

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 199

With steady footsteps sounded, Liam Lu slowly walked out of the cabin, his white shirt was rolled up, and his body was vicious, with blood stains on the back of his hand remaining when he hit someone.

Zoey Gu paled and froze in place.

“You, why are you here?”

Liam Lu elegantly fastened the shirt buttons on his wrists, his posture was calm, but his whole body exuded a fatal chill.

“My woman is leaving with other men, shouldn’t I be here?”

When the words fell, Logan Fu, with a face full of blood next to him, suddenly mocked.

“Young Master Lu, isn’t it? Before she went to your household registration, Zoey Gu was your woman tonight, maybe she will be in my bed tomorrow...”

Before he finished speaking, Liam Lu raised his foot and crushed him hard!

Logan Fu snorted and put his upper body up in pain.

“Liam Lu, you are crazy!”

Zoey Gu ran over in a few steps, grabbed Liam Lu’s hand, and explained angrily.

“Me and Logan Fu have nothing! My father is sick, I just asked him to take me back to the village to see my father.”

Liam Lu didn’t move, his cold eyes held her tightly, and asked aggressively.

“Your father has an accident. The first person you think of is him, not me?”

“I...”

Zoey Gu felt a pain in her heart, gritted her teeth and said fiercely.

“I don’t want to find you, let alone listen to any live version of you!”

Hearing this, Logan Fu, lying on the ground, let out a laugh.

“It seems... ahem! Liam wants to hug the left and the right, sharing the blessings of all people!”

Liam Lu brows fiercely.

Then he lifted his foot abruptly, and instantly kicked Logan Fu far away...

With a “bang”, Logan Fu slammed into the guardrail of the plank road, and the pain was gone.

“Logan Fu!”

Zoey Gu’s expression changed, and he turned and ran to Logan Fu’s side.

Just two steps, her feet were suddenly empty, and the whole person was lifted up by Liam Lu, and she directly touched her shoulders, turned and left!

Zoey Gu slapped the man on the shoulder like crazy, thumped his legs continuously, raised the volume and screamed.

“Liam Lu, let me down quickly!”

“My father is sick, I want to go back to the village to take care of him, he needs me!”

“Liam Lu, my father’s time is running out, don’t let me hate you!”

But despite her making noises and shouting, no matter how hoarse she was, the man walked forward unheard of.

When he reached the car, he pulled the door open, bent over and threw her in.

“Liam Lu!”

Zoey Gu got up like crazy, turned his head and rushed towards the door.

Bang.

With the car door closed, Liam Lu’s tall and powerful body instantly sat in, pressing Zoey Gu’s hands against the glass.

“I told you to keep you away from Logan Fu, why don’t you listen?”

His eyebrows jumped wildly, his face was blue, his dark eyes stared at her deeply, and there was a jumping and transpiring emotion in his eyes.

“The medical team I sent told me about your father’s illness. He is fine for the time being.”

“But I will not let you out of my sight for anything.”

Zoey Gu’s face was as white as snow, and he stared at Liam Lu with red eyes, like an angry little beast.

“Liam Lu, why are you doing this? Why?!”

The more she struggled, the tighter Liam Lu pressed.

For a moment, he closed his eyes severely, and said in a deep voice in her ear.

“Zoey, stop making trouble, Alina Yin is gone.”

Zoey Gu was startled, and looked up at him in shock, “What did you say?”
