reason, Shen Fanxing felt like she was playing a prank. "You think you're superior to a few newbies who have admitted their incompetence?"

"..."

Shen Fanxing turned to face the backstage and hooked her finger gently. Then, everyone saw a few people walking up from backstage.

Then, she walked to where the few of them were standing and bowed.

They introduced themselves.

Names and roles they played.

They were all roles of the actors who had just stopped acting.

The faces of the few people who had been pushed aside turned green.

The faces of the new guests were unfamiliar. There was no popularity at all.

Everyone below the stage fell silent.

“What’s going on? She actually prepared a backup plan?”

“How can it be such a coincidence? It just so happens that it’s those people who are going to stop acting.”

“Isn’t this an obvious backup plan?”

Someone shouted loudly, trying to smear Shen Fanxing’s reputation.

“Backup! Backup! Backup!”

Everyone followed suit and shouted.

Only then did the expressions of the actors on stage improve. They smiled coldly.

“The spare tire... means that we’re the priority. If we hadn’t rejected them today, you wouldn’t have had the chance to appear...”

One of the newcomers frowned and said calmly,

“You might not know this, but the few of us have already signed a contract with Stars International in advance. Back then, I didn’t know why CEO Shen still wanted to use us after having an actor. Now, I understand. It turns out that she had already expected you to make the choice today.”

“!!!”

“!!!” J

Their expressions changed drastically. “You guys signed the contract long ago?”

Everyone was puzzled. A few people who had stopped acting suddenly felt uneasy.

They felt that something was amiss, but they didn’t know what Shen Fanxing wanted.

Given Shen Fanxing’s personality, she felt that she wouldn’t behave herself.

The newcomers ignored their doubts.

“Moreover, even if it’s a spare tire, we don’t care. In this industry, opportunities are really important to us. As long as there’s an opportunity, we won’t miss it. We’re not the only spare tire. Who can be sure that you don’t have a spare tire?”

“The opportunity won’t come again. I thank everyone who gave up the opportunity before me. Thank you very much, CEO Shen, for giving us a chance to showcase ourselves.”

Chapter 1623: Untitled

“The opportunity won’t come again. I thank everyone who gave up the opportunity before me. Thank you very much, CEO Shen, for giving us a chance to showcase ourselves.”

The newbie’s words embarrassed everyone present. Everyone fell silent.

Although she was a newbie, she still had her ways.

She was much better than some short-sighted people.

Everyone was willing to listen to nice words, and Shen Fanxing was naturally happy to hear them.

Taking the microphone, Shen Fanxing smiled faintly and faced the audience.

“There are countless marketing methods nowadays, and there are more and more methods to deceive people. There are very few people who are truly capable and can withstand the test. A fan club is a terrifying thing. Once someone leads the way, the entire circle will definitely be in chaos.”

“I don’t need fans because I can’t give you any response that you’re looking forward to. I can’t put myself in your shoes and think too much for you at all times. Perhaps there are really people supporting me in a corner that I can’t see. I’ll call them fans for now. However, since they’re my fans, I suggest that you put more energy, time, and feelings into yourselves and your family.

You can pay attention to me, but I’m not all of you. I might never slow down or change my choice for anyone.

We all have our own lives. Be selfish, don’t hurt others, and don’t break the law. I don’t think such thoughts are dangerous. Perhaps in the eyes of others, my worldview is flawed.

Sorry, no one had the right to judge each other.

“I’ll say it again. I think I’m irreplaceable. Even if there’s really someone who can replace me, I can’t cry and beg you to support me. That’s all I have to say. I can’t influence your choice. My relationship with any of you is only that of Grand Duke Jiang and Yu.”

Jiang Taigong took the bait willingly.

No one could deny that this was the reality.

No one could refute that.

Actually, everyone understood this logic. However, not many people dared to say it out loud like Shen Fanxing.

Because no one was sure if they would become one of the marketing staff.

But the more the truth was, the more it hurt one’s self-esteem and made one uncomfortable.

Some people would rather live in a world of praise and illusion.

It was even more impossible for the marketing team to publicize this matter.

“Does he think he’s very capable? Doesn’t he realize that with his current situation, if he still wants to speak based on his strength, wouldn’t that be too unrealistic?”

“Everyone has a bottom line. Your customer is obviously us, the public. How do you explain the theft of someone else’s design? No matter how capable you are, how can you step on someone else’s bottom line while winning over a customer?”

“Don’t you still need fans?”

Among them were the actors who had just chosen to strike.

Shen Fanxing glanced at her, knowing that she was trying to use this opportunity to go against her and win over her fans to increase her popularity.

The positioning was obvious, and so was the popularity.

Shen Fanxing smiled and said, "I've said before that I don't need fans, but satisfied consumers. As for the issue of stealing someone else's design, I've never said that the work isn't mine. But I've never said that the work is mine, let alone that I stole it."

"I'm very curious. Why did you insist that I was a thief from the start?"

"..."

"..."

"..."

Shen Fanxing's words silenced everyone.

Everyone looked at each other in confusion.

Shen Fanxing sneered coldly at his expression.

She had been led astray by someone until now, but she still didn't understand what had happened. It was really...

She was too easily used.

But without them, where would her success come from?

"The design isn't mine, but it's not what you think it is either..."

"If it's not theft, can you still apply for the right to use it from the dead?"

Seeing that Shen Fanxing was about to clear her name, the fans who had spoken ill of her suddenly shouted, not giving her any chance to redeem herself.

Sure enough, Shen Fanxing's voice was interrupted by another voice.

"When did I become a dead person? Why didn't I know?"

Everyone turned around. Lou Ruoyi was wearing a red cheongsam and a cotton shawl. She walked out slowly with a cold expression.

At first, some people couldn't react in time, but after a few seconds, someone shouted, "It's Madam Bo!"

"Madam Bo, she's actually not dead!"

"It was such a serious plane accident, but nothing happened. What happened?"

"Does CEO Shen know that she's not dead?"

"..."

