

Chapter 217

Without the signal, they had no way to inform the people outside.

Their location should be quite secretive. Otherwise, why hadn't the rescuers come after such a long time?

Suddenly, Alyssa didn't move.

She suddenly took a chair and put it in front of Leon, stepped on it, and climbed up.

Seeing her dangerous action, Leon immediately limped over to support Alyssa. After Alyssa climbed up, she immediately saw that her cell phone had the signal.

"There's the signal."

"Call grandpa." Leon was also excited to hear Alyssa's words. The signal turned out to be up there.

"Okay." Alyssa nodded as she called and quickly informed grandpa of her and Leon's location.

It was only when the phone hung up that Alyssa burst into tears.

Seeing Alyssa crying was hard for Leon too. He hugged Alyssa.

Alyssa wiped away her tears and put the phone into her coat pocket. Then she began to check Leon's wound.

His wound was still bleeding and looked serious.

"What do we do now? Your wound is still bleeding. Grandpa just thought it was Colton who called him. Luckily, he heard my voice. Leon, grandpa said he'd be right there to rescue us. Our men have been outside the clubhouse the whole time. They didn't know we were here, and now I told him where we were. They will be here to rescue us soon."

"Good." Leon looked at Alyssa's red eyes and couldn't help but smile.

Alyssa also smiled through her tears, "At this point, you're still smiling."

"With you by my side, no matter what happens, I'm not afraid."

"Hmm."

They looked at each other and burst out laughing again.

Alyssa cried and laughed at the same time, "I'm sorry, it's all my fault. I didn't know Colton before, and what I said to him obviously pissed him off. It's my fault for causing you to get hurt."

"It's not your fault. You said everything I wanted to say to him. Besides, if I can't even protect you, who else can I protect?"

"Hmm." Alyssa nodded and looked at Leon, "Am I a wimp? Just now he told me to kneel and I did. By the way, can you not tell anyone? I feel quite humiliated."

Leon came over and kissed Alyssa's forehead, "Who dares to say you're a wimp! In my heart, you are a hero. If you didn't compromise, would you be able to get the phone? Silly girl, you are excellent. In my heart, you're the best."

Alyssa nodded and hugged Leon with red eyes.

That shot just now really scared her.

Although she had died once, she had never seen a gun before.

Leon knew Alyssa was terrified. Looking at Alyssa's white face, he asked, "Are you scared?"

Alyssa shook her head.

"You're lying. You're scared."

Alyssa smiled, "You know it and you want me to say it. You're really bad, and you want to see me make a fool of myself on purpose."

Leon smiled, "In my heart, you will always be the most beautiful."

Leon's words made Alyssa instantly touched.

Her previous fear disappeared completely.

Suddenly, there was a sound of footsteps in the distance.

Alyssa heard the sound of footsteps and subconsciously burrowed into Leon's arms.

Leon hurriedly hugged Alyssa tightly.

Bam!

The door was kicked open.

The bodyguard who came in immediately recognized Leon and Alyssa.

"Mr. Hunter, Mrs. Hunter!"

Leon heard his man's voice and gently took Alyssa's hand, gesturing for her to take it easy.

Alyssa also guessed it was their man coming. She turned her head to look at the familiar bodyguard in front of her, "Leon has a gunshot wound. You guys hurry up and take him to the hospital."

The bodyguard immediately went to make arrangements.

An hour later.

Hospital.

Alyssa sat in the doctor's office and saw the bullet that had just been removed from Leon's leg. She asked softly, "Is he really okay? The bullet is out and he's fine? You're not lying to me, are you!"

"Mrs. Hunter, how could I possibly lie to you! This has my signature on it. If something really goes wrong, I have to be responsible for it."

The doctor wasn't angry, but just looked at Alyssa and smiled.

He had been there, so he could tell right away that Alyssa loved Leon very much.

Alyssa nodded at the doctor's words. She was a little embarrassed, "I don't know anything about it. I'm just worried about his wound. Although you said he was only slightly injured, he lost a lot of blood. I was a little worried. It's not that I don't believe you."

"He's really fine. If he doesn't feel any better, you can come to me. The bullet went into his leg, but it was not the vital point. Still, he needs to recuperate."

"Okay."

"Don't be too nervous. When he wakes up later and sees you so nervous, he will worry about you. You're pregnant now, and you should take care of yourself."

