

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 23

The figures of her and Logan Fu crazily entangled on the big hotel bed suddenly came to mind and made her straighten her body.

Aware of her stiffness and distraction, Liam Lu frowned slightly and bit her lips impatiently.

“Silly girl, what do you think?”

He smashed her face strongly with his big hand, bowed his head and kissed it hard and hard.

It seems that only this way can fully express his endless lovesickness these days.

His big hand slid into her clothes unceremoniously, and the scorching breath between his lips pressed tightly to her ear.

“Zoey, you know? I really miss you who was so enthusiastic to me that day...”

Before the kiss fell to the neck, Zoey Gu paled and pushed him away.

Liam Lu was caught off guard and pushed away by her. He twisted his eyebrows and looked at Zoey Gu’s eyes, full of desire-thoughts that he could not wait to swallow her.

“what happened?”

No matter how Liam Lu looked at it, he felt that Zoey Gu was wrong tonight.

Zoey Gu gritted her teeth, raised her eyes to look at Liam Lu, endured the chills rushing from her body, and asked with a trembling voice.

“Liam, have you never thought I was dirty?”

Enduring her heartache, she continued to ask pretending to be indifferent.

“After all, me and other men...”

Liam Lu’s face was cold, and her eyebrows pierced, subconsciously thinking of her experience five years ago, and seeing her eyes turned into distress.

In the next second, he suddenly came to him, bent over and hugged Zoey Gu horizontally, turned and pressed it on the big bed behind him, and without hesitation, he tore open her clothes.

“Do you think that direct proof is more powerful?”

Zoey Gu’s heart trembled, raised her hand to block the man’s body, and said in pain.

“Liam, when you are away, me and...”

Knocking! Knocking!

There was a knock on the door of the bedroom.

“Mom and dad, are you asleep? Alina Yin doesn’t want to sleep by herself, Alina Yin wants to sleep with you...”

Liam Lu’s body stiffened, and his face was cold as if pouring cold water from head to toe.

When he didn’t move, Alina Yin at the door continued knocking unwillingly.

“Dad, dad open the door! Mom is not yours alone, so is Alina Yin...”

Seeing this, Zoey Gu under him was silently relieved, and stretched out her hand to gently push him.

“During your absence, Alina Yin has always missed you. If I keep occupying you, the little girl will have opinions.”

Liam Lu pressed her, there was still unrelenting desire in his eyes.

He closed his eyes, calmed down his stupid body movement, and got out of bed to open the door.

As soon as the door opened, Father Gu was standing in the corridor holding Alina Yin’s hand, looking at Liam Lu with embarrassment on his face.

“Originally, your young couple didn’t win the wedding for a long time, but this girl has to come up for everything, I can’t stop her...”

Alina Yin next to her didn’t feel that she had done anything wrong at all, holding the plush toy with confidence.

“I’m going to sleep with Mom and Dad!”

Liam Lu put Alina Yin in sideways, raised her head and said warmly to Dad Gu.

“It’s okay. Uncle Gu, you go to bed earlier.”

After closing the door and returning, she turned around and saw Alina Yin had already climbed onto the bed, lying in the middle of the bed, half of her body hanging firmly on Zoey Gu.

Liam Lu’s face darkened, and Zoey Gu finally couldn’t help but let out a “pouch” laugh.

“Okay, Master Lu, it will be long in Japan, you should think about it, what story you want to tell your daughter.”

In fact, Alina Yin is very coaxing.

Lying between mom and dad, before she finished listening to a story about Snow White, she leaned in Liam Lu’s arms and fell asleep.

The first time Liam Lu put down the storybook, he bent over to pick up his daughter, and sent her back to her own room for a while.

He quickly turned back, opened the quilt, took possession of Zoey Gu, lowered his head and pressed it down!
