

Chapter 207

After sitting for a while, seeing that it was getting late and their makeup was almost done, they got up and said, "It's getting late, I have to get back to the office."

Clara frowned reluctantly.

"Leaving so soon? Can you stay with me a little longer."

Rovell Mu patiently reassured, "The company still has things to do, and besides, you won't be able to care about me when you're filming later, so I'd better not bother you."

Seeing him say that, Clara nodded her head.

"All right then! Then I'll walk you out, you must me tomorrow."

Rovell promised.

They turned to walk outside, but before they had taken two steps, a clear voice suddenly came from behind them.

"Wait!"

When they turned back, they saw Jenny sitting on a chair, looking over at them with a slight frown.

"Rovell, there's something I want to ask you."

Clara looked at her warily, "Rovell is in a hurry to get back to work, is it okay if sister has any questions for next time?"

For some reason, looking at Jenny's eyes, she always felt that nothing good could come of it.

So don't let the two talk is the wisest choice.

However, Jenny Jing and Rovell, who would listen to her?

Rovell stepped forward and said, "What is it? You ask."

Jenny smiled slightly and stood up.

"Are you sure what you said to me last night was true?"

Rovell was shocked.

Jenny sighed, a lost expression on her face, "If it's true, then these days, maybe I really misunderstood you, I'm here to apologize and thank you for reminding me, I'll pay attention in the future."

Rovell never expected that she would be asking this.

Numerous thoughts flashed through his mind and emotions welled up in his heart for a moment.

Happy, moved, relieved, guilty, lost...mixed feelings.

Clara didn't know what they were talking about, but a bad feeling rose in her heart for no reason, and her eyes were wary and suspicious of the two.

"Brother Asawa, last night...didn't you just leave right out of my lounge? How did it come to be with my sister..."

Rovell was startled and came back to his senses, explaining evenly, "Oh, I remembered something at the time, so I stopped by to talk to her."

Clara's face changed.

"Why don't I know?"

"It wasn't anything important enough to mention to you."

"But..."

"Muyenze." Jenny directly interrupted her and smiled at Rovell Mu, "Don't worry, I won't go as far as you're worried about, and in return, I'll remind you of something."

Rovell sensed that she was serious, immediately straightened her face and nodded, "You said."

Jenny Jing looked at Clara, who looked panicked next to him.

A taboo smile appeared on his face, "Although Mu's has been operating in Visterdem for many years and has deep roots, the competition is fierce nowadays, and it's easy to lose everything if there's a slight mistake.

As the youngest owner of the Mu Clan, the people around you are especially important, so I also hope that you will be more attentive and take care of the people around you, so that they don't become a burden to you in the future."

Rovell was shocked.

Unbelievably, she looked at her.

Clara, on the other hand, suddenly screamed straight up like a cat whose tail had been stepped on.

"Jenny! What do you mean by that? Who are you calling a burden to Brother Azawa?"

Jenny Jing gave her a light-hearted glance.

The corners of his mouth seemed to be smiling, "What's your hurry? I'm not talking about you, do you have so little confidence in yourself that you're so quick to put it on yourself with just a side mention?"

Clara: ""

Rovell sank down and looked at her as well, showing a few wisps of boredom and impatience in the depths of his eyes.

"I know, don't worry, I'll take care of it."

Jenny nodded, didn't say anything else, and left straight away with Mo Nan.

When she left, the other two makeup artists saw that something was wrong and took the sense to go out first.

Only Clara and Rovell Mu were left in the make-up room for a time.

Clara took his arm and looked up at him, nervously explaining, "Brother Azawa, you have to trust me, I will definitely be able to fight for you and will never let you down, don't listen to her nonsense."

Rovell looked at her with downcast eyes, his handsome face missing none of the tenderness he had just had.

He said coldly, "Of course I believe you, besides, what Jenny said may not be you, what are you so anxious about?"

Clara was speechless.

Can she not be anxious?

As soon as he signed the contract with Fenghua Entertainment, the school scandal broke out and he lost all the endorsements and contracts he had originally negotiated, as well as a large sum of money for breach of contract.

Now it's hard to wait for the incident to die down and get a role ready for a comeback, and then you run into this b*tch Jenny, who has been compared to her performance on the set several times.

If the road to comeback doesn't go well, if she doesn't do as well on this show as she previously thought she would, she can't imagine what will happen to her!

The circle was always cruel, every day there was a newer and better person on the scene, she hadn't been heard from for half a year, half a year was enough time for some people to forget about her.

If she doesn't have another hit work to clear her name and prove her strength, more people might forget her.

