

Chapter 177

"I'm not mad!"

Hearing Leon's words, Alyssa felt content.

Leon knew that he had neglected her during this time. She felt that Leon cared about her, so she was very happy.

"By the way, Alyssa, there is one more thing I need to tell you. I've asked for a leave of absence for you. From now on, you don't have to go to school. You can just go when you take exams."

"What?" Alyssa looked at Leon, "Why didn't you ask my opinion?"

She thought she was in good health and had no problem going to school.

Besides, Leon didn't even ask her opinion. In the past, Leon would always ask her opinion about something, but this time he made the decision for her without her permission.

Alyssa frowned slightly, a little uncomfortable.

Leon could see that Alyssa was upset and said softly, "You are pregnant now. Several days ago, you didn't feel well. I don't feel relieved for you to go to school. What if the students at school accidentally bump into you?"

Alyssa smiled, "I'm just a student. Besides, the university is very orderly, not like what you said. How could someone bump into me!"

College was different from elementary or high school. College students didn't run over each other that much.

For the first time, Alyssa felt that Leon didn't respect her enough.

Leon also sensed Alyssa's unhappiness and said softly, "I didn't discuss this with you before because I was kind of in a hurry, but I promise you that I will discuss anything with you in the future. So, don't be angry, okay?"

"Okay." Hearing Leon's promise, Alyssa suddenly felt that all her anger was unnecessary.

The fact that she didn't go to school now didn't mean she couldn't study. She could study whenever she wanted to.

She could study on her own at home. With Ella's notes, what she learned was no different from what her teacher taught at school.

She smiled at Leon, "I'll study at home, then. It's okay."

"I am glad that you can think so." Leon walked with Alyssa for a while. Then, he said softly, "I'm going to see grandpa later. You get some rest early, okay?"

"Going to see grandpa? I'll go with you!"

Alyssa wanted to go with Leon.

Leon looked at Alyssa and really wanted to say yes to her. But, she couldn't go. He had to say, "No, you are pregnant now and need more rest. Besides, what are you going to do with me? I need to talk to Grandpa about business."

"..." Alyssa was speechless for a moment.

Leon sent Alyssa into the villa and left.

She stood at the window of the villa, watching Leon's back as he left, and for a long time, she didn't move.

He was not like this before. He seemed to be mysterious lately.

He seemed to be deliberately hiding something.

At that moment, Wendy came over with the hawthorn pie.

"Mrs. Hunter, Mr. Hunter asked me to prepare hawthorn pie for you earlier. He said you love to eat this these days. You can eat it while it's hot."

Hawthorn pie?

Alyssa's eyes lit up.

She was particularly fond of sour food lately.

She turned around and saw the freshly baked hawthorn pie on the coffee table, and immediately ate it.

Wendy smelled the scent of hawthorn pie and got an appetite, "Mr. Hunter really knows you. He knows that you like hawthorn pie. Mrs. Hunter, you should eat more."

"Leon also knows that I like hawthorn pie?" Alyssa felt warm. In fact, it was not that Leon did not care about her. Otherwise, how would he know that she liked hawthorn pie?

Maybe he was really busy lately. When she thought about it, Alyssa felt content.

She sat obediently and ate the hawthorn pie, feeling very happy.

The Hunters' old house.

Leon and Kevin sat in the study, each looking at the materials in their hands.

They put down the materials in their hands almost at the same time.

"Leon, I'll talk to Colton Koherr. You stay out of this. If anyone follows you again, you pretend you don't know about it. They are not trying to hurt you. You can rest assured." Kevin looked at Leon calmly, and seeing that he was still staring at the materials on the desk, he immediately changed the subject, "How is Alyssa doing? Did she feel uncomfortable after her pregnancy? You are Alyssa's husband. You must take good care of Alyssa, otherwise, I don't know how to explain to her grandfather."

Leon nodded, "I will take good care of Alyssa. But, Grandpa, about Uncle Colton ... if I'm right, you've already talked to and met with him, right?"

Kevin laughed, "I'm surprised that you know everything."

"What about the result of your conversation?"

"That's a secret. I can't tell you everything."

"I can find out even if you don't tell me. However, when the time comes, I might alert my uncle."

"Leon, do you think I'm old, so now you don't even listen to me?"

Kevin said these words calmly and did not look angry at all.

But Leon knew that Grandpa was angry.

He looked at his grandfather apologetically, "I didn't mean that. Grandpa, uncle is coming for me. Sooner or later, he will find me. It's not a good idea for me to hide from him. I came here today to discuss this matter with you."