“...”

This guess made everyone speechless again.

If that was the case, this turn of events was too surreal.

In a car in a corner of the venue, Bo Yuelin stared coldly at Lou Ruoyi's figure. His expression was dark and sinister.

The atmosphere in the car was terrifyingly low. The driver froze and didn't dare to move.

“What an outstanding trick!!”

These few words seemed to grind every word.

Looking at the calm and smiling Shen Fanxing, his gaze could kill.

The driver shuddered at his words.

What... a brilliant trick?

He didn't understand, but now that things had come to this, anyone could tell at a glance that Shen Fanxing was taking drastic measures. Everyone who stood opposite her hated her.

Among them, the most typical was Yuan Sichun and Bo Yuelin.

Recently, Bo Yuelin had been affected by Ji Fengmian and Shen Fanxing.

Ji Fengmian had blacklisted him at the shareholders' meeting.

Even though there was no evidence, the seeds of suspicion were planted in everyone's hearts.

Now, Shen Fanxing had done such a thing.

He had wanted to take advantage of this opportunity to suppress Shen Fanxing's arrogance.

If the mother and daughter stood on top of the Bo Consortium during this international economic summit...

The Old Master had been competitive for so many years. How could he let anyone suppress the Bo Consortium?

The Ming Corporation had made Old Master suffer for so many years!

Let alone two women?

Chapter 1624: Untitled

He had once tried to figure out Shen Fanxing's path.

It was all because of someone else.

There would always be people who disliked her, and she was very good at stepping on them to climb higher.

Therefore, he was naturally not as stupid as those people in the past who had to do everything personally.

In the end, it was either her or him.

There were so many people in the world who could be easily used.

After laying the groundwork for such a long time, it was about time to see the results today. In the end, this was the outcome.

Along the way, Shen Fanxing had allowed the situation online to worsen.

The criticism online got worse and worse. Everyone was waiting for her to explain, but she remained silent and did whatever she wanted, causing public anger...

Bit by bit, she accumulated the anger of others and watched as batches of people paid attention to her. The news spread like wildfire. With such huge internet traffic, she didn't need to waste any money or energy to attract everyone's attention.

The more she was suppressed, the more elastic she would be.

She had been suppressing everyone's attention and emotions. Then, she found a point and suddenly released...

Such an effect could be said to be extinct.

This woman was too good at scheming and scheming. She had schemed against everyone without batting an eyelid.

She knew what everyone was thinking. Everything was within her expectations.

This woman was too good at reading people's minds and controlling the situation.

He knew that she had always known about his role in this matter.

Therefore, he knew more clearly now that he had been used.

From the moment Lou Ruoyi appeared, he understood.

The situation under his control had long been controlled by Shen Fanxing.

She was indeed scheming.

He was wrong. He knew that he could not underestimate this woman, but he had still underestimated her.

Being used by such a young woman was really...

It made one feel indignant and angry.

Being schemed against like this...

Her breathing became heavier and the atmosphere in the car became tense again.

"Did anything happen at Yuan Sichun's place?"

His sudden cold voice made the driver's body stiffen subconsciously. After a few seconds, he immediately replied,

"... No."

Bo Yuelin turned to look at the opening ceremony. After a moment of silence, his lips twitched.

"Let her be smug! There are many people who can't stand her. Let's go!"

"Yes!"

The driver quickly responded and heaved a sigh of relief. He started the car and drove away.

Lou Ruoyi's appearance was undoubtedly the highlight of the opening ceremony.

Everyone was shocked by her appearance.

The reporters had too many questions to ask, but they didn't have the chance.

Escorted by her bodyguards, Lou Ruoyi walked up the stage and stopped in front of Shen Fanxing.

Shen Fanxing smiled at her and Lou Ruoyi smiled.

At this moment, Lou Ruoyi was dignified and elegant.

Her words and actions represented Bo Sichen's wife.

Supporting Bo Sichen was what Lou Ruoyi had learned the most and was also what she was best at.

She took the microphone from Shen Fanxing and spoke to everyone expressionlessly.

"I'm Lou Ruoyi, the designer of all the embroidery designs! I'm the one who designed the designs, I'm the one who drew the designs, and I'm the one who asked Fanxing to get these designs from the Bo family! In fact, I'm the one who embroidered every single piece of costume! Who is so simple-minded to believe that Fanxing is the thief?"

"Also, I'm alive and well now. I haven't lost a single strand of hair, let alone being a dead person. It's ridiculous! There was no news of me after the plane crash, but a dead person can only be confirmed to be dead after finding the corpse, right? You're cursing me to death. Shouldn't I hold you responsible for spreading rumors?"

"..."

"..."

"..."

Everyone was rendered speechless by Lou Ruoyi's words.

All of them looked embarrassed and some even started to panic.

Especially the three actors who had just stopped acting. At this moment, they realized something and their expressions were extremely uneasy.

It turned out that she had long known that Lou Ruoyi was not dead. Moreover, there was no problem of theft or copyright infringement.

The costume was designed by Lan Xianxian and the embroidery was personally done by Lou Ruoyi.

From the beginning to the end, Shen Fanxing was clean and innocent.

They looked at Shen Fanxing fearfully, only to see her standing there with a calm expression. She was never flustered or surprised.

Just by standing there, one could not help but look up to her.

“I’m very grateful to Fanxing for giving me this opportunity. I finally have a chance to fulfill the mission my parents gave me before they left! Fanxing saved my life and gave me a chance to make up for my regrets in life! She’s also my daughter-in-law, so I won’t allow anyone to say anything bad about her! I know very well what kind of person she is. Don’t think that you know her so well just by looking at her from afar. Without interacting with her, none of you have the right to criticize her, insult her, and doubt her!”

“What if someone only praises her?”

Lou Ruoyi said, “That’s fine! She deserves any praise!”

A low chuckle sounded from the crowd.

Shen Fanxing stood at the side with her usual smile, but she didn’t know whether to laugh or cry.

Who would praise someone like that!?