At that time, Fenghua Entertainment, which had spent a great deal of energy and investment on her, was bound to face a loss.

The board of directors had already had an opinion on the matter, having already lost a large sum of money in breach of contract, and now if they lose it again, as her boyfriend, it's hard to say that Rovell Mu won't be moved to anger from the board side.

Although Mu is a family business, it has grown to the point where it is no longer considered a traditional family business after several major financing rounds.

Although Patrick Hong is still the largest shareholder of the company and holds the final decision-making power in his hands, if the board of directors unanimously expresses their prejudice against Rovell, he will not be able to shield him even if he is his own father.

Just now Jenny had made it very clear that although Mu was more than just one company, Fenghua Entertainment was undoubtedly the most profitable, the best developed, and the one with the most promising prospects.

If something goes terribly wrong on this side, it will be very difficult for Rovell to make his way in the Muji.

These being Rovell's fiancée, it was impossible for Clara not to understand.

That's why she was so nervous.

Rovell looked down at her and smiled coolly.

"Ya, you're my future wife, so naturally you should trust each other and honor and shame with me, so you don't need to take what she just said to heart, I trust you as much as I trust myself, understand?"

Listening to his words, Clara finally gradually settled down.

She forced a smile, "As long as Brother Azawa trusts me."

After a pause, he remembered what Jenny had said just before he left, and asked awkwardly, "Brother Azawa, so... what exactly did you say to her last night?"

Chapter 208

"Last night?"

Rovell raised his eyebrows and thought, "It's not much, but it's just some unimportant words."

The smile on Clara's face was even more forced.

To go looking for her, just to say something unimportant?

Who believes that?

But the current Rovell was very different from before, even his personality and temperament had changed, sometimes it really made her unpredictable.

So since he said so, she didn't dare to ask any further questions, so she could only say softly, "Since it's nothing important then it's good, in fact, sister has been in a bad mood this time because of the scandal with Director Lin, after all, Brother Azawa and her grew up together, so if she can be comforted, it might even make her feel better."

Rovell looked at her and smirked.

"You're not jealous when I go to comfort her?"

Clara shook her head incessantly.

"Of course not, my sister is my family and Brother Azawa is my future husband, I'm only happy if you get along well, so why should I be jealous?"

Only then did Rovell nod his head in satisfaction.

"Maya really knows what she's doing."

Clara smiled reluctantly.

They didn't get bored with each other for much longer before Rovell Mu left.

Back on the set, Clara's face no longer had the sweet smile that she had when she was warming up with Rovell Mu just now, walking up to Jenny Jing with a cold face and suddenly raising her hand when everyone was still unaware.

"Pop-!"

A crisp slap slapped her across the face.

Everyone was stunned.

Stop what you're doing and look at her incredulously and with bewilderment.

Next second.

"Pop-!Pop-!"

Two fierce slaps landed on Clara's face.

Clara incredulously covered her face and stared hard at Jenny Jing, shouting angrily, "You dare to hit me?"

Jenny Jing's gaze was cold.

Behind her, Mo Nan was originally pouring her juice, so he didn't have time to rush over, seeing that his own master was actually beaten, he immediately became furious and ran over and directly kicked Clara in the chest.

If Jenny Jing's two slaps just now were just a return of his own kind, although they hurt, they were at least not lethal.

That Mo Nan's kick was truly merciless, directly kicking Clara out of the room.

"Jenny, are you okay?"

Mo Nan was nervous and distressed looking back at Jenny.

Jenny was also startled for a second, not expecting her to do it, and shook her head in reaction, "I'm fine."

"How can you be okay when your face is swollen? It's my fault, pouring juice without paying attention to this side."

Mo Nan was still chastising himself one by one, while the crowd of onlookers had already reacted to the situation.

Aoi was missing, so the assistant that Kyo had with her on both sides was another, slightly older, named Anjo.

It was then that she screamed and rushed over towards King Maya, struggling to help her up.

"Sister Maya, are you okay? How are you?"

Clara covered her chest, her face was already red and swollen, her lips were painfully white, and she helped her sit up with difficulty, slowing down that breath for several times before she eased it over, her voice faint, "My chest... it hurts."

Anjoton was terrified.

"What to do? I'll, I'll call you right away and take you to the hospital."

Afterwards, I pulled out my phone and started making calls.

After making the call, turn around again.

Angrily glaring at Jenny and Mo Nan.

"You've gone too far! How dare you hit him! Can you afford to pay for it if anything happens to our Sister Maya?"

Jenny's lips drew fiercely.

In fact, according to her thoughts, Clara slapped her once, she returned two slaps and that was enough, that kick wasn't necessary.

