

Chapter 185

Prison.

Alyssa came back from work and was changed to another place.

The environment here was much better than before, and there was a separate bathroom with a toilet. Alyssa was still curious when someone brought her a bag of neatly folded clothes. The clothes were folded by Wendy, and they were the same clothes she had at the Hunter's House.

Leon must have asked Wendy to prepare them. Leon knew everything.

Thinking that Leon knew everything made Alyssa very happy. She was about to leave when she heard the man who delivered the clothes call out to her.

She turned her head to look at the man who delivered the clothes and suddenly felt that he looked familiar. When she thought about it, she remembered that he was her grandfather's bodyguard. She had seen him many times before.

"Miss Graham, Mr. Graham asked me to tell you something. Please rest assured, you will be out of here soon. You must protect yourself. Our men are here and we will try to keep you safe."

"Good." Alyssa nodded and couldn't help but ask, "Have you seen Leon's men?"

The bodyguard nodded, "This is what Mr. Hunter gave you. Our men have checked it and it's fine."

Alyssa nodded, "Then I'll go change my clothes."

Leon was very thoughtful. Probably knowing her situation in the prison, he had prepared all the items she might use. She must have saved the galaxy in her previous life to marry such a nice husband.

Alyssa took a shower and changed her clothes. Opening the bag, she saw a letter inside.

It was a letter written by Leon.

"See the letter as you see me! Take care, I'll pick you up as soon as I can! You must take care of yourself!"

This was Leon's handwriting.

Alyssa held the letter. She knew Leon wouldn't be so stupid as to think that she had hurt grandpa.

Now she wasn't worried at all. Grandpa's people were already inside, and Leon secretly arranged everything. She was safest here. But she was worried about her family and Leon, who probably wanted to team up against Colton and Audrey.

Audrey was too vicious. She would do anything to get what she wanted. She didn't seem to care about anything.

And Colton was so determined to get Leon to run the Koherrs that he would do anything to force Leon to agree with him.

But they were both wrong. If Leon was so useless, how could he possibly get a foothold in Hunter Group?

It was all in their heads!

Thinking about this, Alyssa was even more relieved. She was happy to know that she would soon be out of here.

This night, she slept very soundly.

Early the next morning, the news of the impeachment of Hunter Group's president Leon came out.

The reason was that when Kevin, the chairman of Hunter Group, was seriously ill, Leon used his power to embezzle hundreds of billions of yuan from Hunter Group, almost turning Hunter Group into an empty shell.

In addition, Graham Group, which was originally a trading company, now started to do real estate business and took away several of Hunter Group's orders. The companies that were originally prepared to sign with Hunter Group all switched to sign with Graham Group.

In a short time, the news of Hunter Group's bankruptcy was all over the circle.

During the Hunter Group's board meeting, the Grahams barged in and interrupted the board meeting. Immediately, many reporters poured into the meeting room and took pictures of Leon and the Grahams confronting.

Within almost an hour, the news of Hunter Group's impending bankruptcy and the Grahams' reprimand had been pushed to every newspaper and web page.

Colton smiled at Audrey with satisfaction when he saw the news, "The Hunters let Leon work tirelessly for them for years. Now, seeing that things are out of hand, they directly abandon Leon."

"That is because Leon can't distinguish between right and wrong, Mr. Koherr. This is what you want, isn't it? I want to thank you! If it weren't for you, George wouldn't be able to get promoted so quickly. I'm really grateful for your decision!"

Audrey was very happy with the current result. Now, of course, the more chaos Hunter Group had, the better. In that case, they needed someone who could settle the chaos. That person, of course, was George.

She looked at Colton and smiled smugly. Then she turned around and called George.

Soon they made an appointment to meet.

Leon saw the news from the hospital. The situation now was pretty much what he had expected earlier.

It was now after two in the morning. Grandpa hadn't woken up since the time he woke up and said Colton's name.

Twenty-four hours had passed.

The doctor meant that if grandpa was still the same as before, then he didn't know when he would wake up.

If grandpa could wake up, the Hunters would have a backbone.

To this day, Leon finally realized one thing, and that was that he still needed to grow up.

After his grandfather's accident, although everything was under his control, there were many people who helped him.

In particular, the Grahams and Alyssa gave a lot.

