

Catch Me If You Love Me Chapter 169

“I...”

In the next second, the weight on her body suddenly lightened, and the man turned over to leave Zoey Gu, and turned to get out of bed.

Zoey Gu’s heart trembled, and her eyes flushed with sorrow. She got up from the bed regardless, and hugged him tightly from behind.

“Liam...”

As soon as she spoke, her voice was inexplicably filled with a deep cry.

“I want a child that belongs to you and me more than anyone else. But I don’t hope that when he grows up, he will live a life of being controlled, unfree, and even short-lived like you.”

“If he meets someone he loves, he will have to be ups and downs like us. He is destined to not be long in his life and suffer the pain of separation. I would rather this child not come from the beginning.”

She hugged him hard and rubbed her cheek against his back lightly.

“Liam, you know you are angry, but...”

“Let go!”

Liam Lu said coldly without looking back.

Zoey Gu was taken aback for a moment.

“I tell you to let go!”

Liam Lu in front of him opened his mouth again impatiently, seeming to think she was slow, and pulled her hand away and stood up abruptly.

Seeing him like this, Zoey Gu’s heart sank and her eyes flushed.

As soon as she looked up, he saw the man walk to the bedside table, opened the drawer, took out a shiny silver package from it, and opened the tin foil with his teeth.

Zoey Gu stared at his movements blankly, and instantly forgot to react.

In the next second, Liam Lu was caught off guard and rushed towards her, and instantly overwhelmed her on the big bed.

“Stupid, if you don’t let go, how can I meet your requirements?!”

In the next second, an instant attack on the city...

Vaguely, one could still hear the man’s gasps, which sounded like a smile, which sounded in the room where the time was not clear.

“Zoey, you must want to ask, why do I have this thing here?”

“Actually, I prepared it early in the morning. I have been waiting for you for a long time...”

“Liam Lu, you stinky-rascal!”

With this sleep, Zoey Gu fell into a deep sleep.

Even in her sleep, the crazy feeling of being pressed hard by Liam Lu and galloping at her heart still lingers.

When I woke up with soreness, the sky was bright outside the window.

Liam Lu was dressed in a suit and leather shoes, sitting on the edge of the bed refreshed.

There was a silver suitcase at his feet.

“Woke up?”

Seeing that she was awake, he got up and was picked up together with others, took the clothes he had prepared next to him, and put on her.

“Put on your clothes and eat breakfast, then go to the Civil Affairs Bureau to get your certificate.”

Zoey Gu blushed and grabbed her clothes and pushed him away, shrunk under the quilt and put it on herself.

Finally got up, frowned and looked at the luggage at his feet.

“Getting a certificate means that a good thing is right, but this...”

“After receiving the certificate, we will return directly to Berven City.”

Zoey Gu was taken aback, “So fast?”

Liam Lu’s thin lips pressed tightly, and he looked down at Zoey Gu with an unexpected look, and didn’t hide it from her.

“Zoey, here is not safe for you and me.”

Zoey Gu was startled.

After reacting, I immediately remembered the words that the old lady said to herself before leaving yesterday.

“Dare to make a bet with me?”

“You and Liam will not have a good result, let alone go to the end.”
