

Chapter 220

It's perfect. Both of them are fine, aren't they? Wrong, can the medical department let you go? Although people are not dead and do not need to report to the Health Bureau, this is a medical accident. No one talks about your situation at that time, which is to give you a heavy brand. Can't you easily forget that the hospital or medical office is too much? Not too much. It's about human life. Mistakes are big or small!

When influenza strikes, most people have viral colds, and only a small number of people have bacterial colds. For bacterial antibiotics, just go directly, while viral influenza is terrible.

Because there is no particularly effective drug, we can only rely on the human body to resist. Foreign antiviral drugs can only be used within two days of onset, but almost all the people within two days of onset are at home and have not entered the hospital. Those who enter the hospital are between three and four days. Who knows how to fight the flu?

When the disease was deadlocked, Yang Guangwei, the old director of the hospital's traditional Chinese medicine department, found Ouyang. In the northwest, medicine is not very developed. Whether it is modern or ancient, and the population is sparse, there are few famous doctors in ancient times. Coupled with the stagnation in recent decades, traditional Chinese medicine can not be on the edge of municipal hospitals.

There are two doctors in a department who sit in the clinic in turn, and the old director Yang Guangwei is hired back. Why does such a huge medical system stand still? I don't know why. I can't say.

Lao Yang is a family member of traditional Chinese medicine family. He is very rare in Northwest China. He studied tuberculosis for life. He was the first country in China to put forward the relationship between tuberculosis and diabetes. Because the conditions can only be achieved by asking for further research. Although he is old, the old man is still learning, especially in the field of traditional Chinese medicine.

The old man was also worried about the outbreak of influenza. I don't know if there is any truth in this sentence, but the elderly are more enthusiastic about current affairs than ordinary young people. Leaders' conversation and people's voice can be regarded as hands-on.

"Dean, look at this report." The old man came to Ouyang with the Journal of a year ago. Ouyang was very busy, but he couldn't help being polite to the old man. He had been dedicated to the hospital all his life and had to be respected.

"Director Yang, you should also pay attention recently. The flu is too fierce. The hospital is now an epidemic area." Ouyang absently picked up the journal and was ready to pretend, because director Yang had a bit of an old pedantic problem. Once entangled, it would be endless.

Ouyang couldn't pull out his eyes when he picked up the journal. Few people engaged in western medicine in TCM journals went to see it, but Ouyang saw a report of evidence-based medicine for H1N1 in China.

In 2009, when H1N1 was rampant, large national hospitals made a simple evaluation of several antiviral drugs. Although the experimental data did not reach an accurate standard, there were still a lot of 1000 rounds.

The journal clearly stated that Lianhua Qingwen was significantly better than oseltamivir in antiviral efficacy. Not to mention anything else, according to the treatment cost, oseltamivir is nine times more expensive than Lianhua Qingwen. And this drug is particularly scarce.

"Try?" Ouyang said to Lao Yang after putting down the journal.

"You can try to add this drug to the current basic treatment. We can't just rely on the current treatment. We need to be responsible for the patients. ~ " Lao Yang began to lecture. There were many old sayings. Ouyang quickly stopped it.

"Director Yang, don't say this now. Can your body eat it now?"

"Yes! That's all right. Say what you have to do. " Lao Yang has a bent waist.

"Because of the high number of diseases and the strong infectivity of this influenza, you have a lot of experience in traditional Chinese medicine. If you start to use this Lianhua to clear the plague in a large area, I would like you to help collect the medication effect of the patient."

"No problem! Do it! "

"The premise is to protect yourself. You are an indispensable resource for the hospital."

"It's all right. I've been a doctor all my life. This little flu won't put me in."

Medicine is not divided. A good doctor is a good pharmacist. He can do modern fine work. Doctors only know some basic pharmacology, not like Lao Yang. He is very proficient in medicine and medicine.

The hospital began to use Lianhua Qingwen in a large area. Lao Yang took young doctors and kept collecting the recovery of patients in each ward.

The collection of this situation is very complicated. It is not simply to see whether the patient recovers well, but to do a detailed physical examination within a fixed time after medication. The body temperature, respiration and pulse should be observed and compared.

From morning till night, the old man kept running. Three days later, the symptoms of some young and middle-aged patients improved significantly. Moreover, Lianhua Qingwen and Lianhua Qingwen without Lianhua are obviously superior to oseltamivir in reducing fever and alleviating symptoms.

Valid! Up and down the hospital, the tense nerves can finally relax a little. For diseases, without effective drugs and means, doctors can only look at patients to resist the disease and have nothing to do. This is the greatest sorrow of doctors.

The patients were discharged one by one, and soon the ward in the hall was slowly empty. There were only some severe patients left. On Monday morning a week later, Ouyang happily announced that the special control was over. The personnel of each department return to their respective departments.

The rewards of the superior leaders followed. It's really chilling not to give rewards in this situation. A collective, especially one that cooperates with such groups, rarely divides into first-class and second-class, because everyone has contributed, and the division of categories, especially for a unit, is not conducive to future development. Because this is the collective.

The per capita bonus is 1000 yuan! A metal medal was awarded to the city hospital.

Lao Yang didn't attend the award meeting. Although the flu didn't put him in, the high-intensity work tired an ancient and rare old man who was nearly 70 years old. The patient was discharged from the hospital. After Lao Yang handed Ouyang a thick patient information, he moved home. He wanted to sleep and sleep in the dark!

After the reward is over, it is time to find problems. The most stringent thing in the medical system is self-examination, which is not to say that it has been over corrected.

With the severe medical environment, hospitals are afraid of accidents due to lax requirements for doctors.

The director of the medical department said seriously to Zhang Fan with the transferred little doctor and a group of respiratory nurses: "what's wrong! Talk to yourself one by one! The doctor said first. "

Everyone looked at Zhang Fan. Zhang Fan had to rack his brains to think about his mistakes. At which moment, what is the best way? Zhang Fan didn't understand afterwards!

"I should stand in front of the eighth bed in time and operate with my back to him to block his eyes." No way, this is the only deficiency Zhang fan can find!

One after another said their shortcomings! This is the medical industry, a severe and rigorous industry. Is it an injustice? No, not at all, because experience is accumulated bit by bit!

Become famous in the first World War, even spend Qingwen! The things of China's ancestors are not rubbish! It's just that we don't work hard!