The ward was quiet. Leon thought of Alyssa. How was Alyssa doing now?

Ta-da-da!

He heard footsteps coming from outside.

The footsteps sounded quick and Leon already guessed that it was Colton.

He looked up and saw Colton walking in.

"Leon, you've seen the situation now. I advise you to come with me and not stay here. As long as you promise to come back to the Koherrs with me, all the business of the Koherrs will be yours. I will also listen to you. You are my sister's child, and you have half of the Koherrs' blood, so just come back. The Koherrs is your home."

"I said I would not go back with you. Before, I've made it very clear. I'm not going to go with you."

"Now, Hunter Group is like this. If you don't come back with me, there is no place for you in Hunter Group. I just heard from Hunter Group that they want to remove you and elect a new president. You have a brother, don't you? When the time comes, Hunter Group will be George's, not yours."

Leon looked at Colton, "Uncle, you think George will be the new owner of Hunter Group."

"Of course, it's obvious. Leon, you have to listen to me and come back to the Koherrs. The Koherrs also have good business. You're so good at management, and you'll be able to handle the Koherrs' business. I'm sure you can."

"Uncle, you should know better than anyone else what is going on."

Colton sneered at Leon's words, "Leon, I'm doing this for your own good."

"You were the one who got someone to stab grandpa. Then, you found a woman about the same size as Alyssa to frame Alyssa," Leon said calmly as if he already knew about it.

Colton smiled at Leon, "You're right. But you have no one to speak for you when things go wrong. Everyone wants to get you out of Hunter Group."

Leon didn't say anything, just looked at Colton.

"I am your uncle, and you are my sister's child. My sister and I are the Koherrs' only two children. You're my family. I won't hurt you. Leon, you're with me. Let's help the Koherrs together. The Koherrs will have everything for you, as long as you go back to the Koherrs."

"You're doing all this to force me to go back to the Koherrs and help you."

"You silly boy, how can that be helping me? I'm helping you. You worked so hard at the Hunters, but what did the people at the Hunters do to you? Would you rather work for the Hunters? Come with me! I won't let you down."

"If you just want me to go back with you, you don't need to hurt grandpa at all. Why would you want to hurt grandpa? Also, Alyssa has no grudge against you, but why did you do it to Alyssa?"

"That's because your grandfather didn't listen to me. Otherwise, I probably wouldn't do anything to him. As for your wife, Leon, if you come back to the Koherrs with me, you can have any kind of woman you want. Alyssa has a big impact on you. The fact that she can influence you is your weakness. You are going back to the Koherrs with me, how can I possibly let you have a weakness?"

Leon closed his eyes slightly.

He had recorded what Colton had just said.

He turned off the recording, lifted the phone, and put it in front of Colton's face.

Colton's face changed, "What do you mean?"

"Uncle, when you just spoke to me, I have recorded your words. About grandpa being stabbed and Alyssa becoming a murderer, uncle has explained them all. If I were you, I should try to get out of it now."

"Leon, I am your own uncle. How can you do this?"

"But I made it very clear to you from the beginning. I would only work for Hunter Group, but you didn't believe me. If you had believed me, this matter might not have come to this."

"Since you said that and played these tricks with me, don't blame me for being unkind. Although your grandfather has been rescued now, Alyssa is still in my hands. As long as I want Alyssa to die, Alyssa will not live until tomorrow. Leon, you have to think clearly about what you really want."

"Uncle, you can't do anything to Alyssa."

Leon smiled confidently.

Colton saw Leon smiling and smiled as well, "Yeah, then let's see who does it faster."

After he finished, he picked up the phone and made a call.

When he put down the phone, he smiled coldly at Leon, "Leon, do you believe that woman will be dead soon? I help you get rid of your weakness. In this way, you can stay at the Koherrs without worries in the future."

"That also depends on whether you have that ability or not."

Leon had expected this.

He had long arranged for his men to ensure Alyssa's safety at the prison.

Now that he had made everything clear, there was nothing more to say.

Leon turned to leave and Colton immediately called out behind him.

"Leon, why don't you come back with me? The Hunters has no place for you. George is about to take your place."

"If my position in Hunter Group is so insecure, then I've been in Hunter Group for all these years for nothing, haven't I? You underestimate me."

Leon said and left quickly.