But since Mo Nan had done it, she naturally wouldn't blame her, so she said in a cold voice, "Anyone with eyes can see who made the first move!What?The one who struck first took precedence, but I was merely defending myself and became unreasonable?"

Naturally, everyone around could see that it was Clara who had made the first move, so everyone murmured without speaking for a moment.

Anjo saw the situation, knowing that he was at a disadvantage, but he was not happy about it.

You can't kick people with your feet, then!Two bullies against one!How can you guys be like this now that Saya-san can't even get up from her beating?"

Clara coughed twice in coordination, looking at them weakly.

"Sister, even if you hate me, you can't do it so hard!Besides, you were the one who was originally at fault, so how could you go so far?"

Everyone was a little confused at once.

Did Kyung-Nim lose out first?

What's going on?

Jenny also raised her eyebrows, wondering what kind of madness she was in.

Clara had a sad, broken expression.

"I know you've always hated me, and I've avoided you from getting into trouble all these days of being in the group, but how could you go so far?How dare you sow discord in front of Brother Chak?You know how much he means to me!You..."

"What?Jenny went to stir up trouble in front of Mu Shao?"

"Oh God, how did this happen?She doesn't look like she's that vicious."

"Who knows what's in her mind when you know what's in her heart?"

"Probably jealous to see that my sister has such a great boyfriend and she's all alone."

"Eh, I've got a tidbit of news, you know?Jenny Jing didn't live in the Jing family, it's said that she was kicked out, do you think even her family hates her, could it really be because she's a problematic person?"

"No way!Usually get along with her feel she's quite nice ah, didn't feel where there is a problem ah."

"Gee, do you know her well?It's just a nod, of course she won't do anything to you."

"That's right, after all, even if she's a bad person, she's not a mad dog, it's not like she can bite anyone she sees, Clara is her sister, it's said that she was born to her stepmother, of course she's jealous and unhappy."

"So, King's is real..."

There was a flurry of discussion around them, and Mo Nan was so angry at the sound of it.

I was about to open my mouth, but Jenny stopped me.

She gave Clara a faint glance and stepped forward.

"You keep saying that I'm provoking the relationship between you and Rovell, so let me ask you, how am I provoking it?"

Clara's throat stagnated, momentarily speechless.

Jenny crouched down in front of her.

"I was just kindly reminding him to pay more attention to the people around him, so that he wouldn't be exploited by others to cause trouble for Mu, but you think I'm provoking your relationship, Clara, you've been with Rovell for a few years at least, and you're so unsure of yourself?"

Clara blushed in anger, "You!"

"And." She suddenly leaned over, her cold eyes grasping hers, and lowered her voice, "How did you end up with him, have you forgotten?"

Or has sitting in the position of a real girlfriend for so long given you amnesia and selective forgetfulness of what you once did, causing you to stand in front of so many people today with such a strong stamina to say such things to me?"

Chapter 209

Clara fiercely stared at her pupils.

Shocked and horrified, she looked at her.

"What do you, what do you want? You obviously promised..."

"I did promise Uncle Mubby not to tell anyone about the three of us, but that was based on the premise that you wouldn't mess with me, but if you insist on messing with me."

Jenny Jing sneered, his eyes tinged with a cruel coldness.

"I won't be polite, and we'll see if you're still sitting in this stolen position or not."

"You!"

Jenny got up, didn't bother to pay attention to her anymore, and left straight away.

Anjo hadn't heard what they had just said, and was furious when she saw her just walk away.

"Sister Clara, let's call the police or call Mu! How dare she hurt you like that, we must not let her go!"

Clara was so angry that she clenched her fingers, only wanting to break her nails.

Hearing her words, he turned to glare at her with a gnarled face.

"The police?"

Ancho didn't quite understand why she had that look on her face and nodded her head blankly.

"Yeah."

Unexpectedly, Clara suddenly became angry and pushed her away with a slap, "Get out!"

Anjo: "????"

She didn't know what she'd said wrong, but she could clearly sense Clara's anger and thought she was still angry with Jenny Jing, who was busy going over to assist her up.

"Saya-san, don't be like that."

Clara took a deep breath, powerfully suppressing the anger in her heart.

"Help me back to the hotel, just tell Lin Shufan that I'm not feeling well and I can't shoot today."

Ancho froze.

"Huh?"

Clara stared at her, "Ah what ah? Still not going?"

"But... on Jenny's side, are we just going to let it go?"

Clara stared at the direction Jenny Jing had left, secretly clenching her fists.

"Don't worry, I won't just let it go, what she did to me today, sooner or later, I'll definitely make her return it a hundred times a thousand times!"

