

Chapter 200

Hunter Group.

Leon sat in the middle of the conference room.

He had to get the various departments taken care of as soon as possible, then immediately dismiss the meeting and go home.

He wanted to go back to see the babies and Alyssa.

Now he suddenly understood a little of what it was like to be a married man rushing home from work every day.

After Leon left, the conference room went abuzz.

"I think I just heard Mr. Hunter mention the babies. Did I mishear it? Mr. Hunter has babies?"

"Mr. Cooper, do you still think Mr. Hunter and Mrs. Hunter will divorce? Well, it's impossible. I saw them out for a walk the other day!"

"I didn't even expect Mr. Hunter to have such a gentle look. I thought Mr. Hunter would scold us all today! And then he just left. I didn't expect that."

Everyone was surprised.

"I heard that Mrs. Hunter is different from before. She's not only elegant now, but also very good-looking. Now she is pregnant, and she must be even more delicate. Mr. Hunter has such a bad temper, but Mrs. Hunter can still put up with him. Doesn't that mean Mrs. Hunter is different from before?"

"That makes sense."

"I heard that Mrs. Hunter even went to Citic for an internship! I also heard that Mrs. Hunter has very good academic performance, and she is wanted by several companies!"

"I thought Mrs. Hunter was a bad student before, but I didn't expect her to be so outstanding. I even wanted to give Mr. Hunter a girlfriend before! Now I realize that I'm too stupid."

"Mr. Hunter has babies now. You won't get what you want."

The surrounding people joked, "Mr. Cooper, I'm still single! Although I'm not as good as Mr. Hunter, I'm also dedicated to my career. Do you want to consider me? I think I'm actually not bad!"

"Mr. Cooper, what about me? I'm your subordinate who has been with you for three years. I was also promoted by you. You should be able to trust my character, right?"

"You all get out of here. Mr. Hunter just said the meeting was over. If you don't leave, Mr. Hunter will come back and make you work overtime."

Mr. Cooper was annoyed by these people.

Not to mention the ability, his daughter was still young! Even if she had to marry, she could only marry a man like Mr. Hunter. The staff of Hunter Group was not yet old, but they had lost half of their hair.

His daughter was still young!

Without the right person, she would not be in a relationship.

Mr. Cooper thought of his lovely daughter and turned to leave.

The crowd also smiled and dispersed.

Half an hour later.

Hunter's House.

As soon as Leon entered, he rummaged through all the cabinets.

Alyssa frowned as she watched Leon's anxious search for something. She couldn't help but ask, "Leon, what are you looking for? Tell me and I will help you."

She hadn't left the house today, so surely nothing could be missing.

"You said the babies could move, didn't you?"

Alyssa nodded, "Yes, the babies did move."

"Then I'm just looking for the babies. I want to see the babies move."

Alyssa looked at Leon with astonishment. He had searched all over the house to see the babies move?

She didn't expect Mr. Hunter to be so stupid.

Alyssa tried not to laugh. But she couldn't help but laugh at Leon's serious search for the babies.

Leon asked, "What are you laughing at? What's so funny?"

"Nothing, the babies are still in my belly. I said the babies moved in my belly. Could they jump out and move? That's impossible, isn't it?"

"You're right."

Alyssa smiled and crooked her finger at Leon.

Leon walked to her in confusion.

Watching Leon approach, Alyssa reached out and put his hand on her bulging belly.

Leon froze for a moment but soon felt his hand being bumped.

Startled, he turned his head to look at Alyssa.

"Did you feel that?" Alyssa blinked her big eyes at Leon, "Are the babies moving? Did you feel that?"

Leon nodded. He did feel the babies moving.

It was amazing! Through a layer of belly skin, he could feel the babies moving.

Those were two lives ...

Leon suddenly felt excited at the thought that they were his and Alyssa's children.

Alyssa could see the tension and excitement in Leon's eyes. She said softly, "The babies are moving, which proves that they are growing up. Leon, are you okay? Do you dislike seeing them grow up?"

"Nonsense! How can I not want them to grow up? I really want to see them grow up."

Alyssa smiled, "I'm just kidding, Leon. They are growing up. We're going to be parents soon."

"I want to hear their voices again."

Leon pressed his head against Alyssa's belly.

Alyssa stroked Leon's head and looked at Leon's serious face.

