

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 2

Half of that face is handsome and resolute, and the other half is like a ghost, densely covered with red blood, as if there is no skin, it can burst out at any time.

The man stood there quietly, with a terrifying aura, without speaking.

The people around him raised a foot towards Lydia Lin's men and kicked it hard.

"Shut your dog's mouth! If it weren't for our young master's face, why do you think we came from? Open the door!"

"Yes Yes Yes!"

His men crawled and rushed to the door.

With a "click", the door opened.

Zoey Gu, who was already on the verge of collapse, turned her head and saw a tall figure walking in slowly.

The door closed behind him.

Before Zoey Gu could react, a heavy rain breath suddenly approached. The man grabbed her very roughly and threw her to the floor severely.

Bang!

The sound of broken bones echoed with the sound of clothes being suddenly torn apart.

Darkness and fear are overwhelming.

Zoey Gu trembled all over, trying to struggle and lack the strength to protest, but there was no sound in her throat. Only the desperate "sobbing" sound filled every corner of the room.

The man turned over her body and forced her to kneel on the ground in the most humiliating position.

Then, fiercely...

Zoey Gu tightened her body suddenly and closed her eyes in despair.

“Zoey, come with me, I can give you the best things in the world as long as you want.”

“I have an identity that surprises you, and I also have unspeakable secrets. I can tell you if you want.”

“Zoey, I will wait for you, no matter how long you wait, I will wait.”

She originally thought that she would have the purest and most beautiful love in the world, and give her all the first time to her favorite Liam Lu.

But now, she was dirty and she was no longer worthy.

She could only shed tears, driven by the drug, while catering to the man in her heart, she called a man's name over and over in her heart.

Liam Lu.

Liam Lu.

Liam...

The wind and rain raged, and I don't know when it stopped.

The man made a vicious request for her, then threw her to the floor in disgust, got up and left without saying a word.

The door opened and closed.

The subordinate who was guarding the door turned his head when he heard the voice, and found that the man's half-faced face looked like a ghost, and after a affair with a woman, he had returned to normal.

The face at this moment is cold and fortitude, as perfect as a masterpiece.

“Master, Dean is right, that woman's blood is really useful to you! Now, you can finally rest assured to go back with us!”

“If you want me to say, just spend a sum of money to take away the woman inside, saving...”

The man turned sideways, Sen Han's gaze swept across the room behind him.

“No need.”

“This kind of thing, only this time, I only want this woman's blood. From now on, all women will be removed from me.”

The subordinate was stunned and didn't know what he thought of.

“Master, you suddenly hate women so much. Is it possible that it is related to the girl you are waiting for? If you really want to take her away, the big deal is that we will wait one more night and find someone.”

The man’s complexion became stiff, and a vicious and bloodthirsty chill flashed in his eyes.

For a moment, sneered again.

“That kind of woman? Not worth it!”

After he finished speaking, he turned and walked outside the villa.

Within a few steps, he stopped steadily, turned around to look at his subordinates, and told him coldly.

“There is something, before you leave Berven City, you need someone to help me handle it.”

After the man left, Zoey was lying quietly on the floor as if she was dead.

The storm is raging outside, but her world has long since fallen apart.

Lydia Lin laughed wildly after getting the money from downstairs.

Not long after, she ran upstairs briskly all the way, opened the door and saw Zoey Gu, could not help but “tsk tsk” and knelt down beside her.

“I didn’t expect that you Zoey Gu’s thin virgin film is worth ten million. I really underestimated you.”

Zoey Gu’s eyes were red, resisting the urge to snap her neck, and she trembled.

“they...”

“Don’t worry, I will let your father stay alive and take good care of your brother. As for Liam Lu, he already left Berven City half an hour ago.”

“However, he had someone give you something before he left. To reward you for your cooperation tonight, reward you.”

Lydia Lin got up and threw it at Zoey Gu.

Ding.

A round object fell to Zoey Gu’s hand.

The moment she saw it, Zoey Gu’s gray eyes suddenly rolled violently.

That is Liam Lu's ring.

The ring was originally a pair of rings, which was designed and customized by Liam Lu himself. There is only this pair in the world.

They once agreed that once the ring is worn, it will never go back for a lifetime, and it will never be taken off. Once one party violates, the other party will never be forgiven.

Today, she has the ring, but he has lost it.

He doesn't want her...

Waves of pinching pain spread in her heart, Zoey Gu asked tremblingly.

"He...what else did he say?"

Lydia Lin sneered.

"He said, you and this ring represent his stupid past. He wants you to keep it wherever you go during your lifetime. Because you are as dirty as this ring."

dirty.

He not only regretted loving her, but also felt her dirty.

Years of love is like a terrible joke. Despair, darkness, pain, and silently push Zoey Gu into hell slowly.

After a long and painful period of suffering, she suddenly lost the meaning of continuing...

Zoey Gu held the ring firmly, and suddenly laughed inexplicably.

Smiling and laughing, tears fell.

Lydia Lin only thought she was silly and silly, frowned in disgust, turned, and walked to the door.

Just as she put his hand on the doorknob, Zoey Gu's muffled hum suddenly sounded behind her.

Lydia Lin turned around abruptly and saw a stream of blood slowly flow out from the corner of Zoey Gu's mouth.

"Come on!"

"This bltch bit his tongue!"

Five years later.

Click.

There was a sound of opening the door from outside the villa, and a man led a few people in white coats in and walked all the way to a room upstairs.

Pushing the door open, the man pressed the remote control button in his hand, and a piece of light instantly shone into the room.

“A few please come in, she is there.”

It is already spring, the sun is shining outside, and the birds and flowers are fragrant. But the room in front of me was dark and damp all year round. Smell it carefully, but also smell a very light bloody smell.

Hearing the movement, the thin figure originally curled up on the bed trembled slightly, struggling to raise his hand to block the dazzling light above his head.

She is Zoey Gu and has been detained here for five years.

Seeing the white coat, she didn't have a trace of expression on her bloodless face all the time, but numbly stretched out her hand to the other party.

Five years.

Every month, she will have the opportunity to see her father and brother once. Then someone will come to draw a tube of her blood, and Lydia Lin will also get a check for 5 million.

I thought this time, everything would end as usual.

However, Zoey Gu heard the sound of the foreign servant turning on the TV from the open door.

“Today, Liam Lu, a young entrepreneur who has been talked about by Berven City, suddenly appeared, causing an uproar in the business community of Berven City...”

Lu...Liam?

Familiar with the name into the bone, Zoey Gu suddenly raised her head.

In the next second, she pushed away the people around her like crazy and stumbled out.

But the perennial weakness of the legs makes it impossible for him to exert strength at all.

As soon as she left the living room, she fell straight to the floor.

As soon as she raised her head, that familiar face slammed into Zoey Gu's eyes instantly.

The years did not leave a mark on him, but made the face like a knife and axe become deeper, three-dimensional, sharp, with a shocking field of natural superiors.

Those eyes are as deep as ice, so you can't peep into them.

It really is him.

He is back!

There were flashing lights nearby, and the media rushed to interview them, "Lu Shao, are you a Berven City person?"

"Is there any special plot for this city when I chose to set up its business headquarters in Berven City?"

"Are you single? Excuse me..."

A soft laugh from a woman came from behind Liam Lu.

"Don't embarrass him, Liam's temper is not as good as you think. If you get into a rush, I'm afraid you will be overwhelmed."

Then, a slim white figure walked out from behind Liam Lu.

Then, a small figure sprang out from behind the woman and rushed towards Liam Lu.

"father..."