Kevin heard Leon's words and looked at him, "So what did you find out?"

"Nothing."

Leon really didn't find out anything.

So, he was both curious and surprised.

In A City, there was something he couldn't find out.

"Since you didn't find out anything, it must be nothing, so you don't need to care too much about this. It's getting late today. You should hurry back to accompany Alyssa."

"Grandpa, you are hoping that I can find out this matter by myself. But when I figure this out, things will definitely not be like this." Leon knew that when he found this out, things would definitely be different.

He guessed that Grandpa knew everything. Grandpa would have met with Colton before he came to see him, too.

What they had said was the only reason he came to see his grandfather today. He wanted to know what happened between his grandfather and Colton.

Kevin heard Leon's words and knew what Leon meant. He nodded and said, "Yes, I did meet your uncle before. Your uncle means that the Koherrs' situation is a bit messy. It would be better if you could go back to the Koherrs. He just wants you to go back, but I've already turned him down. I told him that Hunter Group needs you. Your mother's last name is Koherr, but your last name is Hunter. Staying at the Hunters to run the Hunter Group is what you should do."

Kevin made it very clear.

Leon understood.

Kevin looked at Leon and smiled, "Is Hunter Group not enough for you to play, and are you going to go to the Koherrs?"

"I didn't think so."

"You better not. Your mother died young. Amelie Koherr is a good wife and a good mother. It's just too bad that she died so young. Your father ... is a failure. In addition to not having the talent to manage a company, he is even kind of a womanizer. But I'm an understanding person. I raised you, and I'll be relieved if I leave Hunter Group to you."

"I know."

"If you really know that, you should run Hunter Group carefully, take good care of Alyssa, and stop asking these people who have nothing to do with your life."

Leon didn't say anything, just nodded his head.

Kevin watched Leon nod, "Well, it's getting late. I won't keep you. Alyssa will be scared at home alone. I want great-grandchildren."

Leon nodded and turned to leave.

Kevin walked to the window and watched Leon leave before sighing.

He didn't know what to do now.

He would never let Leon leave the Hunters. He brought up Leon. He couldn't let anyone take him away.

Besides, the Koherrs was in such a mess. How could he let his grandson go to such a messy place?

In any case, it was impossible!

Kevin thought of this and turned around and called his bodyguard, telling his men to protect Leon secretly. Only then did he feel at ease.

Leon came out of the Hunters' old house and drove to a slightly remote area. He sensed that someone was following him.

He continued to drive forward. When he reached the villa, he was still followed by someone.

Thinking of his grandfather's words, Leon pretended not to notice them and walked into the villa. He saw Alyssa sitting in the living room reading the newspaper.

When Alyssa saw Leon, she immediately stood up and walked over, "You're back."

At that moment, she saw the tree branches outside the door move and a dark shadow flashed through the window.

She had seen such a dark figure many times before. Alyssa was immediately alerted, taking Leon's hand and walking towards the bedroom.

Leon didn't know that Alyssa was aware of the person following him outside. He thought Alyssa was going to kiss him again. So, he followed Alyssa to the room.

In the room.

Alyssa closed the curtains.

Luckily, there was no one outside the bedroom window.

She walked to Leon, "Did you notice that someone was following you when you came back?"

Leon froze. He didn't expect Alyssa to be so perceptive.

"Leon, just don't lie to me. Did you run into something again? Can you tell me the truth? What's going on?"

Leon smiled.

Earlier, he had asked his grandfather in the old house with almost the same tone. Now, he was asked by Alyssa in such a tone again.

Seeing that Leon didn't say anything, Alyssa continued to ask, "You don't want to talk to me, do you?"

Seeing that Alyssa was about to get angry, he hurriedly said, "Before, I went to grandpa's house just for this matter. Grandpa said it was nothing serious. I have an uncle who wanted to see me. I hadn't seen him, so he went to see my grandfather. They talked about it, and it didn't seem to go well. By the way, those who followed me were not only my uncle's people, but also grandpa's people. So, don't worry! I'll be fine."

Leon tried to make the story as simple as possible. That way, Alyssa wouldn't be afraid.

After hearing Leon's words, Alyssa did feel a bit relieved. But when she thought about it, she felt something was wrong.

"I don't know about your mother's family because I know that your mother died long ago, so if your uncle really wants to see you, it's only natural. But why did he sneak around? Leon, we're married. Can you not hide it from me?"

Leon smiled, "You said we are married, so how can I hide anything from you! Don't worry. I'm very honest with you."