And she only allowed others to say that she was good...

She stroked her hair uncomfortably and lowered her eyes to hide the shyness and helplessness in them.

The atmosphere gradually livened up. Now that the fans knew the truth, and Lou Ruoyi’s blatant favoritism and fondness, they wanted to believe in Shen Fanxing’s character again.

“I’m sorry, CEO Shen. We misunderstood you.”

“Yes, yes. As your fans, we still don’t trust you enough. I’m sorry, it won’t happen again.”

“I knew you wouldn’t do such a thing. But I still have to apologize to you. I will definitely support the television drama and I will be more loyal to you in the future.”

...

Shen Fanxing took the microphone and said,

“I’ve never accepted any apology. The mistake has been made and the damage has been done. Your apology won’t erase what has happened. To be honest, I really can’t afford fans like you.

Don't think that I'm not tolerant enough. If I stab you in the back for no reason, you can still smile and say that it's fine. I have nothing to say. Personally, I don't have the habit of repaying evil with kindness."

Chapter 1625: Truly Amazing

Everyone below the stage felt ashamed.

Recalling what Shen Fanxing had said about not needing fans, she felt even more ashamed.

She had not done anything wrong from the beginning to the end. Even though she had explained the misunderstanding, her fans would still be her fans.

However, she had said so many words to "offend" them...

Actually, now that she thought about it, she wanted them to think more about her and spend more time with their families. What had she done wrong?

Who would have the courage to say such things?

Who wasn't afraid of losing their fans?

Who wasn't trying their best to win over more fans?

Only she could be so straightforward!

Under such circumstances, the memories and feelings were the deepest.

With the misunderstanding resolved, everyone knew that they had misunderstood Shen Fanxing.

Lou Ruoyi's appearance and her favoritism towards Shen Fanxing gave everyone a deeper understanding of Shen Fanxing's character.

Since ancient times, the relationship between mother-in-law and daughter-in-law was the most complicated. Now, even her mother-in-law, Lou Ruoyi, liked Shen Fanxing so much. It was obvious that her character could withstand the test.

Coupled with Shen Fanxing's honesty, not only did it not reduce the number of people supporting her, it increased rapidly.

There was also a group of older parents and grandparents.

To be able to make young people realize that they shouldn't blindly chase after celebrities and even take care of themselves and spend more time with their families, it was too beneficial.

"This girl is really a good girl. I've never seen anyone as daring as her to speak the truth. Don't worry, after your drama airs, I'll definitely watch it with my son and grandson!"

"In this day and age, all kinds of unscrupulous marketing methods are too profound. If you're not careful, you'll fall for it. Miss, you're telling the truth. If someone can't even hear the truth, then they deserve to be tricked for the rest of their life."

"That's right. Those who dare to say that they speak with strength have almost gone extinct!"

The situation online improved instantly.

Shen Fanxing's fans were changing every second.

The number of followers exceeded a hundred million.

The news of hundreds of millions made the fans excited again.

Everyone tagged Bo Jinchuan's main account.

"@Bo Jinchuan, your wife has more than 100 million fans."

"Your wife is too outstanding. I want to snatch her away. I want to compete with you fair and square!
@Bo Jinchuan."

"My wife has more than a hundred million fans. Seeing so many people like her, I'm asking if you're feeling pressured? @Bo Jinchuan."

"I really want CEO Shen to be my husband. Can you give her up? Although I don't have money, you don't either. I think I can treat her better than you! @Bo Jinchuan."

"Yes, yes, yes! We like her so much and we don't think she's worse than you! For her future, let go! @Bo Jinchuan."

"@Bo Jinchuan, it's her, Shen Fanxing! I love her! If you love her, let her go!"

"I can't deny that you're handsome, but it's a fact that you don't have money. I'm definitely better than you. Quit. Although raising money is low, if you don't have money, it's even lower. @Bo Jinchuan, be sensible and quit!"

...

When people saw the news, they followed suit and paid attention to Bo Jinchuan's account.

In an instant, Bo Jinchuan, who was in a meeting with a group of internationally renowned entrepreneurs in a huge office far away, had his phone ringing.

He opened the Weibo app and saw that someone had tagged him. His handsome face darkened instantly.

In the huge conference room, many internationally renowned entrepreneurs were sweating profusely. They had no idea what their young leader had seen.

The man who had always been cold, mature and reserved, who had never revealed his emotions, now had a completely dark face and an unconcealed anger.

Dressed in an expensive black suit, he sat at the head of the table in the conference room. His long legs were crossed, and his handsome face was slightly lowered. His deep and dark eyes stared at the phone, and the coldness in them intensified.

Although everyone present was curious, they didn't react much.

All of them sat quietly in their seats, playing with their pens, tapping the documents on the table, or watching Bo Jinchuan's reaction with a smile.

These people had an absolute status in international business and their auras were noble and powerful.

Steady, calm, and well-hidden emotions. There were also men who seemed to be born with different styles, but it was undeniable that they stood at the top.

Everyone here was definitely a “overwhelming CEO”.

It was not easy to see too many emotions on their faces.

“Give up. Otherwise, you’ll be given a title!”

“Get lost!”

“Can you be richer than me?”

At that moment, Bo Jinchuan couldn’t take it anymore when he saw the comments. He sat at the head of the table and typed on his phone. With a cold face, he went down to rebut.

“...”

“...”

“...”

Everyone in the conference room was puzzled and speechless. Some of them even smiled and took out their phones to open a social media site.

With the notification from Bo Jinchuan and their recent attention on his rumored ‘wife’, it was easy for them to find the local app.

Their attention on Bo Jinchuan and Shen Fanxing allowed them to know what had happened.

Bo Jinchuan was still replying to the netizens who were coveting his wife. Upon seeing his reply, the few people in the office smiled silently.

“Why can’t I be richer than you? Isn’t your money President Shen’s sugar daddy?”

Something throbbed on Bo Jinchuan’s forehead.