Dong dong!

Leon chuckled, "That sounds like punches and kicks. Could they be fighting in there?"

"Maybe they will. It seems like they are pretty lively."

Alyssa didn't know whether they would be fighting inside. However, it seemed that it should be quite crowded inside.

The thought of two active kids fighting made Alyssa worried again.

"What's wrong, Alyssa?"

"What if both of these kids are naughty and we can't control them?"

"Do what you have to do."

Leon looked at Alyssa, "If we can't, let's beat them up."

"You certainly don't want to."

Leon smiled and didn't say anything. He might really be reluctant. Now the children were not yet born and he loved them so much. When the children were born, he should be more reluctant to scold them.

Alyssa couldn't help but smile when she saw Leon's doting expression.

The way he loved her and the children were shown on his face. She could see it clearly and didn't need to ask any more questions.

Evening.

After dinner.

Alyssa and Leon walked to the window.

Alyssa looked at the stars and Leon put his tablet on his lap, busy with unfinished work.

At that moment, Alyssa's phone suddenly rang. Worried that the ringing phone would disturb Leon, she immediately answered the phone.

"Alyssa, I ... we are in a bit of trouble. Can you come and help us?"

On the other end of the phone was Ruby's nervous and humble voice.

Alyssa immediately nodded, "Aunt, I'll be right over."

Alyssa put down the phone and looked at Leon, "I need to go to Kelly's house. Her mother just called me. They might be in a little trouble and I have to go check it out."

"I'll drive you there."

"No, if you don't feel comfortable, ask two bodyguards to follow me. They might be in some kind of trouble." Alyssa pursed her lips, "It's too hard for two old people to take care of two kids. They are very attached to Kelly's children. After all, Kelly is gone. Those two kids mean everything to them now."

Alyssa had been sitting for so long that it was slightly hard for her to stand up. She had a hard time standing up and felt her feet go numb. It took a while for her to feel better.

"Are you okay?" Leon could see that Alyssa seemed to be struggling to move. He stood up and walked to Alyssa to check her condition.

Alyssa shook her head, "I'm fine. I've just been sitting for a long time. You can send three bodyguards to follow me. I'm pretty good too. I'll be home in about an hour. Now you can relax!"

"Okay."

Seeing that Alyssa was really okay with her actions, Leon agreed to Alyssa's request.

Ten minutes later, Alyssa arrived at the house where Kelly had lived before she died.

This place had been bought by Leon and was Kelly's home now.

It was a pity that Kelly didn't know about it. If she had known about it before she was dead, she would have been very happy!

Alyssa naturally thought of Kelly when she came here.

She walked into the house and heard the two children crying. Watching Ruby fumbling with the two children, she rushed to help Ruby comfort the children.

When the children stopped crying, Ruby looked at Alyssa gratefully.

"Alyssa, I called you here because I want to tell you something. I have talked to Tony and decided to go home in a few days. This house will be returned to you when it becomes vacant." Ruby looked at Alyssa and smiled awkwardly, "I'm sorry. We've lived here for so long, but we can't afford to pay you rent."

"Aunt, what are you talking about? This house is Kelly's, and it will be Kelly's in the future. You don't have to worry about the house. What are you guys doing back home? It seems like you guys haven't gone back for a long time. The environment in your hometown is not good. Otherwise, you wouldn't have left there in the first place. You guys should just stay here!"

"To tell you the truth, that man came here a few days ago. I think we should leave quickly."

"That man?"

Alyssa looked at Ruby in confusion.

"He's the father of the children, Kyle Jones," seeing that Alyssa was completely unaware of this, Ruby said in detail, "Kyle lied to Kelly. He ran his own small business and was quite generous to Kelly. He promised Kelly that in the future he would marry Kelly. He said he would buy her a house and treat her well. But in reality, he has divorced twice. He did have some money, but he was a playboy. We all urged Kelly to leave Kyle, but Kelly didn't listen to us. It wasn't until she had two daughters that she learned Kyle's two previous wives also had daughters. He divorced them because he preferred sons to daughters. So, he did the same with Kelly. A few days ago, he somehow heard that Kelly bought this house. So, he wanted to raise these two children and wanted to take them away. But I believed that he just wanted this house."

Ruby had long seen through Kyle's character. But when she first persuaded Kelly, Kelly didn't listen to her.