Alyssa nodded, "Doctor, thank you for the reminder. I will."

"That's good!"

Alyssa came out of the doctor's office and saw Grandpa Hunter and George hurrying over.

She smiled and walked over, "Grandpa, you're here. Leon's surgery is successful. He'll be out in a few minutes. But right now his anesthetic is still in effect."

Kevin nodded and smiled at Alyssa, "I called earlier to ask about Leon's condition, and I know Leon is fine. Alyssa, are you okay? It's Leon's fault. He couldn't even protect you. I'll scold him later."

"Leon was hurt because he tried to protect me. Grandpa, Leon is already very good. It's because I was too weak that I got Leon into trouble."

"Don't say that. Even if he breaks into pieces, he still has to protect you first. You must be okay now that you are pregnant. Let's go over there and wait for a while."

"Okay."

Alyssa and Grandpa Hunter sat together on the bench a short distance away.

George stood in front of the operating room.

Alyssa told grandpa about what happened earlier at the Bangkok Clubhouse and told him about the time she secretly got Colton's phone. Of course, she didn't mention that she was forced to kneel by Colton!

She saw Grandpa Hunter's appreciative gaze after she finished this.

She lowered her head in embarrassment.

In fact, she was not as good as she said.

She cut out so many humiliating episodes.

She was so embarrassed that she might as well not say anything.

Kevin saw Alyssa's embarrassment and said softly, "You're the strongest and bravest little girl I've ever met, and Leon is lucky to have you. I'm glad you guys can stay together when things get tough."

Alyssa's eyes got red when she heard grandpa's words, "Grandpa, I was actually very scared just now. But, I saw Leon get hurt. He was hurt because of me. I feel so useless."

Alyssa was sad when she thought of Leon getting hurt.

"People only grow up when things happen to them. You have to grow up slowly too. Don't be sad. Leon is fine now, isn't he? Leon must be more worried when he comes out and sees you crying."

Alyssa nodded. She knew Leon didn't like to see her cry.

She looked up at the operating room.

There was George standing in front of the operating room door.

He seemed to stand at the door of the operating room as soon as he arrived and never left.

And he looked like he was worried, too.

He was worried about Leon, too.

Alyssa looked at his figure and suddenly thought of what Leon had said before. George's mother, Audrey, was really bad, but this really had nothing to do with George at all.

And his last name was Hunter, so he should take the Hunters' side.

It seemed that she should change her mind about George.

Ten minutes later.

Leon was taken to the ward.

Kevin made sure Leon was okay and then left after giving a few instructions.

Soon Alyssa and Leon were the only ones left in the room.

Alyssa was fiddling with a bunch of carnations she had just bought. When the carnations were finished, she looked at Leon in a good mood.

"Look, isn't this a nice bouquet of carnations? However, I think the pink ones are better. Next time I will only buy pink ones. That way, it won't look so messy."

"All the ones you chose look good."

"After being sick, you have a sweeter mouth."

Alyssa smiled at Leon.

"How are you doing?" Leon's voice was serious. He looked at Alyssa and said, "Are you okay? If you're not feeling well, you must tell me."

Alyssa felt very aggrieved when she heard Leon's words, and her tears immediately fell from her eyes.

Leon didn't understand how Alyssa suddenly cried. He obviously didn't do anything. However, it was very hard for him to see her crying. So, he said softly, "Don't cry. If you don't feel well, just tell the doctor. I will accompany you to the doctor, okay? People who see you crying will think I'm bullying you!"

"Oooh ... you didn't bully me. I just feel so touched. You are hurt and still care about me. It's all my fault for being so stupid. If I had been smarter, you wouldn't have been hurt at all, and Colton wouldn't have taken out the gun. Oooh ... Leon, it's all my fault. Not only did you not scold me, you even cared about me."

"Silly girl, why did you become so stupid suddenly?"

"Oooh ..."

Seeing that Alyssa cried in aggravation, Leon hooked his hand at her.

Alyssa hurriedly moved over, but Leon took her into his arms.

"You're my wife. I'm supposed to protect you. Besides, you didn't do anything wrong. You did everything to my liking. The only thing I'm worried about is your health, do you understand?"

Alyssa nodded and smiled at Leon.

"Silly girl, what are you smiling about?"

"I just feel happy and want to smile."