“Nowadays, all good-looking men are gigolos. Aren’t you a classic example? I think CEO Shen has just fallen in love. He was momentarily bewitched by your appearance. After some time, he naturally saw you clearly.”

“Men are better off with money! Do you know that?”

Bo Jinchuan pursed his lips tightly.

His fingers hovered in the air for a long time before a loud bang sounded in the office, causing everyone to look at him.

It was Leather Shoe who had kicked the table in front of him. His expression was impatient and gloomy.

The “overbearing CEOs” present curled their lips and raised their eyebrows silently.

It was rare to see “this person” being so emotional.

Moreover, in a conference room where hundreds of millions of yuan or even more were earned every second, he actually wasted his time to go against those netizens who had nothing to do with him. He was indeed a weirdo.

Back then, none of them had expected “this” to have a woman, and she was so deeply affected.

This Shen Fanxing was really... impressive.

Chapter 1626: Untitled

Everyone was curious about Bo Jinchuan.

However, they were mostly gloating.

Perhaps sensing the abnormality in the meeting room, Bo Jinchuan suddenly raised his head and adjusted his sitting posture. He glanced at them coldly.

Just as everyone began to adjust their sitting positions and pretend not to see anything, Bo Jinchuan suddenly said,

“Am I someone without money?”

“...”

“...”

“...”

Everyone did not answer such a childish and ridiculous question. Then, they heard him say,

“Who has more money than me?”

“...”

“...”

“...”

Was there no end to this person’s childishness?

The few of them pursed their lips and ignored his question.

Bo Jinchuan frowned and put his phone away impatiently.

“Speak! Who’s richer than me?!”

The few “bosses” in the conference room had subtle expressions.

“In the entire world, there shouldn’t be anyone more valuable than you. You can rest assured.”

Bo Jinchuan’s expression darkened. “Who?”

Gu Linxi, the CEO of a certain region in Asia, had a hedonistic personality. At this moment, he leaned back in his chair and twirled the pen in his hand. His tone was casual.

“Of course it’s your beloved wife, Shen Fanxing.”

His words lightened the atmosphere in the conference room.

Although they were all stern, cold and distant, it was precisely because of this that the subtle change was especially obvious among them.

Most importantly, it was Bo Jinchuan.

Bo Jinchuan was obviously pleased by her words. The change in his expression was enough to prove that.

“Yes. You’re right. She’s the most valuable.”

After saying that, her lips twitched imperceptibly.

The few CEOs in the office were speechless.

How did this person become like this after half a year?

She had allowed a woman to press down on her head and even felt superior.

Indeed, men in love were weird.

As such, all the “Boss” present secretly swore in their hearts—

She would never fall in love easily, let alone fall head over heels for a woman.

In short, all the “bosses” had only one thought in their minds—

Woman, I will never fall in love with you!

“Continue!”

Feeling better, Bo Jinchuan wanted the meeting to continue.

Recently, they had been suppressing the Bo Consortium in all aspects, so they were naturally busier than usual.

Gu Linxi sighed and stood up to support himself on the conference table. “Sigh, the international summit is coming soon. Now, we have to spend our energy to deal with the Bo Consortium... Stealing business on their territory, tsk tsk... What grudges do we have...”

The others remained calm and collected.

Women were indeed troublesome creatures.

Bo Jinchuan gave him a cold stare and said, “Seems like you have something to say.”

“I wouldn’t dare.” Gu Linxi waved his hand. “The company is yours. You can do whatever you want as long as you’re happy. I like to go against others, especially when it comes to snatching business.”

Bo Jinchuan pressed his lips and shifted his gaze to the document in front of him.

“If you say another word that has nothing to do with today’s topic, get out.”

Ever since Lou Ruoyi appeared at the opening ceremony, the situation had completely reversed.

Before filming even started, it was already a sign that the show had become popular.

And it was extraordinarily popular.

This time, Shen Fanxing unleashed her ultimate move.

The attention she received this time was really enviable.

The expressions of the three actors changed on the spot.

After the opening ceremony ended, Shen Fanxing stopped her in the parking lot before she left.

“CEO Shen...”

Shen Fanxing raised an eyebrow and paused to look at the three of them silently.

Her silence made her seem even colder. They hesitated for a while before someone said,

“I know that we’re the best actors for the roles you want. The few people you called up later are actually our substitutes. If we say that we want to continue with our previous roles...”

“Who do you think I am?” A faint smile appeared on Shen Fanxing’s face.

“What?”

“Who are you to me? What reason do I have to make you go back on your word in front of me? This is society. You’re in the entertainment industry. There’s no chance for you to stand there and wait for me!

From the moment you resolutely refused to act in my drama, you had completely lost all opportunities.

As a person, one had to have some backbone.

The actors turned pale and wanted to say something, but Shen Fanxing didn’t give them a chance.

They were newbies to begin with. In order not to affect their future and lose the fans they already had, they chose to change their minds at the last minute.

But now, they had experienced too much cruel reality.

Through this incident, they had become famous. However, it also meant that there was no hope for them anymore.

“So CEO Shen had long seen the signs of them wanting to stop acting. I didn’t expect them to stop at the critical moment. Tsk tsk, short-sighted people.”

“Aren’t actors supposed to act in a good story? So they just want to be famous. In the future, if any director uses them again, they will either be blind or have unspoken rules!”

“You’ve already admitted that you’re incapable. Why are you still an actress?”

They didn't know if the Imperial Consort would succeed in the future, but now, they had no way of succeeding.

One misstep could lead to eternal regret.

The publicity for "The Royal Concubine" had come to an end. All that was left was the filming and screening. She only needed to wait for the results.

However, she thought that there was nothing for her to do now and that she could properly "take care of her husband and children". In the end, she forgot about Lou Ruoyi, her "passionate" mother-in-law.

Ever since she lost the media's attention, Lou Ruoyi had revealed her true colors. The moment she got into the car, she pulled Shen Fanxing and massaged her arms and legs. She cupped her face and sized her up carefully.

"She's too skinny!"

