Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 189

Zoey Gu was stunned for a moment, her eyes widened in disbelief, she looked tremblingly at his blood-stained palm, and at Du Lanfu who had fallen on the ground.

"you…"

Du Lanfu curled up on the ground in pain, with blood flowing in her nostrils, but he did not forget to raise head and say softly to the already frightened Alina Yin.

"Alina Yin, mother is fine. Aunt Gu didn't intentionally push her mother, don't blame her…"

Alina Yin rushed to Du Lanfu's side with a "wow", took her arm, and started crying heartbreakingly.

The child's unusually loud and sharp cry instantly made Zoey Gu regain her senses.

She walked up to Du Lanfu's side in a few steps, reaching out to help her up, but she was instantly stopped.

"do not touch me…"

The next second, she raised her hand with difficulty and made a call gesture.

Zoey Gu reacted at once and ran to the phone like a gust of wind.

As soon as she picked up the phone, a tall and straight figure suddenly collapsed in stride.

Seeing Liam Lu, Zoey was taken aback.

The next moment, the man passed her side like a gust of wind, and ran to Du Lanfu's side in a few steps.

Seeing the bloodstains all over her body and Alina Yin who was crying beside her, her face instantly turned cold.

"what happened?!"

Du Lanfu gently raised his eyes to look at him, and said with difficulty.

"I'm fine…"

Alina Yin on the side cried heartbreakingly, "Dad, it's Aunt Gu. Aunt Gu pushed her mother!"

Zoey Gu shook her hand while holding the phone, turned her head back abruptly with a pale face, shocked.

"Alina Yin?"

At this moment, Liam Lu raised his head sharply, and the biting chill in his eyes pierced into Zoey Gu's heart.

The cold winter snow is not as good as the wind and frost in that glance, it hurts more!

In the next second, Liam Lu didn't say anything, but bent over and hugged Du Lanfu, and walked out of the living room quickly.

Zoey Gu stood up, and the man walked past her without squinting, and walked out with Alina Yin.

Bang!

There was a sudden cold wind blowing outside the door. It was obviously only the early autumn weather, but with a biting chill, he went straight to say nothing.

She stood in place with a chill all over, thinking of Liam Lu's cold and piercing look before leaving, her heart was dull and her eyes flushed suddenly.

In the end, he doesn't believe her…

There was footsteps outside the door, and Shiyue didn't know when he opened the door and walked in.

Seeing Zoey Gu standing in place with red eyes, pursing her lips, couldn't help but open his mouth.

"Miss Gu, don't blame Liam Lu. Miss Du is sick and has advanced blood cancer."

When Zoey Gu rushed to the hospital when he followed, Du Lanfu was still in the rescue room.

Liam Lu held Alina Yin in her arms and waited outside. The little girl was not sure whether she was frightened or worried, and kept crying on her father's shoulder.

Seeing Zoey Gu, Alina Yin cried even more.

"You go, you go! You are not allowed to approach my mother!"

"I hate Aunt Gu, she is a bad person, a bad person…"

Liam Lu raised his head when he heard the words.

The moment his eyes met, he clearly saw a strong disappointment and alienation in her eyes.

With a choking heart, he frowned and shouted subconsciously.

"Zoey…"