An Qiao finally obeyed and went to ask for leave for Clara and Lin Shufan.

There was no way that Lin Shufan didn't know that such a big commotion was happening on the set, but in front of An Qiao, he didn't say anything.

Waving his hand in a pretentious manner, "Just her trouble, okay, it's just one day Ang, I have to resume work tomorrow."

Although An Qiao was dissatisfied, he didn't dare to say anything and went back to resume his orders.

On the other hand, Jenny was sitting in front of the mirror, good enough to let Mo Nan give her the medicine for her face.

The makeup was already on, so it's only natural to take it off at this time of drugging.

But the good news is that Jenny has good skin, so she wasn't wearing much makeup, so she just needed to wipe off the powder on her face with a makeup remover, and then she'd fill it up later after the medication.

As Mo Nan carefully rubbed the medicine on her, she said in distress, "Clara is a crazy person! Even a good man can go mad, and look how swollen his face is."

Jenny Jing looked at her face with resentment, not laughing, "Okay, she's only miserable not better than me, especially that kick of yours, eh, you shouldn't have used your full strength, right?"

Mo Nan snorted.

"If I had used my full strength, she wouldn't be walking to the hospital on her own right now, she'd be lying down and letting a stretcher carry her over."

In the end, Mo Nan still knows that you can't do too much on the set, lest you end up on the receiving end.

Jenny nodded, feeling a little more at ease.

Then I thought of something, and then I couldn't stop laughing.

"It seems that Clara's relationship with Rovell Mu has really gone wrong."

Mo Nan was stunned and a bit confused, "How so?"

"She's always been very deep in the city, and isn't exactly a flustered person, this can be seen from the fact that she was able to endure humiliation with Yu Xiu Lian until she was eighteen years old before she officially came to our house, that being the case, the fact that she's so agitated when I just said a couple of random specious things today, doesn't that mean that there are problems between her and Rovell itself?"

Mo Nan reacted with a sudden realization, "Oh".

"So, you just deliberately provoked her?"

"Right."

Mo Nan was a little puzzled again.

"But what good is that going to do us?"

Jenny laughed.

The benefit? Naturally there is.

After all, a dog will only jump the fence if pushed, won't he?

Here, she dropped her eyes slightly and gave a would-be smile, then touched her phone and called out.

That morning, a video suddenly popped up on.

It's the Gunpowder Raiders drama again, and it's Clara and Jenny Jing.

This drama and these two people have been on too many hot searches lately, leading to friendlies going numb.

However, when they clicked on the video and saw what happened above, they still couldn't help but take a breath of cold air.

fu*k!That's too harsh!

Is this still the same gentle and kind Clara who was in front of the camera?

In just the video, Clara rushed to Jenny Jing like a madman and slapped her hard in the face.

The shot was only ten seconds long, very short, and after the slap, it quickly brought over Jenny's somewhat confused face and the dazed look of the audience next to him.

The video immediately caused an uproar on when it was released.

Even more so than the previous Jenny photo-gate incident.

"I'll be damned, Kyung Sia is crazy, isn't she?That slap to the face, I looked like it hurt, how could she do it?"

"This isn't going to be a movie, is it?Is it a plot device or something?"

"I don't think it's filming, they're all in their normal clothes, it's not like they're wearing costumes."

"So what's this all about?It's not going to be a good hit, there must be something inside."

"Even if you have any inside information, you can't do it!This is too much!"

"That's right, she usually acts so gentle and kind, but she didn't expect to be so vicious behind her back."

"It's said that you don't hit people in the face, but actresses rely on their faces for a living, and they're still in the middle of filming, so is she trying to make people not even film with this slap?"

"It hurt me to look at it, and the one who was hit must have hurt even more, it was indeed too harsh."

"Isn't the most important thing that they're sisters? Some time ago, Clara was still interviewed and said that she and Jenny Jing had gotten back together."

"Right oh, so what was said in that interview was a lie too."

"It's supposed to be fake, how else could they make up only up front and then turn the tables and even hit someone later?"

"I saw Jenny Jing's expression was quite confused, I guess I didn't expect her to do it, so it's very likely that Clara's side is making trouble and bullying the other side."

"Alas! It's a shame that I still worship her as a goddess, but it turns out that all the gentleness is a lie, so ruthless and shrewd behind her back, look at the action and speed of that shot, it's definitely not the first time, maybe she's a person like that in her life."

"The image is broken."

"Breakdown +1."

"Breakdown +1."

"Breakdown +10086..."

At this time, Rovell Mu, who was sitting in the office of the president of the Mu Group, heard the beep from his mobile phone, picked it up and took a look, changing his face.