"That rascal Bo Jinchuan, how did he take care of you?"

"Have you hired a nutritionist? Have you eaten enough nutrition every day? No, I'll be in charge of your meals in the future!"

Shen Fanxing's face was distorted. "I actually eat a lot..."

"Not only do you have to eat a lot, but you also have to eat correctly! Look at your stomach. Do you look like you're pregnant with twins?"

"The month isn't up yet..."

"He should be here by now!"

"..."

Shen Fanxing decided not to speak.

It seemed like it was futile to say anything more.

Chapter 1627: I'll Be Your Kick

Seeing that Shen Fanxing had settled down, Lou Ruoyi thought that it was time to settle scores with Bo Jinchuan.

"Where's Bo Jinchuan? Is he really a gigolo?"

Shen Fanxing pursed her lips and said, "He... isn't a gigolo."

"Where is he now?"

"... I'm on a business trip."

Lou Ruoyi clicked her tongue and said, "What's wrong with a gigolo? Is he selling his body overseas?"

Shen Fanxing pursed her lips.

Was she still his biological mother?

How could she tell that Bo Jinchuan was interested in selling his body?

“You’re pregnant now and he actually left you alone at home... I’ll teach him a lesson when we meet!”

“...”

Shen Fanxing smiled dryly.

Lou Ruoyi treated Shen Fanxing like a porcelain doll, afraid that something would happen to her.

Even the distance between the car and the apartment was covered by her care and concern. She almost carried Shen Fanxing on her shoulder.

Shen Fanxing was overwhelmed by his cautiousness.

After entering the apartment, Lou Ruoyi walked around the room before letting Shen Fanxing sit on the sofa. She went upstairs with a suitcase in her hand.

Then, he pulled Shen Fanxing out.

“Mom...”

“The apartment is too small and I can’t use it. It’s best to go to Grand View Manor. The environment there is good and I can take a walk after dinner. Life here is too unhealthy. Bo Jinchuan, that brat...”

She had to blame Bo Jinchuan again.

After hearing so much, Shen Fanxing couldn’t help but feel guilty towards Bo Jinchuan.

Looking at his mother-in-law, he felt that he would be beaten up when he returned.

In any case, she had decided to focus on her pregnancy. Compared to this apartment, Grand View Manor was indeed not bad.

Since Lou Ruoyi had said so, Shen Fanxing didn’t insist and followed her.

Stars International was in the limelight, but Bo Yuelin didn’t have the energy to care.

In just a few days, the Bo Consortium’s overseas project was surrounded and intercepted.

Compared to suppressing Stars International, he naturally had to focus more on the Bo Consortium.

After all, no matter what, the difference between Stars International and the Bo Consortium was huge.

Given the current situation of the Bo Consortium, it was difficult for them to split their attention.

Even though she was trying her best to suppress the news, the news was still reported overseas.

The Bo Consortium had a huge target in the European Union. If anything happened, it would attract too much attention. It was not easy to suppress the news forever.

The foreign media was not as friendly to foreign businessmen as they appeared.

She had already given enough face to the Bo Consortium.

After all, the balance in the business circle had to be maintained.

The shareholders' meeting made everyone in the company suspicious of Bo Yuelin.

The turmoil that followed made them dislike Bo Yuelin even more.

"Why do I feel that ever since Chairman Bo took over, there have been problems with the company?"

"It's not a feeling, it's the truth."

"I heard that the sudden appearance of our former CEO at the shareholders' meeting scared Chairman Bo. Everyone said that when the plane crashed in the past, Chairman Bo was the one who planned the market. His goal was to get the Bo family. After the CEO left, didn't the shares of the former CEO land on him?"

"Her intentions are too obvious. She probably didn't expect the Host to suddenly appear when she was sucking someone else's food."

"Chairman Bo hasn't done anything major since he took office. Why did the European Union's business suddenly suffer such a heavy blow? Do you think it's the CEO? When he left the Bo Consortium, he clearly said..."

"I used to think so too, but the Old Master has even stripped him of his rights as the young master of the Bo family. How can he fight against the Bo Consortium?"

"Then who has been targeting the Bo Consortium?"

...

The company's situation was grim and the employees were emotionally unstable.

Faced with so many questioning gazes and comments, Bo Yuelin's temper was obviously on the verge of exploding.

"What have you found?"

In the office, Bo Yuelin sat on the office chair and asked the special assistant with a straight face.

The special assistant hurriedly said in fear and trepidation, "The other party doesn't seem to have any intention of hiding. He has swallowed too much of our business and can't maintain a low profile..."

"Who is it?"

The special assistant paused, his expression unreadable.

"It's the 'Ming' Group."

Bo Yuelin frowned. He had expected this answer, but he couldn't accept it.

Old Master had always been brooding over this "Ming" Corporation.

Even so, the Ming Corporation and the Bo Consortium had always minded their own business.

This time, they were obviously targeting the Bo Consortium.

He would never make things difficult for the Bo Consortium for no reason.

The reason in between...

Bo Yuelin frowned and fell into deep thought.

“Chairman Bo... this really isn’t Young Master...”

Before the special assistant could finish speaking, Bo Yuelin’s cold gaze landed on him.

“Do you think he can do it on his own now?”

“...Maybe it’s a good friend he made in the past... Now, help him...”

Bo Yuelin sneered, “If he’s the kind of person who can ask others for help, I can cut my head off for you to kick.”

The special assistant started to look puzzled.

“But so many coincidences point to Young Master...”

Bo Yuelin’s face darkened again.

“... Has he interacted with anyone from the ‘Ming’ Group?”

The special assistant shook his head. “I’ve checked this too. They don’t have any interactions. Moreover... I’ve specially spent time and effort to hire someone to investigate this time, but I still don’t know anything about the higher-ups of the corporation. They’re so guarded that I don’t know where to start.”

The Special Assistant’s face turned solemn. This was the first time he had seen such strict protection.

Bo Yuelin massaged his temples and leaned back in his chair, looking exhausted.

The special assistant stood at the side with a terrified expression.

“... Chairman Bo, do you have any plans for the next few days? In just a few days, the market value of the Bo Consortium has disappeared by nearly two percent. Moreover, the company has been suspicious of you recently. If this continues... the company will very likely...”

“Get lost!”

The special assistant’s words were stuck in his throat as he looked at Bo Yuelin in surprise.

“... Chairman Bo...”

He spoke tentatively, but Bo Yuelin looked up at him coldly.

“You want to say that the Bo Consortium will be destroyed by me in the end?”

The special assistant broke out in a cold sweat. “No, no, I’m just speculating about the situation...”

The office was silent for a while.

“Find a way to get me an appointment with the person-in-charge of the ‘Ming’ Group. I want to talk to him personally!”

Chapter 1628: Secretly Opening Shen Fanxing’s Photo

The special assistant was put in a spot. He opened his mouth but turned to leave.

At this moment, Bo Yuelin didn’t have the courage to speak to him.

He contacted the “Ming” Corporation immediately and the answer he received was not reserved at all.

“Sorry, our CEO doesn’t want to see anyone.”

“The person who wants to see him is the chairman of the Bo Consortium!”

It was the sweet voice of a young woman. “Sorry, our CEO doesn’t want to see anyone.”

Even through the microphone, he could imagine the sweet smile on the woman’s face when she spoke. However, her words made him feel like his fist had hit cotton.

Knowing that there was no point in asking further, the special assistant ended the call.

On the other hand, the service department informed Bo Jinchuan of the news.

Bo Jinchuan was expressionless as he replied, “Got it.”

This reaction was completely expected.

It was already an unwritten rule that the CEO would not meet anyone.

They even had a subtle influence.

He could make any appointment on behalf of the CEO.

After being rejected, the special assistant reported the news to Bo Yuelin immediately.

“Let’s continue.”

Given the current situation, it was necessary for him to meet this person from the “Ming” Corporation.

He needed to know the reason for the pursuit of the Bo Consortium.

He personally didn’t want to become enemies with her.

If possible, it might be a good thing for the consortiums if they worked together.

As long as the Bo Consortium existed and developed in a good direction, he didn’t care about being suppressed like Old Master.

Moreover, his current situation didn’t allow him to have such ambitions.

What was important was to consolidate his foundation.

The special assistant hesitated. "Chairman Bo, there's an unwritten rule in the Ming Corporation that the CEO refuses to meet anyone. Otherwise... it's impossible for there to be no news of him in the industry all these years..."

For the past few years, there had been no news of such an influential figure. It was obvious that he was low-profile and mysterious.

But no one could do anything to him.

Bo Yuelin frowned and insisted coldly, "Continue. I have to see him!"

The special assistant paused for a while before nodding. "I understand."

Ming Corporation, top floor conference room.

"Isn't it fun to be mysterious and low-profile? With your unwritten rules, I really don't know how many people you've offended."

Gu Linxi clicked her tongue and shook her head. She leaned against the chair in the conference room and rocked back and forth, completely displaying the image of a playboy.

Bo Jinchuan was used to Gu Linxi's attitude.

There was no response. She sat there silently, her face expressionless. No one knew what she was thinking.

His silence gave Gu Linxi more time to speak.

"All of you are so mysterious. You make it seem like we're some underground organization that specializes in illegal activities. Isn't it better to be more honest? We're the richest people in the world. It's an honor!"

Bo Jinchuan frowned and finally looked at him coldly.

Gu Linxi's eyes lit up. It was rare for him to be loyal to Bo Jinchuan.

Speaking of which, the few people around them were already bored enough. They looked decent, but they put on airs every day with cold expressions, as if someone owed them hundreds of billions.

It was not easy to provoke them again and again.

Initially, she thought that they were already bored enough, but in the end, there was still a boss who led the show. As the leader of the boring world, he led the group further and further away.

In his opinion, he was the only one who was normal.

Alexander was really worried about them.

If she wasn't careful, she might lose her life.

“It’s just an opinion! Old Master Bo only wants to be at the top now. He’s either using the Bo family to suppress you or using the Bo family to threaten you. You’re just the CEO of the Bo Consortium, yet he wants to betroth you to that mentally ill eldest daughter of the Yuan family. Hahaha...”

Bo Jinchuan narrowed his eyes slowly. His expression was calm, but it sent a chill down her spine.

“Cough, cough, cough...”

Sensing the atmosphere, Gu Linxi coughed awkwardly.

“Everyone thinks that you’re a gigolo who relies on women now. Do you really not care? Or are you enjoying being a gigolo now?”

“You went against the Bo Consortium for nearly a hundred billion yuan without letting anyone know that it’s you. Most importantly, wouldn’t it be a pity if you don’t let your woman see your most impressive side?”

In the end, Bo Jinchuan’s expression changed.

“F*ck!”

Gu Linxi couldn’t help but curse softly.

He finally understood that no matter how much he tried to persuade her, it wouldn’t be as effective as implicating Shen Fanxing.

That was strange. He had heard a lot about that woman. He had to admit that she was smart, beautiful, and bold.

However, was it worth it for Bo Jinchuan to fall head over heels for her?

At the end of the day, wasn’t it all because of this woman?

The reason why they didn’t have a direct conflict with the Bo Consortium in the past was because he was the young master of the Bo family and the future head of the Bo Consortium. No matter what, they were a family. Hence, there was no need for them to go against each other and not interfere in each other’s fields.

Now, for a woman, not only did the Bo Consortium not want her, they even used the power of the corporation.

She threw away nearly a hundred billion yuan to compete with the Bo Consortium.

This was a loss no matter what.

If the Bo Consortium was destroyed, the “Ming” Corporation would have to pay a heavy price.

It was not just a hundred billion yuan.

A woman...

Tsk tsk...

Gu Linxi stopped her rocking chair and picked up her phone to browse the news.

Seeing the news about Shen Fanxing, he couldn't help but sigh.

"I have to say, this person has fought another beautiful battle."

'Your wife?'

Bo Jinchuan pursed his lips and picked up his phone again.

As for what to do, everyone present had a tacit understanding.

Although they were speechless, they still took out their phones to check Shen Fanxing's post online.

Seeing Shen Fanxing's sudden opening ceremony and her various actions, the few of them understood what Gu Linxi meant.

It was indeed a perfect and beautiful battle.

Chapter 1629: Jealousy

Although she was a woman, her brains and methods made one speechless.

To be able to control everything and even predict the development was indeed admirable.

Since they cared, they couldn't help but want to know more. They even secretly clicked on Shen Fanxing's photo.

It was just a photo, but one could tell that she was smart and capable. There was also a unique aura that flowed from her bones.

Her exquisite facial features combined had her own personality and beauty.

Her eyes were dark and bright. Through the screen, one could see the wisdom and shrewdness in her eyes.

Indeed...

She was a rare woman.

A few people looked at Bo Jinchuan.

Their gazes were filled with indescribable emotions.

She had benefited from this man.

He had picked up such a woman for nothing.

Sensing everyone's gaze, Bo Jinchuan suddenly looked up.

Before anyone could retract their gazes, they were caught red-handed.

The "bosses" who had high self-esteem had awkward expressions on their faces.

Envious.

Jealousy.

Hate.

The emotions reflected in their eyes cheered Bo Jinchuan up instantly.

Her long legs crossed as she shifted her position casually.

She leaned back in her chair with an “I’m awesome” posture.

“What are you guys looking at?”

Although he was still gentlemanly, after working together for so long, they had the urge to throw Bo Jinchuan out of the window.

Naturally, this was impossible. The few of them could only click on the photo on their phones with cold expressions and leave the screen.

There were so many women in the world...

Forget about women for the time being.

They didn’t want to be slapped in the face.

(Don’t worry, everyone is the boss. There will always be a woman who makes you willingly slap yourself! Calm down, what will come will come.)

“Are you all mute?”

“I’m looking at your smart and beautiful girlfriend! I’m envious of you for being lucky enough to meet such an outstanding woman. Are you happy?”

Gu Linxi clenched her fists and couldn’t hold it in anymore.

Who was this fellow trying to anger to death? He knew why, but he had to ask.

It was obvious that he wanted someone to praise his woman. Enough was enough.

When did she become so childish?

Looking at the rare smile on Bo Jinchuan’s face, her hands itched.

Bo Jinchuan was indeed very beautiful. Looking at the photo of Shen Fanxing on his phone, his well-defined hand caressed her exquisite features.

She had an official smile on her face, but no one could get tired of looking at her.

This wasn’t just his woman.

“Your bonuses will be deducted and your leave will be halved.”

“...”

“...”

“...”

Bo Jinchuan didn't look up, but his sudden words caused the entire conference room to fall silent.

The few 'bosses' looked at him coldly. The cold aura that no one could withstand, coupled with the piercing gaze, pierced Bo Jinchuan.

However, Bo Jinchuan didn't seem to feel anything.

"... Damn... Cao... Why?!"

Gu Linxi wasn't like the others who only knew how to protest with their eyes and aura.

Bo Jinchuan glanced at him and asked, "Didn't Wen Xuchen tell you?"

All the tycoons were speechless.

Gu Linxi said angrily, "No! What should he tell us?!"

Bo Jinchuan replied, "Shen Fanxing is my wife."

Gu Linxi said, "What does this have to do with our bonus and holidays?!"

Bo Jinchuan said calmly,

"Yes, this matter has been put into the performance assessment. If you make a mistake, the bonus will be deducted and the holiday will be halved."

Gu Linxi: "...What f*cking performance assessment!"

All the presidents were speechless.

Damn it!

She wanted to beat this man to death!

Gu Linxi slammed the table. "I object, I don't accept it! What kind of performance assessment is this!"

Bo Jinchuan raised an eyebrow and said, "All holidays will be deducted."

Gu Linxi was so angry that her head exploded. "We don't know at all. Who knows if you did it on a whim?"

Bo Jinchuan said, "So what if I did it on a whim?"

Gu Linxi was speechless.

All the tycoons were speechless.

"You can confirm this with Wen Xuchen. Since he didn't inform you, you can settle scores with him. This matter is obviously his fault."

"... .."

At this moment, everyone wanted to beat Bo Jinchuan to death ten thousand times!

"The company meeting is such a serious matter. Didn't we just talk about the Bo Consortium..."

Gu Linxi held her breath. If she couldn't afford to offend him, why couldn't she give in?

A man should be flexible!

"Yes." Bo Jinchuan nodded. "I'll attend this year's international summit personally."

Gu Linxi rested her chin on the table weakly. When she heard Bo Jinchuan's words, she suddenly straightened her body.

"Are you finally not the boss of the underground organization?"

Bo Jinchuan pursed his lips and stood up.

"You're right. It's time to give Fanxing face."

F*ck me!

This time, Gu Linxi didn't say anything.

Let him go through this damned meeting quietly.

He didn't want to bother with this retard at all!

"You guys do your own thing. Dismissed."

She had already said what she needed to say, and she had already exposed herself.

Bo Jinchuan felt that the meeting was perfect, especially after showing off his wife.

Just as the meeting ended, a few people walked out of the office one after another. A secretary from the CEO's office walked over.

"CEO, the Bo Consortium has been inviting you non-stop. It seems like they won't let the matter rest until they see you."

Bo Jinchuan's eyebrows twitched as he glanced at Gu Linxi, who was about to walk past him. He reached out to block his path.

"What are you doing?!"

"The chairman of the Bo Consortium wants to see you."

Gu Linxi rolled her eyes. "Do you think I'm deaf? I'm asking you out!"

Bo Jinchuan raised an eyebrow and said, "Either your face is disfigured or we can meet via video call. It's your choice."

Gu Linxi gritted his teeth.

"Despicable!"

"It seems like you've chosen not to have this face."

"You don't want to..."

Before she could finish her sentence, Bo Jinchuan glared at her coldly.

“Fine, what’s the big deal? I’ll expose you in advance!”

Bo Jinchuan glanced at him before walking towards his office.

Chapter 1630: Chasing a Duck Up a Tree

Gu Linxi turned around and looked at the cold-faced “bosses”. She pointed at them and called them “cold-blooded”, but she still followed behind Bo Jinchuan.

“Hey, Boss, how’s Bo Jinghang? Why haven’t I heard from him recently? Is he starting to cultivate or has he been crippled by you?”

The few “bosses” behind him were speechless.

This self-destructive man changed his attitude faster than a woman.

In the Bo Consortium’s CEO’s office, Bo Yuelin’s special assistant was reporting the reply he had just received.

“Chairman Bo, the ‘Ming’ Corporation has agreed to a video call with you. If you agree, we will go online immediately.”

Bo Yuelin raised his pen and frowned at him.

“Video conversation?”

The special assistant nodded. “Yes, as far as I know, this is something that has never happened before. You have to know that the ‘Ming’ Group has never officially agreed to any invitation before...”

Bo Yuelin suddenly threw the pen on the table.

The special assistant stopped speaking and looked at him in confusion.

Bo Yuelin said coldly, “In that case, I have to thank them for giving me face?”

“...” The special assistant opened his mouth but didn’t say anything.

Bo Yuelin sneered. “Video chat... How arrogant.”

The office was silent for a while. The special assistant had been staring at the time. A few minutes later, he had no choice but to ask carefully,

“Chairman Bo, if you don’t agree, I’ll give them an answer immediately.”

Bo Yuelin’s face darkened. “Let’s connect.”

The special assistant heaved a sigh of relief. “Yes, I’ll arrange it now.”

A few minutes later, the video connection was successful.

Bo Jinchuan sat on a chair in his office as he reviewed the documents from the past few months. In front of him was a huge projection wall.

The screen showed Bo Yuelin sitting in his office.

Gu Linxi sat on the sofa by the window, his body facing the projection wall. In the video, only half of his face was shown.

He had adjusted the angle, saying that he had to experience the mystery.

“I wonder why Chairman Bo is in such a hurry to look for a small company. Is there something important to discuss?”

Gu Linxi’s voice was completely different from before.

His face was cold, his voice was low, and he didn’t smile. For a moment, one couldn’t tell who was the real him.

His coldness made Bo Yuelin’s face darken even more.

Judging from his side profile and voice, he was obviously a young man.

In front of him, he was still an elder. This attitude made him dislike the man in the video.

Actually, what made him feel the most indignant was that the leader of the “Ming” Corporation, who had suddenly appeared and suppressed the Bo Consortium for years, was actually such a young lad.

If Old Master found out, who knew how he would react.

“You’re the person in charge of the ‘Ming’ Group?”

“I think there must be something urgent for Chairman Bo to be in such a hurry to invite me. Chairman Bo, you can tell me directly!”

Bo Yuelin closed his eyes slowly and stared at Gu Linxi’s side profile. His cold gaze almost pierced through Gu Linxi’s side profile.

His gaze was obvious in the silence, but Gu Linxi remained unmoved.

Time passed in silence. Gu Linxi was indeed bold.

In any case, Bo Jinchuan was right beside him and he was forced to do this. It wasn’t like he did it willingly. Moreover, the person who insisted on meeting her was the Bo Consortium, not him.

Agreeing to meet him was giving him immense face.

And he had to greet her with a smile!

Bo Yuelin seemed to know that he was the one who had initiated this conversation. Moreover, what he cared about now was not whether the leader was young or not. What he cared about was the “Ming” Corporation that the other party controlled.

Of course, he was the one who spoke.

“I’ve long heard of the reputation of the Ming Corporation, but I’ve always been curious. In the past, we’ve always minded our own business. Why has your company been eyeing our Bo Group recently?”

Gu Linxi pouted. “Because of a woman...”

“Bang—”

Before she could finish her sentence, Gu Linxi’s head suddenly fell forward.

Then, he reached out to cover the back of his head and rubbed it forcefully.

Looking at the silver mouse that was spinning in front of her, Gu Linxi almost jumped up in anger.

“What’s wrong?”

Things happened quickly and without warning.

Bo Yuelin had no idea what had happened. He only saw that the man in the video had suddenly disappeared. Only the back of his head was visible in the video.

After a long while, Gu Linxi stood up and regained her composure.

“Nothing! The reason is simple. Capitalists should prioritize benefits. We’ve earned enough money here, so we have to develop new projects. The circle is only so big. If there’s a conflict, I personally think there’s nothing to be suspicious of.”

Bo Yuelin sneered. “I know what you’re talking about, but your company’s target is too obvious.”

“Oh, then all the profitable projects are probably in your hands.”

Gu Linxi continued to rub the back of her head and resumed her casual attitude.

Bo Yuelin frowned and said, “Most of the European Union’s economy is controlled by the Bo Consortium. I think anyone with brains will definitely not go against the Bo Consortium.”

Gu Linxi pursed her lips. “Because they don’t have the ability. The truth has proven that we’re much better than those with brains, right? At the very least, the business we want is in our hands now.”

Chairman Bo, why don’t you tell us the reason for this invitation? Are you here to warn us or to denounce us?”

Bo Yuelin’s expression didn’t look good. Someone had actually dominated the conversation and forced him.

He frowned and suppressed the displeasure in his heart. He spoke again with a good temper.

“... It’s neither a warning nor a denouncement. Since interests are the priority, don’t you think that cooperating with us is the best of both worlds?”

Upon hearing this, Gu Linxi blinked and straightened her back.

Bo Yuelin watched his reaction through the screen. Even though it was still the side of his face, he could tell that the other party had a huge reaction to his suggestion.

Her lips curled into a smile as she waited for his reply.

However, in the next second, before she could even blink, she saw Gu Linxi's head suddenly disappear from the video...
